The Only things worth HOARDING
UNITED STATES SAVINGS BONDS

Heedlass and needless "scare buying" has produced soma artificial shortages and price increases. The plain truth is that thera's no important shortage of anything. We have plenty of averything you normally buy in a drug stora and, as far as wa can see, we will continue to have planty of everything.

So, if you are lucky enough to have more cash than you need for normal naeds — buy United States Savings Bonds. They're the only things worth hoarding because you'll get back $4 for every $3 you invest.

Pollen Count Low in Charlevoix County

Welcome news to hay fever suffers.

Charlevoix, Boyne City and Petoskey were among the few areas which reported no significant pollen counts during the 1949 season.

Cities in Michigan having the longest ragweed hay fever season were Battle Creek, Grand Rapids, Hillsdale and Saginaw, each of which had 33 days with ragweed pollen counts of over 100 grains.

Ragweed count began to appear in Michigan in mid-July and the greatest concentration of pollen occurred in the last week in August and the first week of September.

Because of budget cuts, the state department of health in Lansing will be unable to conduct a ragweed pollen count this summer.

Archie Brown Heads Norwood Banks Group

Archie Brown was elected president of the Norwood-Banks hunting association at the second annual meeting Tuesday night at the Norwood local hall. He succeeds Harold Totten.

Other officers are George Light, Jr., vice-president, William Brooks, secretary and Milton Richardson, treasurer.

Members voted to continue under the Williamston plan which seeks to control hunting in certain defined areas by having the farmers owning the land issue permits to hunters on their land.

Danny Farmer Back In Hospital Again

Danny Farmer, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Farmer, has taken up residence again at the Charlevoix Hospital after fracturing his leg Aug. 27 for the second time in eight months.

He had been out of the hospital only a week when he broke his leg in the same spot while walking down a steep hill. He has had surgery on his leg and is now recuperating.

He froctured his leg the first time while coasting last January.

To Be Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs: Louis N. Mosier announce the engagement of their daughter, Ione, to Emerald Howe, son of Mrs. Hazel Sheldon. The date for the wedding has been tentatively set for December 23.

Live Timber

Live timber is seldom static. It is either growing or declining in net utilizable volume. Virgin forests may be static because of balance between growing and declining elements. In forests fully converted to intensive management, the decadent elements common in virgin forests have been eliminated. Then all the wood volume present functions as a base to which new wood is sdded annually.

Among those here were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ager of Defiance, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. John Fratrick and children, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Ager and children of Charlevoix, Carlton Ager of Battle Creek, Herbert Ager of Flint, Mrs. Howard Burman and children, Gary Lee and Judy Lynn, of Crystal Lake, Ill., who had been here a month and Mr. Burman and his father, Fred, who joined them for the week-end. The Fratricks accompanied the Kenneth Agers to Defiance Monday and will continue to Chicago for a visit before returning here.

• Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Harwood of Detroit spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Margaret Howard and other relatives. Mr. Harwood, a graduate of the local high school, and Michigan State and also a Navy veteran, is now with the International Business Machine Corp. in Detroit after completing a training course at their Endicott, N. Y. plant.

• Mr. and Mrs. Fred Myers had as their week-end guests their sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Broderick and daughter, Betsy, of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph MacMullan and daughter, Sally of Lansing.

Dick Olmstead of Cleveland spent the week-end with relatives here.

Bishop Wade To Speak Sunday

Bishop Raymond J. Wade, retired Methodist bishop and head of the Bay View association for the past 10 years, will be the guest speaker at the Methodist church here Sunday, Sept. 10. He will fill the pulpit for the Rev. G. D. Howell who will be on vacation.

On other Sundays during the Rev. Mr. Howell's vacation A. E. Arnold of Boyne City and the Rev. Russell R. King, district superintendent of Traverse City will speak. On Sept. 3 Mr. Arnold, president of the Gideons of the Petoskey Camp spoke on the subject, "Menial Men for Many Tasks".

An outstanding religious leader, he is the bishop of a section of Europe which includes Norway, Sweden, Finland, Denmark and seven other countries.

See Softballers Retain City Title

The Glenn See team retained its city league softball title Tuesday night by defeating Silver Birches for the second time in three games in the playoffs. The score was 9-5. Sees won also in 1949.

Chick Gallagher held the losers to five hits and walloped a homer as did D. Milligan. Ray Piehl battery was Bob Potter, Eldon caught Gallagher. The losing Potter and Frank Boss.

The turning point in the game occurred in the fourth inning when Bob Potter who had been pitching went behind the plate when Frank Boss was injured. Eldon Potter took over on the mound with the score 6-4.

both the Atlantic and Pacific theatres of operations. His wife and two children, Joseph and Kathleen, will go to Cleveland with him.

The Charlevoix area embraces 12 stations in the area of approximately 610 square miles and includes the Charlevoix lifeboat station and supply depot, the Beaver Island lifeboat station and light station, light stations at South Fox Island, Lansing Shoals, White Shoals, Gray's Reef, Ile Aux Galets and Little Traverse and the Charlevoix Electronics Repair Shop (radio) and land lines (telephone). There is a complement of approximately 60 men in the area.

Permanent farm prosperity will not be found around the corner but around the contour.

Peacetime Record

Iron ore production in the United States in 1948 set a peacetime record at 101,350,000 gross tons, nearly nine per cent above the 1947 output, according to a bureau of mines report. This tonnage, the second highest in history, was 4,176,000 tons less than in the top year 1942. All major iron ore producing districts exceeded their 1947 output. Lake Superior mines produced 83,116,000.

West Coast Hemlock

Peculiar to the Pacific watershed, West coast hemlock flourishes on the coastal slope from California to Alaska. A rapid producer, it assures world markets of an ample supply of high quality lumber under the modern forestry methods now being practiced.

Pig Weights

There is an extremely high relationship between weaning weights of pigs and their later development up until marketing time. Therefore, the sows and litters should be fed liberally. The creep-feeding of the pigs will increase their weights at weaning age, save some drain on the sows, and there will be less setback when they are weaned.

It is the opinion of Donald S. Leonard, state police commissioner, that Russia intends to attack the United States.

Testifying before the house ways and means committee at Lansing, Leonard opined: "Russia knows that we have no intention of attacking her. Therefore, her development of a civilian defense organization must be intended as a defense against retaliatory bombing by us after she has attacked this country."

Governor G. Mennen Williams has requested a supplemental legislative appropriation of $392,740 for 180 additional state police.

The state legislative finance committee, mulling the governor's request for defense funds called in Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, for questioning about the "living blood bank". Says Heustis: "If the legislature is convinced there is no danger of an atom bomb then wipe the program off the books."

Governor Williams praised the National Guard with a hearty navy-like "well done". This came after he painted a drab picture of future world peace. "America may be headed for a generation of crises," he said.

Universal military training is on the boards again now that our pitifully weak army has been exposed for all of Asia to see. The senate armed services committee has endorsed it, but chairman Tydings says Congress may not go along with it. He cites the desire of weary legislators who must hurry home to campaign for re-election.

The summer may have been too hot or too cold, but it has been a good one for forest fire control. Less than 700 fires have been reported as against some 1,300 for the same period last year.

A Federal law giving health and welfare benefits to all school children will be passed next year is the prediction of Selma Berchardt, representative of the American Federation of Teachers. (Michigan has defeated once a mandatory immunization bill.) Another school measure gives $300,000,000 in Federal money yearly for teacher salaries.

Charles F. Brannan calls for curbs on gambling on food prices. The solution: More restrictions on consumer credit, he says, to hold down marginal commodity market operations.

Michigan's old regular in politics, D. Hale Brake, state treasurer, has announced he will seek renomination. Since 1943 Mr. Brake, once a gubernatorial possible, has led the Republican majority on the state administrative board.

The problem children . . . inflation and the federal debt . . . have been dragged out again. The treasury department wants cheap terms and easy terms for the government. The federal reserve board asks dear money and less inflation. The treasury denies its program would mean more inflation.

Charlevoix County Farm News

Sam Straw Takes Great Pride in Caring for Group's Red Dane Bull

A group of Charlevoix and Antrim county farmers have hopes that someday Red Dane cattle will be as popular as Holsteins and Guernseys.

The Red Dane animal, recognized by many livestock authorities as the best dual-purpose cow, is fairly well-known in Michigan and is becoming better-known throughout the nation.

One of the Charlevoix county farmers who believes that the Red Dane cow will eventually replace some of the other breeds in northern Michigan is Sam Straw of RFD 2, Charlevoix.

For the last eight months, he has been caring for a fourth cross Red Dane purchased by himself and six other farmers. Others who own part of this bull are Burr Blanchard, Sam Kelly, Franklin Cellner, Milford Macroy, all of Route two, John Peebles, near Ellsworth, and Bob Straw route three, Charlevoix.

The young bull was purchased from Otto Kline of Harrisville last January. While the first Red Danes were brought here about nine years ago from Denmark, the Red Danes have given signs of becoming top producers. They are highly rated as beef cattle.

The bull will be exhibited at the county fair at East Jordan Sept. 12-16. It is believed to be one of the few Red Dane bulls in this section of the state. There are several Red Dane herds in Emmet county.

Maurice Hartung whose farm is just over the Antrim county line has a herd of first and second cross Red Danes.

The bull cared for by Straw was purchased as an emergency measure to use with cows having difficulty with artificial insemination.

County Agent Ed Rebman who has inspected the bull said the animal was in fine condition.

Straw, 64 years old, and a farmer as far back as he can remember, is farming 32 acres including 10 acres of corn and 12 of hay. He has nine cows.

A 50 bushel crop of corn removes 80 pounds of nitrogen, 27 pounds of phosphate and 55 pounds potash. This is equal to a plant food of 600 pounds complete fertilizer or 8 tons of manure.

Fertile soils produce prosperous citizenship in any community, county, state or nation.

Turkey Growers Meet Sept. 28 At Charlevoix

There will be a meeting of all turkey growers from Charlevoix and surrounding counties on Thursday, September 28 at Charlevoix according to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent. This meeting will be held in the afternoon and evening from 1-9:30 p.m. The program in the afternoon will be largely that of a workshop on "how to tell when a turkey is finished." This workshop in the afternoon will be under the direction of Dr. Stanley Harsden who is in charge of turkey investigation from the U.S. Department of Agriculture at Beltsville, Maryland. Eats will be served at supper time. Following this will be a short program to consist of a film from Cornell with Dr. Earl Moore, poultry pathologist from Cornell University present. Bill Aho, poultry extension specialist from Michigan State College will also be present. All turkey growers should mark this date of September 28 and reserve it for this meeting.

Time to Spray Wild Carrots

September is a month for farmers in this area to spray wild carrots and gain excellent control the following season according to agronomists Keith Barrons and L.L. Coulter of the Dow Chemical Company.

Road sides, vacant lots and ditch banks in Charlevoix county are filled with this troublesome weed at this time of the year. The wild carrot may also be found invading the alfalfa fields and will certainly represent a source of seed for further infestation. Mowing the wild carrots before spring is suggested to get rid of the weeds. Spraying with 24D should follow mowing in about two weeks. One treatment will give reasonable control.

The wild carrot in the county is one that effects all farmers. Ed Rebman, county agent suggests that neighbors get together and cooperate on this program. A group of neighbors could spray all of the road banks and vacant lots which would reduce the amount of seed infestation for next year.

Fair Program Promises Plenty Of Fun, Thrills

An oustanding program of entertainment for Charlevoix county residents has been obtained for the annual county fair Sept. 12-16 at East Jordan.

The fair board, headed by Claude Pearsall, has worked hard to obtain the best program possible. Included in it will be horseracing, weight pulling, calf scramble, the Joie Chitwood auto daredevils and the WLS national barn dance entertainers.

Ed Rebman, secretary of the fair board and county agent, urged farmers to turn out and patronize their fair. Agricultural exhibits will be entered Sept. 12. Exhibits should be taken to the fair early Tuesday. Horseracing will be held Thursday and Friday.

Jesse Smith, an authority on harness racing and a member of the fair board, predicts some of the best racing in years. The calf scramble is set for Friday afternoon. Horsepulling contests will be held Saturday.

Don't forget to attend the county fair. There will be fun and entertainment for young and old, Rebman said.

Spud Growers Report Severe Late Blight

Late blight has been reported on potatoes over most of Michigan during this past week. There has also been late blight reported on tomatoes in several counties. With cool nights and several rainy days, potatoes and tomatoes will be very susceptible to late blight.

Ed Rebman, county agent recommends that all tomatoes and potato growers spray or dust thoroughly with the proper fungicide for the balance of the growing season. If you spray, you can use either bordeaux mixture made up of 8 pounds of copper sulfate and 4 pounds of lime in 100 gallons of water or you may use fixed copper at the rate of 2 pounds metallic copper per 100 gallons of water or Nabam or Zineb according to manufacturers directions. If you prefer to dust, you may use fixed copper at the rate of 7 pounds of metallic copper or Zineb according to manufacturers directions. Which ever you use, be sure to do a thorough job of spraying or dusting to prevent late blight.

Farmers Warned of Deadly Silo Gas

One of the dairy magazines recently featured an article about a death due to silo gas or carbon dioxide. The time will soon be at hand for filling silos and a word of warning to dairymen is in order. The seriousness of this thing was brought home to Don Murray, dairy extension specialist, several years ago when three members of a neighbor's family died in a pit silo due to carbon dioxide. This gas being heavier than air collects in the bottom of the silo and is particularly difficult to blow out of a pit where the silage level is below the ground. Death lurks at silo filling time. Carbon dioxide gas can be fatal. It is heavy, lies close to the surface of freshly cut silage.

Some precautions as recommended by Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent are:

1. When filling is in progress — leave all the top doors open.
2. When filling is interrupted for a half hour or more — don't stay in the silo! Don't re-enter till the blower has run for a few minutes.
3. When the job is done — for a few days, enter the silo with caution, especially if it is not completely filled.

Every year in the U. S. about 3 billion tons of soil are washed or blown away from farm land alone.

IT HAPPENED ON ....
BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

The Beaver Island school will re-open Sept. 6 for registrations. Regular schedules will begin Sept. 11. In the interval, the Island teachers will attend the teachers' meeting in Traverse City.

Sister Lenora has been named principal of St. James grade and high schools. Sister Lenora was born on the Island and returned last year to teach in the high school. Sister Gilbert, who was principal last year and who taught for 13 years on the Island, has been transferred to St. Philomena, Beal City. Sister Rose has been transferred to Sacred Heart school, Mt. Pleasant. Sister Marie Genevive is the new high school teacher and Sister Corina will teach the upper grades.

Construction work on the new school building was temporarily halted to make necessary repairs on the old building. Modern lavatories have been installed, the ceilings painted white and walls a soft shade of green, the blackboards have turned Irish—green is a better shade for the eyes the experts say— and the desks have been refinished in a dull varnish. Everything has been done to eliminate glare since a number of school children's eyes were found defective when examined last year.

The new building which is located on the lot next to the old building is expected to be completed this fall. Mike Cull, Jack Cull, Dan O'Donnell, Leo McGinnes Hugh Connaghan, William Washegesic are responsible for the repair job and compose the crew working on the new school.

Mrs. Carl Left has been reappointed to teach at Sunnyside school, Paine township.

Two full boat loads of James Gallagher's hardwood left the Island in the past ten days to be delivered in Grand Rapids. The White Swan hauled the lumber to the mainland.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gallagher and children, Janet, Eleanor and Brian, spent several days last week on the mainland. Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher and Brian were in Grand Rapids on business while the girls remained in Charlevoix for dental appointments.

Mrs. Russel Palmer accompanied her niece, Jill Smith, to the Soo where she will attend school. Doctor and Mrs. Palmer entertained Jill with a going-away party before leaving the Island. The guests included Kay McDonough, Kay Wilmot, Mary Bonner, Grace Gatliff, Eleanor Gallagher, Rosie McDonough, Charles McDonough and A. J. Gallagher.

A letter of inquiry was received by the Association of Commerce which has given us food for thought. The letter included the names and addresses of six parties who are interested in learning more about the Island. The letter came all the way from Iraq. Perhaps they are parties planning to leave Iraq which is too close to Russia for comfort. Who knows — maybe they are looking for a quiet spot such as the Island for a haven of peace.

Beaver is a peaceful spot and folks visiting the Island recently were grateful to have a respite from war talk and the mad dash to grab. Let it be known that the store keepers report that outside of one or two, not a single housewife on the Island has come in to overbuy a pound of sugar, shortening or coffee.

Four tunes this summer and every summer for the past seven years — that's the record of Fred Schaub Jack Allan, Al Veach, "Doc" Montague and Al Mallman who sailed from Charlevoix to the Island this past week in their sailing yacht "Aloha". Schaub hails from Big Rapids, Veach and Malman from Chicago, Allen and Montague from Rockford, Ill.

Mrs. Karl Erber and family came over from Charlevoix to spend the week-end in their cabin on Sand Bay.

Mrs. Ed. Burke was rushed to the hospital Sunday morning. Her condition is reported serious.

Judge and Mrs. Charles Brown and Mrs. William Sexton, Traverse City, flew to the Island Saturday—the Judge piloting the plane—and were guests at the King Strang hotel.

Edgar O'Donnell and son, Joe, and Chester Marshall, Detroit, were guests at the King Strang hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Pryce and daughter, Sally, came up to visit Mrs. Pryce's father, Archie LaFreniere, sr., over the week-end. They occupied one of Allen's cabins.

Mrs. Clarence Sikorski and children suprised Chief Sikorski when they landed on the Island Monday. They occupied Allen's log house and returned to their home in Empire Thursday.

Margie Martin had a nice visit with her aunt, Mrs. Wilbur Martin, in Petoskey.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gordon and son, Johnny, Mrs. Margaret Gordon and Miss Ann Gordon, Chicago, spent four days last week as guests at the King Strang Hotel.

Earlier this season, it was reported this would be a poor year for apples but Charlie "Harlem" Gallagher said 'taint so". Charlie said his trees were loaded and so did Pete the Swede.

Earle Boyle thought at first—there wont be any apple sauce to bother with this fall. Now it looks as though Earle will have to roll up his sleeves and start filling those jars.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McCafferty and little daughter have returned to their home in Chicago. Morris and Grace Boyle, who have been visiting their grandparents, returned to Chicago with the McCaffertys.

Mrs. Ellie Bonner's home was closed up Wednesday. The family, Doctor and Mr. Richard Gorman, Mrs. Myrtle Ditlefsen and daughter, Grace Sexton and Mrs. Bonner left on Wednesday's boat.

It was a mad dash but they made it and the boat only had to wait twenty minutes. But this closing up business has one spinning around up until the last minute no matter how far in advance one starts the preparations. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Heflin were the departing one who practically flew to the dock from their summer home, Islewood.

Mrs. John Petenard, daughter Kay and son John returned to Chicago Monday. Mr. Petenard and his parents arrived on the Island Saturday to spend the week-end and all returned together.

Mrs. Nellie Olsen, Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Olsen, Grand Rapids and Frank Lehouillier, Escanaba, are vacationing at Mrs. Olsen's cabin at the south end of the Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilmot and daughters, Kay and Karen, returned to their home in Cleveland after a nice, long visit with Mrs. Wilmot's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Gallagher.

Burial at Island

The body of the two and a half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alec Washegesic was brought to the Island Tuesday from Erie, Pa., for burial. Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at Holy Cross church Father Giles officiating. Burial was in Holy Cross cemetery. The child died as the results of whooping cough.

Thinking of the Long Pull?

Better Buy Buick!

If that car of yours has put its best days behind it, there's no time like right now to think about starting out afresh with a taut, new, up-to-the-minute motorcar with all its mileage still in it.

And there's no better place in the world to start than with the beauty pictured here, for a variety of reasons.

For one thing, this Buick SPECIAL is a quick-stepping Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight that's priced lower than some sixes.

For another, it's built with typical Buick ruggedness through and through—a husky that can take a lot of years without crying "Uncle!"

Then, too—this high-styled beauty is proving to be one of the most economical Buicks ever built—easy on gas, easy on upkeep, easy on you in its soft, floating, light-handling comfort.

It even comes with Dynaflow Drive* if you like—and Dynaflow means that you will never have to service or replace a friction clutch, and that rear-end or transmission servicing—even engine upkeep—are cut to a minimum.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

Of course, you can't see all of this in the brief span of a trial drive.

But you can experience the good solid feel of Buick strength beneath you. You can satisfy yourself on the lightness of the controls, the utter smoothness of Dynaflow, the quick surge of Buick's Fireball power.

All such things will tell you that this is a car you'll be glad to live with for a long time to come—and you need only to ask your Buick dealer for a demonstration to see precisely what we mean.

Why not call on him soon to talk about signing up?

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, ABC Network, every Monday evening.

Little Theater Plans For 1950-51 Season

Members of the Petoskey Little Theater group opened their 1950-51 season with a lake trout buffet dinner at the Petoskey-Bay View Country club last Friday evening.

Dates of plays to be given this year were announced by Dr. R. E. Todd, president of the group. "Arsenic and Old Lace" will be the opening presentation, Oct. 20-21, at the Petoskey high school auditorium. Dates of succeeding plays will be Dec. 8-9 and March 2-3. Plays will again be directed by Mento Everitt.

Season tickets are available in Charlevoix from Mrs. Franklin Olmstead, phone 322 or 37.

Jack Mol to Wed Cedarville Girl

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Ringler of Cedarville announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Nomis Jean, to Jack Roger Mol, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mol of Charlevoix.

The wedding will be an event of Sept. 17 at the First Methodist church in Reed City.

The bride is a graduate of the Reed City high school and the bridegroom of the Charlevoix high school. Both have attended the Soo branch of the Michigan College of Mines for two years.

No community, no country, can rise above the level of the land that supports it.

I am pleased not to have primary opposition. However, I do wish to urge all my friends to vote September 12th.

Non-Partisan News Letter

By Gene Alleman
Lansing Observer for
Michigan Press Association

Defense needs of Michigan continue to get top billing. The state legislature, convening again at Lansing, received a request from Governor G. Mennen Williams for a $2,000,000 civilian preparedness program. The cost of a "living blood bank", planned as aid for an A-bomb attack, was estimated at $1,000,000. Minimum A-bomb destruction in Detroit would be 100,000 killed or injured, 100,000 homeless, according to Brig. Gen. Clyde E. Dougherty, civil defense director.

Michigan's National Guard is not ready. This fighting force which saw some of the roughest duty in the New Guinea campaign against Japan would need five months intensive training to be ready for combat, according to Gen Ralph A. Loveland, Guard commander.

With 18,900 officers and enlisted men normally assigned to an infantry division, some 7,500 guardsmen fell out for summer training at Camp Grayling.

And at the same time, Dwight D. Eisenhower still says, "You can't win anywhere if you don't win this one".

If President Truman signs the Dingell law, Michigan will be richer by some $100,000 next year and $200,000 each year thereafter. The bill, already passed by Congress, will earmark 10 percent of fishing tackle excise taxes for fish research in the states. Michigan led the nation last year with 1,110,109 licenses issued.

The state social welfare commission has dumped Governor G. Mennen Williams' proposal to boost food budget allowances for public assistance cases until Congress decides on price controls.

Michigan cities are losing their policemen to the army. In rapid succession most areas of the state have asked for blanket draft deferments for their single patrolmen under 26.

Just how bad can a bar get. The answer, according to the state liquor commission is this: Any licensee convicted of three serious charges within two years will lose his license. The question arose in connection with a Detroit establishment which was closed for 30 days and assessed $500.

The tavern has been charged at various times with selling liquor to minors, having an intoxicated bartender, serving intoxicated patrons, allowing intoxicated persons to loiter, having an unsigned license and operating under unsanitary conditions. "We can't help it," Commissioner Harry Henderson said, "If previous commissioners were lenient . . . But the next time . . ."

Whera did the money go? A top drawer advisor to the munitions board and interior department asked that when he warned congress that the stockpile of strategic materials "is not sufficient" Data concerning the $2,000,000,000 stockpile is confidential, even in peacetime. The same hearing mentioned Michigan and its run-down copper mines. S. H. Williston, leading mine expert, says Michigan is not alone in this. "Almost every strategic metal mine within the U.S. . . is closed, abandoned or filled with water," he said.

Michigan automobile manufacturers are concerned over our inadequate roads. Since the nation's car population has jumped so rapidly (12,000,000 more vehicles since before World War II) it is feared that the highways will not be able to handle the traffic. Solution: More money for more and better highways, according to Albert Bradley, G. M. executive and chairman of the national highway users conference. "Less was spent for highways in 1949 on a comparable dollar basis than in the average pre-war year," he asserts.

Mello-Martin Rites Solemnized In Rhode Island Church Ceremony

In ceremony solemnized at the Jesus Savior church in Newport, R. I., Saturday, Mary Evelyn Mello became the bride of Frank H. Martin. The Rev. Father Manuel Rego read the double ring service at a Nuptial high Mass before an altar decorated with white chrysanthemums and lighted tapers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mello of Newport and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. John Martin Sr. of Charlevoix.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, selected a white satin gown designed with long sleeves, a wide bertha collar and a full skirt which featured two folds at the hemline and a long train. Her fingertip veil fell from a seed pearl coronet and she carried a white prayer book topped with an orchid.

Attends Bride

Mrs. Thomas Demma, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a blue organdy gown styled with short sleeves and a full skirt. Her headress was of matching blue tulle and she carried a colonial bouquet of roses.

Rosemary Demma, niece of the bride, as flower girl wore a pink organdy dress styled like the matron of honor's and carried a miniature colonial bouquet.

Albert Mello, brother of the bride, was best man.

Mrs. Mello selected an aqua gown with white accessories and a corsage of red roses for her daughter's wedding.

Wedding Breakfast

Immediately after the wedding a breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents. A wedding dinner at the Viking Hotel at noon was followed by a reception Saturday afternoon.

The couple came to Charlevoix from the east to make its home. For traveling the bride selected a checked suit and navy accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Rogers high school in Newport. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school and served 18 months in the navy.

Squint's Drumming For Fair Play!

Squint Miller's mighty proud of the lot he owns that fronts on River Road—one of the prettiest spots around here.

He's been in a stew about it lately, though. Seems that trash-dumpers take one look at his property, stop their car or truck, and out goes a load of rubbish, spilling all over his place and the roadside, too. Wouldn't that make you mad?

Last night Squint dropped by the house. Over a friendly glass of beer, he tells me what he's done. "I put a couple of empty oil drums out there," he says, "with a big sign reading: 'If you must dump trash—use these—I like to keep my property clean!'"

From where I sit, Squint's sign should make any would-be roadside trash-dumpers pretty darned ashamed of themselves. Now and then some folks just have to be reminded that they ought to have as much regard for their neighbors' rights as they do for their own.

Free Chest X-Rays Offered to Curb TB for County Fair Patrons

Persons older than 14 years of age who plan to visit the Charlevoix county fair September 12-16 are being urged to take time out to get a free chest x-ray. Encouraging every eligible fair-goer to take advantage of the x-ray service, the district health department offers convincing reasons for having a chest check-up.

Getting x-rayed requires no disrobing and takes only a minute, according to Dr. A. F. Litzenburger, district health department director.

To insure a clear x-ray picture, however, adults will be asked to remove all metal, plastic, horn, glass, shell or ivory objects worn over the chest region, he explained.

Chest x-rays given by the mobile unit will act as a testing device to sift out "suspicious" chests. Persons whose x-rays show possible trouble will be advised to visit their family physician for further tests immediately. The reports on possible abnormalities will be sent in sealed envelopes.

More than a million chest x-rays given to date in Michigan have shown that most people have healthy chests. But when a chest x-ray does show disease, finding it early means that treatment can begin toward cornering and curing the illness.

The District Health Department and the Michigan Department of Health are sponsors for the x-ray drive.

Through Christmas Seal funds, the Michigan Tuberculosis Association is helping finance educational and promotional work for the survey.

Drivers Urged To Watch for School Children

"Don't let the school bell sound the death Knell for YOUR child!"

This grim warning was issued today by Chief Heise spokesman for the State Safety Commission's September program of traffic safety education, as millions of youngsters trooped to classrooms throughout the country . . . many for the first time.

"For the beginner," Chief Heise said, "this may be his first tussle with reality . . . with the dangers of the street, and the problems that he must face for himself without Mother's personal guidance. For that reason, the danger to the very young is extreme at this time of the year."

This emphasis on child safety . . .the necessity for thorough safety education by both educators and parents and the driver's responsibility for child safety . . is part of the State Safety Commission's program this month.

Another important part of the program, Chief Heise said, will be devoted to acquainting the public with the record of young drivers as a group, and how this record can be improved.

"Traffic safety education," Chief Heise said, "is not a thing that we can arbitrarily end with the student's fourth, eighth, or twelfth year of formal education. Adult . . . so called 'mature' . . . drivers themselves have much to learn about traffic safety, so the process is obviously a never-ending one. Instruction early in a child's life, however, will do much to make things safer for him, and in 10 or 20 years when he is of driving age, for all of us."

Using the slogan, "WATCH OUT FOR KIDS," the State Safety Commission hopes to convince all adults that their teachings may mean the difference between life or death for some youngster.

Cathy Gallagher Has Birthday Party

A lighted birthday cake centered the refreshment table at a party given Sunday for Cathy Gallagher in the honor of her sixth birthday anniversary. Colorful flowers also decorated the table.

Little friends who gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Gallagher for an afternoon of games and refreshments were Andrea Ashdon, Lorraine Heise, Ann Phillips, Mary Christine Gallagher, and Cally Gallagher.

John Martin Feted On Eighth Birthday

Guests were Charles Coleman, John Norton, Bobby Johns, Rickey Davis, Gary and Bud Balch and Stan Martin.

have been given to them for distribution.

The Lenore Goldman Meyer fund was set up by the members of her immediate family following her untimely death in Aug. 1941.

Even as a child Mrs. Meyer had had the welfare of the people of Charlevoix in her thoughts and had always collected clothing, toys and even food to be sent here to be distributed among hardship cases she had heard about. Knowing her heart was always in the north, the family set up the fund in her memory to aid the people in this community. They have continued to finance the fund and have received many generous contributions from among their friends as well as from persons here and elsewhere who have heard about the fund.

Serving on the local operating committee are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ranger, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bridge and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Meyer.

Calf Scramble At County Fair Should Be Lively

The local Kiwanis Club and the Rotary Clubs in the county are sponsoring a calf scramble on Friday afternoon, Sept. 15. About $1200 is being provided to purchase nine Hereford calves. Farm boy contestants of 15- 16 and 17 years will complete.

The nine calves and 12 boys will be in an enclosure before the grand stand and at a given signal each boy will attempt to catch and tie up a calf. The calf will then be his for one year at which time the calf will be sold at public auction, the boy to retain any profit made on the animal.

This contest provides excellent grandstand entertainment. These calves will weigh about 400 pounds each, and have been raised on range, have never been handled or had a rope on them. Each boy has 10 feet of rope, and when he gets his hands on a calf all other contestants must keep hands off.

If the calf gets away from a contestant, he is then legal prey for another. The calf must be roped, and tied up to the fence without choking and the boy then approaches the judges for his ear tag. The game is rough and sometimes clothes are torn and skin is lost.

A boy contestant must be in good physical condition as these calves are wild and sometimes attack a boy. For the next year accurate feed and expense records must be kept, and the better the care and feed the calf receives, the more the profit. The sponsor guarantees no loss to the boy.

Francis Nowland has returned to Dearborn following a two weeks visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Nowland Sr.

Anniversary Service

Special service will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Bethany Lutheran church for the first anniversary of dedication of new church building. Rev. F. J. New Plant Here Expects To Hire 15

A new industrial plant has moved into Charlevoix.

Workers are busy unloading machines and equipment for the Morry Steel Products Co., a new firm, into a temporary site in the Wojan building on Stover road. The firm is owned by Morry Taylor of Pontiac who also owns a plant there.

Present plans call for the firm to employ 15 men, Mr. Taylor said, adding that three shifts of five men each will be used. Operations are expected to start in 10 days.

The firm makes fittings for the oil industry. If operations here progress, Taylor said he plans to move his Pontiac plant here.

The new firm moved punch presses and other equipment weighing some 25 tons here Monday but could not unload it until late Tuesday and Wednesday.

Don Schroeder and Al Taylor, brother of the owner, will manage the plant here while Taylor will remain in Pontiac for the present.

Gridders Work Hard to Prepare For Grayling

Candidates for the Charlevoix Rayders football team traveled to Traverse City Saturday for practice scrimmages with the Traverse Varsity while the Rayder reserves played against the Traverse City sophomore team.

The trip gave the boys an opportunity to try out their new offensive system as well as to give Coach Del Terrill an idea what his junior and senior candidates can do in action.

It is too early to determine who will take over the regular berths but it did give the boys a chance to do their stuff Coach Terrill said.

Stan Whitley and Ted Browe two newcomers to the Varsity ranks, showed promise on offense and Jim Bowman and Ron Cunningham looked exceptionally good on defense.

The boys who are expected to take over the kicking duties this season, Charles Fairbanks, Cunningham, Gerry Left and Bud Borber were also given an opportunity for a work-out.

During the scrimmage motion pictures were taken and will be made available to the local team.

With the opening of the school term many lettermen from last season who have been unable to attend all practice sessions will be reporting full time to get in shape for the opener at Grayling Sept. 22. Practice sessions start at 3 p. m. daily.

Road Group Plans Convention Here

The Northern Michigan Road Commissioners Association will hold their twenty-seventh annual convention in Charlevoix Sept. 0-7, 1951, with headquarters at the Beach Hotel, S. E. Coleman, secretary of the Board of Commerce and E. J. Kramer, Beach Hotel owner-operator announced Wednesday.

The convention will bring apprnximately 400 visitors to Charlevoix.

The 1050 convention was held at the Pork Place in Troverse City last week.

Among those who attended were Angus Fochtman and Sam Rogers of East Jordan, road commissionera, T. B. Reynolds, county rood engineer and Ralph S. Hamilton, county road commissioner clerk.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Nickerson and daughter, who have been residing here, have moved to Petoskey.

School Starts Part-Time Art Program

A part-time art program will be instituted in the Charlevoix public school this year, Supt. Roy G. Bennett, has announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Motto, former Shaker Heights, O., residents who now live in Petoskey, will visit the local schools two days each week and will teach art in the elementary school and to a limited extent in the high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Motto are graduates of Western Reserve and the Cleveland Art Institute and formerly operated an art studio in Cleveland.

In addition to the personnel listed last week Mrs. Margaret Davenport will continue as school nurse; Avery Howard will continue as a bus driver and Rev. L. L. Lewis will serve as substitute driver. R. T. Davis, who has made other plans, will not drive this year.

The school calendar for the 1050-51 term has also been released and will include: Oct. 5-0, M.E.A. Institute at Petoskey; Nov. 23-24, Thanksgiving recess; Dec. 23 through Jan. 1, Christmas recess.

Jon. 19, end of first semester; March 22-27, Easter recess; May 27, Baccalaureate; May 29, Commencement; June 1, school closes for 1050-51 term.

Cornerstone for Beaver Lodge Laid in Ceremony

Tuesday ofternoon, Beaver Islanders witnessed the blessing and laying of the corner stone of the hotel, Beaver Lodge. The ceremony took place at one o'clock in the presence of a large gathering. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Davison ond daughter, Betty, made up the reception committee to welcome all who attended.

Before the blessing ceremony, Father Giles Berthiaume and Mrs. Dan Boyle placed in a receptacle over which the corner stone was to be laid, a medal of St. Joseph, the patron saint of homes, the lodge will be the temporary home of many guests in the future) a copy of the Courier carrying the picture and write-up of the hotel and a list of those present for the occasion. These articles were sealed in a container by Father Giles and Mrs. Boyle. Mrs. Boyle was chosen to assist Father since she has the distinction of being the oldest lady on the island. After the container was sealed, Father Giles read the blessing ond the stone was laid in place.

An interesting feature of the corner stone, which was made by Sylvester Howard, is the ahape of the stone embedded in the cement hlock. The stone was selected from the many piles of field stones on the island, broken in half and the result was a stnne ahaped a great deal like the map of Ireland. Betty Davison etched "1950" in the center of the stone and Howord chisled out the year date to perfection. Howard, who has plans for developing cabin accomodations at the air port, is presently employed with the construction of the hotel.

Be Sure to Take Free X-Ray For Curbing TB at County Fair

Hundreds of bargain wise Charlevoix county citizens are finding out this week that one of the best attractions at the Charlevoix county fair is the chest X-roy service.

Against a background of calliope music and tha calls of barkars, one of tha busiest spots on the fairgrounds is where the mobile unit of tha Michigan Department of Health is set up to give chest X-rays. Tha X-rays are free to averyone 14 years of aga and older.

It's simple to get the chest check-up. You stand in line for a moment, get an X-ray registration card from the nurse at the desk and step up to the unit. The X-ray technician places you before a screen, tells you to put ynur shoulders forward, with your arms akimbo and hands on your hip bones. You're told to take a deep greath and hold it. And that's all!

"When you step down," said one elderly fair-goer, "you feel wonderful. It's good to know you will soon have a report on the condition of your chest."

Urging every adult to take advantage of the fair X-raying Dr. A. F. Litzenburger, district health department director pointed out that the peak of tuberculosis deaths in Michigan continues to move toward older age groups.

"Twenty years ago," he soid, "tuberculosis was primarily a disease of 'teens and twenties." Today, that trend is reversed, with the peak of tuberculosis deaths among men in the 40-70 age bracket.

"Discovery and treatment of tuberculosis in older people - parents, grandparents and others who work or live with children - is protection for children," he added. "A chest X-ray will show tuberculosis before there are any outward symptoms."

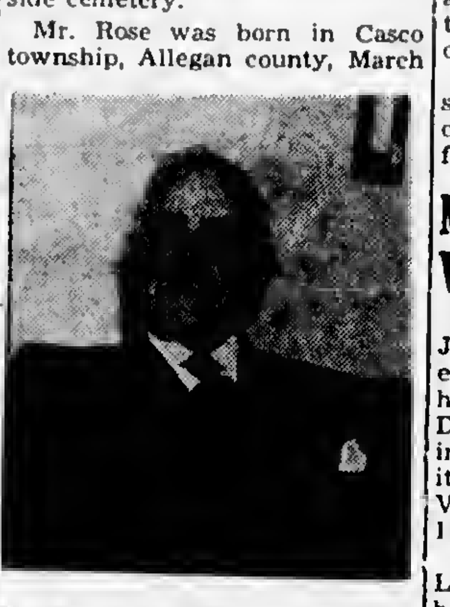
The Michigan Tubreculosis Association is cooperating with the district health department in the fair chest X-raying program.

Death Claims Simon Rose, 88 Pioneer Resident

Simon M. Rose, 88, former civic leoder, a retired businessman and pioneer resident, died Monday at the Charlevoix Hospital where he had been a patient for several days

Masonic funeral rites were held at the See Funeral Home Wednesday. Burial was in the Brookside cemetery.

Mr. Rose was born in Casco township, Allegan county, March



6, 1862 and came to northern Michigan in 1868. He was a barber by trode ond operated a shop in Petoskey a short time before coming to Charlevoix. When he retired in December, 1943, he had been in business for 60 years.

He was also a deep-sea diver as well as a Great Lakes sailor. He laid the first water main across Pine River in 1882 and also operated tugs ond other vessels on the Great Lakes. He held his master's paper on the lakes.

He was a village trustee and when Charlevoix was incorporated in 1905 he became the first alderman in the second ward. He served as mayor in 1900 and ogain from 1017 through 1921. He was also city assessor and a member of the board of supervisors.

Ho was active in fraternal orders and held memberships in the Masonic and Eastern Star lodges. He was also a member of the Blue lodge and has been a high priest in the Royal Arch Order and a member of the Knights Templar.

He is survived by his wife, the former Lizzie Campbell whom he married at Elk Rapids Jan. 22 1885; three grandsons, Hal, Jack and Mason who all reside in California and several great-grandchildren. His only son, Mason, preceded him in death.

Military Rites for Virgil J. Frye

Funeral services for Virgil John Frye, 30, World War II veteran, were held at the See funeral home Saturday with the Rev. W. D. Wood officloting. Burial waa in the Brookside cemetery. Military rites were in charge of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1153.

City Orders Removal of Auto Meters

Routine business occupied the city council's ottention Monday night as its members authorized the removal of parking meters and arranged for an informal discussion of wage demands of the city electrical employes.

The council was told this marked the earliest removal of the parking meters since they were installed several yeors ago. Originally they were to be taken out after Sept. 15.

Alderman Ralph Hamilton told the spokesman for the alectrical workers that they did not have to join a union to ask for a wage increase.

The council decided to advertise for bids for supplying the the city with oil from Oct. 1 until June 1. Sept. 25 was set as the deodline for bids.

In response to a question of a councilman, City Comptroller Don Swinton said the loan of $20,000 will be paid on time next month. He indicated that this will require about 50 percent of the tax collection instead of the 42 percent previously anticipated.

Hamilton differed with City Attorney Norman Ance on the legality of cities buying equipment on time payment plan, adding that many cities are doing it. Ance insisted that it is not legal and asked Swinton to check with the Michigan Finance commission as to the legality.

Photographers Elect Officers At Final Meeting

The Michigan Photographers Society closed their three-day convention at the Beach Hotel with the election of officers Tuesday.

Frank Lepley of Three Rivers was named president to succeed Miss Maurine Stovall of Alma. Warren A. Wilson of Caro was named vice-president and Allen E. Arnold, master photographer of Birmingham was re-elected executive secretary and treasurer.

The three day convention opened at the Beach Hotel Sunday with special lectures and demonstrations by visiting photographers ond teachers. Several special events were planned for members Monday.

A smorgesbord banquet was the highlight of the evening entertainment. A special program followed the dinner and included a welcome by S. E. Coleman, secretary of the Board of Commerce and by Miss Stovall, president of the Society, selections by the Charlevoices and the Impossible Four, a barbershop quartette, a brief history of Charlevoix by Fran Martin, two specialty numbers by Society members and group singing. Mr. Arnold, who with Mrs. Arnold were convention hosts, served as toastmaster.

Students Leave for College

Their porents, Mrs. Clayton Trimble and Mr. ond Mrs. Kenneth Sweet, took them to Albion and visited in Grand Rapids with the latter's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don North, enroute home.

Ex-Gov. Kelly Given Big Majority for State's Top Post

Two county officers were re-elected while the road commissioner's job changed hands during light voting in Charlevoix county's fall primary. A total of 2132 votes were cast in the county. All but one precinct has reported.

Former Gov. Harry Kelly won the Republican nomination for governor in the county vote by nearly a three to one margin over four candidates. Dr. Eugene C. Keyes won the runner up spot for governor with 458 votes.

Sheriff Floyd Ikens was returned to office for the ninth time and County Clerk F. R. Bulow maintained his unbroken tenure since 1920 when he was appointed to the post.

Karl Erber showed remarkable strength throughout the county, rolling up 1260 votes to defeat Angus Fochtman with 710. In Charlevoix Erber defeated Fochtman by a 406 to 356 margin.

IN THE SHERIFF'S race, R. T. Davis, former county road superintendent polled 520 votes and Glenn T. Rose, 453. Ikens with 1150 votes carried all of the cities and all rural precincts except Evangeline which Davis captured.

William Underhill of Boyne City opposing Bulow for clerk carried his city, Melrose, Evangeline and Wilson townships but was beaten handily in the other precincts. Bulow had 1305 votes and Underhill, 690.

The vote was termed light by county officials who had predicted several hundred more voters casting in the spirited gubernatorial roce.

CHARLEVOIX carried off the honors of being the most vote conscious city in the county by having 898 persons cast ballots as compared with 556 in Boyne City and East Jordan. This meant that Charlevoix cast more ballots than East Jordan and Boyne City together.

Kelly showed greater strength in the county than was anticipated. Alger who was expected to make a close race of it in the county trailed Kelly and Keyes. He had 264 votes, Albert Engel had 212 and Thomas Leith, 21.

Stan Anderson Leaves For College Position

Stanley Anderson, of Charlevoix county Veterans Institute staff, has resigned the position to serve on the faculty of Iowa State College, Ames, Ia. While on the faculty he will work on his doctorate.

The resignation will become effective immediately. His successor has not been named.

A Michigan State College graduote, he moved here last September.

Mr. ond Mrs. Maurice Hinckley and two children have returned to Kalamazoo following a visit with her mother, Mrs. Frank Partridge.

Rod-Gun Club Given Rifle Group Charter

The Charlevoix Rod and Gun Club Inc., has been granted a national Rifle Association chapter.

The new club which will conduct registered NRA tournaments on its range has dedicated itself to teach safety with firearms to all members of the community.

Fair Attracts Record Group Of Exhibits

The largest group of exhibits in the history of the Charlevoix county fair at East Jordan was reported Tuesday by Ed Rebman, fair secretary. The fair will close Saturday night.

The display rooms were bulging with exhibits of fruits, grains, handiwork, home economics. Extra space had to be provided to hold exhibits. Livestock entries broke all existing records.

The fair is expected to draw good-sized crowds Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Headlining the entertainment Thursday (today) will be horse racing and pony racing. The WLS born dance entertainers, featuring Patsy Montana and a host of others, will put on a real show tonight.

Horse racing is slated also for Friday afternoon. The calf scramble, always a big event, will be held Friday afternoon. Horse pulling events are scheduled for Saturday. Earl Peterson and his entertainers will present a musical show Friday and Saturday evenings.

Friday is children's day with youngsters under 14 being admitted to the grounds free until 5 p. m.

St. Mary's Enrolls 85 To Account For Increase

More children are in Charlevoix schools this September than were a year ago according to registration at the Charlevoix public schools and St. Mary's parochial school.

The figures show on increase to 904 enrolled in the schools as compared to 867 last year. The greatest increase is in the parochial school enrollment which jumped from 69 in 1949 to 85 this week.

In the public school the enrollment in the elementary school remained at 457 and in the high school the present figure is 462, one more than last year.

The enrollment by classes are as follows: Kindergarten, 70; first grade, 62; second, 68; third, 60; fourth, 65; fifth, 58; sixth, 74.

In the high school the seventh grade had 68; eighth, 67; ninth, 51; tenth, 59; eleventh, 61; twelfth, 56.

At St. Mary's school the first two grodes have 28 pupils as compared to 21 last year; the next three grades have 29 and the sixth, seventh and eighth grodes, 28. The children of kindergarten age ottend the public school.

A Strange Code of Loyalty

In a recent press conference the President was amazed when reporters told him that Democratic Representative J. Percy Priest of Tennessee had publicly stated Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of Defense Johnson should resign. Overcoming his suprise, he retorted that Priest couldn't do that — that he was the Democrat whip in the House. He added that neither Acheson nor Johnson would resign as long as Truman was President.

Aside from any question of competence, the record shows that Acheson wanted to "wait until the dust settled" in China and was against undertaking any "foolish adventures" in Formosa or other parts of the Far East. The record also shows that although Johnson had $13,000,000,000 to spend on national defense last year alone, no obvious kind of preparation for a "police action" such as the Korean invasion has been apparent.

In another press conference remark the President said he takes his military advice on Korea from his military leaders and was optimistic since they were.

Must military men in our top comands forget their duty to state our nation's needs for military defense? Must They be considered "insurrectionists" if they conscientiously disagree with cutbacks, made to satisfy political opportunities?

Does political thinking and political loyalty to and from political appointees take precedence over the recommendations of those in a profession which understands that mistakes mean the sacrifice of lives?

Does such a code of loyalty fail to acknowledge a higher code of loyalty — to the national welfare?

If the President chose tho wrong advisers, the record shows he insists on keeping them. This is reminiscent of a sort of loyalty borne either of ill advice or poor judgement and evidenced in the statement, "I do not intend to turn my back on Alger Hiss."

Starting of School Means Careful Driving

Back to school weeks means renewed vigilance on the part of the motorists.

The sight of a child on a curb or in a driveway should mean that the drivers will slow up automatically because they may make a sudden move into the street or road.

Drivers are urged by traffic authorities and Police Chief Clarence Heise to be especially watchful for youngsters in the vicinity of schools, playgrounds, bus stops and crossings just before and after school.

Parents must teach their children by example as well as by word of mouth, how to cross the street, not to take risks, and not to play in or near the street. They must be sure that their children can safely operate any wheeled vehicles they may use .

Careful, alert drivers plus careful children can save many young lives in Michigan this fall.

Give the child the benefit of doubt. He may be too busy thinking about what he is going to do in school rather than on the need of looking before crossing the street.

Here's good news we'd like to share with you . . . there's a possibility the SPEBSQSA International may make our own Labor Day Jamboree one of their semi-annual meetings which will bring to Charlevoix Barbershoppers from pretty much every place . . . the recent Labor Day visitors really liked what the local chapters had prepared for them and as a result the effort of the crowd to bring the international meeting here . . . keep your fingers crossed for it could mean a lot to Charlevoix. . . .

Did you know that during the recent Jamboree SPEBSQSA men (and their ladies) from eight states, Canada and Cuba were registered . . . even that sounds pretty international to us . . . An orchid (or better yet, a lei of them) to general chairman Jack Dollenmaier, Jerry Scudder and all the others who put across the jamboree in such grand style . . .

SOME NEWS from the boys in Korea . . . Sgt. Charles Greeley, finally heard from him, and the tales he tells of conditions there aren't pretty to hear . . . in fact he said one couldn't believe it unless he was there . . . And Leonard J. Dubey, a jeep driver who went to Korea with his outfit late July has been promoted to private first class he has written his mother, Mrs. Edna Howe.

Remember the ad Bill Ratigan had in the Courier early in the summer for an old car . . . don't say it doesn't pay to advertise your wants . . . Bill now has a '24 Ford . . . which has been painted by his eldest daughter, Pat, with the able assistance of the neighborhood and Mrs. R. has upholstered it with the most beautiful red oil cloth . . . and when it has gas in the tank it runs . . . and you should see him changing a tire . . .

Know what we saw Saturday? a string of 25 beautiful perch caught in Round Lake by Mrs. Pat Sevrey in Round Lake . . We didn't even know they were biting yet until we saw them . . . she must know the right spot . . .

Beaver Island may have looked beautiful from the air the other day but one little girl, Jill Smith, wasn't seeing it for the tears as she left the island to return to her home in the Canadian Soo. Her aunt, Mrs. Russell Palmer, accompanied her and had quite a time consoling her. A few days here before continuing the trip made up for leaving the island, Jill told us.

Members of St. Mary's church attending 11 a.m. Mass Sunday had rare treat with the appearance of Mr. C. McOsker former organist at St. Andrew's Cathedral as organist and Jerome Roach, former soloist at Notre Dame sang the Mass. They were traveling through when they stopped for the morning service . . .

Did you ever see so many berries on the mountain ash trees as there are this year . . . the birds will certainly fare well this winter . . . And if your boy or girl is going away to college any time soon, give us a ring and tell us about it . . we're doing a story on it and are trying to include all those college bound.

Coach Del Terrill tells us that Bill Wallace added something new to football Saturday at Traverse City . . .in a punt return in the scrimmage he started using the photographer's truck for blocking purposes . . . . no doubt the opposition objected when they saw it . . .

People who met Bob Brown of Charlotte when he was visiting his aunt, Mrs. Kit Carson, recently are watching he and his brother Dan, with great interest . . . . they're a catcher-pitcher combination in baseball and to that they've both received scholarships to Yale U . . . . the first time in the history of the school scholarships to two brothers have been awarded . . . Dan has completed one year and Bob will enter as a frosh this fall . . . Added to that the scouts feel they're definitely hig league material . . . it will be fun watching their careers . . . they're the sons of Ken Brown, an assistant professsor at Michigan State . . .

Dan Devine, former East Jordan coach, is doing all right for himself at Michigan State . . . he's listed as an assistant frosh coach in the Spartan coaching staff listed this week . . . . he's working on his master's too . . .

The Bob Miles are open for suggestions, short of burning their house down, to rid the place of hornets . . . you may make same by calling 436 . . . surely there's some way of getting rid of them.

Names Omitted

The names of Marilyn Miller and Mrs. Wilson Ward, both of Charlevoix, sisters of Miley Miller,25, who was found dead in his truck last week on Maple Grove road, were omitted from the list of survivors.

Most Children Need Better Teeth Care

Seven out of ten Michigan children who are entering school this fall have decayed teeth.

The average Michigan five - year - old has four teeth which need treatment.

Half of Michigan's three-year-olds have teeth which have started to decay.

These facts were revealed today by the Section of Dentistry of the Michigan Department of Health.

While fluoridation of Michigan's municipal water supplies will undoubtedly help to solve the dental decay problem in Michigan children, it cannot do the job alone, Dr. Fred Wertheimer, Chief of the Dentistry Section, said today in commenting on the facts.

Good home dental care and care by a dentist are also necessary.

Of first importance in home dental care is the diet of children. Every Michigan child should have a diet that is low in sugar content. He should be given nuts, popcorn, fresh fruits and cheese in place of the usual between meal snacks of candy, suckers, pop, cookies, chewing gum or jam. He should be taught to brush his eeth immediately after each meal.

Mrs. Funk to Head WCTU Chapter Again

The local W.C.T.U. elected officers for the year at the first meeting of the 1950-51 year at the home of Mrs. Ernest Howe Friday.

Mrs. Gladys Funk was re-elected president; Mrs. Howe, vice president; Mrs. Lillian Bartholomew, corresponding secretary Mrs. Mary Kerr. recording secretary; treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth Murray.

Mrs. Funk presided at the business session at which Mrs. A. J. Usher reviewed the program for the past year. She also urged members to visit the polls during the elections this fall and cast their votes. She stressed the point that it was every voter's duty to vote. The program for the coming year was discussed. Plans were also made to send delegates to the 76th state convention in Saginaw Oct. 18-19-20.

Anderson-Brown Nuptials Read in Double Ring Church Ceremony

Gladioli in pastel shades and lighted tapers formed the background for the wedding of Betty LoAnne Anderson and Donald W. Brown at the Church of God Saturday afternoon.

The Rev. W. D. Wood read the double ring service in the presence of 200 guests who were seated in pews marked with white satin ribbon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Klaus S. Anderson. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Brown of Petoskey and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Powers of this city.

Clarence Sorenson of Quincy, Ill., uncle of the bride, sang, You Truly", preceding the cere-You Truly" preceeding the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" during the service. Mrs. Jean Burt of Harbor Springs accompanied him and also played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, selected a gown of white satin styled with a mandarin collar, long sleeves and a fitted bodice buttoned to the waist with self-covered buttons. A chantilly lace peplum highlighted the full skirt which ended in a long train. Her fingertip veil of nylon net edged with lace was held with o coronet of satin. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Attends Sister

Her sister and only attendant, Viola Mae Anderson, wore a soft green nylon marquisette gown over taffeta fashioned with a high neckline, short sleeves and full skirt. She wore matching green gloves anda headdress of yellow gladioli which matched her bouquet.

Howard Brown of Petoskey assisted his brother as best man and ushers were Ronald and Donald Allen of Petoskey, twin cousins of the bridegroom, Jack Mol and Claire Martin.

Mrs. Anderson selected a soft delft blue trimmed with sequins, black accessories and a corsage of coral gladioli for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Brown wore a pine green suit, matching accessories and a coral gladioli corsage. Mrs. Powers, grandmother of the bridegroom, wore a blue suit, red accessories and a white gladioli corsage.

A reception followed at the Grey Gables Inn. A four tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bouquet centered the refreshment table. Mrs. Ada Golden cut the cake and Mrs. Ingma Pontius, Mrs. Richard Fochtman and Sue Webster assisted.

The couple left on a wedding trip to southern Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin. For traveling the bride wore a navy suit and navy and beige accessories.

Local Graduates

Both are graduates of the Char-high school. The bridegroom served three years with the army in Italy and attended Ferris Institute. He plans to continue his studies at Northern Michigan College of Education in Marquette. Mrs. Brown will continue to reside here for the present.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Powers, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brown, of Ironton, Mrs. Anna Sorenson of Quincy, Ill., and Krist Anderson, all grandporents of the couple and Mrs. Annie Powers of Barryton, great-grandmother of the bridegroom.

Other guests from away were Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Brown, Howard Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Jewel, M. and Mrs. Kenneth Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Fenske all of Petoskey; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Brown of Pontiac; Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Brown of Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Solomon of Traverse City; Mrs. Tom Breakey of East Jordan; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Powers of Barryton; Mrs. Bert Humphrie of Kalkaska; Mr. and Mrs. Romaine Martin and Mrs. Frances Canell of Cheboygan; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lewer of Harbor Springs.

December Bride

Ione Moshier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis N. Moshier whose marriage to Emerald Howe will take place in December.

Stutt-Fochtman Vows Solemnized At Cundlelight Church Service

In an impressive candlelight service solemnized at the Church of God Saturday evening Myrle Ina Stutt, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Grate, became the the bride of William E. Fochtman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus L. Fochtman.

Gladioli and delphinium in assorted colors and lighted tapers formed the background for tthe double ring service performed by the Rev. W. D. Wood. The Charlevoices accompanied by Mrs. A. J. Stelter, sang A Dawning the Lord's Prayer and O Promise Me. Mrs. Stelter also played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, selected a gown of white satin designed along princess lines with a high neckline of marquisette outlined with a fold of satin. The full skirt marked by ruffles at the hipline ended in a long train. A seed pearl coronet held her fingertip veil ond she carried a bouquet of pink and white roses.

Matron of Honor

Mrs. A. E. Cook, aunt of the bride, was matron of honor and Suzanne Grate, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Mrs. Cook wore a shell pink lace gown over taffeta with a matching hat and carried a bouquet of lavender and white boby mums. Miss Grate wore a gown of yellow net over taffeta styled with a satin sash, a floral head-dress and carried a bouquet of blue and yellow baby mums.

Harry Stutt, brother of the bride, was best man and ushers were Robert Fochtman and Richard Fochtman, brothers of the bridegroom, H. R. Marple of Lansing and Dr. G. B. Saltonstall

Wedding Gowns

Mrs. Grate chose a gown of toast lace and brown accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of yellow tea roses. Mrs. Fochtman, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of blue chiffon, bue accessories and a corsage of yellow mums.

A reception, arranged by Mrs. G. B. Houston, followed at the home of the bride's parents. A three tiered wedding cake graced the refreshment table which was decoroted with flowers and tapers. A profusion of autumn flowers were used about the rooms. Mrs. Gordon Freedman and Mrs. Robert Betts of Newcastle, Pa., served the wedding cake, Miss Anne Baumgartner presided at the punch bowl.

The couple left on a wedding trip through northern Michigan before returning here to make their home. For traveling the bride wore a green suit ond tan accessories.

Among those from away who attended the wedding were Mrs. K. H. Betts and George Betts of Salem, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Betts of Newcastle, Pa.; Mrs. Erwin Hunt of Mt. Pleasant; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Grove of Traverse City; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Riggle and three sons and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hammond, of Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dollenmaier of Bay City; Richard Saltonstall of Grosse Pointe; Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Marple of Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Miller of Benton Harbor; Mrs. Cora Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hazelton and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gruler of Petoskey.

Preceding the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Angus Fochtman and Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Grate entertained at dinner parties at their respective homes Friday evening for members of the wedding party and out of town guests who were here for the week-end.

It Adds So Much to the Joy of Living!

You walk out of the house, and there it stands—waiting for you in the driveway.

You've seen it hundreds of times before—but it's so attractive, there in the sunlight, that you stop instinctively for a second look.

The sun lights up the gleaming chrome and frames the whole gorgeous picture. The soft finish shimmers in the shadows. A pattern of hand-tailored fabric shows through the open window. And there's the beautiful steering wheel —inviting you in.

Yes, it's a lovely day! And the next thing you know, you're out in traffic—and the powerful, soft-throated engine is gliding you along as if by automatic propulsion.

You ride so softly and quietly and easily that judging time and distance is the hardest work you do!

The lights turn red and the lights turn green—the hills and valleys flow under the wheels . . . and every stretch of highway ahead is a study in enchantment.

Though you take to the highway ten times a day, each trip is a thrill all over again. You thrill to its beauty, the way it rides, the way it behaves, the way it handles—and, being human, you like the admiring glances which other motorists toss your way.

Happiness, as everyone knows, is a state of mind—but it is aided and abetted by your satisfaction with the things about you.

And this we can promise for Cadillac: It will add to your satisfaction every mile you drive. Many say it enriches their lives to an unbelievable degree.

Why not get one for your happiness—today?

Preventing Illness

Undulant fever in man may be prevented by eradicating Brucellosis from all domestic farm animals; by drinking only pasteurized milk; by avoiding the handling of meat and meat secretions with the bare hands; by avoiding direct exposure while caring for infected animals; by avoiding needless handling of raw products when being prepared for the table; by wearing rubber gloves or rubber sleeve gloves while butchering or attending to animals during farrowing, calving or castrating says Dean E. E. Leasure, veterinarian at Kansas State College.

Crease Resistant

Cotton goods represent the greatest potential for crease resistant application, but "considerably less than 1 per cent of cotton fabric production was finished for crease resistance last year."

Synthetic Rubber

Most recent factor for modifying synthetic rubbers is a lower processing temperature. Improved synthetic is being made by the "cold" process because a lower temperature of polymerization produces molecules of better size and shape.

IT HAPPENED ON ....
BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Beaver Island is a quiet spot, but even more quiet after Labor Day when the last of the summer residents depart for home ports. There are a few tourists coming and going, but for the most part, there's just the home folk left.

Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson and children, Davalin and David, returned to their home in Ferndale Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson plan to return for two weeks during October to harvest the apples in their orchard and enjoy the golden days of Indian summer.

With several of our Beaver Island boys being called for examination, the war is being brought closer to home. Buddy McDonough decided to enlist in the air corps instead of being drafted. He and his father left for Detroit Tuesday where Buddy passed the examination and was accepted. They returned to the Island Thursday and were off again Sunday with Texas as Buddy's destination. Mr. and Mrs. McDonough, Buddy's parents, and Patricia Ramsey drove as far as Detroit to bid him God's speed on his way to "deep in the heart of Texas."

THE STORK finally landed at Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McDonough's house Tuesday morning and left a nine and a quarter pound boy. The young gentleman was christened Friday afternoon and given the name of Joseph Hugh, Joseph after his god-father, Joseph "Buddy" McDonough. Mrs. Helen Pike is the god-mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Davison and daughter, Betty, left the Island last week on a buying trip

Mrs. Hugh Boyle is visiting in Chicago.

THE NORTH Shore brought across last week a very nice looking late model car for the Patrick Bonners. Their nephew, Stanley Burnes, did the picking and drove it to Charlevoix. Stanley was recently on the Island and while here set up the first television outfit on the Island at the Bonners' house.

Beaver Island's first lady, Mrs. Dan Boyle—Aunt Maggie to us on the Island—looked lovely for the occasion of the blessing and laying of the corner stone. She was pow'ful dressed up in a pretty blue dress, navy coat and the perkiest hat,

Mrs. Russell Palmer returned Tuesday from the Soo.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Gallagher were in Grand Rapids on business this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones spent the past two weeks on the Island and occupied one of Allen's cabins. It was their honeymoon. Mr. and Mrs. Jones returned to Grand Rapids Monday where they will make their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gillespie, Chicago, are visiting Mr. Gillespie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kett Gillespie. Friday evening Mrs. John got together with Jewell and coast guardsman Dorn and the trio really gave out a variety of music from hymns to jive at Willie O'Donnell's house. Mrs. Gillespie is an accomplished pianist and the two men strum guitars.

As a farewell gesture for Buddy McDonough, his uncle, Archie La Freniere, Jr., invited a number of relatives and friends to a party at the Shamrock tavern. There was dancing and visiting and during the evening a delicious Dutch luncheon was served.

Friday morning's Mass was offered in honor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help for the safety of our Beaver Island boys who are being called into service.

SID KATILIK left the Island Saturday for Cleveland to sail for the rest of the season. Mrs. Katilik returned to the upper peninsula to make her home temporarily with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Roy and family are here on the Island and are occupying McDonough's cottage in the village.

Mrs. Ed. Burke underwent major surgery at the Charlevoix hospital this past week. Ed was in Charlevoix until Friday when he returned home via Joe McPhillip's reliable air service. Mrs. Burke is a very sick lady at present but she's on the road to recovery and we hope she will be back on the Island soon.

Bub—that's Ed's nick name—has the only taxi on the Island and his service to and from the airport is something of a record. A plane no sooner circles the village than Bub is an the way to meet the plane at the airport. "And to think," Bub said," I had to wait 50 minutes at the airport Friday before getting a lift to the village."

At Buddy's farewell party there was a lot of fancy steppin' and rug cuttin' around the juke box. About the fanciest rug cutter was Jack Johnston. That feller can strip up a carpet in less than two measures of the 12th Street Rag.

Saturday a number of Indian children left for Harbor Springs to attend school at Holy Childhood school.

Grass Cover Stops Gully Formations

A good thick grass cover in the natural waterways is an inexpensive yet effective practice to prevent gully formation.

Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, says grass waterways can be established with effort and maintained with will power.

The agent admits it takes some will power to keep from plowing and tearing them up when fitting operations are carried on in the field.

According to soil scientists at Michigan State College one of the biggest faults in establishing sod waterways is the failure to build them wide enough. They should be constructed so they will carry the maximum amount of water at the peak run-off. Otherwise the water will "eat" into the tilled area and defeat the purpose of the waterway.

Waterways may be established in the spring and late summer. In the spring, waterways are left when the sod land is plowed for row crops.

August is the time to seed a small gullied area which has no sod cover. The agent suggests the waterway be shaped with tillage equipment and be well fertilized.

Soil Conservation doesn't cost - - - it pays.

As preparedness is emphasized throughout the State, Michigan moves its machinery along to recruit 1,500 air raid spotters. Detroit's defense will be tested in October with a simulated atomic bombing of key installations.

Michigan will heve fewer physicians ond dentists in the near future. Congress is enacting legislation to draft needed medical men for military hospitals. Forecast at Washington: Lifting of selective service ban on drafting of married men, 19 through 25.

The legislature's economy program did not onticipate K-Day and resultant inflation. (Note: Wholesale prices index soared 20 per cent in 60 days). University of Michigan's President Ruthven warned legislators that the low operating budget ($11.5 million instead of $15.8 asked) has resulted in its "worst crisis in 50 years". Employees are demanding higher wages recently granted by GM, Chrysler, Packard.

A move mey be made, according to political seers, to slip Detroit's John Gibson on the 1950 Democrotic slate in the hope his popularity with the CIO will weld the big union to the Democratic fold this fall.

If the war picture is discouraging, Michigan's fall crops, at least, are booming with heaming reports from all sectors. Only major exception in the field of plenty is the prospective field-bean harvest.

And car deelers have been warned that competition is near again despite possible shortages. J. C. Doyle, central regional manager of the Ford Motor Co., tells them: "You have been given a reprieve (from competition) but it's a temporary reprieve . . . this is not a business for the next few months but for the future."

The value of your dollar is still going down — with scare buying playing the villian's role in the trend. Not by hoarders in retail stores, according to Wall street, but by merchants, wholesalers and manufacturers who have flooded primary sources of commodities with anticipatory orders.

An American Legion official at the convention in Grand Rapids in asking for universal military training says: "The Neck of the United States is lying on the chopping block just like a Thanksgiving turkey." He demanded immediate and complete preparedness for national defense.

Mirror of a possible labor shortage in Michigan are MUCC figures showing unemployment compensation benefits have dipped to the lowest point since World War II. Only 21,846 persons were on MUCC roles at last muster. Lowest figure (during World War II) is 6,000.

Holstein Leads DHIA Herds in August Tests

A Holstein cow owned by Elias Sommerville was the highest in the Charlevoix - Antrim Dairy Herd Improvement Association by producing 78.8 pounds of butter fat for the month of August. The second high cow was a Holstein owned by Art Nicloy and Sons and this cow produced 78 pounds of butter fot.

The high herd for the month of August was the Holstein herd of Elias Sommerville. These nine head of Holstein averaged during the month 43.7 pounds of butter fat. Art Nicloy and Sons Holstein herd was second by averaging 40.0 pounds of butter fat during the month.

There was a total of 35 herds tested according to the report of Don Graham, testor. The average test was 3.85 percent with an averoge production of 80.2 pounds of milk and 30.9 pounds of butter fat for the month for all cows. Belonging to a Dairy Herd Improvement Association and obtaining monthly tests on cows production is the best basis for culling cows. Anyone who is interested in information on the testing program may contact either Don Graham or Ed Rebman County agricultural agent.

A single dust storm swept more than 300 million tons of top soil off the fertile lands of Oklahoma, Kansas, and Nebraska, according to the Soil Conservation Service.

Farm Values Up

U. S. farm real estate values rose two percent in the 4-month March-July 1050, period, according to a report by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Increases in 34 states ranged from one to three percent in most states. Michigan's increase was two percent.

Fall Pasturing Can Ruin Alfalfa Seeding

A little premature pasturing can ruin what is now a fine stond of new alfalfa, Carter M. Horrison, Michigan State College farm crops outhority warns Charlevoix and Antrim county farmers.

Seedings of the legumes with spring grain crops this year in general brought very good stands, Harrison pointed out. But with good growth, some farmers may be eager to use the crop for pasture this late summer or fall. This, the crops authority says, will weaken the plants so they may winter kill.

If in combining the small grain, the straw was left high and tends to smother out the olfalfa seeding, Harrison advises mowing the straw just above the top of the alfalfa plants. Mowing would also kill off any weeds before they go to seed. If the straw and weeds are raked and taken off, the alfalfa will have a better opportunity to gain strength before winter months. The straw can be used for livestock bedding.

Mowiog should not be done after August, the crops authority odvises.

September is the month during which any alfalfa that will be used for hay or pasture should not be grazed or cut. It is this month that the plants store up food in the roots to carry them through the winter months. Harrison says legume fields to be plowed under next spring may be grazed or cut, but strongly advises against cutting or pasturing any olfalfa fields to be used another year for hay or pasture.

Average Rates for Corn Picking Given

Farmers in Charlevoix and Antrim counties planning to pay for custom work in their corn horest or do custom harvesting for others can get a pretty good idea of average rates for this year from rates charged in the past two years. Michigan State College agricultural economists expect only slight changes from rates reported in an extensive survey in 1948.

Custom rates for picking corn were reported for both 1 and 2-row pickers. The 2-row pickers were used chiefly in the southern part of the state.

The most common rates for 1-row pickers were $5 per acre or per hour. Farmers reported lower rates for 2-row pickers but only on an acre basis. The most common rate wos $4. Some farmers reported furnishing one or two wagons with the picker,but the custom rates were about the same with or without wogons.

Custom rates for field chopping of corn were given only on an hourly basis. Most common rates were listed as $8 an hour for chopper and blower with one or two men, two wagons and one tractor; and $9 an hour if two tractors were used. Rate for two or three men with wagons or trucks and two tractors was $10 an hour.

Let us be soil builders not soil robbers.

Dairy Farming Future Appears Good for 1951

Prospects for profits from doiry farming next year are "good" farmers attending the second annual Michigan Farm Management Tour in Calhoun and Eaton counties were told by Gerald Quackenbush, milk marketing specialist.

Quackenbush explained that a new all-time record in milk supplies was expected, but that higher demand would mean a ready morket. Consumers will have more money to spend and less goods to spend it on as the defense or war program builds up and inflation increases, he said. They will be spending more for milk and other foods.

This is not the time, however, to be switching to dairying, Quackenbush told the farmers. Some of the other farm enterprises will have a profit advantage over milk production, because their prices increase faster during inflationary periods. Beef was given as an example.

The price outlook for next year, according to the M.S.C. economist, calls for slow advances in fluid milk prices and moderate increases for butterfat, with the largest due in milk for manufactured products.

Money-makiog practices suggested for the year ahead included full production with liberal feeding, and doing everything possible to sove on labor costs.

Warn of Weevil Damage to Grain

Bran bugs and weevils are big enemies of grain stored in granaries, points out county agricultural agent, Ed Rebman. Damp grain tends to heat and it is in heated grain that these pests may be at work. Bron bugs and weevils cao cause grain to heat enough to cause great damoge in addition to the injury done by their feediog. Warm weather during the foll is very favoroble for grain insects.

Fumigation is the best way of getting rid of bran bugs and weevils once they infest the grain. Careful attention must be paid to the conditions under which fumigation is dooe. The granary must be tight enough to prevent the fumigating material from escaping through, the walls aod floor while fumigating is being done. The temperature of the grain must be above 65 degrees Fahrenheit when the work is done. The fumigant should be used according to directions obtainable from the agent's office.

Rebman recommends a mixture of three parts of ethylene dichloride and one part of corbon tetrachloride for fumigating. The carbon tetrachloride is essentiol because ethylene dichloride is explosive when used alone. Both substances are poisonous and must be used with greot care. Avoid breathing the fumes. The mixture is used at the rate of one gallon to 200 bushels of grain. Take the capacity of the granary into consideration, since one gallon of the mixture will not be enough for 200 bushels of grain in o 1000 bushel capacity granary.

Milking Routine Pays

A regular milking routine is best, say Michigan State College dairymen. Cows largely creatures of habit — signs such as feeding grain, the rattle of milk pails, and washing the udder, set up responses to prepare the cow for thorough milking.

ORCHARD NOTES

By Claude Fairman

Soil management regulates the growth of fruit and fruit trees and is one of the deciding factors. Our own soil management practices have been carried out for 20 years. During the past years, sod was recommended by some of the college staff. After some disappointing results and dry seasons, it is now fully decided that either cultivating or heavy mulching is necessary.

Here at home we cultivate stone fruits and mulch apples and pears. Of course, we do not let the soil wash or blow away and do not plant cherries on steep or long slopes.

Cherry trees start to work in the spring before we notice it and have grown their fruit spurs and buds for the next year's crop by mid-June and matures its crop in July and there is not much new growth after that. Hence, our early cultivation. We start April 1st or soon after and not too often nor too deep and stop June 15. By stopping early we hold more moisture in the soil and the weeds start and by late fall we have a heavy growth of weeds to disc under the following spring.

With cherries the time is short from bloom to maturity, hence more moisture is needed. Cultivate all stone fruits up to June 15 or July 1 and stop to let the new growth ripen up for winter.

For apples and pears, after the young trees have been cultivated two to three years, add a lot of manure around the trunk and then a lot of straw around the tree, extending just past the ends of the branches.

Add more straw and hay, etc., each year.

As decaying process of the mulch takes up nitrogen that the tree needs, odd nitrogen early spring. Back yard trees can be either mulched or spaded. Cultivate according to the slope of ground, or sideways across a strip to prevent washing.

Note that the expense of sewing cover crops is eliminated, also buying of expensive grass seeds as well as labor expense. If weeds do not show a good growth, add manure or fertilize between centers.

Agriculture is the foundation upon which our national economy rests.

Attention: Turkey Growers

Growers wishing to market their turkeys through the Charlevoix Cooperative Company's Poultry Processing plant this fall should make arrangements for a date for dressing their birds before October 1st.

Supplies necessary for packing dressed birds need to be ordered well in advance of dressing date to be assured of having them on hand when needed.

Packing supplies are scarce and expensive there for only enough supplies will be ordered to cover actual needs. So don't be disappointed if the plant cannot handle your birds when they are ready for market if you have not made early arrangements for a dressing date.

Several growers have already made these arrangements.

Turkeys growers are urgently requested to make arrangements for dressing now.

Our Congressmam COMMENTS

By Charles Potter

The fact that President Truman tried to suppress the statement of General Dauglas McArthur to the V. F. W. Convention focused the attention of many people away from the contents of the message and toward the suppression action taken by the President.

If there is any one American citizen who has knowledge of the Orient it is General MacArthur and certainly his views should receive the greatest consideration.

It is difficult to understand why an attempt was made to suppress the statement. President Truman himself has decreed that the United States Navy will defend Formosa against invasion and attack by Communist China.

General MacArthur's statement emphasizes the importance of Formosa to the entire defense of the Orient which is also the key to our own national security. The General cites that if Formosa should fall into the hands of the enemy, the enemy's air effort should be increased 100 per cent It would seriously jeopardize our position in the Philippines as well as in Japan. Apparently the order to suppress the statement came because of an inference in the General's statement that the policy of the State Department has not been realistic. Undoubtedly, Secretary of State Acheson, who advised the President to suppress the message, was embarrassed by the following portion of the message

> "Nothing could be more fallacious than the threadbare argument by those who advocate appeasement and defeatism in the Pacific that if we defend Formosa we alienate continental Asia. Those who speak thus do not understand the Orient. They do not grasp that it is in the pattern of Oriental psychology to respect and follow aggressive, resolute and dynamic leadership — to quickly turn from a leadership characterized by timidity or vacillation — and they underestimate the Oriental mentality."

This, of course, was a direct slap at the Administration's Far East policy as directed by Dean Acheson.

Certainly the American people in these critical times should be permitted to have the best thinking of the man who is best qualified to speak on Far East policy as it affects our security.

Bride Honored at Albert Cook Home

Ina Stutt whose marriage to William E. Fochtman was an event of Saturday, was guest of honor at a bridal shower given Tuesday evening by Miss Ann Baumgartner and Mrs. Albert Cook at the latter's home.

Members of the hospital staff were present and enjoyed an evening of card games followed by refreshments. Late in the evening the bride-elect opened her many lovely gifts.

County Names GOP Delegate To State Meet

Delegates to the state Republican convention were named, resolutions against communism, new taxes and the necessity of eliminating needless taxes were adopted by county Republicans Monday night.

Arthur Rouse was re-elected chairman of the county committee.

Delegates to tha state convention include Mr. Rouse, Barney Milstein, East Jordan, Sheriff Floyd Ikens, Howard Stephens, Boyne City RFD, and Mrs. Edward K. Shanahan, Charlevoix.

Alternates are: Guy Conkle, Jr., Boyne City, Sam Rogers, East Jordan, William Shepherd, East Jordan, George Haggard, Charlevoix, Howard DeNise, Boyne Falls, J. H. Gallagher, Jr., Beaver Island, F. R. Bulow, Charlevoix, Maude Porter, East Jordan, Vera Tokoly, Boyne City, Henry Heckler, Charlevoix, and Harry Jennings, Boyne City.

Clarence Meggison, teasurer of the county organization, reported on finances and stated that funds are needed for the November election. Probate Judge Floyd Supp spoke in favor of the bond issue which state voters will consider in November for mental hospital expansion.

The convention also favored the resignation of Secretary of State Dean Acheson and opposed any new state taxes.

Charlevoix CSO Formed to Aid Service Men

Do you remember the Charlevoix Service Organization which was operated here during World War II?

If you recall it furnished gifts such as candy, cigarettes and magazines to inductees as they left Charlevoix county for the service. It also arranged for a send-off for the group as they left for camp.

A brief send-off program is being planned for the six Charlevoix county boys who leave from hera at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Sept. 27. Arrangaments ara being made by Mr. Hamilton and former members of the C.S.O. committee.

As the C.S.O., as it became known, grew through the generosity of local residents, it became possible to send the Courier, Christmas cards, packages to hospitalized servicemen, certificates of merit and other items to Charlevoix men and women throughout the combat area as well as in this country.

IT ALSO PROVIDED transportation for servicemen from elsewhere in the country who arrived here via train or bus and had no one to meet them; when a serviceman was stranded here it furnished a room for him until such time as he could continue to his home.

These are just a few of the services offered by the C.S.O. When World War II ended the remaining funds were spent on a homecoming for all veterans in 1946. No one anticipated the present Korean conflict.

Ralph S. Hamilton served as chairman of the C.S.O. during the years of World War II. With Charlevoix county boys again leaving for the service, it has been suggested that the organization be re-activated at once. Mr. Hamilton has offered to assume the chairmanship if this done.

Next Wednesday the first contingent of Charlevoix county inductees will leave for Detroit to be inducted into the armed services. These are only the first of a long list of men who will be leaving here in the months to come.

THERE ARE those who feel these boys should be given the same consideration as those who preceded them in World War II.

If you are a veteran who received the benefits of the C.S.O. in the early 1940's, a member of a veterans family or the family of the boys leaving now or a local resident who wants in a small way to help these young men, your contribution will be appreciated.

Six Draftees Leave Sept. 27 For Induction

The first contingent of Charlevoix county men to be inducted into the armed service since the Korean conflict started in June will leave here Wednesday, Sept. 27, for Detroit.

The six men have been instructed to report at the draft board office at the Court house here at 8 a.m. for transportation to the Detroit Induction Center.

They are: Lawrence J. Cull, St. James; Gordon D. Smith, Edward J. Salisz and Frank W. Kominski of Boyne Falls; Walter L. Charon of Boyne City and David A. Hamilton of Charlevoix.

The above group was selected from the first 49 men from the county who went to Detroit for pre-induction physical examinations Aug. 28. An additional 29 reported last week for examinations.

Twenty Charlevoix county registrants will be called next month for pre-induction physical examinations, the local draft board has been notified.

Chest Budget Meeting Set For Sept. 25

The budget meeting of the Charlevoix Community Chest will be held Tuesday, Sept. 26, at 8 p.m. in the court house.

Dr. Lysle Ance, local dentist, was elected chairman of the 1950-51 Chest. Charles Bleha was named vice chairman. Lawrence Feindt, treasurer and Ruth Heilig was re-named secretary.

Dr. Ance who was elected chairman of the chest, declined to serve.

Jack Mailhot and Robert Bridge were named to serve two-year terms as directors. Dr. Ance, Mrs. Herbert Campbell and Archie Rounds were elected to three-year terms as directors.

The meeting was conducted by Gordon Freedman because of the resignation of Howard Brumm.

Mr. Freedman, Mr. Bridge and Harold Jennings of Boyne City were named directors of the United Health and Welfare fund at a recent meeting in Lansing.

The state organization will seek a goal of $1,818,083 for 29 health and community services.

Mrs. Madison Saw Outbreak of War

Family Tells Harrowing Tale of 'Korean Nightmare'

"It's a nightmare now. It's hard to believe so much could happen in such a short time" is the way Mrs. Vincent Madison speaks of the escape from Seoul, Korea, with her four children at the beginning of the present Korean conflict.

The family has arrived here after their long trek and plan to remain for the 'duration', howaver long that may ba.

Mrs. Madison is the former Mary Swinton, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Roy Swinton of Ann Arbor who were interned at Santo Tomas prison in the Philippines during World War II. Mr. Madison, a former resident, was with the Detroit Edison Co. until early this year when he took a leave of absence to work with the Economic Cooperation Administration's Korean mission.

MRS MADISON and their four children left their home in Birmingham in March to join him at Seoul where they planned to live for the next two years. Life was pretty routine once they were settled in a house atop a hill in the American section of Seoul.

Everything seemed the same as always and on the night of June 24, Mrs. Madison related, she had stayed up until midnight to complete a dress she wanted to wear to a dinner party Sunday evening.

Shortly before noon on Sunday, June 25, while the houseboys were preparing dinner and she was playing canasta with the children, Mr. Madison was called to the phone.

After a hurried conversation he returned to the room and beckened her to follow him upstairs where he told her the North Koreans had crossed the 38th parallel some 40 miles north of Seoul.

In an effort to keep the news from the children Mrs. Madison said she returned to the canasta game but before long the radio was giving details of what was thought at first to be another border skirmish and which was called 'Operation Bluebird'.

IN THE MEANTIME Mr. Madison, a block warden, was called to a meeting for Yak planes had attacked the airfield outside the city. He called back shortly to have Mrs. Madison call persons in the area with air raid shelters ordering them to prepare them for occupancy for they had not been used for several years except for storage.

When he returned he brought with him an air raid siren which was to be installed in the yard. While the houseboy was placing the siren he called Mrs. into the yard to bear the heavy artillery at the front.

Even then the seriousness of the situation was not apparent and the Americans thought they would be evacuated to Taegu or the southern coast until the 'incident' was over. During the day rumors were flying and in between Mrs. Madison started packing their clothing.

Two Doctors Attend Medical Meeting

Two local doctors have been in Detroit to attend the annual fall meeting of the Michigan Medical Society.

Dr. L. E. Grate, accompanied by Mrs. Grate and her sister, Mrs. Albert E. Cook, were in Detroit from Saturday until Wednesday for the conferences.

Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Saltonstall left Wednesday to spend the remainder of the week at the meeting.

College Students Return to Books

Most of Charlevoix's 60 young people who are planning to attend college this year will be on campuses shortly as registration dates draw near.

Additional students who have enrolled at various schools include a large contingent at Michigan State.

Among these are Sally Miller, Marge Brow, Clarke Bergeon, Doug Byers, Warren Shadko, Jack Abfalter who are returning along with Bill and Bob Carey and Ross Case who reported earlier for football practice. Among the recent high school graduates enrolling as freshmen are: Mike Bergeon, Jack Dodge, Gerry Gibbons, George Haggard, Betty Orvis and Ruth Blanchard.

Central Michigan at Mt. Pleasant has drawn the second largest group here including Jim Roberts, Bob Bartlett, George Sneathen, Neil Soumela, Hubert Olach, Beverly Looze, Herb Wickersham who are returning to the campus, Nancy Heering a transfer from Alma College and Vane Smith and Mary Roberts, all 1950 high school graduates who are enrolled as first year students.

CHARLES and Jim Gibbons left last week to resume their studies at the University of Detroit. Bill Barber, a freshman, reported earlier for football practice.

Bruce Shanahan and Brad Foster left for Ann Arbor to enroll as freshmen at the University of Michigan while others including Bob Shanahan, Versal Shearer Bill Kane and Mary Simmons are resuming their studies.

Patsy Hamilton left last Tuesday to resume clases at Albion College as a second year student while Roger Sweet and Bev. Trimble enrolled earlier as freshmen.

Sally Swinton left over the week-end for Ypsilanti to enroll at Michigan State Teachers College. She attended the U. of M. last year. Don and Joe Bellinger will continue classes there also.

Bruce Barker has gone to the Soo to enroll at Michigan Tech.; Tom Hamlin has gone to South Bend, Ind., as a freshman at the University of Notre Dame; Nick Hamilton has gone to Kalamazoo to study at western Michigan college; Pat Hamlin plans to join Sally Eccleston in Lansing later this month for classes at Acme Business college; Audrey Stevenson will leave later this month to enroll at Northeastern School of Commerce at Bay City where Shirley Balch has already returned to classes and B. J. Cunningham plans to resume her studies about Oct. 1

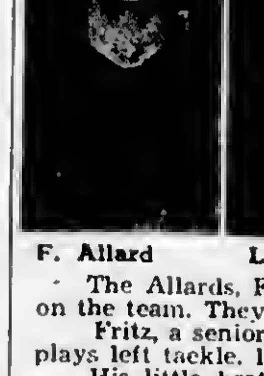
Many others who have returned to school were named earlier.

Pomona Meets

Pomona Grange will meet Friday night at Boyne River Grange at 8:30. Pot-luck lunch after meeting. All who care to sing in the county chorus are urged to attend.

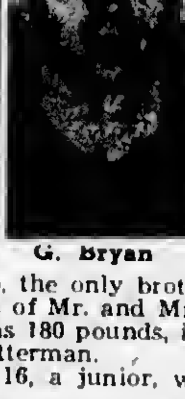
Meet the Rayders

During the next faw weeks the Courier will print a picture and a thumb nail sketch of the Rayders' Football team so you may become acquainted with the boys who will be representing Charlevoix on the gridiron this fall.

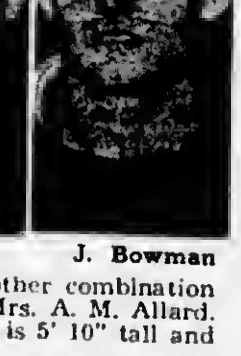


F. Allard

L. Allard



G. Bryan



J. Bowman

The Allards, Fritz and Leo, the only brother combination on the team. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Allard.

Fritz, a senior, is 17, weighs 180 pounds, is 5' 10" tall and plays left tackle. He is a '49 letterman.

His little brother, Leo, is 16, a junior, weighs 160, is 5' 7" tall and plays guard.

Jim Bowman, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Bowman, is a senior, weighs 175, is 5' 10" tall and plays center. He is also a '49 letterman.

Greg Bryan, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bryan of Lowell, a senior, weighs 160, is 5' 8" tall and plays left halfback position.

Coach Terrill to Start Several Newcomers in His Conference Debut

The Charlevoix Rayders, after three weeks practice between showers, will journey to Grayling Friday to meet the Vikings in the opening game of the 1950 season.

Coach Del Terrill has not revealed his starting lineup but it is expected to include several veterans from the 1949 squad as well as lettermen and newcomers.

TACKLES will be selected from Niley Louiselle, and Fritz Allard, left tackles Charles Krahnke who was shifted from end to the tackle position this season with Stanley Whitley, end, also serving as a tackle and Ted Browe, playing either tackle or guard.

Jim Bowman, a letterman, will have competition from Tom Bleha and Len Raymond for the center position.

Five candidates will be ready for the guard position. They will include Howard Campbell, Bill Ward, Nathan Boss, Bob Murrell and Leo Allard.

The present Rayder team will have quite a record to live up to for Charlevoix has shared the Northern Michigan Class C Conference title with East Jordan in 1948 and '49 and prior to that was conference champs for three years.

GRAYLING will be going into the game Friday, still stinging from their 7-6 defeat by Pellston last week. Heading their line-up will be full back Bill Worden, 1949 conference choice, who tips the scale at 202 pounds and who will have with him one of the heaviest teams in the league.

Travel Series Here Sponsored By Kiwanis

A series of six internationally-known travel speakers will be featured in Charlevoix under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis club.

It will mean that the general public will have an opportunity to hear renown travel authorities and view colored movies of several countries, Club President Roy G. Bennett said.

The same speakers are appearing in Grand Rapids, Muskegon, Port Huron, Lansing and Flint. Through the services of a booking agency in connection with the Kiwanis club in Grand Rapids, this series is being made possible.

The first speaker is slated to speak in October. Tickets will be sold for the series at reasonable prices. Because of the type of series that it is, it will be necessary to obtain commitments for a certain number of tickets.

The ticket sale will be limited. Details of the sale will be announced in next week's Courier.

Kiwanis officials were jubilant about the opportunity of hearing such talented speakers.

Soil Directors To Attend State Awards Meeting

The directors of the Charlevoix Soil Conservation District are planning to attend the annual awards program and dinner sponsored by the Good Year Tire and Rubber Company at Frankenmuth on Tuesday, Sept. 26. Directors attending from the Charlevoix district include George Klooster, East Jordan, Clayton Healey, East Jordan, Norval Korthese, Boyne City, Peter Winnick, Charlevoix and Carlton Smith, Charlevoix. County agent Ed Rebman and Farm Planner E. B. Watkins also plan on making this trip.

The awards program is one that is participated in by nearly every district in the state of Michigan. Points are given for educational programs and the amount of work accomplished. The Mason Soil Conservation District was the winning district in the 1949-1950 contest. The directors from this district were awarded a free trip to the Good Year farms at Phoenix, Arizona.

District MUCC to Meet Here Friday

The first fall meeting of the district MUCC will be held Friday at 7 p.m. at the Charlevoix Rod and Gun clubhouse. Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. with the business session slated for 8 p.m.

All club members are invited. Representatives from Antrim, Charlevoix and Emmet counties will attend. A chairman and vice chairman will be elected.

Glenn Ingalls, district field representative, is handling arrangements for the meeting.

R. T. Davis Accepts Tecumseh Position

R. T. Davis, former Charlevoix county road foreman and recent candidate for sheriff, has gone to Tecumseh, Mich., to accept a position as superintendent of streets.

He was offered the position by Angus G. Leitch, former Charlevoix city employee, who is now city superintendent at Tecumseh.

Mailhot Rolls High for Bowlers

Jack Mailhot rolled the highest game in his life last week during the opening of the Charlevoix Bowling league at Petoskey alleys. He rolled 232 and his three games totaled 570.

The Argonne was high team for the night with 2545 for a series and 944 for high singles.

Kelly Shows Powerful Strength in State Primary

The election in Charlevoix county and in the rest of the state turned out about as expected by political observers.

In giving former Gov. Harry Kelly a three to one margin, the Republican voters paid tribute to a man who has proved to be a top vote getter and whose two terms in office were marked by excellent administration.

But his job in taking the job away from Governor Williams will be difficult one. It will require the assistance of every Republican voter as well as many independents.

The Democratic governor was given a large tribute vote even though he had no opposition in the primary. He has made it a prime duty to visit every part of the state, calling square dances, speaking to groups and turning on that "Soapy" charm.

Supporters of other candidates who were defeated by Kelly must forget their disappointment and do their utmost to elect Kelly in November. It's going to take a lot of hard work to offset those Wayne county and other industrial Democratic votes, but it can be done.

Outstate Michigan has the voters if they will turn out to the polls in the November election.

Let's not forget for an instant that the job will be difficult. Unseating the Democratic governor can be done with Kelly as our leader.

The state needs Kelly as governor.

Let's Have All the Facts Before Deciding

Though advocates of compulsory health insurance for the United States generally picture it as simply a help in financing the costs of sickness, foreign experience shows this governmental system means much more than that.

A written record of a patient's illness is sent by the insurance doctor to the government. Under the new British program these reports are given to the local executive council, which may include neighbors of a patient. Many American physicians rightfully protest the threatened loss of the privacy traditionally accorded a patient's ailment.

Much malingering or feigning of sickness in order to obtain the cash payments made by the government as a standard part of the insurance system has developed in European countries. Books on this abuse have been written in many languages. It is frequently felt necessary to check up on how sick an insured person may be. Home visitors have accordingly been set up to make calls at unexpected intervals. Government thus enters the intimacy of the home as in no other way.

In many countries consent of the patient is not legally necessary under favoring circumstances to send him to an institution. In some countries the patient may not refuse a very minor operation considered likely to improve his earning capacity.

"The insurance practitioner holds the health, life and working ability of his patient in his hands," according to an outstanding study by the International Labor office. Over the years a government medical bureaucracy is likely to take far more control of insured patients than appears beforehand.

Voice of Our Readers . . .

Dear Sir:

For some time I have been wanting to write about the 'deer situation' (not the dear) There has always been a saying, to plant an extra row of strawberries for the birds and one tree in every orchard was for the birds. But my question is how much, Oh Lord, how much do you have to plant for deer? It is most discouraging and makes me heartsick to see the fruits of our labors have gone to feed the dear(?) little deer, each morning when I look upon what should be green peas or lettuce or other garden 'sass' and find it has been cut close to the ground by sharp little teeth. Every other pest either with two or four or a hundred feet, I can kill, by poison, or gun—If my neighbors' cows come in, the law allows me to lock them up and the owner must pay for the damage; if my neighbor, himself steals, I may take my gun to him etc. etc. but to the deer I can do nothing—but starve (myself).

Why can't Michigan join the ranks and protect the family food supply and not give it all to the dear (s)! By killing off a few more! Trusting that the Editor of the Courier can do something to 'calm my disturbed disposition'.

Most sincerely
E. C. Harris

P.S. I am sure that the deer around our neck of the woods don't starve they are fed too good in the summer — what I am most concerned about is 'the humans gardens'.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

Football is in the air . . . have you noticed the difference this past week . . . And if you think those kids don't work for any recognition they might get, journey over to Kipke field some night after school and watch them . . . literally hours of practice and then more practice . . . one gets tired watching them . . . and if you'd do just that, maybe you could appreciate a little more how difficult their task is . . . lots of luck against Grayling this week-end . . . Rayders.

And Saturday will see many fans trekking to East Lansing for the Oregon State-Michigan State game . . . let's hope Bob Carey has recovered from his injured thigh so he can play . . . and that Bill gets into that backfield for he's got what it takes if given a chance . . . and Ross Case, who makes up the Three C's from Charlevoix and who as a sophomore may get in at end . . . we'll be rooting for them all . . . Do you suppose Michigan State would set up a Charlevoix section in the stadium . . .

DID YOU NOTICE that in the primary election last week Charlevoix polled more votes than East Jordan and Boyne City combined . . . everyone's been asking 'how come' . . . guess since the city election last winter everyone's just naturally vote conscious . . . a good way to be . . .

Do you remember Ed Holmes, grandson of Mrs. Bessie O'Brien, who played for Mancelona? the latest on him is the fact that he's in the army now . . . stationed at Fort Knox, Ky. . . . We hear the Dr. Gerald Gibbons family had their troubles last week when they were caught in a cloudburst which resulted in flash floods while making their way out of Detroit . . . it took them three hours to travel a few blocks . . . an experience they'll not forget in a hurry although the children were having a wonderful time . . as kids usually do . . .

IN CASE YOU haven't noticed, all the youngsters are back in school and, believe us, it's mighty quiet during the day . . . One can't help admire those teachers who are able in a few short days to get their pupils in line after a long summer of fun . . . And speaking of school, did you hear about one youngster in the second grade who has made the most amazing discovery . . . Coming home from school he greeted his mother with "Do you know what? All those letters we learned last year make words and this year we're going to learn to read them".

And then there's the one about the wise guy in the fifth grade who had an answer for the new girl in the class from the south . . when she said she was from Florida where the sun shines and had never seen snow . . . he piped up and said . . . that's nothing, we don't see the sun . . . all too true last week . . .

THE BARNYARD population at the Colin McKenzie farm was increased by leaps and bounds and squeals Sunday when one of the pigs gave birth to 23 piglets . . . quite a litter, to say the least . . .

Our sympathy to Mrs. Sam Rose and the Rose family . . . we'll all miss Mr. Rose . . . with his keen interest in everything . . . his cribgage playing at the Masonic Temple . . . and all his stories of Charlevoix in the early day . . . he helped build it and he loved telling of its early struggle . . . And how he enjoyed the basketball games . . . the Rayders have lost a staunch supporter . . . He loved the youngsters so much and used to boast that he had cut the hair of four generations of the Martin family as well as other families . . .

BABY TALK

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Abfalter of Lansing announce the birth of a son, Ronald Jack, at St. Lawrence Hospital Sept. 13. Mrs. Abfalter is the former Nancy Totten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Totten. Mr. Abfalter is the son of Mrs. Ronald Abfalter.

Mr. Gennett Feted On 80th Anniversary

A group of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Plenny Gennett Thursday evening for a surprise birthday party for Mr. Gennett whose eightieth birthday anniversary was Sept. 15. The potluck lunch included a large birthday cake.

On Sunday the Gennetts and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Sheldon of Flint, went to a hunting lodge near Roscommon where they were joined by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Gennett of Flint, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hallett and son, Bud, of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Reed Gennett of Bellaire. A dinner and another birthday cake were enjoyed by the group.

To Install Officers For Legion Auxiliary

The newly-elected officers of the Charlevoix American Legion Auxiliary will be installed at a special joint installation ceremony at East Jordan Thursday evening. At that time Mrs. Hilda Bathke, past district president, will be the installing officer for the combined installation of the Boyne City, East Jordan, Charlevoix and Ellsworth auxiliary.

The officers of the local auxiliary were re-elected Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Abby Powers. They are: president, Mrs. Vance Walstad; first vice, Mrs. Lela Allard; second vice, Mrs. Powers; secretary, Mrs. Lela Goss; treasurer, Mrs. Helen Celner; chaplain, Mrs. Florence Ripley; publicity and historian, Mrs. Allard.

GOP Delegate

Ellsworth—At the Republican convention in Bellaire Monday the following delegates were elected to attend the state convention at Grand Rapids Saturday: Harry Cook of Mancelona, Delbert E. Clow of Ellsworth, Mrs. Norton Pearl of Eastport and Mrs. Lorence O. Isaman of Bellaire.

Attend Convention

The annual state Kiwanis convention is in session in Grand Rapids this week. Roy G. Bennett, president of the local organization, and Mrs. Bennett, attended meeting on Sunday and Monday. Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Wood and Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Whitten left Monday to attend the remaining sessions.

FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS

Red Rayders Invade Grayling Friday

The Charlevoix Red Rayders, directed by their new coach, Del Terrill, will pry the lid off of the 1950 grid season at Grayling tomorrow afternoon.

Their streak of 32 games without a loss, compiled over a four-year period, will go on the line. Thirteen lettermen form the nucleus of the squad which has been undergoing stiff workouts daily since practice started earlier this month.

Every boy on the squad has been given a chance to show his ability as the new coach strives to put the best possible team on the field. Most of the regulars were lost through graduation and this year's team will be marked by many new faces.

The locals face several strong teams this year including Boyne City and East Jordan, who shared the conference title with Charlevoix. Grayling has already played one game and will be out to defeat Charlevoix.

The new coach, coaching his first team here, will endeavor to get the locals off on the right foot in the 1950 gridiron opener.

Barnard News

By Mrs. Clyde Smith

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Shapton and daughters of Traverse City, also Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shapton of Charlevoix, visited Mrs. William Shapton and Mr. and Mrs. George Block Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Smith and sons attended the wedding of Mrs. Smith's brother, Joe Lilak at Cheboygan Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Heldt and daughter of Detroit were week-end guests of Mrs. Heldt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Matchett.

Quite a few new pupils greet the school bus these days. Among Barnards beginners are Herbert Cummings, Shirley Stoel, Mickey Smith and Michael Bost.

Roland Daugherty was winner of blue ribbons on his calf and in showmanship at the fair. The 4-H calf exhibit as well as all the other projects was exceptionally fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bost and sons motored to McBain on Sunday to visit Mrs. Bost's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Collins.

Mr. and Mrs. William Slandsky and daughter of Berwyn, Ill., visited their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Smith and sons over the week-end also attending their cousin Joe Lilak's wedding in Cheboygan.

We are sorry to report that Bill Potter is still in the hospital for treatment.

Rev. Bekkering and J. L. Boss went to Grand Rapids for two days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Oldham of Detroit visited Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gornell on Sunday.

Farm Bureau members are urged to attend the meeting on Sept. 21 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Rosquist as there is important business to discuss concerning the necessity of Blue Cross members signing their new cards before Oct. 1. There will also be election of officers for the coming year and plans for the Roll Call will be made. Subject of discussion will be, "Legislative Action in Farm Bureau".

May we paraphrase an old school song?

"Well, at last the Fair is over,
And we gobbled all we could.
Coming home with all our ribbons,
Thinking, We have done pretty good."

Mr. and Mrs. Eldean Chew of Charlevoix were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. Chew's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Addison Chew.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Supernaw called at the home of Mrs. Cecil Hutchinson in Rapid City Sunday evening, also stopped in Bellaire to see Mr. Hutchinson.

Lawrence Supernaw received four blue ribbons on his four ponies at the East Jordan fair.

Ellsworth Notes

By John Timmer

Glenn F. Supernaw of Petoskey was a caller in town last week Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Karsten and daughter spent the weekend in Grand Rapids and returned with a new Chevrolet car.

Saturday will be the first day of autumn. We have had a cold winter this summer, haven't we? Last week we had precipitation, (rain to you) for four days straight.

Delbert E. Clow was a visitor in Detroit on Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. John Timmer returned home Wednesday after 10 days in Fremont and Muskegon.

Dr. Ralph Bronkema, pastor of Sioux Center, Ia. Christian Reformed church, will conduct services Sunday at Ellsworth Christian Reformed church.

Mrs. Dean Fiedler and Donna Donaldson of Owosso Bible school spent the week-end here. Mr. Fiedler brought the ladies back and returned in time to conduct his duties as music instructor at the Banks Township school.

The Ladies Auxiliary, Jansen-Richardson post, American Legion, will hold a baked goods sale Saturday afternoon at Edson's Service station.

Albert Woodcock, student at Wayne University, Detroit, spent the week-end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Woodcock. John Green and Robert Kindt, classmates, came with Albert.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowe spent last week with relatives in Leamington, Ont.

A new cement front porch is being built this week at the home of Mrs. Gertie Doctor. Her sons and sons-in-law are doing the work.

The address of Pvt. Wallace E. Vandenberg is: Casual Co., og Hdqs. Co., Training and Replacement Reg., Marine Barracks, Camp Joseph H. Pendelton, Ocean Side, Calif.

Rock Elm News

By Mrs. A. B. Lawton

Not much news but so far as known everyone is in fairly good health, and the children in this neighborhood are again enrolled in and have started another years work in East Jordan schools.

Oat harvest for this district was completed last week. The work in the Porter orchard has been completed this week, but there is still considerable work to be done in the Jensen orchard owing to the number of trees that broke down under the over load of cherries.

Clover seeding looks good giving promise of at least a fair crop of hay next year. Farmers still have plenty of work to do to get ready for winter.

ONE UP ON NATURE—During the war Bell Laboratories scientists found a way to grow synthetic crystals better in some ways than natural quartz. A "seed" crystal is produced by evaporating chemical salts, then rotated in a chemical solution which causes deposits to build it up to many times its original size. Crystals vibrate at exact frequencies, separate the many telephone messages traveling over a long distance line.

BETTER AND BETTER—In the 74 years since the telephone was invented, there have been more than 18,000 additional inventions—an average of more than 240 a year—that have contributed to its development. Many recent ones are playing a part in Michigan Bell's big service improvement program in rural areas.

TIME DOES TELL—Here's an easy way to figure what your telephone is worth to you. On a typical working day, count up the telephone calls you make . . . to the farm implement dealer, lumber mill, veterinary, feed store, repair shop, friends. Think of the hours it would take to visit all of these people—hours of lost work around the farm. And when you consider that one call may save a life, what you pay for telephone service is mighty small compared to the value you receive.

Potato Blight in Charlevoix County Reported Heaviest in State

Recovery Possible from Potato Blight in County, Rebman Says

Recovery from the late blight which has struck severe blows at potato fields in Charlevoix county, is still possible, Ed Rebman, county farm agent said Tuesday. Rehman and a Michigan State college potato specialist visited five growers in the county last week in a survey of the damage.

Farms visited were those of Harold Clarke, Mathew Brothers, Burnett Brothers, Lee Sneathen and Bill Price. Damage was almost 100 per cent in a 20 acre field on one farm, Rebman said, adding that this field was the only visited which will not be able to snap back.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY which has been suffering from cool weather and too much rain is the only county in Michigan reporting potato blight so far this season, the MSC expert told Rebman.

Most of the potatoes in this county need two to four weeks growing time.

In order to save the potatoes from further damage from blight, they were urged to do the following:

CONTINUE to keep the vines covered with copper in the same formula they have been using. If they have not been spraying with copper, they are requested to spray twice with the second application being put on from the opposite direction (if the first was put on from east to west, reverse the process in the second application.)

When growers begin digging potatoes, they are urged to kill the vines, using the mechanical de-viner or chemical -- Dow 66 or Artificial Frost etc. - -, then leave them until the weather has dried out the vines and leaves.

At this time, they should spray with straight copper, just ahead of the digger. Normal strength of copper should be used. This will kill off the spores. Potatoes should be dug in dry sunny weather (this is a big if here this year) to permit drying in fields before picking them up.

Farmers are urged to remember that good potato weather is good blight weather.

Rebman and the MS spud expert are agreed that where the blight has not been too severe, that recovery is possible if the farmers take precautions to spray.

Potato Growers To Decide on Price Supports

Potato growers in Charlevoix county will be asked to vote in a referendum that will determine whether federal price support and an ammended federal marketing order for potatoes should be continued, Leroy Hardy, chairman of the Charlevoix County PMA Committee, has announced.

The referendum, to be conducted by mail, will be held during the week of September 25 - 30, and any grower who produced 1949-crop potatoes for market will be eligible to vote.

A ballot, a copy of the amended marketing order, instructions for voting, and a postage-free addressed envelope for returning the ballot to referendum headquarters will be mailed to all known eligible potato growers in the county sometime prior to Sept. 25.

Growers will then have until September 30 in which to mark their ballots and place them in the mail for return to R. E. Keller, an official of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Chicago who has been appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture as his agent in conducting the referendum.

IN ADDITION to Michigan growers, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and North Dakota growers will also be asked to vote in the same referendum, as well as growers in several counties of Indiana and Iowa.

Specifically, growers will be asked to signify whether they approve or disapprove the issuance of Federal Marketing Order No. 60, with amendments authorizing regulation of the handling of potatoes grown in the North Central potato production area (Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota and the several commercial counties of Indiana and Iowa.).

THE ORDER must be approved by at least two - thirds of the growers voting in the referendum by number or by volumn of production, before it can be issued by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Mr. Hardy points out that the law requires that no price support shall be made available for potatoes of the 1950 crop if proposed marketing orders are disapproved by producers voting in referendum.

So in effect, the chairman explained, growers will actually be given the opportunity to vote on the question of whether or not they want price support continued on potatoes for the 1950 crop.

All known eligible growers in Charlevoix County should receive a ballot through the mail prior to Sept. 25.

Crop Outlook In District 'Fair to Poor'

The over-all crop situation in Charlevoix and Antrim counties is "fair to poor", a survey of a dozen farms by the Courier revealed Wednesday.

For the most part, the second cutting of hay was lost this year because of the unusually damp and cool weather. The loss of this hay will mean that feed is likely to be higher and many farmers who normally grow their own feed will have to buy it on commercial scale.

This is likely to have a profound influence on farm prices as the cost spiral continues to climb.

MANY CROPS of small grains have been lost or nearly so, farmers reported. A drive through the rural areas shows that many oat fields have not been combined As time passes, the oats are knocked down. Some wheat fields have been severely damaged from inclement weather.

The corn crop looks fairly good at this date but it will require plenty of time to mature. Weather forecasts for the next month predict colder than normal. If this holds true, corn estimates will be revised downward.

TO DATE the county for the most has avoided frost such as hit areas near Cadillac, Marion and Big Rapids. Corn fields there have been definitely killed. A lot of corn in Charlevoix county will mature in the next two or three weeks if the weather is good.

Most farmers agree that this has not been a good season for growing crops in this county.

ORCHARD NOTES

By Clauda Fairman

There was a good demand for good Red Haven peaches this year, this variety being the earliest and best. Golden Jubilee and South Haven are on the way out, as well at the Elberta and other varieties.

There is a general demand for good Hale Haven peaches. Eventually the varieties for this locality will be, and in this order of ripening; Red Haven, Fair Haven, Hale Haven and Kale Haven. These varieties were originated by Stanley Johnson at the Graham experiment station at Grand Haven, a Michigan State College experiment station.

At Ontario, Canada, the "V" peaches were originated, such as Valiant, Vaughan, Vedette,etc. While these were nice peaches somewhat of the Elberta type, lately we do not hear much about them or see them listed in the nursery catalogues.

There are also some very nice new peach varieties from the U.S. Experiment station, such as Dixie Red, Dixie Jem, etc. However these are the semi-cling type and will hardly do for home canning. Elbertas from around Benton Harbor still went over good this year on account of their shipping quality and their demand in Chicago and elsewhere.

As the Elberta season reached the Grand Rapids area, they do not seem to be going over as well. Up here most of the Elbertas will go to canning plants.

The Elberta has been king of the peaches and predicted by many to live forever, but as I see it, I'm sure it's on its way out. Here at home we leave a few of the old varieties live, such as the Crawfords and other old varieties. We do chop down a lot of trees each year and replace them with newer and better varieties.

This seems to be the recommended process and applies also to apples and other fruits. Old tall apple trees are not desirable, nor profitable. Fruit is of better quality on young trees and costs are less for picking, thinning, spraying, etc.

In California nothing but clingstone peaches are grown for the canneries. Michigan has developed a clingstone peach for the canneries called the Amber Gem. Their machinery can handle a clingstone but the housewife still wants a yellow freestone although the clings are finer grained. Our Havens will still lead for home use.

A straight line is the shortest distance between two points and a straight furrow on rolling land is the shortest line to soil destruction.

"Sittin' Pretty"

with today's outstanding tractor value

He's "sittin' pretty"—the man who owns a John Deere Two-Cylinder Tractor.

Its matchless simplicity and strength of parts insures the maximum in dependability, economy, long life. Its many advanced features—Cyclonic-Fuel-Intake Engines, Hydraulic Powr-Trol, Roll-O-Matic "Knee - Action" Front Wheels, and Quik-Tatch, to name just a few—make farming far easier than ever before.

Come in soon and let us tell you all about John Deere Tractors—today's leaders in modern design and proved performance.

We're "Sittin' Pretty" too . . .

With a good stock of tractors on hand when the prices jumped as much as 10% Sept. 11. You can have the benefit of our lucky situation. We are holding to the old price for the tractors on hand. You can't earn yourself a hundred and fifty "smackers" any easier than acting now on that new John Deere.

New, Easy Way to Farm

One Minute TO PUT ON IMPLEMENTS
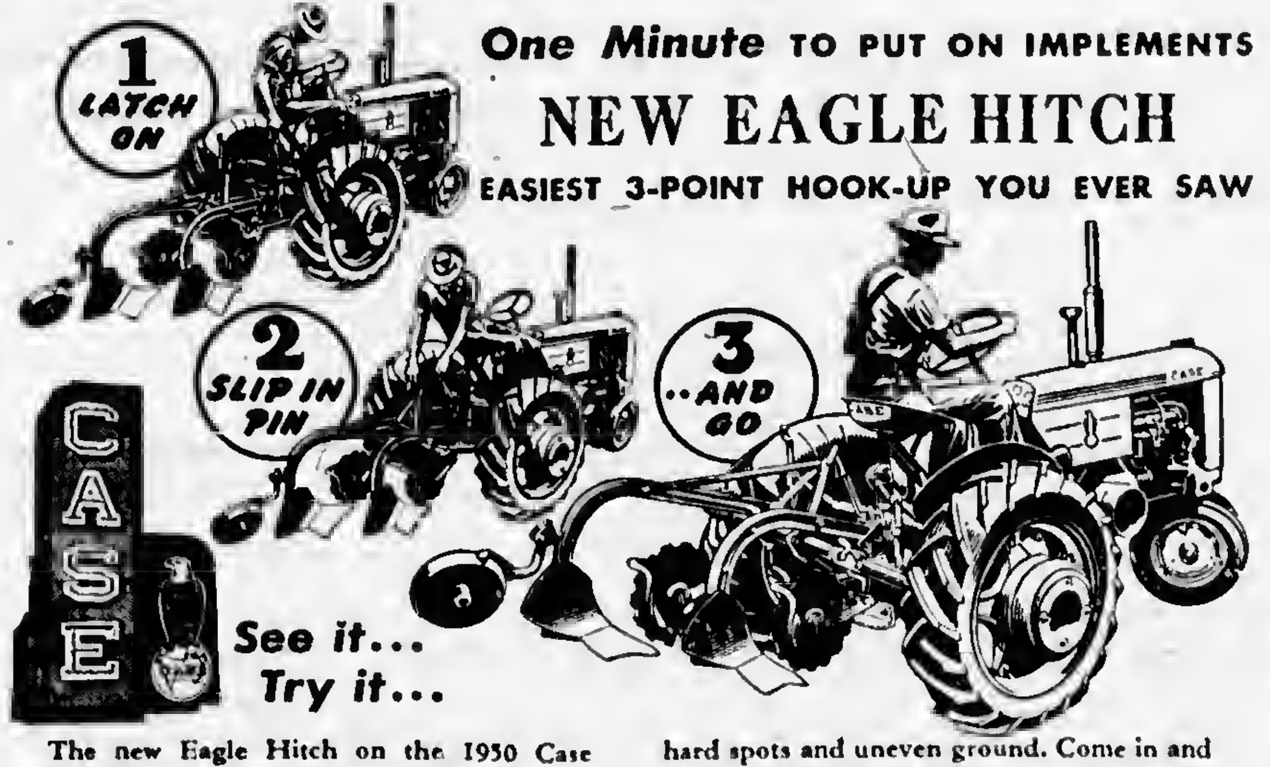
NEW EAGLE HITCH
EASIEST 3-POINT HOOK-UP YOU EVER SAW



The new Eagle Hitch on the 1950 Case "VAC" tractor takes hold of the new latch-on implements and picks them up—fast and easy. Without getting off the seat you just latch on, slip in a pin, and go! You get to the field quicker, finish sooner. Work is done better because the Eagle Hitch keeps implements working at a steady depth in spite of hard spots and uneven ground. Come in and see it! Try the new low-pressure hydraulic implement control. You'll like the way it works with both latch-on and front-mounted implements. This isn't push-button farming but it's the nearest thing to it. And you'll be amazed at the eager power wrapped up in this low-cost 2-plow tractor.

TALK TO THE MAN WHO USES IT . . .

WD TRACTOR
TWO-CLUTCH CONTROL

In heavy crops, his tractor power flows steadily to Corn Harvester, ALL-CROP* Harvester, ROTO-BALER* or Forage Harvester. A push on the transmission clutch lever lets him stop forward motion to clear overloads without clogging, breakage or crop waste.

Ask any owner of an Allis-Chalmers WD Tractor to show you the many places where you need two-clutch control. Let him demonstrate the safety and convenience of this system where the foot-operated engine clutch stops all power outlets — pulley, hydraulic lift, power take-off and rear wheels, and the transmission clutch stops forward motion only.

Watch your neighbor's WD — it will be time well spent.

*ALL CROP and ROTO-BALER are Allis-Chalmers Trademarks.

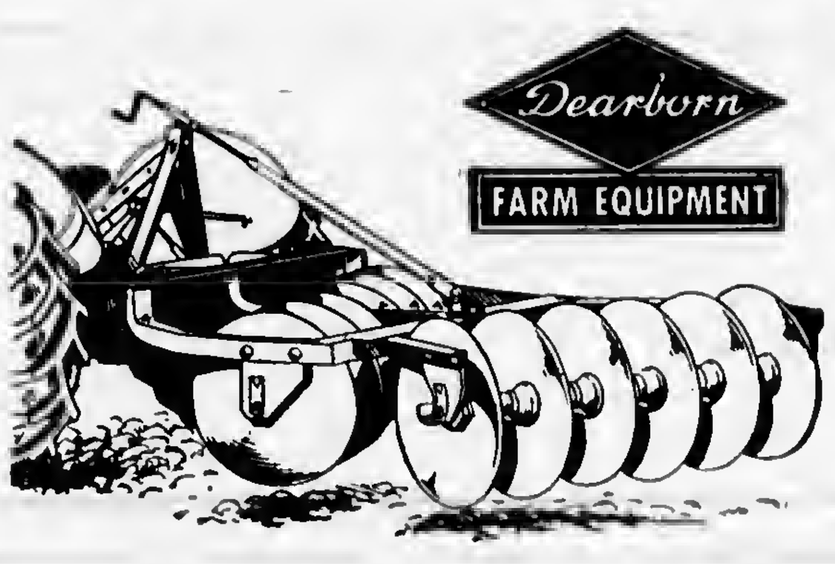
Dearborn FARM EQUIPMENT



For your Ford Tractor...
the famous TOWNER
LIFT TYPE OFFSET DISC FOR FIELD
and ORCHARD WORK

Great strength, and convenient adjustments make this harrow outstanding for cutting, pulverizing and levelling the soil. For orchard tillage the entire harrow may be offset to the right or left up to 18". This is particularly valuable in working close to trees in orchards. For row crops and vineyard use, the rear gang may be offset so that you can "throw to" or "throw away" from rows. Side draft is no problem with this disc harrow. A handle conveniently located to the tractor seat, enables the operator to compensate quickly and easily for side draft in different soil conditions.

Quickly attached to the Ford Tractor, the complete disc is raised or lowered by Hydraulic Touch Control. Thus, you get fast close turns at row ends . . . and blade damage is eliminated while being transported over roads. Built for lasting satisfaction. See us soon!

IT HAPPENED ON ....
BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

The school bell rang Monday morning in the village of St. James for regular scheduled classes. The fifth through the eighth grades are temporarily occupying the former high school room in the Parish Hall. The high school pupils have the upper room in the old school building.

Sunny side school has been in full swing since Sept. 6 with fourteen pupils in attendance.

Monday was a most important day for Isobelle Grace LaFreniere, Colleen Nackerman, Donna Jean Ricksgers, Robert Allen Pischner, Nancy Ann Kenwaubakise, Richard Elms and Johnny Pischner. They trotted off to school for the first time.

Sally Cull returned from Chicago to complete her senior year in St. James High. Sally was employed in Chicago during the summer months. There are two seniors this year, Sally and Marguerite Connaghan.

WHAT A WEEK to start school! Rail clouds hung heavy over Beaver Island for four straight days. Not until Friday did the sun break through and then only to play peek-a boo during the day.

Nary a blade of grass was parched from the summer sun this year. Everything remained fresh and green and the flowers bloomed and bloomed. Mrs. Herman Pischner's flower garden was beautiful as usual and so was Mrs. Ella Summerville's and Willie O'Donnell's

Although the transition from summer to fall has not been detected according to the weather, the trees are telling us that the season has changed. Patches of red stand out against the green announcing that fall is here.

BEAVER ISLAND farmers have formed a cooperative under the leadership of George Ricksgers. The farmer's co-op have purchased a threshing machine and have already put it to good use. The farmers hope to make great strides working and pulling together.

Two members of the House of David came to the Island the first of the week enroute to High Island. This religious sect owns a large tract of land on the Island.

The Israelites abandaned the Island some years ago, but here lately, Beaver Islend fishermen have taken several over with supplies for camping. Our long-haired visitors last week remained on the island until Friday when Joe Gallagher went over to pick them up. Rolland McCann took another visitor to High Island Sunday for a camping trip . . . but not a member of the House of David.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McDonough returned to the Island Wednesday after seeing Buddy off to his camp in Texas. Buddy flew the distance from Detroit to San Antonio in a liner.

Henry Allen came to the Island Tuesday to remain for the rest of the week. This trip, Henry brought along his mother, Mrs. Margaret Allen of Cleveland.

JACK and GENE Burke were given leave from their boat to visit their mother during her illness. Both boys have returned to their boats since Mrs. Burke is getting along so nicely.

Mrs. Teddy Wojan was in Petoskey and Charlevoix during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Davison returned to the Island Tuesday. Betty will re-enter Hope College for the fall term. Mr. and Mrs. Davison and Mr. and Mrs. Johnston are occupying Doctor Bales cottage facing back beach.

MRS JOSEPHINE McCOURT who ownes a cabin on the Island and is a regular summer visitor, recently returned from a flying trip to Europe which took her to Dublin, London, Paris, Zurich and to the eternal city, Rome, for the Holy Year Pilgrimage. Mrs. McCourt, who spent a short visit on the Island after this wonderful trip said her biggest thrill was flying over the Alps at 20,400 ft. in a storm.

Lillian Connaghan, who will leave shortly to enter training at Mercy Central Hospital, Grand Rapids, was honoree at a party given Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Geraldine Bruckner. Lillian was presented a portable radio as a going-away gift from her many friends on the Island.

Hugh Wilson, Ann Arbor, and his son, Doctor Hugh Wilson Jr., from Boston, spent a week relaxing on the Island. Hugh and his son are regular yearly visitors to Beaver Island.

A second frost hit the Island Saturday night. It is feared the blackberry crop . . . which looked so prominsing a month ago . . has been damaged.

MRS C. E. WEBSTER, mother of Mrs. Arthur Miller, Sr., has had a stroke and has been very ill. Mrs. Webster spent several summers with her daughter and added much enjoyment to many a gathering with talent as a musician.

The U. S. Coast Guard Cutter Sundew came to the Island Saturday to deliver coal for the Beaver Head Light and the Lifeboat Station. The present duty of the Sundew is to service aids to navigation in Northern Lake Michigan.

A crew from the Bellaire Manufactoring plant arrived on the Island Friday and by Monday at boat time, a cabin for Norman Kraft was erected, even to roofing the building. The interior of the cabin will be finished by Mr. Kraft. This is the first Bellaire cabin to be assembled on the Island and from all the favorable comment, it won't be the last. Fred Spalding has the agency on the Island.

Nationwide Proving Ground Demonstrates FAMED ECONOMY of FORD TRUCKS

Port Huron, Mich. Both driver and owner stand beside the Ford F-5 Platform job of the Wilbert Burial Vaults Company. Ford's Economy Run is covering every truck using occupation!

Gigantic Ford Economy Run shows what Ford Truck owners have known all along—Ford operation is amazingly thrifty.

Every model of the famous Ford Truck line is entered in Ford's gigantic, 48-state Economy Run. Every type of job and occupation all across the nation is represented.

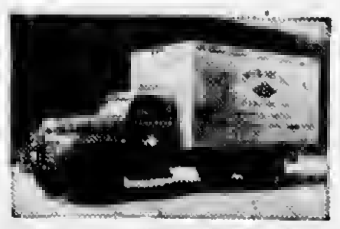
All four of Ford's great truck engines—the 95-h.p. and the 110-h.p. Sixes, the 100-h.p. and 145-h.p. V-8's—are now demonstrating what most truck owners have found out for fact—a Ford Truck engine uses less gas to give you the power you need for your job.

On-the-Job Proof! This amazing Economy Run started July 1 and will run to December 31, 1950. Thousands of Ford Truck owners are keeping authentic day-to-day records of gas and oil consumption, of repairs and maintenance—of miles travelled, of loads hauled. The result—the most comprehensive demonstration of operating economy in truck history.

Get in on that money-saving Ford Truck economy now! Your Ford Dealer will show you how a Ford Truck will save money on your job. See him today!

Des Moines, Ia. Carl Hissly, Superior Oil Co., states that these Ford F-8 tank-trailer Big Jobs average six miles per gallon under heavy load. No repair expenses since they were bought!

Houston, Tex. Russell R. Briant of Nursery Service Co. has used Ford Trucks since 1920. This is one of his F-5 Dumps. He says he's found them more economical than any other truck in their price field.



Alexandria, Va. The Metal Distributing Co., Inc., of Alexandria, places this Ford F-7 in Ford's nationwide Economy Run. Records of its daily operation will demonstrate Ford Truck economy in this industry, too.

East Point, Ga. Walter C. Jeanes of Armco Drainage and Metal Products, Inc., in his Ford F-6 Tractor-Trailer. He states he's more than willing to show his Ford's economy!

Hyattsville, Md. Ernest Maier, Inc., pauses midway in a hauling job to show their fine, economy-minded Ford F-5 under load. The records kept will prove the economy of this Ford model.

Cincinnati, O. This Ford F-6 Dump is entered by the Randy Construction Company to dramatically record Ford Truck economy in the construction business, too!

Houston, Tex. A. L. O'Quinn of Magnolia Service has entered his Ford F-1 Pickup in the Economy Run, too. He says it's in a class by itself for day and night dependability and economy.

EVERY FORD TRUCK IN THE GIGANTIC ECONOMY RUN CARRIES THIS SIGN—

Look for this black and orange sign on every Ford Truck in the Economy Run. Ask the driver about the economy of his Ford Truck.

Recalls Experiences In Korean Flight

In the burning of state papers and since he also had men in the field near the border he was attempting to have them evacuated by truck.

The children by this time realized something was wrong and when night came they would not go to bed but remained with their mother, listening to the radio. They were all in one room which had been closed off so no light could be seen from the outside.

At 1:10 a.m. Monday, while they listened to the radio, Operation Bluebird suddenly became Operation Highball and all dependent women and children were told to pack and be ready to leave by 3 a.m. Things really flew while Mrs. Madison packed.

It was difficult to know what to take for they were allowed only what they could carry. She settled for jeans, T-shirts, underwear and socks for the children, a few durable clothes for herself plus lots of soap and other necessities for even then they didn't know where they were going.

AT 3 A.M. the evacuation started with 20 buses carrying them to Amcom City, an American military village.

When we arrived there, she said, we were all processed and never have I given my name and my family's names so many times. Last of all was the question 'who is to be notified in case something happens' and that was hard to take. We were told we were to remain there until air cover could arrive from Japan before continuing to Inchon where we were to be taken out by boat.

Up until this time evacuation plans set up by the military had called for evacuation by air but after the appearance of the Yak fighters the plan was changed at once.

It was noon Monday before the planes, Black Widows, arrived and everyone was mighty glad to see them and cheered.

"AGAIN WE boarded the buses for the trip to Inchon. Even though everyone tried to be brave there were tears as we said goodbye to our husbands who were remaining behind. We left all kinds of orders of how and what to pack, we assured each other it wouldn't be long but we didn't know what was ahead and it was difficult", she related.

After the trip to Inchon (about 18 miles) they were taken by lighters to the Norwegian freighter, Reinhold, anchored off shore.

In recalling the trip she said, "We boarded the ship in the bright sunshine but it was awful. The ship, a freighter, had fecilities for 12 crewmen and 36 passengers and here were 360 women and children swarming over the ship.

And meals . . . that was another story. The galley was small and not equipped for such numbers and preparing the food properly was almost impossible. There were plenty of supplies on board for food, meat, vegetables, eggs, bread, cheese and other staples had been brought directly from the commissary but how to prepare it was the hitch. Finally they decided to make a kind of stew with the meat and vegetables mixed together. This served with cheese sandwiches became a major part of our diet for the two day we were aboard ship.

THE CHILDREN seemed to sense that it was up to them to be good and they arose to the occasion and were all wonderful. The teen-agers in the party did everything. The boys helped with the cooking and serving while the girls assisted with the smaller children.

The first night out sleeping pads were issued and with the blankets the evacuees had brought, everyone was comfortable.

But the next morning the weather looked bad and hardly had the Madison family and few friends moved into one of the holds of the ship when it started to rain. At that everyone came in and it became bedlam. The sea was rough, the holds not meant for humans were dirty and poorly ventilated. Some people were sick.

The next morning (Wednesday) they arrived at a rendezvous point off Fukuoka, a Japanese Island, in a heavy fog. The ship was to be picked up by a pilot ship and escorted through the reefs and shoals to the harbor but there was no pilot ship. From 7 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. the ship circled waiting for the pilot ship to locate it for radio silence could not be broken or foghorns sounded. Finally the ship was located and about 3 p.m. were docked at the Island. "We heard later, Mrs. Madison said, that it had been rumored that our ship had been bombed and strafed by the enemy and those waiting for us were frantic".

AS THE EVACUEES lined up to leave the ship, each mother was joined by a G.I. who helped with the children and the luggage. Some of the soldiers didn't know much about children but they did everything they could to help.

They were taken to a station Hospital for 24 hours before going to a rest camp, north of Tokyo. It was at the hospital they learned their husbands had been evacuated by air and were safe in Japan. After several weeks at the rest camp they sailed from Yokohama Aug. 11. The family visited briefly in Ann Arbor before coming here for the opening of the school term. They are now at 302 Clinton st.

The family lost all its possessions which included many things they had taken for the anticipated two-year stay. There is no hope that anything will be recovered.

Mr. Madison is still in Japan with the ECA awaiting the time when he may return to Korea

Fourth Polio Case Reported In Charlevoix

Marian Oliver, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Oliver, is in the Charlevoix hospital suffering from poliomyelitis. Her condition is termed satisfactory. She was admited Sept. 23.

This marks the fourth case of polio in Charlevoix, Dallas Henry, vice chairman of the county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, reported.

Mrs. Esther Carey, who was hospitalized with polio for several weeks, has been removed to her home. Mrs. Mary Sharrow, 33, who was seized with polio three weeks ago, is reported progressing favorably.

The most serious case is that of Barbara Bodley, 12, of near Burgess, who was taken ill earlier this summer in southern Michigan. It was reported that she was removed from the iron lung last Saturday. Her condition is showing slow improvement, Mr. Henry sold. She contracted polio while visiting near An Arbor.

The county chapter of the National Foundation stands ready to aid polio sufferers by providing expert treatment and care. It raises funds in a drive annually held in January and is not a receiving agency of the United fund or Community chest.

Free Theater Tickets

A reader of the Charlevoix Courier is going to win two tickets to the Palaca theater here, beginning this waek.

Thera is nothing to buy. Here is how tha plan will operate. The name of a Courier reader will ba found in one of the advartisements appearing in this week's issue.

The lucky person should taka the advertisement in which his or her name appears to tha Palace theater and the theater management will admit two persons free.

The lucky person must identify himself or herself and must appear at the boxoffico befora Oct. 5.

Two free theater tickets will ba offered weekly.

Tha only thing you hava to do is to watch the advertisements in tha Courier.

Teachers Club Opening Party

The Teachers Club of the Charlevoix schools held their opening party of the school year, a potluck supper at the Rod and Gun Clubhouse last week. Members of the faculty, their respective husbands or wives and members of the board of education enjoyed the dinner followed by games and dancing.

Mrs. Dorothy McRae and Frances Milner were general chairmen of the event.

Girl Scouts Opening Fall Activities

Girl Scout activities opened for the fall season with a meeting of the Girl Scout Council Monday evening. The 1950 camping report given by the camping chairman, Mrs. Robert Richard, was the main topic of the evening.

The report as compiled by Mrs. Richards shows 156 girls enjoyed camping of various types at the close of the 1949-50 school year. The report also showed that $1006.00 was apent for the camps with the Council paying $353.43, while the various scout troops raised the remainder of the sum themselves.

In breaking the report down it showed that 60 girls who were either Brownies or would be Brownies this fall registered for five full days of day camp with each child paying a $1.00 registration fee. The average cost per girl was $2.34. Besides the paid director there were 12 volunteer leaders over 21 years of age including a nurse for each day and aix high school girls.,

Seventy-seven girls and 21 leaders including nurses went troop camping. The costs of the camp sites were paid by the Council and were $205. The average cost per girl was $6.80. The cost per girl at an established Girl Scout camp is $16.00 for the same length of time and at other camps it averages $25.00.

For the first time a troop went on a trip camp when 10 girls and their three leaders went to Milwaukee via Ludington. The cost of the trip was $18.00 per girl with the Council paying $50.00 and the girls earning the remainder. The cost per person included the use of the school bus, fare on the carferry, hotel room and meals.

Last year there were 140 registered scouts including 19 seniors, 76 intermediates and 51 Brownies.

This year the registration is expected to he equally as large and at the present time new leaders are in demand to care for the troops. Anyone desiring to aid the scouts by becoming leaders or assistant leaders are asked to call Mrs. Charles Bleha, troop organization chairman at 841.

Condition of Crash Victims Improving

The condition of four persons injured in two auto accidents over the week-end was slightly improved at the Charlevoix hospital late Wednesday.

The injured were:

Manny Cohen, 31, operator of a summer linen shop here, who suffered severe facial lacerations and injuries in a two-car crash on US-31 three miles north of Charlevoix early Saturday morning. He was driving his car toward town at the time.

Ray Kolinski, 17, of Petoskey, driver of the second car involved in the accident, who suffered severe facial lacerations and injuries, multiple fractures of both legs and chest injuries.

MRS EDNA SIMON, 70, of Chuia Vista and Findlay, O., who suffered a spinal injury and fractured arm Sunday morning when the car driven by her husband, Rev. Guy W. Simon struck the pilot house on the Ironton ferry when the latter suffered a slight stroke as the car approached the east landing at the ferry.

Rev. Guy W. Simon, 76, driver of the car, who suffered minor injuries and shock.

Two others injured in the accident Saturday, Charles Burnett, 16, who had severe facial lacerations and a fractured arm was transferred to Little Traverse hospital Sunday and Dale Enbody, 16, was dismissed early Saturday afternoon after being treated for minor cuts and bruises at the Charlevoix hospital.

The first accident occurred at 1:30 a.m. when the car driven by Kolinski and in which Burnet and Enbody were passengers pulled out of a line of traffic returning from the Traverse City football game and crashed into the car driven by Cohen. The cars were demolished.

In the accident at Ironton Sunday the Rev. and Mrs. Simon were enroute to the Ironton Congregational church when he suffered the stroke and crasbed into the ferry as the operator, Walter Jarvis was lowering the gate. The car hit the gate and bounced onto the ferry striking the steel pilot house.

Sheriff's deputy Clarence Coblentz investigated the accident Saturday morning and Sheriff Floyd Ikens the Ironton accident Sunday.

734 Residents Take Chest X-Rays At County Fair As TB Precaution

A final total of 734 chest X-rays were given in the county fair X-ray program, Dr. A. F. Litzenburger, district health department director reported today.

Recalling the decades of work it has taken to make such mass X-ray program a reality, Dr. Litzenburger said, "The diagnosis of pulmonary tuberculosis was a much more difficult problem before the X-ray technique was perfected. In the beginning, physicians relied entirely on stethoscopic examination and apparent symptoms to spot the disease.

"UNFORTUNATELY, early tuberculosis rarely causes any symptoms. Even advanced TB often does not make itself known to its victims. Physicians today realize that if we want to find tuberculosis in the beginning stages, we cannot wait for the patient to come to the doctor. Instead we must take chest X-rays of all apparently healthy people."

Proof of the value of small size chest X-ray films makes it possible for mobile units to work on a widescale basis, Dr. Litzenburger explained. He said reports on the fair X-rays will be mailed in tho near future.

Thanking everyone who assisted with the aurvey, Dr. Litzenburger outlined seven basic facts everyone should know and understand about tuberculosis.

1. Tuberculosis is caused by a germ.
2. Tuberculosis is 'catching.'
3. You cannot inherit tuberculosis from your parents.
4. You can have tuberculosis without feeling sick.
5. Simple tests, such as a chest X-ray, can spot tuberculosis.
6. Tuberculosis can be cured, if found early and treated promptly.
7. The tuberculosis sanatorium is the best place to go for treatment and to protect others from your germs.

Charlevoix to Unleash All-Out Attack Against Boyne City Invaders

By Vic Spaniolo

Fresh from their fairly-easy victory over Grayling, the Red Rayders tangle with Boyne City Friday afternoon in what may turn out to be a drag out battle.

The Charlevoix gridders came through the season's opener in good shape, although Coach Del Terrill said he was disappointed about the blocking of his players against Grayling.

At every practice session this week, he has emphasized that the locals will have the fight of their lives on their hands against Boyne City which easily defeated Pellston last Friday night.

THAT THE Charlevoix team will be up for the Boyne contest is taken for granted hecause the two county rivals always fight hard against each other. Boyne will be out to avenge the defeat last fall to the Rayders.

In defeating Grayling 33-6 last Friday, the name of Greg "Pegs" Bryan, stubby halfback, went into the books as the offensive star of the game in his first starting contest. Bill Wardon played a great game for the losers.

He scored the first touchdown midway in the opening period, plunging over from the three yard line after he, Ron Cunningham, Don Hardy and Bill Wallace racked up some nice gains. Cunningham's try for point was wide. Bowman, Krahnke, Fairbanks, Boss stood out on defense.

Bryan, a senior student, really showed Grayling his heels time and time again. He was aided by some good blocking. His ability as a track man enabled him to outrun the opposing secondory.

Penalties and fumbles hurt Charlevoix as three 15-yard penalties derailed potential touchdown runs.

Bryan scored the second touchdown in the second stanza on a 38-yard gallop to scora standing up. Chuck Fairbanks, Chuck Krahnka and Jim Bowman put key blocks on their men to pave tha way for this score. Cunningham's kick was good, making it 13-0.

Stout-hearted Don Hardy earned the third score, running over from the one-yard line after a holding penalty against Grayling helped the winners set this one up. Cunningham also made this point for 20-0 score.

THREE RUNS by Hardy, the longest one for 26 yards off tackle and a pass from Wallace to Fairbanks put the ball in scoring position. Grayling scored its lone touchdown on a pass interception in the second half. Jim McLean grabbed a Charlevoix pass on his own 45 and scampered across for the marker.

"Pegs" Bryan broke loose for a 52-yard gallop in the last quarter to make it 26-6. He dashed off his right end and down the sidelines, eluding several tack-

Jim Elzinga Breaks Leg in Grid Drill

The Rayder football squad suffered its first major casualty Monday when Jim Elzinga, 15-year old freshman, fractured his lower leg during blocking practice.

He was taken to the Charlevoix Hospital for treatment.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Elzinga.

City Pays Off $20,347 Indebtedness

The city of Charlevoix paid off its $20,347.50 indebtedness which it incurred last winter to finance city operations.

The council approved payment at its meeting Monday night. The council also awarded the contract for 150,000 gallons of fuel oil for the diesel engines to Roosevelt Refining company. The low bid was .0964 per gallon FOB Charlevoix. Only four other firms offered bids.

The council discussed a special concession in permitting the construction of a cheese plant on the northwest corner of Wood and Bridge street. The area is designated as commercial and allowances may be made to permit light processing.

Approval for the construction of a water main from Sheridan road to Lake street on West Hurlbut was given by the council. The project will start as soon as the residents along this street pay $35 or the cost of service to the city treasurer.

A discussion was held on the possibility of making the property on the lake opposite the Heinz pickle warehouse into a public fishing site. Glenn Ingalls appeared before the council on behalf of the Charlevoix Rod and Gun club.

Other refinery bids for oil were Bay Refining Co., .1005; Osecola Refining, .10 and Pure Oil, .101 per gallon.

The poyment of the money, borrowed from the banks last winter required 44 percent of the city's tax collections. City Comptroller Don Swinton reported that abut 88 percent of the year's taxes have been paid. This represents about the same percentage at this time last year.

Why Don't Merchants Attend Industry Meetings?

Few people will take the negative side of the statement. It is a prime topic among the merchants and others who would stand to gain directly from having more weekly payrolls.

So a meeting is called. All merchants and others interested will hear about the meeting either by card or from one of the organizers of the Business Men's association.

The meeting was scheduled for last Wednesday night. So what happened.

Seventeen persons—including five merchants — apparently were interested enough to turn out. The other merchants were too busy to attend. Maybe they have enough business. But we doubt that very much.

This lack of interest is going to prevent any type of industrial program from getting started. The lack of interest pervades many other fields. Whether it's Red Cross, Community Chest or hospital drive, the interest is confined to the same few people each time.

If the merchants and other residents are to make Charlevoix a busy place the year around, they will have to show a great deal of interest. Small industrial plants are not going to spring up here automatically.

The mayor, city council and the Board of Commerce leaders can help. But there must be support. Active support.

A few interested persons turned out for the meeting when every merchant in this city should be there. No excuses offered unless sickness in the family.

The community is slowly acquiring small industrial plants. But how much interest is being shown by the people who will have direct benefits from it. One person will quickly say: What about the merchants? They don't seem to be too much interested.

And so a large part of Charlevoix residents continue to indulge in its favorite indoor sport, "What's wrong with Charlevoix" and expressing criticism of everything that is done.

Unfortunately there is too much destructive criticism and not enough constructive thinking. Surely this community is as good as any other in the north. We like to believe that there are as many people who want the town to prosper as there are in other towns.

Everyone realizes what a poor summer the community had this past season. A great deal can be done to offset this. But it won't be done if we continue to let someone else do it.

What do you think about it?

U. S. Needs Many Ships Now in "Mothball" Fleet

Ships of the Navy are landing men and material on Korea, covering landing operations, and shelling enemy positions inland. The Seventh Fleet is conducting a "neutralizing" action at Formosa. Carrier-based Marine and Navy fighter planes are giving sorely needed tactical support to ground troops fighting gallantly in the pocket of Pusan. But before these effective weapons of modern combined combat were sent across the Pacific to action on the Far East front, most of them were mouldering in "mothballs".

Navy men warned early against weakening the sea arm of our National Defense. But President Truman's military cuts of 1948 permitted only two-thirds of the active and less than one-fifth of the reserve personnel recommended for the Navy by Congress. In that election year minimum defense strength planned under Secretary James Forrestal included 24 naval air groups. After the election and appointment of Louis Johnson, these were cut to nine. The USS UNITED STATES was scrapped. The President's executive memorandum of Nov. 15 1946, to the Director of the Budget became basic policy to be followed ever since for squelching professional military men when they recommended defense needs. In part it reads:

"When you notify the heads of various departments and agencies of the amounts to be included in the 1948 budget for their actvities, I wish you would include a reminder that I shall expect them and their subordinates to support only the President's estimates in hearings and discussions with members of Congress".

A top naval officer was court-martialed when the USS MISSOURI went aground—an inexorable Navy rule. But nobody was court-martialed for the absence of proper naval and air support when foreign policy boomeranged in Korea.

Personal Items

• Mrs. Clare Staley and daughters, Nancy and Susy, left for Frankfort Sunday after spending the summer in their home in Charlevoix.

• Mr. and Mrs. Fred deCastro and daughter, Susao, of Milwaukee, Wis., are spending two weeks with Mrs. deCastro's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sander Halverson and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clarenee Bartlett.

• John Stephens left Sunday for Tecumseh where he has accepted a job. Mrs. Stephens plans to join him in two weeks.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

Weren't you glad to find out what caused the awful color in the sky Sunday? A forest fire well up into Canada was given as the explanation for the smog. . but while it lasted it was one of the most eirie sights we ever hope to see . . . we called the Coast Guard station during the morning to ask if they knew what it was about . . . they didn't but our informant said if he were in Texas and the sky was this color he'd be heading for a cellar . . .

And who ever said our little ole Courier doesn't get around . . Remember the story we had last summer on Mrs. Harold Hahn of Muskegon and her mother, Mrs. F. J. Fessenden and a friend, Mrs. Marvin Meengs who had designed a double cuff sport sock and were having it made by the Ripon company? . . . Seems our item was picked up by someone in Wisconsin. sent to the Muskegon Chronicle and resulted in a picture and story in their hometown sheet . . .

Here's good news about another Charlevoix lad . . Bill Barber who is attending the U of D and playing football, naturally , he's been named captain of his freshman team . . how that boy could kick and pass and run that team as quarterback last season . . he's doing the same this fall but for Detroit . . . .

Did you ever hear of white blackberries? There are such things . . . it seems and Roy Ranger knows where they grow . at one time early this fall he picked five quarts and could have had more if he'd stayed to pick them . . . he says they are very sweet and are particularly good when mixed with the black ones . . . seems they're quite a rarity for not long ago there was an article in a Detroit paper telling of a man who had a few shoots and was going to cultivate them for commercial use . . . they'd been imported from some place . . .

Congratulations to Archie Rounds, grand patriarch of the grand encampment of the IOOF of Michigan, who is being honored at a reception Saturday evening . . . many visitors are expected for the event . . . and the fact that a northern Michigan man has been selected for the office brings quite an honor to our community . . .

Stay out of the woods this week-end . . . the woods. that is where there are deer for the bow and arrow hunters take to the tall timber this Sunday for the first day of the archery season . . . We know it can be done but we'd still like to see it . . .

Some additional news of our servicemen abroad . . . Pfc Gerry Russell who was wounded in action in August is returning to his outfit in Korea . . . he's been hospitalized in Japan for shrapnel wounds in both arms . . . And when MSgt. Joe Sehwab was enroute to Japan via air recently he had an opportunity to see his brother, SSgt. Jim Eccleston who is stationed at Hawaii . . . Jim was off duty when the ships landed but after checking the sleeping crews he found Joe and took him home for the night. . . . we'll bet there wasn't much sleep for either of them . . . .

Bob Carey did all right by himself and Michigan State Saturday . . . scoring a good part of their points and turning in a fine performance . . . Charlevoix had its own cheering section too, with at least 25 fans watching the Spartans avenge the '49 defeat at the hands of Oregon on the west coast . . .

Have you seen the pictures the Sam Kings received recently from their son, Lyle? He's aboard a repair ship with the Seventh Fleet in the Pacific and for something to do raised a beard . . . it's quite a thing . . . give him a few months more and he'll really have his own camouflage . . .

If you're out in the country near a cornfield these nights don't be alarmed at the strange sounds you'll hear . . . chances are it's nothing but a raccoon sounding off . . . but it's still kinda scary .

All summer long Nick Hamilton and his dog, Mugsy, went to work at the Courier office . . . Nick left for school last week and whether from habit or lonesomeness for his master, Mugsy, comes in every day, looks around and in a little while leaves for home . . . to return again the following day . . . And speaking of dogs, there have been two puppies abandoned recently on the tennis court near school . . animal lovers living near the school have taken the little things in, fed them and found homes for them but we still think that's a pretty low-down trick . . .

The Rayders did a bit of alright in the game last Friday and against one of the biggest teams in the league . . they've got quite a record to defend so here's luck in the game against Boyne City Friday . . . And speaking of records, September is setting quite a ooc as a month of brides . . . We've often wondered why that is . . . elsewhere June's the month of weddings . . . but of course we have to be different . . . about three years ago a record was set it will be interesting to see if this year's applications for licenses will smash it . . .

If you're one of those methodical people who does everything in order you'll know that three months from Monday will be Christmas . . . but it wouldn't be any fun without that last minute shopping as far as we're concerned.

Schwub-Cellner Nuptials Read in Candlelight Rites

In a candlelight ceremony solemnized in the chapel of the Methodist church Saturday evening Mrs. Ruth Sehwab, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake W. White and Kenneth Cellner, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. August Cellner exchanged their marriage vows.

The Rev. W. Howell read the double ring service in the presence of their immediate families and a few friends before an altar decorated with baskets of autumn flowers and lighted tapers.

The bride selected a navy dressmaker suit with white accests, navy accessories and a corsage of yellow tea roses for her wedding.

Barbara White, as her sister's only attendant, also wore a navy suit, matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Charles Cellner of Detroit assisted his brother as best man. Marcus Cross, brother of the bride, and Ralph Cross Jr. cousin of the bride, were ushers.

Mrs. White chose a wine gown with wine and grey accessories and a corsage of yellow gladioli for her daughter's wedding.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for one hundred guests was held in the church parlors. A tiered wedding cake topped with a wedding bell centered the refreshment table which was decorated with autumn flowers and lighted tapers. Mrs. Gerald Lakics cut the cake and Mrs. Lewis Hunt of Flint and Mrs. Ralph Cross of Cross Village presided at the coffee services. Autumn flowers were used about the room.

The couple will reside here following a Canadian wedding trip.

Among those from away who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hunt of Flint.

Donna Henry Says Wedding Vows At Church of God

In a quiet ceremony performed at the Church of God Thursday evening Donna Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Henry, became the bride of Donald Mills, Seaman, U.S.C.G., son of Mrs. Penny Mills of Los Angeles, Calif., and Major Leroy Mills, U.S. Army in Korea.

The Rev. W. D. Wood read the double ring service in the presence of their immediate families.

Jon Henry, sister of the bride, and James D. Carter, U.S.C.G., were their attendants.

After a brief wedding trip the couple will reside here.

The bride is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school and the Indiana Business College. The bridegroom attended the Hashington high school in Los Angeles, and the Twenty-nine Palms high school in Twenty-nine Palms, Calif.

Mrs. Mills came from the west for the wedding.

Mary Lou Gibelyou Speaks Vows in Home Ceremony

Mary Lou Gibelyou, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gibelyou became the bride of Edwin C. Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Mann of Grand Rapids. at a ceremony performed at the home of the bride's parents Saturday afternoon.

The Rev. W. D. Wood read the double ring service before an improvised altar of autumn flowers and lighted tapers in candelabra. Preceding the ceremony Louise Bacon, cousin of the bride, and Phillip Mann Jr., brother of the bridegroom, lighted the tapers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a gown of white satin styled with an illusion neckline, long sleeves, a princess bodice and a full skirt which ended in a train. A braided satin tiara held her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Only Attendant

Her only attendant, Annemae Maxwell, wore a pale blue stain gown fashioned with a high neckline, short sleeves and a full skirt and carried a bouquet of red roses.

Don Mort assisted the bridegroom as best man.

Mrs. Gibelyou chose a light blue gown, white accessories and a corsage of yellow gladioli for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Mann, mother of the bridegroom, wore a chartruse gown, brown accessories and a yellow gladioli corsage.

Reception Held

A reception was held at the Marion Center grange Saturday evening. A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a wedding bell and doves graced the refreshment table which was decorated with lighted tapers and autumn flowers.

Following a northern Michigan wedding trip the couple will reside at 3333 Highgate ave. S.W., Grand Rapids. For traveling the bride wore a glen plaid suit, brown accessories and a rose and lily of the valley corsage.

Those from away who attended the wedding were Mrs. Daisy Acre of Farwell, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Neubecker and family of Dearborn.

Mrs Carey Improves

The condition of Mrs. Thomas Carey, who has been hospitalized with polio, is reported improved. She is expected to be removed to her home later this week. She entered the hospital two weeks ago.

New Use For Old Windmills

I drove past Larson's farm last week and saw him perched on top of his 75-year-old windmill. "Still planning on tearing it down?" I shouted up to him.

"Not on your life," says Curly as he climbs down. "I'm getting myself a television set from Buzz Ellis' and he says this windmill is going to come in mighty handy."

"You see," Curly went on, "I'm going to put my TV antenna right on top of it. Since the windmill is higher than the house, I'll get the best reception around here—but if it wasn't for Buzz and his advice, I'd have scrapped it."

From where I sit, Curly's success as a farmer and his popularity in town is due, in a large part, to his open-mindedness and his willingness to listen to people and their opinions. He'll listen to Buzz Ellis over a malted milk or he and I can talk politics—each with a glass of temperate beer. Yes, Curly's as modern as television itself!

Jack Mol and Bride Return Home After Trip Through Illinois, Wisconsin and UP

Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Mol have returned here to make their home following a wedding trip to Illinois, Wisconsin and upper Michigan. The couple was married at Reed City Sunday, Sept. 17.

The bride is the former Nomes Jeane Ringler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ringler of Cedarville and Reed City. Mr. Mol is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mol of this city.

The Rev. W. S. Easton performed the double ring service at the Methodist church before an altar decorated with white gladioli and lighted white tapers. James Norman was the organist and played a program of traditional music and accompanied the soloist, Carl Holmgren.

Bridal Gown

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of Chantilly lace and white satin designed with a fitted bodice and peplum of lace and a full satin skirt which ended in a cathedral length train. She wore matching lace gloves. A juliet cap of lace held her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of white chrysanthemums and ivy centered with orchids.

Eleanor Puff was maid of honor and Annis Ruth Mitchell, Donna Sanderson and Mrs. Donald Ringler, sister-in-law of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of marquisette styled with off-the shoulder neckline, bertha cuff and bouffant skirts. They wore matching sweetheart bonnets. Miss Puff's gown was yellow and she carried a lace fan trimmed with blue chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids' gown were blue and their fans had yellow chrysanthemums.

Flower Girls

Sue Ann Ringler and Connie Sadler, as flower girls wore long white marquisette gowns, white floral headdresses and carried baskets of rose petals.

Versal Shearer assisted as best man and ushers were Emerald Howe, Claire Martin and Harry Stutt of Charlevoix and Donald Ringler of Milwaukee, brother of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Doke completed the wedding party as master and mistress of ceremonies.

Mother of the bride

Mrs. Ringler selected a silver rose satin gown with black velvet hat and accessories. Her corsage was of pinochio roses. Mrs. Mol wore a forest green gown, black velvet accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

A reception followed in the church parlors.

The bride is a graduate of Reed City high school. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school. Both attended the Michigan College of Mines and Technology at Sault Ste. Marie.

Among those who attended the wedding from here were Mr. and Mrs. Versal Shearer, Mr. and Mrs. Claire Martin, Mr. and Ms. Frederick Keie, Raymond Shearer, Mr. and Mrs. Don Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Kipke, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bellinger, Mrs. Trina Nelson, Miss Joan Nelson, Miss Ione Mosier, Emerald Howe and Robert Crain.

Speakers Listed For Regional MEA

Several outstanding speakers will appear on the program of the annual regional M.E.A. institute in Petoskey Oct. 5 and 6.

Among them will be Walter Judd, Congressman, whose topic will be "The meaning of the events in Asia"; Dr. Charles L. Anspach, president of Central Michigan college, who will speak on "European Interviews" and tell of his recent trip abroad.

Others will be Dr. Lee Thurston, superintendent of public instruction whose supject will be "The Three R's and More", Allen Pierce, The World-cruising Yankee and Ruth Alexander, a widely-read eastern columnist, whose topic will be "Which Way America".

All schools in the region will be closed so the teachers may attend the two-day meeting.

says Mr. James Patrick O'Shea of Chicago

"My big Dodge has everything...famous dependability...extra roominess...ease of handling! Any other car offering as much would have cost $1000 more!"

No other car can match the Dodge reputation for dependability. No wonder new Dodge owners say you could pay $1,000 more and still not get all Dodge features . . . the economy, the performance, the extra spaciousness inside that means plenty of head room, leg room, shoulder room. The compact design outside makes traffic driving and parking a cinch.

You'll enjoy Dodge Fluid Drive—the smoother starts, stops, the smoother "going"—yours at no extra cost. Let today's big Dodge put you miles ahead, money ahead—for the years ahead.

GYRO-MATIC—AMERICA'S LOWEST PRICED AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION

Dodge Gyro-Matic lets you set the gear for full power in mud, snow or steepest hills—lets the engine "brake" your Dodge smoothly on long downhill grades. Available on Coronet models at slight extra cost.

Michigan Mirror
Non-Partisan News Letter

By Gene Alleman
Lansing Observer for Michigan Press Association

The political furor has died out temporarily while newly-nominated candidates bolster bulwarks and load ammunition for the November election. And so Michigan eyes again turn toward Korea, Europe and spiraling prices and wages here at home.

Bringing the war closer home is the fact that young Michigan men now are entering the army at a rate of more then 1,200 per week. Machinery creaked to a start, but now appears to be operating smoothly. Inductions are expected to increase.

And although 290,000 men have been classified in the state, there have been but 300 appeals from the draft. Answer? Proper classification by draft boards has left no grounds for appeal.

Economists still agree that the current postwar binge just can not last . . . that as Shakespeare said, "the times are out of joint". News columns verify that prices of industrial raw materials and finished products continue to push higher.

Easy Steering? Just try THIS tractor!

It's all right to wrestle with a man, but not a tractor. That's why you'll like the steering on the Ford Tractor . . . it doesn't try to knock you out.

You can sit comfortably and watch your work . . . and steer with a couple of fingers. In fact, on level land, you can plow a neat furrow with only a slight touch on the steering wheel. Here's the secret. The Ford Tractor has automotive type steering . . . specially built for tractor use.

With a Ford Tractor, Dearborn Implements and our service, you're on top . . . When can we demonstrate a Ford Tractor on your farm?

Reports Given At Farmers Union County Meeting

Thirty-five members of the Charlevoix County Farmers Union local met with the Echo local Sept. 19.

Joseph Stutzman, secretary of the county Union, reported that $15 was turned over to the Charlevoix hospital fund as a result of the bicycle ticket sale for the recent hospital carnival.

Mr. Stutzman also reported that the Farmers Union Co-op is doing an increasing business. LeRoy Hardy presided.

John Spoelman, president of the other Antrim county local, invited the county group to meet with his local Oct. 17, with the place of the meeting to be announced. It was reported that a son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Murphy had been wounded in Korea.

Mr. Hardy, Mr. Lyons and Mr. Pearsall reported on a propaganda campaign against the Farmers Union which they said is being carried out by several senators and a number of farm publications.

Members were told that much of the critical remarks stem from the fact this is an election year. They were urged to stand by the organization and defend it against these charges.

It was pointed out that the Farmers Union, while new in Michigan has been in existance for 48 years in western states. Persons who have visited these organizations point out how the Farmers Union have improved marketing conditions and the general welfare of the farmers, they said.

Barnard Farm Bureau Headed by Mrs. Boss

Barnard Farm Bureau elected officers at their Sept. 21 meeting. They are as follows:

Chairman, Mrs. John L. Boss, vice chairman, Emerald Bolhuis; discussion leader, Sanford Matchett; secretary and publicity chairman, Mrs. Arthur Stoel.

Recreation leader, Mrs. William Ager; hospital service chairman, Mrs. John L. Boss; member county member's committee, Mrs. Frank Matchett; action committeeman, John L. Boss.

Since farmers compose only about 18% of the population it is necessary for rural groups to work together to promote legislation which is favorable to farm interests and oppose that which is detrimental. If farmers desire to keep yellow oleo out of Michigan they must vote "no" on that proposal in November. Those who are interested in this question are urged to read "Michigan's Stake in Butter" in the Sept. 18 issue of "The Michigan Farmer". More than 80% of Michigan's 175,000 farms depend on dairying for a part or all of their income, says Earl Weaver, professor of Dairying at MSC.

The next meeting will be Oct. 19 at the Sanford Matchett home.

L. E. McGhan to Head Marion Farm Bureau

L. E. McGhan was named chairman of the Marion Center Farm Bureau at a meeting at Wilbur Himebauch's home.

Other officers are: Rowley Williams, vice chairman, Walter McElroy, discussion leader, Mrs. Armin Buchfinck, secretary, Mrs. L. E. McGhan, member of the county women's committee, Mrs. Charles Mascho, recreation leader, Howard Stephens, publicity chairman, Mrs. Mascho, song leader, Charles Mascho, hospital service chairman, Mr. McGhan, action committeeman, Mr. Buchfinck, county board nominee.

The Marion Cester group went on record as opposing yellow oleo and advocating making Blue Cross county-wide by Nov. 1. Mr. Buchfinck reported on the county meeting. It was also pointed out that Charlevoix county Farm Bureau ranks high in attendance with the rest of the state.

Each group will make a resolution to be presented at the annual meeting.

Resolutions passed included favoring the raising of the gas tax to three cents a gallon. The October topic will be "The Farmer and the Rest of Us."

The next meeting will be Oct. 11 at the Buchfinck home.

Turkey Growers Hol[illegible] Grading And Marketing Mee[illegible] Today

A turkey grading and marketing meeting has been scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 28 at Charlevoix. The meeting will start off at 1:30 p.m. in the afternoon at the Poultry Processing Plant.

Dr. Marsden in charge of turkey investigation from the U.S. Department of Agriculture at Beltsville, Maryland will be in charge of this meeting. There will be several pens of turkeys that are representative of their breed.

Some of these turkeys will be finished and others will need more time to grow before they will be ready for the table. All turkey growers who are interested in attending this meeting will handle these birds and should plan on attending.

There will be turkey sandwiches and coffee served to the group between 6 and 7 p.m. at the Home Economics room at the Char[illegible]x High School. Following t[illegible] lunch, there will be a short program at the high school on disease control and other turkey management problems. Dr. Earl Moore, poultry pathologist from Cornell University will be in charge of the discussion. He will bring along some movies and slides to present an illustrated lecture.

Bill Aho and Larry Dawson of the poultry department of Michigan State College will be present to take part in the program. Mr. Aho and Mr. Dawson have done some very good work with turkeys in this area. Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent will be in charge of the program.

God will not seek thy race, nor will He ask thy birth. Alone He will demand of thee what hast thou done with the land that I gave thee.- - - Persian Proverb.

Spoelmon's Prize-Winning Boer

John Spoelman is shown beside his prize Hampshire boar, which last year was third place winner at the Indiana State fair.

John Spoelman, Antrim Farmer Raises Registered Hampshires

By Vic Spaniolo

John Spoelman, RFD 1, Central Lake, one of Antrim county's few large registered hog raisers, reports that his crops this year look "pretty good" at this stage of the season.

He quickly qualifies this statement by saying that he hopes his 12 acres of corn escape frost for about two more weeks to give it more maturity. His wheat from 24 acres was better than average as was the yield from his oats.

Having no cash crops, his farming program is built around his raising of Hampshire hogs and Holstein cattle. From his 220 acre farm he raises almost all of his feed for the hogs and cattle.

Spoelman is a breeder of Hampshire hogs rather than a raiser of pork chops. He has been at the hog raising business in Antrim county for 13 years, the last of which has been devoted to registered breeding.

At present he has 100 head of Hampshires, raising a litter in the spring and another in the fall. He maintains a production registry which means strict adherence to the regulations governing breeding stock.

His sows to be registered have to produce a litter which weighs 320 pounds at eight weeks. Last spring, Spoelman reported, he had a litter of 11 pigs which weighed 349 pounds at eight weeks.

Normally, Spoelman imports a registered boar each year. The boar he has at present won third place in its class at the Indiana State Fair in 1949.

For feed for the pigs, Spoelman uses skimmed milk and farm grains. He employs handfeeding rather than self-feeder. He points out that the stock gets too fat from self-feeders.

He is also milking 12 cows and gradually is shifting his herd into registered Holsteins. Spoelman is president of the Triangle Local of the Farmers Union which was organized earlier this year and is group leader of the Hillside 4-H dairy club.

His three sons, Lewis, 16, Ted, 15, and Nelson, 12 are members of the 4-H club. Lewis and Ted were members of the dairy judging team from northern Michigan at the state 4-H meetings last month.

Lewis has six animals and Ted four. The boys are members of the Holstein-Friesian association.

Spoelman is a native of Ottawa county, moving to Antrim county from near Hudsonville. He has spent most of his life on farms. He was employed in a Muskegon plant for four years.

A Fence Hazard

A home-made electric fence controller is an invitation to disaster, say agricultural engineers at Michigan State College. The toll of dead animals each year is testimony to the fact that home-made controllers often turn into "booby traps".

Furrows plowed up and down hill become race tracks for rain drops.

Farmers' Group Buys Boyne City Auction

The Boyne City livestock exchange has been sold to a group of Charlevoix county farmers by Mrs. Harold DeYoung of Ellsworth and will now be known as the Boyne City Livestock Sales Inc.

The sales will continue to be operated on Tuesday as in the past and will be exclusively for livestock.

The first Saturday of each month has been set aside for the sale of miscellanous items.

Mrs. DeYoung became sole owner of the sale when she purchased John TerAverest's interest earlier this summer. The sale has been in operation since 1943.

Ray Lyons of Antrim county will be the auctioneer.

ORCHARD NOTES

By Claude Fairman

I've read an article on deer damage in the 'Letters to the Editor' in the Charlevoix Courier.

Mr. Bottema, just across the road from our north farm, planted 535 cherry trees last spring. He will be able to save only a few trees from deer damage. Ezra Dustin, located north of Ellsworth, and across the lake from there, planted about 500 cherry trees last spring and the deer have taken all of them.

A year ago the game men estimated our loss here at home at $3,600, mostly young apple trees. We had sprayed with repellents and did all we could, but with no success. Of course we receive no compensation from the state.

Estimating deer damage is only a form to allow killing permits. The estimates are based on the cost of nursery stock and the partial value of the young trees at their age.

The real loss would run into thousands and thousands of dollars for the future crops or the difference between staying in business or going out of business. Speaking of the state of Michigan, that means the people of Michigan.

The game bodies must try to please all of the people and this means a very slow process to the fruit grower.

Although the fruit belt follows the big lake, the deer feed is much better in the fruit belt than in the interior. And a partial curb of the deer means just as much damage as ever.

Any rodent, any insect or disease can be curbed and also livestock, humans, or anything else except the deer. They may vary from year to year, and not hit one spot one year as hard as the next, but they come back again.

In reality, there is nothing to do about it. Sympathy, talk and the present regulations accomplish nothing.

Attention: Turkey Growers

Growers wishing to market their turkeys through the Charlevoix Co-operative Company's Poultry Processing plant this fall should make arrangements for a date for dressing their birds before October 1st.

Supplies necessary for packing dressed birds need to be ordered well in advance of dressing date to be assured of having them on hand when needed.

Packing supplies are scarce and expensive there for only enough supplies will be ordered to cover actual needs. So don't be disappointed if the plant cannot handle your birds when they are ready for market if you have not made early arrangements for a dressing date.

Several growers have already made these arrangements.

Turkey growers are urgently requested to make arrangements for dressing now.

Boyne City - - Rayder Contest Is Rated Toss-Up

The Red Rayders, off to an auspicious start by its win over Grayling, will face one of its toughest foes of the season tomorrow afternoon when Boyne City comes here.

It should be a thriller all the way. Boyne City also won its opening game and will be shooting the works to stop Charlevoix from extending its victory streak. Coach Del Terrill has the locals all primed for this game. A victory means a lot to both teams.

The Grayling game uncovered a "scat" back in "Pegs" Bryan who really showed his heels to the Grayling team. He really provided the spark which led the Rayders to their coach's first win.

The blocking, which was termed rather weak against Grayling, should be much better against Boyne City. The two county rivals just love to beat each other and Boyne will be out to get even for last year's defeat.

The line play against Grayling gave Terrill a good feeling but then the real test will come against Boyne's strong line.

Both teams and their supporters express confidence in their respective teams.

C'mon Rayders let's defeat Boyne City.

IT HAPPENED ON . . . . BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

'Tis a bit late, but this is news Beaver Island is no more a hot bed of democrats. For the first time since 1932, the island went republican. What turned the tide? According to one of the former died-in-the-wool democrats, "It's those fellers in Washington. It's high time all true Americans wake up to a few facts".

But you should see the big "success" smile Steve Stevenson is wearing since the primaries. Steve is the republican mayor of Sand Bay, that is on the left hand side of the road going out, and for neigh on ten years, Steve has worked and sweated to win converts. If Dewey only knew how Steve campaigned for him on the island during the last national election! Steve doesn't take much credit for the turn of events this past election. "I'll give the credit to the expose of those pampered "parlor pinks" in Washington".

OUR HIGH SCHOOL girls were given an introduction to home nursing and child care by our county nurse, Mrs. Marion Rice. Mrs. Rice came to the island Monday, conducted five classes during the week and assisted Doctor Palmer in giving toxoid shots to the grade school children. Friday, Doctor Osterlin, child specialist from Traverse City, came to the island for a clinic Friday afternoon and Saturday morning. Mrs. Rice made preliminary preparations and assisted Doctor Osterlin. Mrs. Osterlin accompanied her husband to the island.

Monday, the island experienced one of the hardest blows in several years. The wind came out of the sou'west in such hard gusts that it was feared much damage would be done. As it was, only one window blown out at Willie John Gallagher's house, several large branches blown off trees here and there and plenty of scared folks.

THE KING STRANG'S dining room has closed for the season. Clara Schmidt and Ida Martin hung up the pots and pans last Monday until next summer. The girls were in charge of the dining room this summer and made a fine success of the job. The hotel will be open for rooms for the next few weeks.

Gus Mielke's mill is turning out stacks of fish boxes in the past two weeks. Beaver Island fishermen are bringing in the perch and quantities are being shipped to the mainland. Last Wednesday 2500 pounds were shipped. Of this amount, 125 pounds were whitefish. Rolland McCann topped the list that day with a catch of 1100 pounds.

Tuesday, Mrs. Ed. Burke returned to her home from a siege in the hospital and she's getting along fine.

FRIENDS OF Mrs. Myrtle Ditlefson will be sorry to learn that she has been a patient at the Charlevoix hospital since she left the Island the last week in August. Mrs. Ditlefson has been very ill and an operation has been scheduled for this week.

Tuesday evening members of the Third Order of Saint Francis met at the home of Mrs. Frank O'Donnell. Father Giles read an interesting account of a pilgrimage to the Shrine of Our Lady of Consolation, Carey, Ohio, and the history of the shrine.

Verle McCann is attending school in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gatliff have received word of the marriage of their daughter, Margie, to Thomas Zank. The marriage took place Sept. 9 in Portland, Ore. The couple will remain on the west coast until Mr. Zank completes his studies in law.

THE ASSOCIATION of Commerce has received another inquiry from a foreign country. This time it's from Argentina. It will be interesting to watch the outcome of these inquiries.

An interesting visitor this past week was Mrs. Marion Morse Davis, the author of "Island Stories". Mrs. Davis is at present collecting data on the census of northern Michigan during 1820 and is visiting many northern Michigan cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Gallagher, Newberry, visited Charlie 'Harlem" Gallagher during the past week.

Instead of the taxi giving a ride, it took a ride Wednesday. Buh Burke sent it across Wednesday for repairs.

We had not seen Mr. and Mrs. Danny Clark for two years until this past week when they came to the Island for a vacation. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Gallagher. Danny owns and operated one of South Bend's leading restaurants and of all things to happen just when he got nicely situated on the Island . . . the meat slicer went on the "bum". . . cuttin' meat to thick for the budget so Danny and Mary Jane had to cut their vacation short.

Mrs. Arthur Miller came to the Island Wednesday and remained until Friday. She was mighty happy to get back on the Island for those few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Cull received word they have a granddaughter for the first time. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Leckton are the proud parents of baby Susie May. Mrs. Lockton is the former Betty Cull.

MEMBERS OF Our Lady's Sodality met Friday with their spiritual advisor, Father Giles. Richard O'Donnel is prefect of the Sodality for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson and children were on the Island for the week-end.

The Spanish club of St. James high sponsored a party in the Parish Hall Friday evening. During the evening there was a cake-walk. The lucky winners were Mrs. Irene LaFreniere, Mrs. James W. Gallagher, and Mrs. Lawrence Davison.

Colleen Nackerman was six years old Saturday and her parents invited six of her friends to their home in the afternoon to help celebrate the occasion. The invited guests were Donna Jean Ricksgera, Ann Gatliff, Sharon Pischner, Karen Ryan, Isobelle LaFreniere and Ann Marie Hanley.

Mrs. Mary Vesti McDonough had a birthday last week. Her family helped to make the day a very happy one.

LILLIAN CONNAGHAN left the Island Sunday afternoon via Joe McPhillips Flying Service for Grand Rapids where she will begin nurses training. She was accompanied to Grand Rapids by Mr. and Mrs. Archie La Freniere.

Sunday was a most peculiar looking day. We all thought we were in for a terrible storm. Later in the day we learned of the forest fire raging in Canada and the peculiar look was the result of overhanging smoke clouds.

Democrat Qualifies In Sheriff's Race

The name of Henry M. Lamb, former state policeman whose residence is now Boyne City, will appear as a candidate for the office of sheriff on the Democratic ticket in the November general election, Fenton R. Bulow, county clerk, has announced.

Although Lamb's name did not appear on the primary election ballot, he polled a total of 61 votes on the Democratic side of the ballot to win a place on the general election ballot.

He will oppose Floyd Ikens, incumbent, whose name will be on the Republican ticket after he defeated Glenn Rose and R. T. Davis in the primary election.

Lamb is now an inspector for the state highway department.

Rayder Coach Worried About Tough E. Jordan Clash

To Form Group For Promoting Industry Here

The first step in forming a non-profit organization, designed to promote industry and resort development, will be taken at 8 p.m. Friday, Oct. 6 when a mass meeting will be held at the high school auditorium.

The principal speaker will be George Billings of tha Michigan Department for Economic Development. Ho will relate the success of other cities in interesting industry and fostering more resort business.

It has been pointed out many times that a number of residents and merchants want to be of assistance in obtaining more small industry and furthering resort business, but have not known how to integrate their efforts.

THE CHARLEVOIX Business Men's association, Mayor John Knight, S. E. Coleman and Henry C. Heckler have made necessary arrangements to bring a state official here who can make suggestions as to how other cities have obtained industrial payrolls.

All merchants, rooming house operators and others interested in a bigger and a better Charlevoix are uged to attend. It is expected that directors of the non-profit organization will be elected at Friday's meeting.

It is hoped that a large crowd of interested persons will attend.

To File Charge Against Driver In Cohen Death

Manney Cohen, 31, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. and operator of a summer linen shop here, died at the Charlevoix Hospital Monday from injuries received in a two-car auto crash on U.S. 31 north of Charlevoix Sept. 23.

A warrant charging Ray Kolinski, 17, Petoskey, with negligent homicide has been authorized by Charlevoix prosecutor C. M. Bice, but has not been served because Kolinski's condition is still considered serious by his physicians.

Three others were injured, one seriously, in the accident which occurred, officers said, when a car driven by Kolinski pulled out of a line of traffic returning home from the Petoskey Traverse City football game and collided with the car driven by Cohen who was returning here after helping a friend change a tire near Bay Shore.

Kolinski remained in a serious condition at the Lockwood General Hospital in Petoskey where he was taken Friday. Charles Burnett, 16, another passenger, was removed to Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey and a third passenger, Dale Enbody, 16, received minor injuries.

Mr. Cohen, a native of New York City was a veteran of World War II. He had been in the linen importing business since 1045 and came to Charlevoix in June.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Cohen and several brothers and sisters.

The body was returned to New York City for services and burial.

Mrs. Bergeon Gives Up School Position

Mrs. Catherina C. Bergeon, who has served as a trustee of the Charlevoix board of education since 1943, has submitted her resignation as a member of the board effective immediately.

The Board of Education will name a trustee to serve until the next annual election when a new member will be elected to fill her unexpired term. She has served 14 months of a three-year term.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hamilton and sons, Sam and Nick, a student at Western Michigan College, Kalamazoo, attended the Michigan-Michigan State game in Ann Arbor Saturday.

Prepare to Send Parcels To Servicemen by Nov. 15

If you've been wondering when to get that parcel in the mail for your serviceman overseas, the dates have been announced by the postoffice department.

The period from Oct. 15 to Nov. 15 has again been designated for the acceptance of Christmas parcels for members of the armed forces which includes personnel of the armed forces, members of their families and authorized American civilians employed overseas who received their mail through an A.P.O. numbers, care of Postmaster, New York, San Francisco, New Orleans or Seattle, Wash. or Fleet postoffice at New York or San Francisco.

Parcels destined for Japan, Korea and the Pacific islands should be mailed as early as possible, preferably not later then Nov. 1 in view of the distances involved.

PARCELS for Navy and Marine Corps personnel serving in the most remote places should be mailed not later than Oct. 15.

The size and weight restrictions for mailing other domestic parcel post are applicable to Christmas parcels for the armed forces except that a limit not to exceed 50 pounds has been established for delivery to APO 124 and 125 % postmaster, New York.

Boxes for overseas shipment must be strong. It is suggested that articles be packed in boxes of metal, wood, solid fibreboard of strong double-faced corrugated fibreboard. Articles in parcels must be packed securely so they will not rattle.

EACH BOX should be securely tied with strong cord, wrapped with heavy paper and tied a second time with heavy cord.

Domestic rates are applicable and postage must be prepaid to the postoffice to which the parcel is addressed.

Addresses must include the name and address of the sender, the name including the full first name, rank serial number, branch of service, organization, APO number or addressee, the postoffice through which the mail is routed.

Greeting cards may be mailed at any time but patrons should deposit them no later then Nov. 15 if they have a reasonable expectation of delivery prior to Christmas. Greeting cards must be sent in a sealed envelope and prepaid at first-class rate.

Realty Course To Hold First Class Saturday

An extension course in real estate is being offered by the University of Michigan for northern Michigan realtors. The first meeting of the four-session course will be held Saturday, Oct. 7 at the Perry hotel, Petoskey.

The class will be an all-day class, starting at 10 a.m. and adjourning at 9 p.m. Guy W. Ellis, ranking realtor instructor of Saginaw, will be the teacher. The course is offered through the Charlevoix-Antrim Board of Realtors of which Earl A. Young is president.

Mr. Young said the course in real estate business is designed to acquaint the real estate salesman as well as the beginner, with basic points in the fundamentals of the business.

The second meeting of the series will be held Nov. 4 in Charlevoix, Mr. Young announced. Registration for the course is $15.

Girl Scout Leaders Urgently Needed

An urgent appeal for mothers in Charlevoix to attend a Girl Scout meeting at 6 p.m. Monday, Oct. 9 in the high school study hall, was made yesterday by scout leaders.

The troops cannot function without leaders and it is hoped that a meeting of this type will provide suggestions as to how to interest more mothers to take an active role in Girl Scouting.

"Mush," the Alaskan term, is a contraction of the French "marchons" meaning to go on.

Six Men Named For Service in Armed Forces

The second contingent of Charlevoix county men to be called for induction into the armed forces were named this week by the local draft board. Two men who transfered from elsewhere will accompany the group which has been instructed to report at the courthouse here at 6 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 12, for transportation to the Detroit Induction Center.

The men who will leave at that time include: Soldan Alfred Svensson and Merlin D. Roberts of Charlevoix; Elwood J. Moore of Boyne City; Wayne R. Flora, Samuel E. Bricker and Jerry L. McKenney of East Jordan.

The transfers from other counties who will leave from here are James P. Duley and Frank J. Grunow of Boyne City.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Carey of Washington, D.C., who have been visiting relatives here and in Cheboygan, and Mr. and Mrs. George Papineau of Dearborn who were visiting the Leo Careys returned to their respective homes recently after attending the Michigan-Michigan State game at Ann Arbor with Mr. and Mrs. Carey.

Chest Budget For 1950-51 Is $5,817

A budget of $5,817.24 to be raised for the Community Chest in a drive to begin later this month was set up by the Chest committee at a recent meeting.

The budgat adopted for tha year includes the following: Girl Scouts, $600; Boy Scouts, $850; United Fund, $640.24; Community nurse, $850; Charlevoix Hospital, $2,000; Santa Claus Anonymous, $150; American Cancer Society, $400; local Boy Scouts, $50; Emergency fund, $277.

The budget showed an increase of $50 over the 1949 request for the Girl Scouts with the added amount to be used for renting a place for meeting now that their former meeting place in the city hall is occupied by the Health Unit.

The $850 raised for the Boy Scouts goes to the Scenic Trails Council and the additional $50 is to be used by the local troops.

The amount asked by the United Funds which is divided among 29 state and national organizations was decreased from $732.25 last year to $640.

Santa Claus Anonymous, a group which arranges for gifts for needy children were given an additional $100 for their work.

The Emergency fund also showed a slight decrease from $300 last year to $277 this year. The fund provides eye glasses, wheel chairs, crutches and other needs for children who need them.

Campaign expenses will be paid from a small fund from last years campaign.

The Red Cross and Infantile Paralysis drives are separate.

The 1950 budget is slightly above the 1949 quota of $5,407.25 which was dropped to $4,515.71 when funds totaling $891.54 raised for various organizations which did not accept the money was applied to the 1949 budget.

State GOP to Present Slate At Boyne on Oct. 12

Former Gov. Harry F. Kelly, Republican nominee for governor, and the GOP slate of state officers will speak Oct. 12 at Boyne City.

This appearence will open the Republican drive in northern Michigan and is expected to attract party followers from the eleventh and twelfth district.

The state nominees will be honored at a banquet at the Dilworth hotel at 6:30 p.m. prior to appearing before a public gathering in the high school gymnasium.

County officers will head a large delegation of Charlevoix Republicans to the meeting.

Jordan Co-op Creamery to Buy Fluid Milk

Fluid milk will be purchased by the Jordan Valley Co-op. Creamery of East Jordan, just as soon as machinery can be purchased and installed.

This announcement was made Saturday by Percy Penfold, manager of the Creamery on behalf of tho board of directors. Penfold stated that, due to changes in world conditions as well as a general shift in production trends by farmers from butterfat to whole milk, the board of directors authorized this step in their directors meeting of Friday evening. The directors have been considering the purchase of fluid milk for several years.

Meeting with the board was Arthur Howland, Extension specialist in agricultural econonmics, Michigan State College. Howland pointed out that the trend throughout the state and nation is one in which more and more farmers are shifting from farm produced butterfat to fluid milk.

He pointed out that the problem of making a better quality manufactured dairy product can better be met through the purchase of fluid milk from the farm. Instances were cited where several dairies in the state, just during the past years have quit buying farm separated butterfat, instead buying only fluid milk which is taken into the dairy plant, separated, the butterfat made into a high quality butter and the skimmilk dried.

The Jordan Valley Co-op Creamery was organized in 1931. For a number of years it has produced well over a million pounds of butter annually. William Parsons of Charlevoix is president of the Creamery. The organization services patrons in five-county area of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, Cheboygan and Otsego counties.

School Holiday

Charlevoix schools will be closed Thursday and Friday when members of the faculty attend the annual regional M. E. A. meeting at Petoskey. Classes will be resumed at the regular hour Monday morning.

Charlevoix Not Pressed To Defeat Boyne City For 35th Win in Streak

Two winning games for the Charlevoix Rayders has failed to ease the misgivings with which Coach Del Terrill views the East Jordan contest Saturday afternoon.

The game between the co-championa of the Northern Michigan Class C conference should be one of the best games of the season. Both are undefeated.

The game against Boyne City which saw the Rayders win a fairly easy game 31 to 0 failed to impress Terrill who bluntly said "the boys were not up for Boyne but they better be for dangerous East Jordan."

BOYNE CITY was outclassed this time and the verdict was reached early in the opening half when the locals breezed to a 12-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The Rayders ran up 12 first downs against five for Boyne City in scoring their thirty-fifth victory without a loss over a six-year period. The blocking was considerably better than it was in the Grayling game.

Substituting freely, Terrill made no conscious effort to run up a big score against Boyne. Charley Fairbanks, Jim Bowman and Don Hardy played bang up ball and the play of others on the team rated the plaudits of the crowd.

BOYNE helped set up the first score when its kick off traveled about 12 yards to Krahnke. Two passes by Bill Wallace and Don Hardy moved the ball down to the 10 yard line. Ron Cunningham went over for the marker two plays later but his kick for point was no good. Score Charlevoix 6 Boyne City 0.

A few plays later the locals were on their way to a second score after forcing Boyne to kick. Charley Fairbanks dropped back on a surprise pass to Hardy who scampered over for the second marker. Again Cunningham's kick was low. Charlevoix 12 Boyne 0.

Midway through the second period after Boyne's attack sputtered, West fumbled on his own 25 and Fairbanks fell on it. Hardy grabbed three off tackle and Bryan ran seven yards and then Hardy shipped in with seven more yards. Bryan went over the goal on the next play, skirting his right end for the score. Cunningham failed to convert. Charlevoix 18 Boyne 0.

FIVE MINUTES after the second half opened, Fairbanks passed 30 yards to Cunningham who was kncoked down on the 10. Hardy was stopped two feet short of a score through the center and Norm Ketchman pushed his way across for the fourth score. Cunningham's score was good. Charlevoix 25 Boyne 0.

Ted Mason, Lyle West and Harder played good ball for the losers.

In the final quarter Bryan ripped off two dandy runs, one for 22 yards and another for 13. His run for 22 set up the final touchdown. He ran to the 5 before being knocked down and when he

Edgar A. Guest, Famous Poet To Speak Here

Charlevoix area residents will be given their first opportunity to see Edgar A. "Eddie" Guest, America's favorite poet, in a public benefit program at 6 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 11 at the high school gymnasium.

Mr. Guest whose poems are read by millions of Americans in daily newspapers, is popular with adult and children's groups. His poems have been appearing daily in newspapers for more than 35 years.

Sponsored by the Kiwanis club in Charlevoix, he will be guest of honor at a Ladies night program prior to the public meeting. Teachers here will be guests of the club for the occasion.

THE PROCEEDS of the public meeting will go toward helping underprivileged children in the Charlevoix area and toward the new hospital fund. Mr. Guest's appearance here was arranged by Herb Schofield.

Often called the best known poet in America today, he is loved by millions for his homey philosophy and his "down to earth" poetry. Mr. Guest started writing poetry soon after he became a reporter on the Detroit Free Press more than 50 years ago. He has grown in popularity until today he is the most widely syndicated poetry column in the nation.

The dinner at the high school will be held at 6:30 p.m. Students' tickets can be purchased at the school and adult tickets from Kiwanians, Brown Motors and the Courier office.

Assembly of God Church to Be Dedicated At Ceremony Monday

The newly constructed Assembly of God church located on East Upright ave. will be dedicated at a special ceremony at the church at 7:30 Monday evening, the Rev. R. B. Warner, minister of the church has announced. The new structure is being completed this week.

The Rev. Charles Scott of Detroit, state superintendent of the Assemblies of God, will preside at the dedication service. The new pulpit will also be unveiled at that time.

The afternoon preceding the service will be given over to a fellowship meeting for the ministers and members of the 14 churches in the area.

Mrs. Scott will preside at the opening meeting and speak on "Home Mission Work".

Also participating in the dedication program will be the Rev. Warner, the Kolenda brothers of Clio, the Five J's of Traverse City, Helen Jane LaCroix of East Jordan as organist and visiting ministers.

THE NEW CHURCH is a 34x60 building of wooden frame structure and a full basement made of concrete block.

The auditorium will seat 200 persons. The large altar and pulpit are flanked by a study and the intermediate Sunday school classroom. At the back of the church are the young people's Sunday school room and a mothers room where they may sit with their small children and hear the service over a public address system.

The walls are finished in a soft green and the woodwork has a natural finish. There are flourescent lights over the altar and large lights throughout the auditorium.

The basement which is not completed at this time will house the heating unit, Sunday school rooms and other facilities.

The ground for the church was broken April 28, 1949 and through the efforts of the minister, the members and friends of the church a large portion of the church was built without labor costs. The church now has 35 members.

The Rev. and Mrs. Warner have been here since Dec. 1947 and until recently services were held in their home. The Rev. Mr. Warner attended P. B. I. in Dayton, Ohio, and had charges at Harbor Springs, East Tawas, Central Lake, East Jordan, Owosso and Flint before coming here.

Just a Sugar-Coated Stop-Gap

Many people assume that wartime controls are just around the corner but before being panicked into them they should realize that at best controls are no more than sugar-coated stopgaps. In the long run nothing can control inflation except the balancing of government income and outgo. This has not been done for nearly a generation. The present threatening possibility of a third world war is merely aggravating a chronic problem.

One of the most competent of the dissenters insofar as the price control craze is concerned is Henry Hazlitt, author of a column entitled Business Tides, in Newsweek magazine. Recently he warned that: "General price control is at once an ineffective and a crippling device by which a government pretends to protect its citizens against the inescapable consequences of its own fiscal and monetary policies. But it has the merit—for the bureaucrats—of deflecting attention from their own irresponsible monetary policies onto private scapegoats known as "profiteers." . . .

"There is in existence at present more than three times the volume of money and credit as in 1939. It is this increase in monetary purchasing power, brought about by government policy, and not a continuance of war shortages or so-called 'profiteering,' that caused the high prices prior to June 25 of this year."

Until the people understand these hard facts and demand a new measure of integrity and frugality in the administration of government there is nothing but increasing misery in store for them—war or no war and regardless of controls. This applies with added emphasis to labor, agricultural, business and civic leaders who go along with the promotion of local projects at federal expense and the endorsement of officeholders and candidates whose primary qualification is ability to secure federal handouts.

What Is Your Citizenship Rating?

Reprinted from Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine of January, 1950, is the following test which should prove interesting. Give yourself this test and see how you actually rate in it, then try it on your friends. The most you can possibly score is 115 points. If you get over 50 points you can consider that as a citizen you are better than the average.

1. Did you vote in the last national election (10 points if yes) ....
2. Did you vote in the last state or local election? (10 points) ....
3. Are you enrolled in a political party? (5 points) ....
4. Have you done any work in the party? (5 points) ....
5. Are you an active member of any civic group such as the following (10 points each, but not more than 20 points altogether)
    a. Parent-Teacher Association ....
    b. City or county citizens' association ....
    c. Chamber of Commerce ....
    d. Rotary, Kiwanis, etc. ....
    e. League of Women Voters ....
    f. Volunteer fire department ....
    g. Church vestry, board or women's auxiliary ....
    h. Boy or Girl Scouts or 4-H Club ....
6. Who are your senators and representative? (1 point for each senator, 3 points for your representative) ....
7. Do you know how your representative voted in the past session on any major bill before Congress? (5 points) ....
8. Do you know how your senator voted on any major bill before Congress during the past session? (5 points for one senator, 10 for both) ....
9. Who is your representative in the state legislature? (5points) ....
10. Do you know how he voted on any single piece of legislation in the last session? (10 points) ....
11. How many of the famous "rights" guaranteed the people in the Bill of Rights can you name? (1 point for each) ....
12. Did you contribute to an organized charity such as the Community Chest or Red Cross the last time you were solicited? (5 points) ....
13. Do you know what form of government you have—county commission, city council, city manager, etc.? (5 points) ....
14. Do you know how your school board is selected? (5 points) ....
15. Have you seriously discussed any local (not national) political issue with anyone in the past two weeks? (5 points) ....

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

Some good things came out of the lousy summer we had and if you don't think so take a look at the hugh pumpkin on display in the Wood Brothers window . . it was raised by Harry Elzinga and weighs 51 pounds . . . how many pies do you think it would make? . . . One youngster we know wondered if he could get it for a jack-o-lantern . . . who'd carry it around for him . . .

Wasn't it wonderful about Philadelphia winning the National league pennant . . . the first one in 35 years . . . and wasn't it sad about the Tigers . . . we know a lot of people who were looking forward to seeing the World Series this year . . . but maybe, next year, huh?

IF YOU DIDN'T see the Boyne-Charlevoix game last week you really missed something . . . Boyne came with the idea of beating us and breaking the Rayders record but what happened to their highly-touted powerhouse is what we'd like to know . . . and did our boys play a game . . . Jim Bowman, Gerry Left, Norm Ketchman and Fritz Allard playing a swell game along with the regulars who always turn in a good performance . . . And they're busy this week preparing for the East Jordan game to be played there Saturday. Let's hope they break that two year tie . . .

Charlevoix's having quite an industrial boom these days . . . with Freedman's working full time, the Wojan plant increasing production, the Morry Steel products hiring, the promise of a cheese factory in the near future and the possibility of another plant . . . things are looking up for us . . .

DID YOU EVER see such beautiful Indian summer days as we've been having? Won't you keep your fingers crossed so we'll have at least two months of it . . . the trees are so colorful and the days (at times) so balmy . . . and that harvest moon . . . what more could one ask for . . .

And speaking of the moon, wasn't the eclipse last week something to see . . . a perfect night for it and early enough so many people saw it . . . and if you're like we are you never cease to marvel at such things . . .

Ed Allen, a pioneer resident of Charlevoix, was telling us last week that he came to Charlevoix 57 years ago last Wednesday . . . and the incident he has always remembered is that the late Dr. Lewis' home on Dixon ave. burned that day . . . he was just a youngster then and was leading a cow down the street when he stopped to watch the fire . . . Mr. Allen, like many of our older residents, have seen a lot of changes in our little town over the years . . . wouldn't you like to have an opportunity for a brief glance at Charlevoix 57 years ago . . .

DID YOU LISTEN to the Michigan-Michigan State game Saturday . . . Boy, was that ever something to hear . . . and think of all the lucky people from Charlevoix who were right there and saw it . . . of course they were among more then 97,000 fans but they were there and we're willing to bet making themselves heard . . . Bob Carey sure did his bit for the Spartans and did you notice Bill was in the starting line-up for about the first time too . . .

The city of Charlevoix attracted plenty of notice in the recent election with the largest vote in the county for one community . . . 895 in all . . . You all know there's lot more votes than that around so how's about doing something about it . . . There are a lot of new people in town and we'll bet not all of them are registered . . . so how's about getting down to the city hall and registering . . . you have just two weeks to do it in . . . for our money you lose your right to gripe if you don't vote . . . so get yourself registered . . .

HERE'S one for the books, we think . . . late last Wednesday evening Mrs. Marie McCall's parakeet escaped from the house and couldn't be found . . the whole neighborhood was out with flashlights looking for the bird but Skipper wasn't answering . . . Mrs. McCall was heart-broken over the loss of her pet and did everything to coax him back even to placing his cage with food and water in the yard . . . but came Thursday and then Friday and no bird . . . but Friday afternoon a girl working in the high school office told Mr. Bingham and Mr. Coleman about a strange bird on the window-sill in the office . . . after one look an S.O.S. was sent out for Mrs. McCall's grandson, Norm Ketchman, for the two teachers had been in on the original hunt Wednesday night and recognized the bird . . . Norm opened the window, the bird perched on his finger and he quick-like brought him inside . . . Now Skipper's back home and the McCall household is happy again . . . but what we want to know is this: did Skipper, realizing there was still much to be learned, go to school to further his education, or, was he like Mary's lamb and followed Norman to school?

C. A. Odmark and members of the C.H.S. band went to Cheboygan Sunday afternoon to hear the U.S. Marine band in a concert . . . From what we hear the trip was grand with the band playing many encores and really putting on a show that the kids loved . . . several other northern Michigan bands got to go too . .

IT HAPPENED ON ....
BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Two more Beaver Island boys answered the coll of Uncle Sam and left for the service last week.

Larry Cult left on Tuesday's boat accompanied by his parents and his brother, Rolland, as far as Charlevoix. Larry, who has been sailing since the opening of navigation season, spent a week or so with the home folks before leaving for the service.

Rodney Nackerman beat Uncle Sam to the draw and enlisted in the air force. Rodney came home for a quick visit before leaving for Detroit to join his group. Rodney is being sent to the Lackland Air Field, San Antonio, Texas.

Buddy McDonough writes from down in Texas that he is beginning to tike life in an army camp. Bud says his tent mates are all from Michigan and all are Irish—which should make him feel right at home.

Buddy's sister, Joy, left Wednesday for Grand Rapids to enter training at Mercy Central School of Nursing. Joy's parents, Mr. ond Mrs. Lloyd McDonough, accompanied her to Grand Rapids and will remain there for a week or more to purchase stock for the fall and winter.

DOCTOR and Mrs. Russell Palmer were passengers on the same plane with the McDonoughs Wednesday. They are taking their fall vacation to the Canadian Soo and other points in Canada.

Joe McNamee, Boyne City, spent several days as a guest at the King Strang Hotel.

Apple trees are hanging heavy and there's wholesale picking going on since it's harvest time. Folks in the country are generous and invitations are being issued to the "city slickers" to come out and help yourself. Plums are ripening, too, and getting into a jam in a lot of Island kitchens.

Last week, your B. I. reporter took an excursion up a plum tree while on an expedition to the country. The going up was fine but the coming down—well, you ask Sophia McDonough, who was standing by watching the awkwardness and what a "riping" good time was had when the leap was made from the lowest limb.

We are happy to report Mrs. Myrtle Ditlefsen, who underwent surgery last Tuesday, is coming along fine and will be out of the hospital soon.

Mrs. Wilfred O'Brien is up and around, now, and is improving right along.

NEVER did report that Wilfred launched his sail boat a few weeks ago and the first one to enjoy a ride was Tom Malloy. That first trip ocross the harbor was a big moment for those two—one the builder, the other a daily visitor to the shop to watch the progress.

Potricia Ramsey has returned to Central Michigan College, Mt. Pleasant, for her aophmore year.

Dick LaFreniere traded in his Ford Truck for a 1950 blue pickup Chevrolet. The North Shore brought the new truck across last week.

And getting back to politics, Dick predicts the island will swing back to the democratic party in the November election. Well, it's just like the feller said, "Let the best man win" — to which Ole Timer said "Amen".

Walter Wojan was on the mainland for a few days last week.

Mary Ellen McDonough was given a surprise party by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burt McDonough, Thursday evening. Mary Ellen received many lovely gifts from her school mates.

ONE OF THE top-notch entertainers on the Island is Patrick Bonner. Pat says he never had a lesson in his life and that he started fiddling when he was a lad of 10 years. Pat's repertoire of old time tunes has no end. Besides playing the fiddle, Pat can recite poems a mile long and these poems he said he learned about forty years ago. Between his recitations and his fiddling, Pat has entertained many a gathering on the Island. Pat can't recall the names of all his tunes but knows them by the names of Island folks who stepped danced to special numbers. like the "Francis Roddy Waltz" or the "Peter Gallagher Two-Step" etc. The chin rest on Pat's fiddle is worn thin from use over the past forty years—it was given to him by a relative those many years ago. It's the proof of the use.

THE WHITE SWAN came in early Friday morning with one hundred and fifty-two tons of coal aboard. Captain Dick Lyons piloted the Swan to the Island and it's roosting over at Carl Keublers dock being unloaded. Carl is the coal dealer. Lawrence McDonough and John Dubiel are making the deliveries.

Word has been received that Mr. and Mrs. Francis Brown, Chicago, have a brand new son. Mrs. Brown was the former Stella Greene. Mrs. Lawrence Malloy, Sr. is in Chicago to give the Browns a hand since there are seven other little Browns to be taken care of while Momie is in the hospital.

The epidemic of whooping cough that has swept the length and bredth of the Island has given our youngsters a bad time. In the absence of Doctor Palmer, Mrs. Rita Elms found it necessary to take her little daughter to Charlevoix for medical examination. Due to the fog, the plane was unable to come to the Island, so the Coast Guards came to the assistance and took Rita and little Nancy across in the picket boat. Nancy has a bad case of tonsilitis and not pneumonia as it was feared along with the whooping cough.

MR. AND MRS. Archie LaFreniere returned to the Island Sunday after a week spent on the mainland. They visited in Grand Rapids and Chicago.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gallagher returned on the plane Sunday after visiting in Charlevoix.

The Beaver Island road crew are working hard these days widening the road to the airport.

Passing the airport one day recently, the field was black and bobbing around with black birds gobbling up grasshoppers . . . and out near Font Lake, a red fox crossed our path . . . and out at Green Lake, there's tree after tree felled by the beovers. This time last year, the village was alive with squirrels. This year, we haven't seen a one. A flock of wild geese was sighted flying low over the Island last week.

Well—hold on to your shootin' iron, fellers, it won't be long now. October 15th is the day.

Rhode Island was the first state in the Union to build it's own airport.

He Started An Era

Peter White worked in the first Lake Superior iron mines, shipped the first six barrels of ore, helped get authorization for the Saulte Ste. Marie canal, and became one of the leaders in developing the region.

Better Buy Buick!

PERHAPS you've noticed that there seem to be a lot of these brawny beauties running around on America's highways — and it isn't just that boldly gleaming forefront that spreads this impression.

It isn't just the fact that folks who own a Buick get such a bang out of it that they do a lot of driving.

Back of all this is another fact. It's a fact that contains a broad hint to anyone who'd like to know what's what in motorcar buys. 1950 Buicks are breaking all past popularity records, as registered in sales.

So we suggest that you do some personal investigating.

Find out, for example, how masterful you feel, with Fireball power purring away the miles, at a polite touch of your toe on the gas treadle.

Find out how the jolts and jars seem to disappear, when you have big soft coil springs on all four wheels, and fat low-pressure tires on wide Safety-Ride rims.

Then there's Dynaflow Drive,* which Buick owners vote the biggest automotive hit that has come along in years.

With all this, there's room, and comfort, and road-hugging heft combined with a light and willing response to your hand on the wheel — and prices that start down with the sixes.

Seems like almost everyone wants to own one of these Buicks — and most people can. How about you? Isn't it a smart idea to see your Buick dealer now and get your name on his list?

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

Only BUICK has Dynaflow — and with it goes: HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD forefront, taper-through fenders • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube

TO SOMETHING NEW IN FUEL OIL

Wake up to new, Anti-Rust Sinclair Fuel Oil — the oil that contains the amazing chemical ingredient RD-119, developed by Sinclair Research.

RD-119 assures you a purer, cleaner fuel oil than ever because it stops rust in the pipe lines, tank cars and trucks which carry the oil from the refinery to your bome. In your burner, RD-119 protects against rust and corrosion that clog strainers and burner nozzle—protects against the excessive wear on burner parts caused by abrasive rust particles.

Yet new, Anti-Rust Sinclair Fuel Oil costs no more than ordinary fuel oil. Phone us today.

Our Congressmam COMMENTS

By Charles Potter

Most people applauded the resignation of Secretary of Defense Johnson. However, there existed a backstage feud between Louis Johnson and Dean Acheson, Secretary of State, over high level foreign policy of which many people were not aware.

Despite Louis Johnson's blustering and bragging; yes, and despite his poor judgement in determining our defense needs, he was opposed to Acheson's policy of appeasing Communism. Dean Acheson was a happy man when the President forced Louis Johnson to resign because he lost one of his severest critic in the President's cabinet.

THE APPOINTMENT of General George C. Marshall, a former great military leader, indicates that Acheson's policies will continue to prevail. General Marshall is an old man. He has been trained to carry out orders from his superior without question.

It was General Marshall who was sent to China after World War II as the special emissary of the President with explicit instructions to force Chiang Kai Chek to form a coalition with the Chinese Communists. Most people are convinced that this action was not a policy decision by General Marshall but rather that he carried out the orders of the Chief Executive. We can expect he will do the same now as he has in the past namely, follow orders blindly and having little to do with determining policy—Acheson will call the shots.

...WHEN THE Unification Act was passed, creating the office of Secretary of Defense, one of the prime provisions of the Act was that the Secretary should be a non-military man who had not been in active military service ten years prior to appointment.

Now with the appointment of General Marshall, the President asked Congress to amend the law allowing a military man to be appointed. There are many who are greatly concerned over this appointment of a military man. They fear this would enhance the possibility of our becoming a militaristic government.

I do not share those fears insofar as General Marshall is concerned. However, we must realize we have a military man at the head of each branch of our Services. These chiefs form the Joint Chiefs of Staff, chairmaned by the great General Omar Bradley. With Bradley and the other military men on the Joint Chiefs of Staff . . . who are responsible for making military decisions . . . the Secretary of Defense is a policy man and should not be identified with any one branch of the Services.

I voted against amending the Unification Act to allow General Marshall's appointment. In summation, his appointment will continue the Acheson policy of appeasement and will be turning an important position over to a tired old man. There are many civilians who could be appointed who have the vision and intestinal fortitude to develop a positive strong policy to offset Acheson's influence. Most people would feel less alarmed if the President would also ask Secretary of State to resign.

Hard to get ammunition—better chack Staley hardwera. Thay will fill your order.

11,000 Hunters Sign For Special Season

Over 11,000 hopeful hunters already have applied to the conservation department for permits to hunt in the special December western Michigan deer season.

Applications trickled in at first but now are starting to average 1,000 daily.

With a total of 21,800 permits to be issued for the purpose of reducing deer orchard and farm crop damage, the department points out it is getting a generous number of permit requests for all areas except "A". This area includes parts of Charlevoix, Antrim and Grand Traverse counties. A maximum of 4,500 permits can be issued for this area, however only 1,300 applications have been received so far.

If applications exceed the total number of permits to be issued in any area, as happened last year, a drawing will be held. Deadline for mailing in cards is October 10 in order to permit any necessary drawing by October 20.

Outline of the four legal hunting areas and other special season information is contained in a pamphlet which can be secured from any hunting license agent.

A total of 19,500 hunters will be able to shoot any deer of either sex from Dec. 1-5 in Leelanau and parts of Benzie, Grand Traverse, Manistee, Charlevoix and Antrim counties. Repeating the 10-day season as held in parts of Allegan and Newago counties last year, 2,300 permit holders will be able to take one anterless deer of either sex from Dec. 1-10.

Treasure Winners

Winners of the Sunday even treasure hunt were Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Miles and Mr. and Mrs. Getchel Campfield. They will stage one this week which will start at Kipke field at 9 p.m.

New Addition to Banks Township School Completed

New Addition to Banks Township School Means Expanded Program

By John Timmer

Ellsworth - The new four room addition to the Banks township unit school was completed early in September and will house the kindergarten, first, second, third and fourth grades and shop classes.

It is constructed of brick and provides 5,200 feet of additional space and was built at a cost of $45,000.

Modern fixtures and materials in the structure include indirect lighting, asphalt tile floors, ample windows facing north, new sanitary facilities and green chalk boards.

Furniture is of movable chairs and desks. The building was approved by voters in a special election last March and is financed by an assessment of an additional one per cent of the valuation of property in the district, which includes residents of Banks and Central Lake townships, Antrim county, and Marion and South Arm townships, Charlevoix county.

Purchase of equipment at a cost of $7,000, was financed by assessment of seven mills on the tax roll for one year. A five stall bus garage was also completed during the summer. This is built of reinforced concrete with brick front and pillars and is located opposite the school site.

The building is 40x72 feet and was built into the side of a hill to secure natural insulation for three sides. It was financed by donated labor and free will donations of Ellsworth merchants and members of the district.

The cost was $7,000. These improvements were the first major expenditures since the original building was constructed in 1917. (Part of the old building can be seen at the rear left in the picture.) Two new school busses, at a cost of $11,000, were also purchased during the summer, which transport 195 pupils.

The total enrollment of the school is 268, which is six more pupils than the previous year, according to Henry Smith, superintendent. New courses in the curriculum include an advanced class in both shop and agriculture, a course in journalism and public speaking.

Smith says the school is the only one of its size in northern Michigan with full time instructors in shop, agriculture and commercial classes. There are 11 members on the faculty.

Total cost of the new addition, garage, equipment and two busses is $70,000.

Two new and two old busses transport the 195 pupils.

Potato Holiday

Ellsworth-Pupils of Banks Township school will have a 10 day vacation starting Thursday to help farmers harvest the late potato crop. Teachers will attend Teachers Institute at Petoskey Thursday and Friday.

Couple Marks 60th Anniversary

Ellsworth - The 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo E. Sage, who live seven miles southwest of Ellsworth, will be observed Sunday, Oct. 8.

They will celebrate with a family reunion and dinner on the previous Saturday at their home where they have lived their entire married life.

They were married at the home of the bride near Eastport by the late Rev. Sam Hewitt. Two people who attended the wedding, Mrs. Nina Jones of Greenville and Clyde Baker of Eastport, are still living.

Mr. Sage will be 80 years old Oct. 2 and was born in Clinton county, coming to Antrim county at the age of nine with his parents, Daniel W. and Hannah Sommers Sage.

He is very active and still helps daily on the farm, now operated by his son, Leon. Mrs. Sage, 77, who suffered a fractured leg two years ago, still supervises operation of a lunch stand and gasoline station, which she started 30 years ago, from a wheelchair and does all the cooking.

She is the daughter of Andrew J. and Sara Herrington Drake, pioneer settlers who took up a homestead near Eastport at the close of the Civil War. Mrs. Sage was born March 1, 1873, near Eastport. Mr. and Mrs. Sage attended Bay View school near their home, as did their son, Leon, and daughter, Mrs. Earl Hinkley of Grand Rapids. The couple has five grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Rayders Get Chance to Erase Sting of Last Year's Tie With East Jordan

The running of Don Hardy was a standout last week and his hard driving netted him extra yards time and time again. Greg Bryan continued his nice work. Coach Terrill thought the line play was better against Boyne than against Grayling.

Boyne's coach exhorted his lads to bring to a halt the long Charlevoix string of victories, prior to the game but Charlevoix was not to be denied its 35th victory.

The largest crowd of the season is expected to watch the Charlevoix—East Jordan game this week, particularly because it has been changed to a Saturday game instead of Friday.

The Charlevoix—East Jordan game Saturday afternoon promises to provide the Rayders with a genuine opportunity to avenge that tie score last year which resulted in a co-championship of the Class C title.

The Rayders should be up for this one. On the basis of the locals first two games this year, Charlevoix looks a bit stronger, easily defeating Grayling and Boyne City. East Jordan has won both of its games but by less impressive scores than the Rayders.

This is the big game in Coach Del Terrill's mind. And he's hoping that his charges will really go all-out against their county rivals. While thankful that his boys beat Boyne City handily, he has his fingers crossed on this week's game.

Turkey Experts Give Growers Pointers on How to Judge 'Finish'

Turkey growers in Charlevoix county and adjacent counties were given first hand advice Thursday on how to judge turkeys so thot they can be marketed when they reach their peak in growth and "finish."

Speaking to the growers of this district was Stanley Marsden of Beltsville, Md., originator of the Beltsville white breed, ond a ranking expert on turkey investigation. The meeting was held at the Charlevoix Co-op processing plant.

Turning the meeting into a workshop, Mr. Morsden put those who attended to work judging three groups of turkeys which were there for the meeting. After the turkeys had been judged, he would judge them. He gave out handy pointers on whot to luok for in judging.

He said that if the turkey does not have finish to it, it will not be fine tasting and it will not stand up as well under refrigeration. The breast of the turkey is what the grader checks. The breast should be covered with fat and void of pin feathers.

In demonstrating how to judge if the bird is ready for marketing, he stretched the skin on a line between the tip of the breast bone and the shoulder and between the feather tracts.

The C grade turkey has no fat in the feathered tracts while the B bird has some and the A turkey is covered with fat at the feathered tracts.

Marsden pointed out that pin feathers are no bother on a Beltsville white while on the bronze variety, there is considerable difficulty with pin feathers.

Dr. Earle Moore, poultry pathologist at Cornell university, discussed disease control and turkey management problems at a night meeting in the high school. He presented an illustrated lecture which proved very enlightening to those who attended.

A delicious turkey supper was served in the home economics rooms by some of the wives of the turkey growers and farm officials in the county.

Among the county residents at workshop was Mrs. Ben Smatts of East Jordan RFD 2, who is one of the oldest turkey growers in the state. She obtained her first turkeys from Michigan State College during World War I.

The meeting was in charge of Ed Rebman, popular county agent. He introduced several guests including Walter Kirkpatrick, Antrim county farm agent and Charley Twigg of Benzie county.

K. C. Festerling, district 4-H agent, spoke on the possibility of forming a 4-H turkey group. Bill Aho and Larry Dawson of Michigan State college also took part in the program.

Watch Turkey Judging

Boyne City Livestock Market
Tuesday, Sept. 26, 1950

Chickens (each)	$:70 to	1.35
Feeder Pigs (each)	5.50 to	13.00
Straight Hogs	20.70 to	21.50
Rough Hogs	15.00 to	16.75
Veals	23.00 to	34.00
Heiffers	22.50 to	28.00
Cows	13.75 to	16.75
Bulls	19.00 to	21.75
Steers	22.00 to	23.75

Plan Now For Cattle Feeding Operations

Good cattle feeders are good planners. Begin now to size up your feed situation and the kind of cattle you want to buy.

This means analyzing feed on hand, cost of additional feed, when and where to buy your feeders, how you want to pay for them, and the relative price and demand for the cattle when ready for market. War conditions will again emphasize production, and cattle feeding should be profitable under the present feed situation.

Do any of these operations or combinations fit your business?

1. Buy light good quality steers or steers and heifers. Here you have the advantage of putting on low cost gains on young animals. Margins are welcome but not an absolute necessity.

2. Full feed quality calves and market at around 900-1000 pounds or carry them longer and market later. This latter method allows the use of pasture gains, keeping cost down.

3. Feed medium grade (around 700 pounds) cattle, using plenty of roughage with some grain and market during spring months. This is a particularly good operation for the dairyman who wants to feed a few more cattle to supplement his income and not carry cattle into the following summer and fall months. Spring is the best time for marketing medium cattle.

4. An experienced cattle feeder may wont to be a bit more speculative and take on heavier, unfinished good quality feeder cattle, step them up a grade, or feed them into the grade and market. He depends pretty much on margins since his costs of gain are higher on heavy cattle. The feeding period is usually from 30 to 90 days.

5. Do not overlook the dairy heifer as a good beef feeding bet. Good 600-700 pound rugged dairy heifers may be purchased and fed for a two-way market. They may be turned for dairy cows or beef according to the demand for each.

Some dairymen or farmers may like this method of feeding to utilize their surplus feed.

At no time are we attempting to indicote one operation as being better than another. There shuuld be profit in all these methods or combinations of these methods. Some feeders may even use two or three different sets of cattle. This allows them several marketing periods and os we say they ore not " putting all their eggs in one basket."

ORCHARD NOTES

By Claude Fairman

The interest from the largest number of people the past week seems to be in regord to the quality and yield of apples this year.

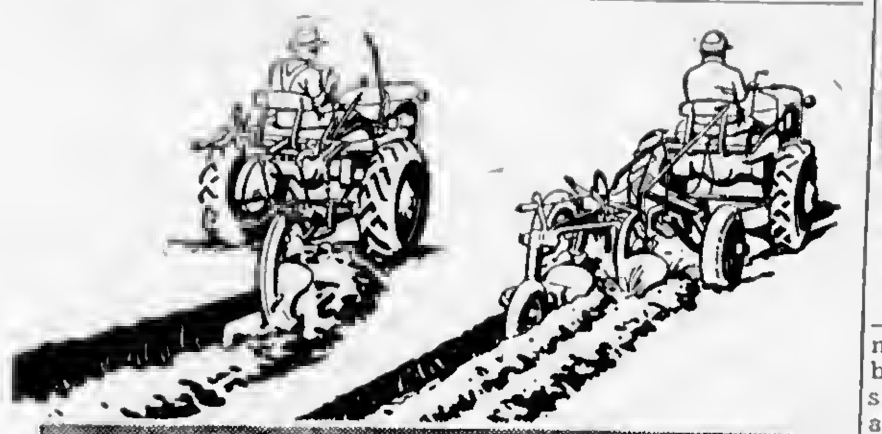
As mentioned before, young apple trees should be planted and as these come into bearing, the old trees should be removed. Some growers remove trees at 25 years old and some at 35. Older trees need so much more mulch than they usually get, as well as a complete mineral, o complete fertilizer and an extra touch of borax where the apples show a browning on the inside.

All of these materials should be spread under and past the ends of the branches. It is also better to plant some trees each year than plant them all at once as this has a tendency to have part of the trees bear the harvest one year and part of them the next.

Well grown trees come into bearing much earlier than slow growing trees. It is better to take out weak growing trees about the second or third year and replace them with new trees. The local trade prefers some of all varieties.

The outside or shipping trade wants only a few varieties such as Jonathan, Red Delicious, Spy and sometimes Cortland.

McIntosh leads in northern Michigan. That is, we grow a much better McIntosh in northern Michigan and they grow a better Jonathan in southern Michigan. Stayman Winesap, another real good apple, does much better as far south as Virginia as well as the regular Winesap.



How much PULL do you need for plowing?

Two 12-inch bottoms or one 16-inch bottom? Which of these outfits will meet your soil conditions and job requirements? Many farmers have found the Allis-Chalmers C an ideal answer to all of their power requirements — the tractor that's big enough for their heaviest jobs, yet small enough to save money on light work.

And with the low-cost C Tractor you get front-mounted, quick-hitch implements, full clearance for cultivation, convenient hydraulic lift. Let us demonstrate how little it costs to get a modern 2-row tractor that has just the power you need.

The regular W. S. C. S. meeting will be held with Mrs. Harley Warner in Charlevoix on Oct. 12, 2 p. m.

We neglected to mention last week that Earl Blood has gone to Lansing to find employment for the winter.

Gerrit Stoel is spending a few days in Holland this week.

The trees are putting on their autumn colors and how gay they look.

Farmers are busy harvesting corn and filling silos also some are harvesting beets and potatoes which reminds us that summer has gone and old winter is on the way.

Junior Potter accompanied a party of friends to Detroit Friday evening to see the big ball geme. On his return trip he will stop in Grand Rapids where he will attend the Kroger Produce school for three days.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Patterson left Tuesday for a week's vacation in Royal Oak and Metamora. Henry Elzinga will be the substitute RFD carrier in Mr. Patterson's absence.

We had 16 clear days during September with an average temperature of 62 at noon. This compares with 19 clear days for August and average temperature of 67. Farmers have start to harvest potatoes, although there are still many fields of corn to be cut, most of which is still soft and growers are waiting for a few more days of warm weather to harden the ears.

Allen Klooster was the guest of honor Thursday night at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Klooster, given on his 19th birthday anniversary. The evening was spent in playing games, followed by refreshments of ice cream and birthday cake. Boy Scouts Chart Year's Plans in Area

The first monthly meeting of the 1950-51 season for the Scenic Trail Boy Scout Council was held at the high school gym Thursday evening with 55 scout executives and leaders attending.

Plans were made for Boy Scout activities for the coming year at the general meeting. Later group meetings were held by the executive leaders, Scout masters and den mothers and workers.

The new scout executive Don Berg, who came here from Joliet, Ill., was introduced to the gathering. He succeeds Pop Warner who served many years in the position.

Sam Cromby and Russell Porter, area directors, addressed the gathering.

Boy Scouts of the Scenic Trail Council who attended the International Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge in July were guests at the meeting.

Rev. Gaylord Howell is Scout master, Uno Suomela, cub scout master and Capt. H. E. Paddock, a member of the executive board in Charlevoix.

Robert Hamilton has resigned as leader of the Explorer troop. His successor has not been named.

How to Cook Game Explained by Expert

Hunters and housewives who face their first experience in preparing wild game for table use will be interested in the bulletin "Good Eating from Woods and Fields," compiled by Michigan State College in cooperation with the Michigan Conservation Department.

The publication tells of various tested methods used in preparing wild duck, pheasants, rabbits, grouse and other game. According to Charles Schick, extension specialist in game management for Michigan State College and the Conservation Department, hunters can get some good pointers on bleeding, dressing and cuttting up of game animals.

A copy of the bulletin may be obtained from county extension offices or by writing to the Bulletin Office, Michigan State College, East Lansing. Ask for Extension Bulletin 253.

Psychologist to Be Speaker at Church

The Rev. Clifford Schroeder, psychologist at the Traverse City State hospital, will be the speaker at the morning service at the Church of God Sunday in the absence of Rev. W. D. Wood.

At the Sunday evening service Richard Alte, music and art instructor of Elwood, Ind., will present a program combining the two talents. He will draw pictures depicting Old Ship Zion, Haven of Rest, City of Gold, Old Rugged Cross and Lower Lights. During the program the Rev. H. C. Alexander of Boyne City will accompany him on the organ and a male quartette of Ellsworth will sing.

A new spinet type Hammond electric organ has been installed in the church and will be heard during the program.

The Rev. Wood, accompanied by Mrs. Wood, plans to spend the week-end in Milwaukee, Wis. on business.

Saving Top Soil

Soil conservationists at Michigan State College advise leaving crop residues on the surface of the land as much as possible over winter. Straw stubble, sod, and even weeds nffer good winter protection for the land.

Most Recipes Call for Eggs

From angel cake to zabaglione, most recipes call for eggs. Everyone knows that eggs improve the color and flavor of many foods, but do you know they are used and how to get the most from them?

Two qualities that make eggs valuable in cooking are their ability to act as thickening agents and their ability to hold air in recipes. They will perform these duties much better if you know how to get the most out of them, advises Lois Jackson, foods and nutrition department at Michigan State College.

When using eggs for thickening in custards, sauces and puddings, you can prevent streaks of cooked egg in the recipe by adding the hot liquid very slowly to the beaten eggs and stirring at the same time. This same thickening quality explains the use of eggs for a coating to hold crumbs together on breaded foods.

It is the air beaten into eggs, not the eggs themselves, that helps to leaven batters and doughs. This way of leavening foods is especially important in sponge cakes. The way that eggs are beaten makes a difference in the final product. Recipes give such directions as "beat slightly" or "beat until thick and lemon-colored." Here are some hints on how to get the best results from beating.

Take the eggs out of the refrigerator ahead of time so they can warm to room temperature before beating and they will give better volume. If the whites and yolks are to be seperated, do so while they are still chilled. Do not beat eggs until you are ready to add them to the recipe.

To beat slightly, just mix with a fork, whether it is a whole egg or the seperate yolk or white. To beat until thick and lemon-colored, use a rotary beater or electric mixer until the egg becomes lighter yellow and thick. To beat egg whites stiff, be sure there isn't a speck of yolk in the whites. Use a beater until the mass is stiff but not dry. The whites will form peaks that topple. If they stand up stiff, they are overbeaten, and will not give as much volume.

Huge GOP Rally Slated at Boyne City Tonight

200 Residents Hear Talk on Industry Needs

A surprising turnout of some 200 merchants, other townspeople and farmers attended the meeting last Friday at the high school to organize a non-profit group to promote industry and resort development in Charlevoix.

Mayor John Knight was elected temporary chairman and Henry Heckler, temporary secretary. The meeting date of the next meeting was not disclosed.

The group was advised by an official of the State department of economic development to organize non-profit stock company to raise funds, if necessary, with which to aid industry in moving here. The money could be used to erect a building which could be leased to a new industry.

THE MONEY, George Billings of the state department of economic development said, should be used to enable other industry tu move to Charlevoix, but should not be donated. The new industry would expect to lease the building and all persons having stuck in the non-profit company would get all of their money back over a period of time.

He cited Mancelona, Harrisville, Kalkaska and several downstate communities which have formed non-profit companies to help industry locate in their respective towns. In each case the investors have received their money back after the company was able to pay it.

Mr. Billings said that the industrial surveys of Charlevoix shows its strong points and weaknesses. He warned the residents and merchants to have patience because there is a lot of groundwork tu do before any industry decides to move.

INDUSTRY WANTS, he said, co-operative spirit from the town to which it is moving. He also advised not to offer "too much for free" to industry because the right type of industry may need aid but not charity.

Industry, Billings said, is seeking to move into small towns because it finds better production. He urged residents to make industry feel that it is wanted and not merely a necessary evil.

Mayor John Knight introduced the speaker. He briefly pointed out what the community is attempting to do. Henry Heckler opened the meeting, calling upon the community's residents to cooperate in making this a better and a more prosperous town.

Area Potato Growers to Get Price Support

Marketing support for potato growers in Charlevoix, Antrim counties and the rest of the state was approved, LeRoy Hardy, chairman of the county PMA announced Tuesday.

Until this announcement, farmers were worried about the price of potatoes as the market has been weak. The price support will cover a six-state area in the middle west.

The marketing price will be identical to last year's, providing $1.45 support for U.S. No. 1 potatoes during October and advancing 10 cents each month.

Mr. Hardy disclosed that 75.3 per cent of the growers in the midwest approved the continuation of the price support program.

Grange Deputy

George Smith, master of the Maple Grove Grange, has been named state Grange deputy from Charlevoix, Emmet and Cheboygan counties to succeed Mrs. Anna Warner who resigned recently.

Calling All Merchants

An all-important meeting of Charlevoix business men will be held at 8 p.m. Monday, Oct. 16 at the city hall. S. E. Coleman and Fred Koehler urge all merchants to attend this meeting.

12 Teachers Here to Attend Art Workshop

Twelve teachers from the Charlevoix elementary school will be among 50 from the area who will attend a special in-service education art workshop at the Petoskey high school Oct. 16-17-18.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ohlrogge of the Binney and Smith Co., will conduct the workshop which is given free of charge to a limited number of teachers from Charlevoix, Petoskey, Harbor Springs, Boyne City and East Jordan. She has had many years of art teaching experience at all grade levels and was a former art critic teacher at the University of Indiana.

The teachers attending are given the opportunity to get a broader scope of art education in the use of materials and the planning and teaching of school art through actual participation where the projects are carried through to completion. The theme of the workshop is "Learn to do by doing". This is an opportunity for the teacher to increase her professional status at no expense.

Included on the three-day program which will be conducted from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. will be the use of crayons, colored chalk, frescol, flexola, modeling clay, finger paint, paper mache, crafts, tempera, powder paint and water colors.

The teachers are asked to bring only scissors, paint cloths and an empty pint jar for water. All supplies are furnished by the company.

Ex-Resident Figures In Scout Rescue

Bernard Matchett, assistant advisor of Explorer Scout post in Midland, and four of his boy Scouts were rescued from their grounded 25-foot sloop several hours after it had gone aground in Saginaw Bay.

Coastguardsmen made the rescue about 11:30 p.m. Sunday after it was reported that the Scouts had not returned to their dock after a cruise to Sebewaing. Bernard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Matchett.

Attends Class

Earl A. Young, realtor, and Robert Gill attended the first meeting of the University of Michigan extension class last Saturday at Petoskey. It was the first meeting of the four-session course in principles of real estate. Mr. Young is president of the Antrim-Charlevoix County Board of Realtors, sponsor of the course.

Rayders Face Gaylord in Try For 37th Win

Successful in extending their winning streak to 36 games and defeating both county rivals, the Red Rayders of Charlevoix oppose the Gaylord 11 Friday afternoon at 3 p.m. at Kipke field.

For the first time in three years, the locals emerged victors from the Jordanites last Saturday 13 to 0 in a muddy contest at East Jordan.

After snapping back from a lethargic first period when the Jordanites seemed close to a touchdown, the Rayders scored in the second and fourth quarters. After recovering from the first period play, the winners were never headed.

A FUMBLE by East Jordan deep in Charlevoix territory ended the threat and the Rayders began showing their offensive might. Greg Bryan, Rayder left half, scored the first touchdown from the 10 yard stripe. Charley Fairbanks converted. The score: Charlevoix 7 East Jordan 0.

The final score occurred in the final period when Don Hardy drove across the goal line frum the one yard mark. The try for the extra point was not good.

The steady rain prevented both teams from playing their best brand of football. Bryan, Ron Cunningham and Hardy made several nice gains but the heavy footing kept the game from being a wide-open affair.

The line play was hampered by the uneasy footing. Jim Bowman, center, played another good game recovering a fumble which halted one East Jordan threat in Charlevoix territory.

The play of Bryan Boring, Red Milstein and Hucklo was good.

The win over East Jordan was especially welcome as the Rayders had been held to ties last year and in 1948, thereby sharing the league title. Coach Del Terrill was pleased with the triumph, but has been constantly battling against any possible overconfidence.

Joseph Moore, 66 Local Merchant Dies Monday

Funeral services for Joseph W. Moore, 66, local merchant, were held at the See Funeral Home Wednesday with the Rev. G. R. Parker of Northport officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

He died at his home early Monday after several months of ill health.

Born in Charlevoix June 24 1884, he spent his entire life in this community. He had been bridge operator for the Pere Marquette railroad for many years, was employed by the Charlevuix county road commission, had served on the city police force and had been deputy sheriff for many years. For the last eight years he had been in business, first on south Bridge street and since spring on Antrim st.

He was a member of the I.O.O.F.

In 1924 he was married to Mrs. Anna Ager who died in 1931. He was married to Mrs. Louise Saunders in 1932 and she preceded him in death in 1940.

He is survived by his wife, the former Mrs. Lillian Saunders whom he married in April, 1941; a son, Herbert, of this city; two step-sons, Clayton Saunders of Bellville and Wallace Saunders of Detroit; a step-daughter, Mrs. John Rathburn of Charlevoix; seven grandchildren; two brothers, Walter of Charlevoix and Dean of Muskegon and a sister, Mrs. Eyre Babcock of Mackinaw City.

Edson Sells Gas Station At Ellsworth

Ellsworth—Charles D. Edson, dean of Ellsworth businessmen in points of service, has sold his gas service station and bulk gasoline business to the Ellsworth Farm Store, operated by Paul Doctor and Melvin Essenberg. Final papers were signed Tuesday, Oct. 10 and the new owners took possession that day.

Personnel operating the business for the new owners includes Milford McElroy as mechanic, Donald Edson as tank truck driver and Marvin Wynsma and Marvin (Bud) Postmus as station attendants.

Mr. Edson, or "Charlie" as he is known to young and old, started in the gasoline business in May, 1921, and so has completed nearly 30 years of service. For the first three years he was the local agent for Standard Oil Company products, then went into business for himself and in 1936 purchased the station, he just sold, from Leonard Hillman and in recent years has been selling Cities Service products.

The new owners will sell Standard Oil Co. gas and oils. Charlie's plans for the future are indefinite but he says he plans to do some "heavy" hunting this fall.

New Street Signs Planned For City

The city council took under advisement its decision tu approve the trailer camp site as the location of the new hospital.

Mayor John Knight said the council will decide on the issue on Oct. 23. After months of consideration, the hospital building group voted to build the new hospital at the trailer park, provided the council approves.

It was estimated that it will cost the city some $4.500 to install utilities to the new hospital. Kit Carson, chairman of the hospital campaign, said it is the considered opinion that the trailer camp site for the new hospital is the best location.

Streets throughout the city will be clearly marked next year, Mayor Knight reported. According to Leo Allard, street superintendent, only the steel posts for the signs are lacking, adding that the signs should be ready by next spring.

IN RESPONSE to a question earlier this fall, City Comptroller Don Swinton was advised that the city cannot legally purchase equipment on time payment plans. Alderman Ralph Hamilton had thought it was possible to do so.

The city treasurer was authorized to give a check for $1206 to Sears Dredging Co., as part payment for the work on the city's slips. Another $1,000 will be paid June 1 and the remainder of the $4,300 will be paid late next summer.

A communication from a summer resident commended Jack Gallagher for keeping the dump clean. The council also heard a request for $100 from the county welfare board to help offset the cost of improvements at the county infirmary. Boyne City, East and the townships have also been asked for $100.

The mayor and clerk were authorized to execute a contract with the Roosevelt Oil Co., for fuel oil.

Couple Found Dead In Schooner Mishap

A young Detroit couple who visited the harbor here Sept. 19 and 20 while enroute from Chicago to Detroit aboard their schooner, Lady Geraldine, were found dead aboard the boat at East Tawas Saturday. The couple was Mr. and Mrs. F. M. McCoy Jr. of Detroit, who were believed to have been dead about ten days when they were found by the State Police when curious fishermen reported seeing no activity about the boat during that time.

Police theorized that fumes from a defective bottle gas stove was responsible for the deaths. A prepared meal was found on the table.

10 County Men Face Draft in November

Charlevoix county will be expected to send ten men for induction into the armed services in November, the local draft board has been notified.

The number will be selected from the list of men who have already passed their physical examinations.

Help! Help! Chest Needs Help Badly

Help! Help!

And help is really needed by the Charlevoix Community Chest organization.

Faced with their annual drive which is slated to start Oct. 17, Chest leaders report they need some 25 workers.

Residents are urged to attend a meeting next Tuesday night at the city hall to make final plans before the opening of the drive.

The budget for 1950-51 is $5,817.24. A breakdown shows the need for: Girl Scouts, $600, Boy Scouts, $850, United Fund, $640, Community nurse, $850, Charlevoix hospital, $2,000, Santa Claus Annonymous, $150, cancer control, $400, local Boy Scouts, $50 and emergency fund, $277.

There can't be a drive without workers. The need for a Chest drive is vital in this community.

Band to Present Half-Time Revue At Gaylord Tilt

The Charlevoix high school band, under the direction of C. A. Odmark, will present its first half-time revue at the Gaylord-Charlevoix football game at Kipke field tomorrow afternoon.

Hampered by rain which did not allow outdoor reheasals, the band did not appear between halves at the Boyne City game.

The revue to be presented Friday will be entitled "Moonlight Romance" and will present the band in various formations with appropriate music.

The marching band this year numbers 45 members.

It's members are:

State Leaders Plan Strategy For Big Vote

Strategy for obtaining the largest possible vote in nurthern Michigan will be discussed at a Republican rally Thursday night (tonight) at Buyne City when former Gov. Harry F. Kelly and his slate of state nominees will speak at a public meeting.

Hundreds of Republicans, headed by Charlevoix county officials and others in the Eleventh and Twelfth Congressional districts are expected to attend tonight's meeting which is the first such rally in this section of the state since Kelly won the GOP nomination.

A dinner for leaders and workers will be held at 6:30 p.m. tonight in the Dilworth hotel at which Kelly and his aides will be guests of honor. Included in his party will be State Treasurer D. Hale Brake, Secretary of State Fred Alger, John Martin, auditor general nominee, Highway Commissioner Charles Ziegler, Congressman Charles Potter and many others.

THE MEETING at the gymnasium will be held at 8 p.m. The gathering is expected to be the biggest GOP rally held in this district in many years. Republican groups from Cheboygan, Sault Ste. Marie, St. Ignace, Escanaba, Petoskey, Harbor Springs, East Jordan, Charlevoix will attend.

The 90 minute program will be broadcast over the Paul Bunyan network, starting at 8 p.m. Guy Conkle, Jr., of Boyne City, will introduce Kelly and the other speakers.

One uf the major tasks of the Republicans in the November election is to get out the voters in northern Michigan, normally a Republican stronghold, at a time when there are only a few county contests in the Eleventh and Twelfth districts.

REPUBLICAN leaders point out that they are working hard to overcome lethargy on the part of many voters who only cast ballots when there are county cuntests to stir them. It's not a question of carrying northern Michigan but of getting out a record vote.

Persons interested in taking a more active part in the pre-election campaign are urged to attend the meeting and meet the GOP nominees. All will speak briefly.

The Meaning of Socialized Medicine

The traditional freedoms and privileges of the American people are being threatened today by a rash of socialistic proposals. Our socialist planners in Washington are bringing forth programs which eventually would take out of your hands the right to handle your own problems and plan your own future.

The most significant and perhaps the most dangerous phase of this socialistic trend is the Compulsory Health Insurance proposal sponsored by the Federal Security Administrator, Oscar Ewing.

If that program should be adopted, it would lead to increased Government controls over all personal freedoms and privileges. That has been the experience in other countries where such a scheme has been tried.

A National Compulsory Health Insurance system, as proposed by the Washington socializers, would impose political controls over your health and medical needs. It would undermine the free enterprise medical system which has made the United States the healthiest of all major Nations in the world.

Doctors and patients would be regimented. Medical care would be impaired by bureaucratic red tape. Your freedom of choice in medical matters would be endangered. And your privacy would be violated by local committees of laymen. This is what happened in England. It would happen here.

Many billions of dollars would be added to our annual tax bills which already take 30 per cent of our National income. You would be forced to contribute another chunk out of your paycheck to finance a political scheme of production-line medical care.

Your income would be drained still further by new hidden taxes to help meet the enormous cost of Compulsory Health Insurance. Tens of thousands of new political employes would be added to the Government payrolls to handle the non-medical paperwork of the program.

If you want real, actuarially sound protection against the cost of unexpected illness, you can get it now through Voluntary Health Insurance. You can insure yourself and your family against the costs of hospital, surgical and medical care in a Voluntary prepayment plan, in accordance with your needs and the limitations of your budget.

Ask your doctor or your insurance man about Voluntary Health Insurance plans which give you low-cost protection without Government compulsion and political interference.

Turnout for Industrial Meet Is Encouraging

The turnout for the organization of a non-profit organization to promote greater industry and resort development should prove a "shot in the arm" to Charlevoix leaders who have been attempting to form such an organization.

More than 200 persons including 64 merchants and others allied with commercial business attended the meeting at which preliminary steps were laid for the formation of a Charlevoix Development Corporation, aimed to assist industry in locating here.

A small group of public-spirited men were plainly discouraged at the lack of co-operative interest in helping the community in becoming a larger and a better place in which to live.

These men were not seeking anything for themselves unless it's the benefits which accrue from having a larger community. They were enthusiastic about the large turnout and hope that as many will attend in a couple of weeks when officers and directors will be named.

While attendance at a single meeting is not by itself a criterion of the interest of the community, it does indicate a willingness on the part of some 200 to be a part of a movement.

The industrial outlook for Charlevoix is far brighter than it has been in many years. Developments are pending for the location of two or three additional small plants in this community.

In the last 12 months, the town has witnessed the location of three small plants.

Voice of Our Readers . . .

Enclosed find money for a subscription to the Courier. I just have to get the home town paper when down here for the winter. You are putting out a real fine Courier. I enjoy every bit of it every week. We have had some rainy days but in general the sunshine is wonderful. This is my fifth winter here at Orange Lake, Fla.

Hope all is well in Charlevoix these days. I sure look forward to the Courier. It is like a long letter from home. Keep up the good work.

Most Sincerely
Mrs. Florence Jacobs

Attend Picnics

Among those who attended the Kiwanis picnic at Harbor Springs Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bice and two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Wickersham, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Whitten, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Meggison, Mrs. Joe Williams and daughter and Mrs. Don Meggison and family.

You CAN AFFORD THE BEST MEDICAL CARE IN THE WORLD!

Protection for your entire family . . . can be yours for as little as the cost of a package of cigarettes a day or a price comparable to that of a weekly family movie.

If serious illness came to your family next week — if your wife needed an operation — if one of the children were badly hurt in an accident—would you be prepared financially for the emergency?

It's a wonderful feeling to know that the major costs of doctors' services and hospital care have been paid in advance. More than 70 million Americans have that peace of mind.

If you value the health of your family — you can't afford to be without such security.

Write, telephone or call at our office—without obligation. We'll be glad to show you how we can work out a plan that will fit your needs and your pocketbook.

You'll be surprised how easy it is-and how economicall

Selling Milk IN SELLING HEALTH

Our service to this community has much in common with that of the medical profession.

The wholesome diet of American families—and the place of milk in that diet—has a lot to do with the high standard of health our country has achieved.

Because our product is essential to good health, We believe that every argument made against socialized medicine also could be made against a socialized dairy business.

In fact, every great Nation that has tried socialized medicine has gone on to socialize other businesses and other industries and other professions.

America has no place for permanent Government controls borrowed from foreign lands. It has no place for socialized medicine, socialized railroads, socialized power, socialized manufacturing . . . or socialized dairies!

We believe—and all experience proves—that free men do the best job of running industry, professions and business.

That's why today we publicly reaffirm our faith in American initiative, American progress, American FREEDOM.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

No, your old eyes weren't deceiving you Saturday morning if you thought you saw Louis O'Neil tottin' a postman's bag loaded but good for the first time in 20 years he was walking a route and it looked as though everyone on the route was receiving mail that day . . . And why the unheard of event? Everyone else had taken off on a vacation or to the football game at East Lansing and the mail must go out . . .

WE THINK we've heard everything now that we've heard about Earl W. Miller going swimming last Sunday (Oct. 1, that is) . . . it wasn't warm enough all summer for most people to go swimming but he decided to take a dip in Lake Michigan while building a duck blind near Fisherman's Island . . . said the water was wonderful . . . Brrrrrrr . . .

Have you seen all those wonderful strings of perch they've been bringing in from Round Lake? . . Wish we had the patience to sit and fish for if there's one thing that's good it's fresh perch . . . but who can sit still and be quiet that long . . . but there must be a lot of people who can judging from the number of boats on Round Lake every day . . .

We understand that at the turkey shoot at the Rod and Gun Club Saturday Fred Bergmann and six of his eight sons were shooting in one round (or however you shoot for turkeys) and who was the one who got the bull's eye and a turkey? None other but Pop himself . . . Guess he can still show the boys a thing or two about a gun . . .

AFTER READING the story last week on mailing Christmas parcels overseas between Oct. 15 and Nov. 15, many people are giving some thought to the matter and wondering what to send . . . it is difficult to select things that are going to be good after being carried in the holds of ships and by other means half way around the world and delivered two months or more after mailing . . . We'd like to make a few suggestions which might help you . . . first, we assume that your serviceman has special requests.

And after you've packed those how about sending vacuum-packed nuts . . . you can find all kinds in most any size can . . . there's scads of vacuum packed candies on the market now too . . and gum . . . and if you send hard candies wrapped in celephane be sure to put the package in a box before packing . . . there's prepared cocoa mixes that need only water added to them . . marshmellows are good travelers too . . .

There's vacuum-packed brown bread and date-nut bread that's good . . . stationery . . . playing cards . . . and fudge . . . ask at the candy shop where they pack it for you . . . and fruit cake . . . it wouldn't be Christmas without one . . . you can get them in plastic or tin boxes . . .

And when you're packing these things, use the comic sheets for filler . . . you have to use something and the kids will love seeing what Dick Tracy and their other favorites are doing . . If you have any trouble finding these things give us a ring and we'll be glad to help . . . But do send a package, no matter how small . . . for it's mighty important to those kids over there . . .

AND CAN Christmas be far away? We heard two new Santa Claus songs on the radio last week and a third about a snowman . . . It must be later than we think . . . A 'well done' to the Rayders for their win at East Jordan Saturday . . . believe us, they earned it . . . did you ever see such a slippery field as that one was . . . and the rain . . . But the local fans are loyal to their team . . . weather or not for there were as many Charlevoixans there as there were Jordanites.

Rugged NOT RAGGED

A great American stateman has defined "rugged individualism" as a "eulogy of those God-fearing men and women of honesty whose stamina and character and fearless assertion of rights led them to make their own way in life."

What better way to describe the builders of America . . . the America to which the ragged, regimented oppressed peoples of the world look for release, for inspiration.

As businessmen, we know the value and the blessings of freedom. We know how the exercise of freedom has made America great. We want to keep our right to voluntary action.

Suffocating Socialism at home, like communism overseas, threatens the America we cherish.

To the doctors who are fighting for freedom, our salute. Their crusade for liberty is all America's crusade.

Freedom is worth defending — at home as well as abroad.

Choral Singers To Meet Oct. 18

Anyone interested in choral singing is invited to attend the first rehearsal of the Community choir at the high school auditorium at 8:30 Wednesday evening, Oct. 18.

At the organization meeting held recently it was decided there was sufficient interest and enthusiasm to organize such a group. Twenty-six members were present and several others indicated they would join the group at a later meeting.

Indications are that there will be about 40 voices and it is hoped the group will be able to present a program of Christmas music in December.

It is emphasized that anyone interested may join—there are no try-outs or fees—merely come to the next rehearsal Wednesday, Oct. 18.

Nothing FOR Something

It's an old trick of the curbstone pitchman to offer you Something for Nothing

"Tell you what I'm going to do, Ladies and Gentlemen, I am going to give you, absolutely free..."

Yes, it's an old trick. But it's still a popular one. Salesmen of Socialism use it the world over. Yet when analyzed, their Something for Nothing always turns out to be—NOTHING FOR SOMETHING!

That isn't the way America became the greatest, healthiest Nation in the world. American business has reached its present stature because it believes in giving the customer his money's worth.

Through healthy competition, and the will to serve, American medicine has created the finest system of medical care in the world.

Through ingenuity and free enterprise, American citizens have higher incomes, better education, better health and more freedom than citizens of any other great Nation on earth.

Freedom is America's heritage, and Americans cherish it deeply—for themselves and for the entire world. In exchange for this good way of life, the political pitchman offers us the quack remedy of Something for Nothing...of "free" medical care, doled out by politicians.

AMERICA JUST CAN'T BUY THAT!

From Pills to Penicillin

Over the years, behind our counters, we've sold many kinds of accepted medicines and we've filled thousands of prescriptions for people of this community. We've helped measure out a lot of medical progress. We've seen new treatments and new drugs turn illness into health, despair into hope.

This progress is more than statistics — it's people! And the people we know don't want it tampered with!

Free America has no place for a bureaucracy that stands between people and progress, between doctor and patient, between physician and pharmacist.

Ruth Hittenberger Exchanges Vows At Church Here

In an impressive ceremony solemnized at the Assembly of God church Saturday, Sept. 30, Ruth Hittenberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Hittenberger, became the bride of Rev. Richard G. Mohrman, son of the Rev. and Mrs. W. G. Mohrman of Flint.

The Rev. H. B. Warner read the double ring service before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli and palms.

Preceding the ceremony Rev. Willlam Farrand of Boyne City sang several selections and later Rev. and Mrs. Farrand sang a duet. Miss Helen LaCroix accompanied them and also played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory brocaded satin with a net insert, portrait neckline and long sleeves. The skirt ended in a long train. Her fingertip veil fell from a pearl tiara and she carried a white satin Bible topped with an orchid.

Matron of Honor

Mrs. Howard Percy of Monroe, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Mrs. Arthur Hittenberger of Detroit, sister-in-law of the bride and Mrs. N. W. Mohrman of Flint, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. They wore satin gowns fashioned like the bride's but with cap sleeves, lace inserts in the bodice and matching gauntlets.

Their headdresses had heart-shaped crowns and shoulder-length veils. Mrs. Percy's gown was pink and the others aqua. Mrs. Percy carried a bouquet of red roses and white mums and the bridesmaids carried bouquets of yellow roses and muns.

The Rev. R. W. Rickendofer of Springport assisted the bridegroom as best man and ushers were C. J. Mohrman of Flint, brother of the bridegroom and Otto K. Hittenberger of Detroit, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Hittenberger selected a teal blue gown, matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Mohrman wore a brown figured dress, matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the high school cafeteria. A tiered wedding cake graced the refreshment table.

Wedding Trip

The couple left on a wedding trip through northern Michigan. For traveling the bride wore a grey garbardine suit, black accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school. The bridegroom is a graduate of Flint Central high school and the Eastern Bible Institute of Pennsylvania. He will resume his pastorate in the near future.

Among those from away who attended the wedding were Mrs. Ann Percy and daughters of Monroe; Mrs. Dorothy Fischer and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hittenberger. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hittenberger and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hittenberger and son, Mrs. Volk, Mr. and Mrs. K. Merhaus, Mr. and Mrs. Liss and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Way and daughter, all of Detroit; Rev. and Mrs. W. G. Mohrman, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Mohrman and sons, and Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Mohrman of Flint.

Jeanette Tornga, John Groot Speak Vows

Marriage vows were exchanged by Jeanette Tornga and John Groot at the Atwood Reformed church at 3 p. m., October, with Rev. Wayne Lemmen, pastor of the church, officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Tornga is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Tornga of Mapleville and Mr. Groot is the son of Mrs. Hannah Groot of Grand Rapids. Miss Jean Vandenberg and Howard Takens, fiends of the couple, were their attendants.

The bride wore a bright wine gabardine suit with black accessories and wore a corsage of white gardenias. The bridesmaid wore a medium green suit and had a corsage of white pompoms.

Forty guests were present at the reception held after the ceremony. The couple will make their home in Grand Rapids.

Warfarin Means Death for Rats, Mice

Dr. Karl Paul Link, in whose laboratories warfarin was discovered, is shown with an assistant at the University of Wisconsin. Rat in inset has died painlessly from internal hemorrhage after consuming warfarin bait.

With inventors preaumably atill working on ideas for a really better mousetrap, a University of Wisconsin scientist, Prof. Karl Paul Link, has beat them to the punch with a substance that promises to make traps — and the old types of poison — obsolete.

The new substance — warfarin — is the deadly ingredient in rat killers now on the market under various trade names. Unlike many rat poisons, warfarin is not "for professionals only." Anyone can use it, safely and effectively.

Nationwide tests by agencies such as the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the U.S. Public Health Service have demonstrated its outstanding effectiveness. Now it has been selected for use in many statewide rodent extermination campaigns.

Poisoned rodents show no immediate symptoms and develop no "bait shynesa" with warfarin. That is one of its major advantages. The rats and mice continus to eat and gradually become aleepy, walk more slowly, and finally die painlessly of internal hemorrhage.

Since warfarin, to be effective, must be consumed in small quantities over a period of days, there is little chance that children, pets, or domestic animals will get enough to cause ill effects.

Warfarin will bring a rat population under control, then prevent reinvasion of a given area thereafter by killing newcomers as they arrive.

Before its release to commercial manufacturers and consumers, warfarin was given several hundred field trials in every atate in the nation, in Canada, Hawaii, and other foreign countries. The tests were conducted by the United States Fish and Wildlife Service and the Public Health Service.

"Many reports ahowed complete elimination of rats and mice where all other poisons tried had failed," the Foundation reported. Warfarin presents a completely new approach to rodent control, and places it on a sound, scientific basis.

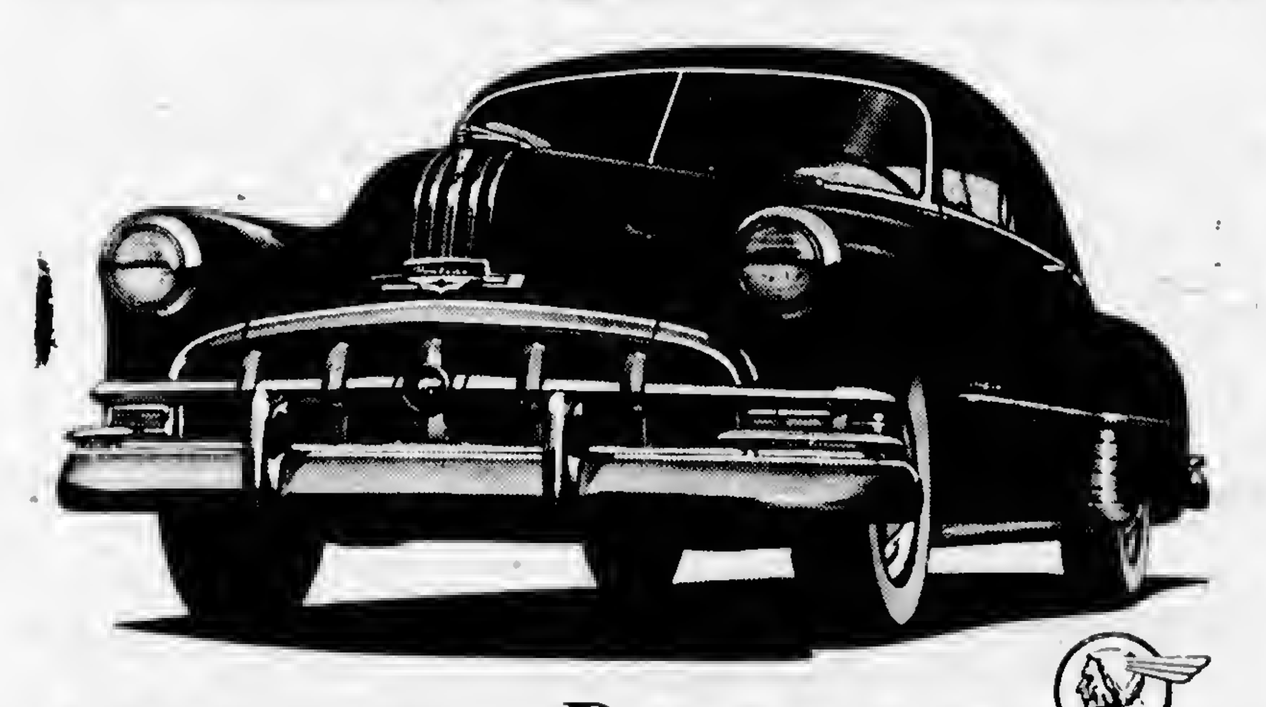
Thoroughly Good—and Looks it!



Wherever you drive, you are certain to see a great many new Pontiacs—for two reasons. First, more people are buying new Pontiacs than ever before. Second, Pontiac, with its distinctive Silver Streak styling, just can't help being seen and admired. Pontiac is a standout, too, for performance, dependability, and real economy. Come in aad see the new Pontiac any time.

BEER
AMERICA'S BEVERAGE OF MODERATION

The American Way

In Michigan, farming is a Number 1 activity especially during this time of the year. And to ease that tired feeling after a hard day in the fields "The American Way" is to enjoy a glass of cold, refreshing, Michigan brewed beer.

For beer is the kind of beverage Americans like. It belongs . . . to pleasant living, to good fellowship, to sensible moderation. And our right to enjoy it, this too, belongs . . . to our own American heritage of personal freedom. Beer Belongs . . . Enjoy It

IT HAPPENED ON ....
BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

"Beaver Island is lige a big, beautiful bouquet from the air", said James Gallagher, who took a flying trip to Charlevoix and back during the past week. The Island is at its height of fall beauty. A drive around the west side where the hardwoods form a canopy of color over the road is a treat for the nature lovers.

The sun has been somewhat of a stranger for the most part this fall. We have had a few golden days each week—the kind that urges one to drop everything in favor or a tramp thraugh the woods. However, most housewives are standing by, waiting for a bright day to dive into the family wash and the urge to be out-of-doors takes them no farther than the clothes line.

Our promising blackberry crop resulted in practically no berries at all. However, Liz LaFreniere (Mrs. Pat) says she has a secret spot where she picked enough berries to yield nine quarts of juice. A couple of scouts up on the hill have promised to make an investigation and keep an eye out for the secret patch.

MARY LA FRENIERE. Liz and and Pat's daughter, has a very nice position in a Chicago bank. She is making her home in Chicago with Mr. and Mrs. E. Joseph.

Mary and Patricia O'Donnell (Patricia is working in Chicago) recently made a trip to Springfield, Ill., to visit Sister Theresa, the former Virginia Palmer. Sister Theresa is a member of the Hospital Sisters of St. Francis and the girls say she looks wonderful.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Cull received a card from Larry from Fort Knox, Ky. Larry doesn't expect to remain in this location after a few weeks.

Our teachers left on Wednesday boat to attend the teachers' meeting in Petoskey. The children were given free days for the rest of the week, which of course, wasn't hard to take.

The junior members of the Third Order, the Cordeliers, have resumed their monthly meetings with an increase of five new members. Their first meeting of the season was held Wednesday, the Feast of St. Francis of Assisi.

Wednesday evening, The Third Order sponsored a party in the Parish Hall. A luncheon was served and a cake walk was a feature of the evning. Those winning cakes were Charles Dudley, Ann Marie Hanley.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Mooney are sporting a new car.

Joe Gallagher has re-opened his recreation room for the fall and winter season. We are stilll wondering about the crow feed Joe planned some time ago.

JOE MC NAMEE. Boyne City, arrived Wednesday to spend a month on the Island. He is occupying Mr. and Mrs. Emerald Gallagher's cottage.

Mrs. Irwin Belfy came to the Island to visit her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dick La Freniere, and to celebrate her birthday with her grandson, Paul, whose birthday falls on the same day. Mr. Belfy, a crew member of the Patrol Boat, made a special trip to Charlevoix to be with his wife on her birthday only to find no one home. Joe McPhillips brought him to the Island pronto and the birthday celebration was completed.

Charlotte McDonnough, a recent graduate of the Central Radio and Television school, Kansas City, arrived on the Island Monday to visit her parents before departing for Washington, D. C., to accept a responisble government position. Charlotte left for Washington Thursday by way of Bay City to visit her sister, Mary Ellen, and Detroit to visit another sistre, Bertha.

MRS. MARY Burt McDonough had the surprise of her life Friday evening. Unbeknown to her, Alice Pischner had spread the word around to be at the Shamrock dressed in any old rag for a hard time party to celebrate Mary's birthday. Mary, supposedly was to meet Alice at the tavern for just a sociable evening. Well sir—Mary's eyes nearly popped out of her head at the sights she saw when she entered the Shamrock. Alice, the hostess, met her wearing a saggin model of burlap pulled in at the waist with rope. Her only ornament was a horse blanket pin. She wore an old straw hat creation that fairly burped with garden produce. All the guests were in their oldest and most moth eaten rags and the fun was terrific. There was square and round dancing and step dancing by Willie O'Donnell. McGinnis sang Irish tunes. Jewel Gillespie and Coast Guardsman Eugene Dorn with their guitars furnished the music. A lunch was served during the evening. All said they had had the time of their lives and Mary is still flabergasted over the whole thing.

Wedding bells rang Saturday morning for Burnell Greene and Patrick Burke who were married in Chicago Saturday. The brides mother, Mrs. Mary Greene, and her brother, Peter, attended the wedding. Mrs. Ada Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Schmidt, also, attended. Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Schmidt are sisters of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Miller, Mt. Pleasant, visited the Island over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson, Ferndale, arrived Sunday to spend two weeks in their Island home.

When Joe McPhillips brought across the Wilsons and Teddy Wojan Sunday moring, a fog cap completely covered the Island. It took some expert maneuvering but Joe spotted a break in the fog which enabled him to bring the plane down safely.

The fog hung thick enough to cut until early Sunday afternoon when it shifted to the mainland.

A group of the ladies of the Altar Society met Sunday afternoon to make plans for an exciting Hollowe'en party. Plans will be announced later.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that at a regular meeting of the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix, to be held on Monday, October 23, 1950, at 8:00 p.m. in the Council Room of the City Hall, the Council will take under consideration and act upon two proposed amendments to the Zoning Ordinance, being Ordinance No. 203, wherein it is proposed to exclude from Commercial District I and include in Industrial District II the following designated land, viz: "Lot 24 of Mason's Second Addition to the City of Charlevoix." or to allow the manufacturing and/or processing of cheese, dairy products and other similar food processing plants within Commercial District I.

HUGH MAYNE, City Clerk

Who Runs America?

the Congress? the President?

OR YOU AND THE MAN NEXT DOOR?

RUNNING AMERICA is the joint job of 150,000,000 people. It's the biggest job in the world today —keeping it running for liberty and for freedom. And the whole world's watching to see whether Americans can do it!

IN MUCH OF THE WORLD today, the people have resigned from running their own countries. Others have been quick to step in—first with promises of "security"—and then with whips and guns—to run things their way. The evidence is on every front page in the world, every day.

FREEDOM COMES UNDER ATTACK. The reality of war has made every American think hard about the things he's willing to work and fight for—and freedom leads the list.

But that freedom has been attacked here recently—just as it has been attacked in other parts of the world. One of the most serious threats to individual freedom has been the threat of Government-dominated Compulsory Health Insurance, falsely presented as a new guarantee of health "security" for everybody.

THE PEOPLE WEIGH THE FACTS. In the American manner, the people studied the case for Socialized Medicine—and the case against it.

They found that Government domination of the people's medical affairs under Compulsory Health Insurance means lower standards of medical care, higher payroll taxes, loss of incentive, damage to research, penalties for the provident, rewards for the improvident.

They found that no country on earth can surpass America's leadership in medical care and progress. They found that able doctors, teachers, nurses and scientists —working in laboratories where Science, not Politics, is master—are blazing dramatic new trails to health for Americans—and for the world.

THE "GRASS ROOTS" SIGNALS CONGRESS. In every community in the Nation, people stood up to be counted on this important issue. Thousands of local women's clubs, civic groups, farm, business, religious, taxpayer, medical, educational and patriotic organizations spoke out—giving the great United States Congress its unmistakable Grass Roots signal from home!

And ever watchful, ever sensitive to an alert people, The Congress saw that signal, and heard the people speak out, loud and plain. That's democracy in action. That's the American way!

Today among the 10,000 great organizations on militant public record against "Compulsory Health Insurance" are:

General Federation of Women's Clubs
American Farm Bureau Federation
National Grange
Veterans of Foreign Wars
National Conference of Catholic Charities
American Protestant Hospital Association
American Legion
National Association of Small Business Men
United States Chamber of Commerce
National Association of Retail Grocers
National Retail Dry Goods Association
American Bar Association

• Doctors of this Nation are grateful that the people refused to be wooed by the fantastic promises of this un-American excursion into State Socialism. • Doctors of America are dedicated to serve their fellow citizens at home and their comrades in uniform, wherever service to this Nation may take them. • And the thing they stand ready to fight for—to sacrifice for—to die for—is not the alien way of life of Socialism, but the prideful security of a free and self-reliant people!

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY!

• Throughout the Nation, free men and women, working and planning together, are finding the American answer to every question of medical service, care and cost. Hundreds of Voluntary Health Insurance Plans are in healthy competition—sponsored by doctors, insurance companies, hospitals, fraternal organizations—by industry, agriculture and labor. • Today in America—70 million people are protected by Voluntary Health Insurance! • Throughout the Nation, families are insuring themselves against the major costs of illness—at reasonable, budget-basis prices. Voluntary Health Insurance takes the economic shock out of illness. Protect your family now. • For information, ask your doctor—or your insurance man.

An American's greatest heritage is the right to learn the facts—and to speak his mind. Maintained with honor and used with sincerity—that right will guarantee forever that

I Dare Say--

This is the first of a new series of brief discussions intended to bring to the readers of this newspaper up-to-the minute news and views of our day.

Edited by a veteran political observer of more than twenty-five years experience in Michigan politics, the discussions will be devoted to an all-out fight against every "ism" except Americanism and every "deal" except an honest deal with the people of Michigan. The opinions expressed will not always, necessarily, represent the views of this newspaper. But they will be presented by an average American, born in an average American town, who has lived all his life among average American citizens.

The first release of this new feature follows:

. . . The editor

Hi, folks!

You know what? Every time "Soapy" Williams comes up with another of his soapy ideas, I get to thinking about the New-Deal candidate for Congress that was worrying for fear he'd lose the election.

"Anyway," this New-Dealer was telling a Republican neighbor one day, "every time we New-Dealers are in the dumps, we usually manage to get a few ideas."

"Well," said the Republican, "I always wondered where they came from."

For instance, just between us Michiganders, how do you like the way our governor tried to cram through legislature on the blood-typing program for Michigan citizens without first trying to find out from doctors and other experts whether the governor's plan was the best plan for the maximum security of the people of our state?

Oh, hum! What do we elect our representatives to the legislature for anyway? Is our war-time security safer in the hands of one man in the governor's office than in the hands of the 132 friends and neighbors we elected to represent us in the state government? If so, we've been kidding ourselves about being a "united" people. We probably should, if we feel that way, disband our legislature and settle for a dictatorship. Because the governor's one idea of "unity" seems to be that he should unite with himself and agree with himself, that his program is best for you and me no matter what we think.

Representative government? O-mi-gosh!

ANYWAY, THESE big "I'm the guy" politicos make too many mistakes for times like this, with a war going on and all.

Take the Truman administration for instance: Last January 12, secretary of State Acheson said, "If South Korea were invaded, our attitude would be that South Korea would be able to resist." Then, on June 1, the president said, "The world is closer to peace now than is has been in the last five year's." But on July 31, just 60 days later, General Walker, our ground forces commander in Korea, told the world, "We (the defenders of Korea) had the hell kicked out of us this morning!"

Leadership? Know-how? Wow!

DURING THE LAST generation, the Democrat War Party has got us into three wars. This last one was made easy for the enemy when Allen Hiss guided an ailing president's hand in the signing of the Yalta agreement, which divided Korea in the first place, and when Truman, later, gave everything but our armed forces away at Potsdam. And to think that under this leadership we're on the brink of another world war. Oh, our boys are doing all right, against terrific odds, on the battle front, and eventually they will get us out of this mess just like they have all the others. But what a price to pay for lack of leadership on the home front.

UP Hunters Off To Poor Start

Lansing—Average to high number of hunters out, poor to average hunting conditions and a generally light bag is the way the conservation department describes the opening of the upper peninsula small game season.

In the five-county Baraga district the grouse kill was reported light while hunting pressure was above normal except in Keweenaw county. Rabbit hunting was good but summer weather and too much foliage hampered bird hunters.

In the three-county Crystal Falls district a large hunting army was in the field, however, few birds were shot with heavy foliage again causing trouble. Pheasant hunting in southern Menominee county, where open, was described as fair to good and actually better than in past years.

In the three-county Escanaba district an above average number of hunters took to the field with poor to fair success. Again too much foliage permitted the birds to get off the ground before they could be spotted. Good rabbit hunting throughout the district and fair sharptail grouse hunting was reported for Delta and Alger counties.

Bowling Results

Non-Partisan News Letter

By Gene Alleman
Lansing Observer for
Michigan Press Association

As football news blots up page one and a frosty tang fills the air, Michigan residents are brought abruptly back to reality by being reminded that now is the time to get those overseas Christmas pacgages off to that G.I. son or boyfriend.

It is a fall reminiscent of those lonely ones spent by millions of wives and relatives during World War II, with hundreds of Michigan men being recalled to service each month.

AND OPTIMISTIC though the front may look, defense (and offense.) plans are going ahead in the state. A simple, ironclad priority system has been imposed on industry. A "DO" rating will give military contracts let by armed forces or the atomic energy commission the right of way in any plant.

But war production is expensive. Michiganites now are getting a taste of another income tax boost. A man making $40 per week will pay some $5 a week as against $4.10 before the increase.

BUT THIS without tax jump also is seen by some as another test of the inflationary whirl. The impact will not be great, economists agree, but it will cut down spending to some degree, especially in the lower brackets.

Announcing that pay scales for state employees are 20 percent lower than comparable scales for city and county employees in metropolitan areas, Gov. Williams has asked a baost in civil service rates. The present situation "inevitably breeds discontent and dissatisfaction . . . " the governor said.

A cheering note: While Michigan cities shudder at thought of A-bomb attacks and officials warn of possible dangers, the University of Michigan calmly announces the launching of a project for "constructive atom research." It will be financed through contributions.

The usual outward post-convention lull has begun in politics. But the under-currents are moving swiftly as the fall war of nerves rapidly is drawing to a climax. The A.D.A., C.I.O-backed Democratic calm has been maintained while G.O.P. ranks are perking up their ears to the call of Fighting Republicans, Inc.

THE GROUP founded by Vernon J. Brown, Mason, Michigan's elder Republican statesman, and Kit Clardy, Lansing attorney, now is beating the old tom-tom for a mass meeting "under the oak" at Jackson, birthplace of the G.O.P. And even old line party men are beginning to listen.

"Too hot to handle" is the label most Michigan political candidates are putting on the butter-yellow oleo situation in the state which culminates in the voters' decision on Proposal No. 4 in the November election. The poor politicos are caught between the devil and the deep, since they fear the loss of votes from whatever stand they take on the issue. For this reason, few have taken a stand.

Legislative research on changes in the state unemployment compensation law has been postponed until after the election-probably until the January session opens. Disagreement has been over maximum benefits, extent of coverage and the waiting period.

NEW PRECEDENT in labor-management relations is the $33,000 judging against the Detroit United Electrical and Radio Workers (local 937) for violation of a "no work stoppage" contract. The supreme court said the walkout was not the spontaneous decision of each individual employe.

Michigan probably will receive upwards of $400,000 for conservation work, the Pittman-Robinson funds derived from federal taxes on sporting arms and ammunition. Some of the money will go into two upstate wildlife research stations.

M.S.C. experts see the next five years as the best opportunity for sustained profit in sheep raising. The sheep population now is the lowest in 85 years . . . some 35,000,000 head.

We had to work hard and plan carefully. But it was work with a promise of reward.

We like to think that the friends we've made and the success we've had are typical examples of the opportunity America offers the man with an idea and a determination to build and manage his own business.

We wouldn't trade places with a small businessman of any other Nation for anything.

Rites Thursday For Rene C. Moet Retired Farmer

Funeral services for Rene C. Molet, 78, retired farmer were held at the See Funeral Home Thursday with the Rev. W. D. Wood officiating. Burial was in the Brookside cemetery.

He died Monday at his home after a brief illness although he had been in failing health for several years.

Born in Canton, Ohio, Dec. 9, 1871, Mr. Molet came to southern Michigan with his family as a child and later went to Chicago. On Dec. 31, 1911, he was married to Lucy A. Wells and ten years later they moved to Charlevoix township where they operated a farm until five years ago when Mr. Molet retired because of ill health. They moved to Charlevoix shortly after that.

He was a member of the Church of God and the Masonic lodge.

Besides his wife he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Edwin A. Webb of Elton, Md.; one granddaughter and two great-grandchildren.

Tiger Stars Will Speak in Petoskey

Frontline stars of the 1950 Detroit Tiger Baseball team will come to Petoskey on October 17 to highlight a special baseball program.

Led by Harry Heilman, veteran sports announcer and former Tiger "great" the group will include third baseman George Kell, outfielder Hoot Evers, second baseman Jerry Priddy, pitcher Fred Hutchinson and outfielder Charlie Keller. They are on a post-season "barnstorming" tour of Michigan cities sponsored by the Goebel Brewing Company of Detroit and Muskegon.

Some 450 people are expected to crowd the Elks Temple for an 8:00 p.m. meeting to see and hear Heilman and the players in an open forum program on baseball.

The meeting is open to the public.

By John Timmer

Mrs. Mindert Blom and two sons left Wednesday for their new home in Royal Oak after having lived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Wieland for two months while Mr. Blom was "hunting a home". The Blom family recently emigrated from the Netherlands.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Springstead of Central Lake were callers Sunday at the home of the latter's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Edson.

Mrs. Hattie Bergsma left Sunday for an indefinite visit with her children in Zeeland and Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Shooks spent three days last week in Grand Rapids and Owosso.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jansen of Essex, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jansen and two daughters, Mrs. Wilhelmina Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. John Timmer were callers Sunday evening at the home of Peter H. Timmer of Charlevoix.

Herbert Elzinga of Lowell and Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Elzinga of Lansing were week-end visitors at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Elzinga.

Miss Isabelle Edson of Lansing spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Edson.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Ruis of Grand Rapids have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jean, to Leon Bush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bush of Mapleville. A fall wedding is planned.

Miss Joan Edson is spending this week in Grand Rapids at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Wynsma.

Mr. and Mrs. George Martin and two children of Ann Arbor and Leon Telgenhof and two children of Cadillac were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Vanderark.

Mrs. Gertie Doctor left Saturday for Traverse City to assist at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. Bernard Kratz. Mrs. Kratz, who had been a surgical patient at Little Traverse hospital, Petoskey, returned to her home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Drenth, Jr., spent the week-end in Grand Rapids.

Harold Edson, student at CMC, Mt. Pleasant, submitted to an emergency operation for appendicitis Sunday and is recuperating in a hospital there.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Patterson returned Sunday from a week's vacation in Royal Oak, Mt. Pleasant and Detroit and Mrs. Patterson was called to Mt. Pleasant Monday to stay with her daughter, Mrs. Harold Edson while Harold is in the hospital.

Mrs. Elizabeth DeYoung is visiting this week at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Eckloff of Gaylord.

Walter and David Kass and friend of Grand Rapids spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Anna DeJong. Mrs. DeJong accompanied the boys on their return trip for an indefinite visit.

Arthur Verburg, seminarian at Calvin seminary, Grand Rapids, conducted services Sunday at Ellsworth Christian Reformed church. He was a week-end guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Heeres.

The Men's society of Ellsworth Christian Reformed church will hold its first meeting of the season at 8 Thursday. Officers will be elected. All men are welcome to attend.

Mrs. John Kooyer returned Monday from Grand Rapids and reports that her husband is recuperating nicely after major surgery last week at Ferguson Clinic there.

The exterior of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Tornga is being spray painted this week. Elmer Klooster and son, Gordon, are doing the job.

Marvin Wasenaar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wasenaar of Essex, has enrolled at Alma College as a freshman for the year 1950-1951.

Delbert E. Clow and Jim Timmer were in East Lansing Saturday attending the Michigan State-Maryland football game.

MSC Aids U. N. Flag Project

Mobilization of Michigan's home demonstration and 4-H sewing clubs to make United Nations flags is now being conducted by Michigan State College's Cooperative Extension Service. Goal of the program is a U. N. flag flying over most Michigan rural communities on United Nations Day, October 24. The flag making is a nationwide project.

Shown here is the production of one of the first flags by members of home demonstration clubs in Ingham county. Left to right are Mrs. Max Warfle, Dansville; Mrs. Annette Schaeffer, Ingham county home demonstration agent; and Mrs. Fred Bullen, Mason.

The "Betsy Ross" flag making project was suggested a short time ago by a special farm organization United Nations Day subcommittee. The Extension Service was chosen to lead the program because of its many field agents, serving in all of the nation's counties. Farm and civic organizations are taking part in the movement.

Banks PTA Plans Harvest Auction

Ellsworth—The annual harvest auction of the Banks PTA will be held at the school Tuesday evening. Poultry, farm produce, bayed boods, fancy work, or anything you care to contribute will be sold by auctioneers, Hans DeYoung and Wm. J. Goeman.

Following the sale, lunch will be sold in the new school lunch room. Come and enjoy an evening of fun. Proceeds of the sale will be used to buy band instruments, shop equipment and anything else needed to advance the education of our children, Everyone is cordially invited. The PTA needs you!

Ellsworth Farm Bureau at it's last meeting elected the following officers; chairman, Anthony M. Juiper; vice chairman, Walter L. Chellis, sr.; secretary, re-elected, Mrs. Richard Wieland, and discussion leader, John Jansen.

Special evanglestic services will be held for two weeks starting Sunday at the Pilgrim Holiness church. Rev. E. G. Ritenburgh of Owosso will be the speaker. He has had experience in pastoral and evangelistic work in the United States.

Howard Evans Suffered Leg Wound In Korea Fighting

Ellsworth—Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Evans of East Jordan, former Ellsworth residents, have received word that their son, SFC Howard O. Evans, was wounded Sept. 28 in Korea and is in a hospital there.

Sgt. Evans was wounded in the right leg, a piece of mortar shell pasing between the two bones in the leg. Out of the 24 men in his detail, he and 21 others were wounded and two killed.

Sgt. Evans is married and his wife, Doris, and three children, Dale, 12, Wanda, 8, and David, 3, live at Muskegon. He has two brothers, Curtis and Robert Jr. of East Jordan, and a sister, Mrs. Dean Fiedler of Ellsworth.

Frank Cellner's Dairy Herd High In DHIA Tests

A mature Holstein cow owned by Elias Sommerville was the highest for the Charlevoix-Antrim Dairy Herd Improvement Association during the month of September according to Don Graham, testor.

This cow produced 84 pounds of butterfat during the month. The second highest cow was a 3 year old Holstein owned by Peter Winnick of Charlevoix.

This cow produced a total of 68 pounds of butterfat during the month of September. Franklin Cellner of Charlevoix owned the herd of cows that was highest for the association by producing an average of 39 pounds of butterfat per cow. Elias Sommerville's herd was second by averaging 37.4 pounds of butterfat.

A total of 34 herds was tested by the testor with a total of 387 cows on test. The average for the association was 27.4 pounds of butterfat produced per cow.

Ed Rehman, county agricultural agent, said that plans have been made for the annual meeting to be held at Ellsworth on Tuesday, December 5. Jim Hays, extension dairyman from Michigan State College will be the speaker.

Male ostriches take their turn setting on the eggs to hatch them.

Feeder Sale Set At Gaylord Oct. 12

The annual feeder cattle sale and show sponsored by the Northern Michigan Beef Breeders Association will be held next week Oct. 12 at their sale yards at Gaylord according to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

Cow Clipping Will Mean Better Milk

The cows in your dairy herd probably aren't any more eager than you are to see winter roll around and the barn feeding season upon us. Nevertheless, whether you or the cows like it, it's on the calendar so we'll have to face it.

One thing to include in the many preparations for the barn feeding season is clipping of the cows. Before the cows are brought into the stable, set up a bovine barber shop and get the clippers clipping.

Clipping at this time of the year will result in improved milk quality and save you time in cleaning the cow each morning and evening before milking her. Clip the cows' udders and flanks so that manure and other debris will not cling to them says Ed Rebman, county agent. A few minutes spent clipping a cow will more than pay in better quality of milk and cream.

Potato Yield Good Except in Blight Areas

By Vic Spaniolo

Early reports on the potato yields in Charlevoix and Antrim county indicate a wide variance, ranging from much better than average to "decidedly poor."

In a spot check, the Charlevoix Courier contacted farmers in various parts of Charlevoix and Antrim over the weekend. While diggings have just nicely started, a number of growers seemed fairly certain of expected yields.

The blight which struck potato fields in Charlevoix county and part of Emmet apparently missed areas in Antrim, according to reports from county agents and farmers.

JOHN WIELAND of Antrim county reported his Katadins were running more than 400 bushels to the acre, 100 hushels more than a year ago and somewhat above the average yield. His are certified potatoes. He has about 25 acres.

He noted that he found little use for his irrigation system this year because of the moisture. Wieland reported that the summer was cool and moist, almost ideal for his potatoes. He added that a little longer growing season was had this year as the killing frost did not strike his farm until two weeks ago.

BERNIE DEYOUNG of Charlevoix RFD 1, reported that he will get about 250 bushels to the acre on a 11-acre field. He is digging Chippewas. His potatoes looked solid and well shaped. His crew of workers began digging the middle of last week. He indicated a variance among some of his fields.

DeYoung expressed concern about the potato price which has been weak in recent weeks. To date he said there has been no decision about government support prices. Some farmers report getting about a penny a pound for US No. 1's which is far less than they received in recent years.

With the potato price as weak as it is at present, DeYoung said he is glad he does not have any more acreage in spuds. Primarily he is more interested in his livestock program which provides the bulk of his income although he does raise 8½ acres of red beets. His grain is grown for his livestock. He has 18 heads of Guernseys. He has had quite a crop of heifers this year.

Severe blight virtually wiped out several potato fields near Bay Shore a few weeks ago. But in other parts of Charlevoix county, the yield looks promising. Frank Sneathen and his father, Lee., Sr., who have about 26 acres report a yield of 400 bushels to the acre on certified seed. This was much higher than last year which was a fairly poor season for spuds.

The Sneathens are a bit fearful of the blight effects in some of their fields. This will not be known until their digging is completed. Lee Sneathen, Jr., who has 14 acres, looks for a good yield of table stock as does Bill Price near Bay Shore. He has 15 acres.

Spare the Rod

Stirring the milk with a rod during the cooling process may be introducing unwanted bacteria. Don Murray, Michigan State College dairyman, suggests that tight covers and an occasional rocking of the can gives the same results as stirring and helps keep out bacteria.

District Apple and Potato Show is at Petoskey Nov. 7-8

Potato, apple and legume seed growers in Charlevoix and Antrim are urged at harvest time to select exhibits for the Northern Michigan Potato and Apple Show. This show covering 31 counties will be held this year in Petoskey on Nov. 7 and 8. Premium awards made possible through the State Department of Agriculture will amount to more than $1000.00.

Classes for potato exhibits will include 25 pound samples of U.S. No. 1 or U.S. Fancy representative of stock the grower has for sale in lots of 200 bushels or more. This class is open only to tablestock growers.

The class for peck samples of 32 selected tubers is open to all growers while the bushel class of 128 selected tubers is open only to growers of certified seed. Classes of peck samples are also included for 4-H Club members and FFA students.

The apple division includes classes for plates, fancy bushels and flats in all of the more popular varieties. There will also be an apple pie baking contest. The legume seed division includes classes for alfalfa, alsike clover, sweet clover, red clover, dutch clover and vetch seed.

There is a division for posters with classes for posters made by students in high school and another for rural and city grade schools.

A Premier Tablestock Potato Grower and a Premier Certified Seed Potato Grower for the District will also be chosen at the show. The selection is based on total yields per acre, percent of U. S. No. 1 grade and showing an exhibit at the show.

Any grower with a high yield should contact Ed Rebman, county Agricultural agent at harvest time so that the yield can be officially checked. Premium books for the show are now available. Anyone wishing to have a book should contact Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

Corn Picker Dangerous, Urge Extreme Caution

"Live to pick another year" was the plea made this week by Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent to Charlevoix county farmers.

The corn picker is one of the most dangerous of all farm machines, he said. Throughout the corn picking season newspaper headlines like the following shock readers everywhere.

"Farmer Loses Hand in Corn Picker", "Legs Mangled In Corn Picker", "Farmer Fatally Injured in Picker Accident."

Unfortunately these are common headlines that stare us in the face many times during the fall months. They can be avoided, however, if a few simple rules are followed.

First, stop the picker! Never reach into the picker while it is running. Shut off the power before attempting to remove stalks that lodge in the snapping or husking rolls.

Using a stalk or stick will not protect you, Rebman says. The rolls grab so quickly that they jerk your hand and stalk in before you can let go, and Ed Rebman is talking from experience.

Tn he safe, make "shutting off" the power a habit everytime you leave the tractor seat.

Second, keep the guards in place. Never operate without the shields. If your clothing merely flaps against an unguarded shaft or coupling, you can be drawn in without warning.

Finally, watch out for fire. Keep hot manifolds and exhaust accessories free from trash, avoid leaky fuel lines, and never refuel with the motor running.

ORCHARD NOTES

By Claude Fairman

Many perhaps have ordered their nursery stock earlier in the season. Some will plant this fall, others will plant in the spring and still have the trees delivered this fall.

The nursery stock should be in a dormant condition and arrive by express in late fall. Heel in immediately upon arrival by digging a trench much deeper than they grew in the nursery row.

Cut bands, single out trees and cover roots with earth and water. If peach trees are to be planted in the spring, as they should be, cover the tops and the entire tree with straw after the first few frosts or before hard winter sets in. Putting the straw on late also helps prevent mouse injury.

Also heel in all trees a good distance from any sod plots where there are signs of mice, especially when carried over for spring planting. When planting, deliver trees to field with the roots covered with earth.

If several trees are carried from one hole to another while planting keep roots covered with wet burlap to prevent drying out from wind and sun.

Distance for planting: Apples, 30x40 feet; sourcherry, 24 to 26 feet each way; peach 20 feet, and sweet cherry, 30 feet for Schmidt and Windsor and 26 feet for other varieties.

Plant all trees on the contour to prevent land wash. Implements and sprayers, etc. also pull easier across the side of a slope.

Use your level or gentle slopes for stone fruits, such as plums, peaches and cherries. In planting a tree, dig a hole according to the roots for depth and circumference.

In covering the roots with soil use only the top soil and have it free from any vetetation such as straw, grass, roots, etc. as this is liable to burn the roots. Add a little dirt at first, then tramp lightly, then add more dirt and tramp, etc., having the tree set 1½ inch deeper than it grew in the nursery row and slightly countersunk to allow water to settle in the hole in the spring.

They can be mounded up during the winter to keep mice away. The tree should lean slightly to the southwest or toward prevailing winds as the wind has a tendency to cause the tree to grow and lean in the opposite direction.

Trimming the young tree to prevent winter sun scald and other purposes and details in regard to young trees will follow next week.

HEALTHY, WEALTHY AND why?

America is the healthiest great Nation in the world. Americans live more abundantly than any people in the world........ why?

Not because somebody passed a law. But because the founding fathers were WISE. Because they turned away from dependence on Government. Because they believed that real security is based on individual initiative.

Americans today believe that, too. That is why America is the symbol of human Freedom ... the bulwark of world liberty!

The strength of America is the product of creative, free initiative. America's health is the best in the world. A free medical profession will keep it so.

Freely, without compulsion, over 70 million Americans have secured the best medical care in the world, through Voluntary Health Insurance, prepaying the major costs of illness.

Waterfowl Season Opens Oct. 15

Lansing — Waterfowl hunters begin pulling triggers at noon October 13 in the upper peninsula and at 10:00 a.m. October 15 in the lower peninsula with conservation department encouragement that the shorter 33-35 day season should be nearly as good as last year.

Hunter report card computations showed 106,000 hunters out last fall who bagged 625,000 birds or an average of nearly six birds apiece.

Department game men assert they do not expect much change in shooting prospects although rather unfavorable reports have been received on the Canadian breeding grounds supplying Michigan. Local reproduction also is somewhat below last year.

However, windy weather opening day could keep a lot of birds in the air.

Game men have a word of caution for waterfowl hunters. Lower peninsula hunters opening the season October 15 in the Swan Creek area, the former Todd-Balch farmlands and in other southern Michigan locations should not expect to see a large number of geese. Heavy migrations do not appear usually until late October.

Legion Women Busy On Gift Project

The American Legion auxiliary has been busy purchasing gifts for the Veterans Gift Shop at Veterans Administration Hospital, Fort Custer.

This year the number of gifts requested has been increased from the usual 15 to 25. Because the funds of the organization is limited, they are asking for contributions of gifts priced from $1.50 to $3.00.

They have requests for 15 gifts for women and adult girls, five for men and adult boys and 5 for children. If you have any article which could be used call Mrs. Harry Walstad at 709 or Mrs. Leo Allard at 289.

Help the hospital drive.

BUT AMERICA IS NOT THE LAND OF THE FREE HANDOUT

Our Notion wos founded on the principle thot Freedom must be poid for—ond is well worth poying for.

The American people have made great sacrifices in payment for liberty.

But they hove refused to socrifice liberty for promised "security"...to trode freedom for the spurious "sofety" of Stote Soclolism.

This firm is proud to be part of a community and a country where each American is free to worship as he chooses—and grants that same privilege to his neighbor...where a business is free to create a better product, and to compete in the open market for patronage.

Unfettered by politicol controls, American medicine hos mode this the healthiest, strongest Notion in the world. Socialized medicine would endonger our physicol health, our economic welfore and our politicol freedom.

Ought To "Polish Up" Her Traffic Manners!

Spent most of yesterday over at the Court House. "Tiny" Fields, the biggest and fastest-talking of our three policemen, was holding forth about his traffic troubles.

"Women drive just as good as men do," Tiny said, "and just as bad. For instance—a girl in a convertible today. She started a three-block tie-up all by herself.

"She's creeping down Main Street—left hand stuck out and sort of waving around. Never turns right or left, never stops. But, of course, everyone behind her thinks she's signaling about something. Nobody dares to pass. When I stop her and ask what's up, she smiles sweetly and explains that she's drying her nail polish!"

From where I sit, that girl's typical of certain folks who are so wrapped up in themselves, they never notice they're not being fair to others. Our neighbor has a right to drive in safety—just as he has a right to enjoy a glass of beer. Let's all respect the other fellow's rights.

AN Apple A DAY...

WE DON'T HAVE A THING AGAINST DOCTORS, BUT...

Wouldn't it be wonderful if the old adage came true, and by just selling apples we could keep all sickness away?

It would be such a simple solution to the problem of medical care that even the doctors would welcome it—even though it meant they'd have to look around for something else to do.

But seriously, we merchants today have something in common with the medical profession. So do you. We all are faced by a socialistic threat to our freedom.

Our business is selling merchandise. It's a good business. It's good because...

AMERICAN FREEDOM HAS LET US BUILD AND COMPETE AND SERVE YOU BETTER

We all know that in times of emergency, temporary controls sometimes become necessary —and are loyally accepted. But State Socialism is not for us!

We don't want Government operation of our business. We are equally opposed to Government control of medicine or other fields of private endeavor.

That is why today we salute the doctors of America, who have proved that Americans will fight just as hard to preserve freedom at home as they do to protect it from forces of aggression overseas.

Speaking of Apples...

Here's a tip our insurance man gave us. VOLUNTARY HEALTH INSURANCE, prepaying the major costs of illness for you and your family, can be bought for about the price of an apple apiece a day!

Underdog Gaylord May Be Primed for Upset

While the Charlevoix Rayders go into tomorrow's game against Gaylord heavy favorites to win, fear of an upset are being voiced by Coach Del Terrill.

The locals, victorious in all three games to date including cherished triumphs over East Jordan and Boyne City, face a visiting team which has been beaten three times so far this year.

One thing is usually evident when opposing teams play here . . . they go all-out to defeat Charlevoix. Naturally that winning streak which now has reached 36 games without a loss gives other league teams added incentive to tumble the Rayders from the ranks of the unbeaten.

That bugaboo . . . overconfidence . . . of all winning streaks will be operating overtime when Charlevoix faces Gaylord. On paper Charlevoix should win hands down, but the pressure for an upset is all the greater. The Rayders will have to be wary of a team coming here as a decided underdog with enough inspiration to give the locals a tough afternoon.

The Rayders recovered in time from a pushing around by East Jordan in the early stages of the game to keep its streak intact. There were some anxious moments when the Jordanites appeared bent on scoring. Ron Cunningham, "Pegs" Bryan and Charley Fairbanks sparked the attack with Jim Bowman and the Rayder forward wall putting up a good game despite the rain and the mud.

Organization Formed to Aid Industry

Formation of the Charlevoix Development corporation, an organization to promote industrial and resort development in this community, took place Monday night at an organization meeting in the city hall.

Some 39 merchants and other residents pledged to buy 144 shares of stock in the new corporation at $10 per share. In so doing, the present stockholders made it possible for the corporation to proceed with plans seeking approval of the State Securities commission.

The by-law and constitution will be approved at a meeting Oct. 27 at 8 p.m. in the city hall. Persons interested in becoming stockholders are urged to attend this meeting when directors will be named.

IT IS NECESSARY to own at least one share of stock to be eligible to vote for the directors who in turn elect officers. The corporation will pay up to 5 percent dividends on the money invested, it was voted.

The organization of the corporation stemmed directly from the suggestions of the State Bureau of Economic Development in Lansing. Its primary function will be to help new industry get on its feet by providing a building or other facilities. Established industry and resort development may come in fur promotion as well, the organizers said.

Mayor John Knight is temporary chairman and Henry C. Heckler, temporary secretary.

A committee composed of Harold Totten, John Boss and John Reid was appointed to plan a meeting for farmers interested in sending their milk to a cheese processing plant which may be established here.

County to Send 10 Men Nov. 1 For Induction

Ten Charlevoix county men have been instructed to report for induction into the armed services Nov. 1, by the Charlevoix County Draft Board. The men will report at the courthouse here at 8 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 1, for transportation to the Detroit induction center.

They are: George Urman Jr., Ervin A. Nulph, Floyd E. Bowers Jr., Robert G. Mathers, Robert A. Wilson, Milton A. Cyr, Maynard E. Maves and William E. Kerr, of Boyne City.

Also John W. Case of Bay Shore and Gerrit L. Elzinga of Charlevoix.

The induction of Charles W. McCauley of St. James has been postponed until after the sailing season. He has been given a 60-day postponement.

Five other Charlevoix county men will go to Detroit for pre-induction physical examinations in November. The local draft board has not been informed of the date the men are to report for the trip.

Those who will go to Detroit next month for pre-induction physicals are: Edwin R. Wertman, Leo J. Wahanimkee, Francis C. Partridge of Charlevoix; Robert Sevenski of Boyne Falls; David S. Wade of East Jordan.

Bill Pearson, 91 Dies in Hospital

William J. Pearson, 91, of Boyne Falls, Republican leader, former county and state official and conservation commissioner, died Sunday at Little Traverse Hospital, Petoskey.

Funeral services were held at the Boyne City Methodist church Wednesday with burial in Maplelawn cemetery.

Possibility of Cheese Plant Is Studied Here

The possibility of starting a cheese processing plant in Charlevoix is being studied by a group of farmers and local business men.

In studying the feasibility of starting cheese processing here, farmers in Charlevoix, Antrim, Emmet and Cheboygan will be sent questionnaires in the next week or 10 days.

The questionnaires will attempt to establish the potential milk supply available. Farmers will be asked how many cows they have in their herds and if they would be interested in selling fluid milk if it means greater profits.

Discussions have indicated so far that there is considerable interest in starting a cheese plant here because of the central location. It is likely that many dairy farmers will realize a greater profit by selling fluid milk.

A meeting will be held in Charlevoix in the near future to report on the data on the questionnaires. No date has been set.

Kelley Rips Governor For ADA Support

The Democratic party in Michigan and the present state administration are captives of the socialistic planners and Americans for Democratic Action, identified many times as a Communist-front organization.

So declared former Gov. Harry F. Kelly, Republican candidate for governor, who blasted the present governor for his association with the ADA, in a GOP rally last Friday night at Boyne City.

Kelly and other state nominees appeared before some 450 party workers and leaders from various parts of northen Michigan who gave the former governor a tremendous ovation several times during his talk.

Kelly cited evidence which showed that the Democratic governor helped organize the ADA and later said he was indebted to it for assistance in being elected.

Attacking those people who want to see this state and nation hurried along the path of socialism, Kelly vowed a fight until death against these inroads which are robbing the Americans of their inherent freedom, won in so many costly wars.

He listed numerous old-line Democrats who have left their party because of left-wing efforts of the organization, adding that he felt assured that genuine Democrats will turn to the Republican standard on Nov. 7.

He bluntly told the workers that it would take great effort to unseat the present administration in Lansing, but added that it can be done if the Republican workers make an all-out effort to get out the vote next month.

Guy C. Conkle, Jr., general chairman of the rally, introduced William C. Vandenberg, nominee for lieutenant governor, State Treasurer D. Hale Brake, John B. Martin, auditor general nominee, Frank Millard, attorney general candidate, State Sen. Frank Andrews, Felix Flynn, nominee from Cadillac for the state senate.

A delegation from Charlevoix including officials attended the rally.

Baptist Book Review To Be Given Oct. 23

A book review "West of the Hill" written by Gladys Hasty Carroll will be given at the Baptist church at 8 p.m. Oct. 23.

This review will be given by Mrs. Roy MacArthur (formerly Mildred Eckinger) of Flint. Mrs. MacArthur presents along with this book review the folk songs from "The Turn of the Century".

Mrs. MacArthur has given this book review before large audiences in Flint ten different times and is also scheduled to give it in Saginaw and Grand Rapids as well as in Charlevoix. The presentation is sponsored by the Carey O'Brien Circle of the church.

Henry Hair Marks 93rd Birthday

Henry Hair observed his ninety-third birthday anniversary Friday at a family gathering.

Present for the occasion were Mrs. Hair, W. D. Hair, Mrs. Emily Whitney, Rev. W. D. Wood, Lynn Hair and Mrs. Marybelle Anderson. Two birthday cakes, one made by Mrs. Melvin Plum and one by his grand-daughter, Lynn, graced the refreshment table.

Mr. Hair and his great-grand-daughter Ruth Ann Miller.

Mr. Hair received many other gifts, cards and remembrances of the occasion.

Mr. Hair was born in Canada Oct. 13, 1857, and settled in Hayes township 60 years ago. He operated a farm there until recent years but continues to make his home there during the summer months.

He has two sons, William D., of Hayes township and George of Detroit and a daughter, Mrs. Marybelle Anderson of Charlevoix and Detroit. He has several grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Edgar Guest Captures Hearts Of Listeners

It's easy tu see why Edgar A. Guest is America's favorite poet.

Appearing here under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis club, Mr. Guest, whose poems have been pleasing an increased audience each year, spoke to some 400 persons in the gymnasium last Wednesday night.

From the moment he began talking in that charming way of his, he had his audience experiencing highlights along memory trail. His was not the talk of a crusader or a politician but of a warm-hearted man who has enjoyed life with his family.

Weaving lines of poetry into his impromptu talk without his listeners realizing that he was reciting some of his favorites like "Heap of Living" and others, Mr. Guest permitted the group to enjoy traveling through bygone years.

And yet behind his seemingly entertaining talk, there was a deeper meaning of simple living in a life of turmoil--a life which is dedicated to enjoying the seemingly little things in life such as fingerprints of a child on a wall and the necessity of understanding children.

Yes, all those who heard Mr. Guest were enthralled at his friendly gestures and manner in speaking from the heart of a man who has enjoyed the common things in life. But also those who heard him took a message of greater understanding for the family and fellow-man.

He was introduced by Roy G. Bennett, superintendent of schools. Mr. Guest was honored at a Kiwanis dinner along with teachers of the community and wives of Kiwanians.

The appearance of Mr. Guest was arranged by Herb Schofield.

Proceeds from the public sale of tickets for the talk of Mr. Guest will be turned over to the underprivileged children project.

Be sure to give to the Community Chest drive. Starts Monday. Many drives in one solicitation.

Rayders Set Sights on Victory No. 39

The Charlevoix Rayders chalked up No. 38 in the win column Friday by trouncing the visiting Gaylord Blue Devils 59-6 as Coach Del Terrill's entire squad saw action.

The Rayders will be going after win 39 this week-end as they travel to Harbor Springs to meet the Rams who suffered a 40-0 loss to Pellston last week. Harbor Springs has a record of two wins and two losses for the season.

Everybody got into the act Friday as the Rayders rolled up a 25-0 lead over Gaylord at half time after Hardy, Cunningham, Wallace and Left had gone into the end zone for tallies.

Charlevoix scored their first touchdown early after Left recovered a Gaylord fumble on the Rayder 47. Hardy carried the ball through the line for a short gain and on the next play took it to the 10-yd. line where he was knocked out of bounds. Hardy went through the line for the first touchdown. The extra point was missed.

ON THE second play after Fairbanks kicked off, Cunningham intercepted a Gaylord pass on the 38 and rolled the distance for the second touchdown. Fairbanks' kick for the extra point was blocked. Score: 12-0

An exchange of punts found the Rayders in possession of the State Ruling Hurts Townships in County And Some Schools

Supervisors Vote $130,000 Budget tor '51

The Charlevoix county board of supervisors adopted a budget of $130,812.26 at its annual budget meeting.

The 1951 budget is about $3,000 more than this year's expenditures.

The total revenue from taxes is $95,866.36 and anticipated revenue from other sources $9,000 for a total income of $104,866.36. This will leave a deficit of $25,945.90 for the year.

All departments were warned that they must operate within the appropriation made to them at this time as no other funds will be forthcoming. A resolution to this effect was adopted by the board.

Appropriations for 1951 include the following: welfare department, $10,000 which was given a warning that the department must not exceed this amount. The board also appropriated an additional $12,000 to complete this year. This makes a total appropriation of $42,000 for 1950.

Health unit, 40 cents per capita as based on the 1950 census of 13,343 or $5,337.20; county superintendent of schools, $1210 for 1951 plus $300 to complete 1950 for a total of $1350 for this year.

County advertising, $1500, an increase from $750 in 1950; county agricultural agent, $2300, Whiting Park, $900 plus $389.05 for the 1950 deficit.

County council of Veterans Affairs, $1000; Soldier and Sailor Relief fund, $300; Charlevoix Hospital, $1000; Charlevoix county fair appropriation to care for premiums, $670.

Salaries for the county offices of clerk, register of deeds, prosecutor, treasurer and sheriff were set at $3000 and those of the custodian and clerks at $2100.

Conservation Men Hunt Net Owner

Conservation officials continued their efforts this week to determine the owner of a perch net from Lake Michigan between north and south points, restricted waters. A considerable amount of perch was found in the net.

Officials said that the individual responsibility rested with the person who set the net there, disregarding regulations on restricted waters. They point out that violations of this type can be detrimental to the community because the hook and line fishermen will go elsewhere.

Conservation officers arrested John Kowalski of Boyne Falls for shining deer. He paid a fine and costs of $25 after pleading guilty in justice court.

Chest Drive Starts Monday In Charlevoix

Community Chest workers will be knocking on your door next Monday fur the opening day of the annual drive. The workers will be people from your own neighborhood who are giving their time and efforts to aid in the drive to raise a total of $5,817, the 1950-51 budget.

Charles Bleha and Jack Mailhot of the Community Chest committee will solicit funds in the business district with Victor Spaniolo visiting the business places outside the main business district.

Captains whose workers will canvas the residential district include Mrs. C. M. Bice, Mrs. Harry Gregory, Mrs. Ernest Wissell, Mrs. Versal Seymour and Mrs. Henry Partridge.

Agencies to be aided by the drive include the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Charlevoix Hospital, Cancer control, Community Nurse, Santa Claus Anonymous and an emergency fund.

Millage Hike For School Area Ruled Invalid

Action of Charlevoix school district in raising the tax limitation to 20 mills for 10 years in July, 1949 was ruled invalid this week by Prosecuting Attorney C. Meredith Bice.

According to his ruling, any action on millage taken by the school district must be certified with the county treasurer within five days after such action takes place. This was not done.

The certification was made necessary as a result of a 1947 amendment to the state statute governing millage, Mr. Bice said.

The invalidation means that the boost in the limitation of tax millage is not proper and that subsequent action by the school district last July in voting seven mills for one year for a building and site fund is also invalid.

In July, 1949, local school voters approved raising the millage ceiling by 20 mills, resulting in a possible levy of 35 mills for 10 years if the district so desired. At that time, it was also voted to raise two mills for operation for this year.

This money was levied, raised and spent by the school district Nothing can be done about this but the ruling does mean that the school district must start from scratch to raise the tax limitation restriction.

Democratic Nominees To Visit Charlevoix

As part of their state Democratic campaign tour, Attorney General Stephen J. Roth, Philip A. Hart, candidate for secretary of state and Mrs. Margaret Price, nominee for auditor general will stop in Charlevoix Saturday, Oct. 28 on their way to Traverse City for a luncheon meeting.

Joseph Foster said he expects the group to be here about 11 a. m. The group has been touring the upper peninsula and northern Michigan in their campaign to rally voters.

Allocation Row Marks Session Of Supervisors

A state tax ruling that Charlevoix county schools which are in areas that draw students from adjoining counties will receive four mills and schools in other districts will receive five mills if they show a need of additional millage settled the controversial issue fur the board of supervisors who adjourned Tuesday.

The supervisors brought to an end the eight-day session which was marked by heated discussios on the tax allocation. The state tax commission mado tho ruling which means the townships will receive no millage.

This will mean that taxpayers in the fractional areas will be assessed 14 mills.

LAST SUMMER, the county tax allocation board levied 10 mills fur county operation (including two mills for the building fund), four mills to the schools and one mill to the townships. School districts appealed the decision and the state tax commission ruled that the schools should get five and the townships none after conducting a hearing here.

This new ruling means that a

Marion Farm Bureau Discusses Yellow Oleo

The yellow oleo issue was one of the topics at the meeting of the Marion Center Farm Bureau Oct. 11 at the Arvin Buchfink home. It was emphasized that it is necessary to urge all farmers to vote on Nov. 7 on the oleo issue.

It was also brought out that the schools today should have facilities to educate the students for farming occupations. Other topics discussed included support prices which, it was said, assists the famers to certain extent. Production controls mean better farm incomes, it was reported. Subsidies should be paid according to needs.

Mr. Buchfink reported on a county Farm Bureau meeting and also urged members to attend the annual meeting Oct. 24 in the Charlevoix high school. Plans fur the coming membership drive were discussed.

Mrs. Lavern McGhan reported on the women's committee meeting. Mrs. Thomas Dockery of Kewadin was named president of the district. Several women plan to attend the state meeting in Lansing Nov. 8-10.

Fluid Milk Market Likely to Benefit Dairymen

The decision of the Jordan Valley Co-Operative Creamery of East Jordan to buy fluid milk from the farmers of this district is being welcomed by most farmers.

The creamery is installing necessary machinery with which to handle the fluid milk. Percy Penfold, manager of the creamery, explained that the change was being made because of world conditions and a general shift in production trends.

The decision culminated several years of consideration on this matter. Many farmers look upon this decision as being a great stabilizing influence on the milk price in this district.

Farmers in general throughout the state and nation are changing to a fluid milk program from farm produced butterfat. It is likely that this means more money to the farmer. In this day of rising costs and prices, it is a welcome sight, although it will mean higher prices for the milk consumer.

In many dairies throughout the state, the fluid milk is taken to the creamery plant, separated, the butterfat being made into high quality creamery butter and the skimmed milk being dried.

The Co-Op which has a long record of successful operation, going back to 1931 when it was started. The fluid milk program should be another far-reaching step in keeping pace with changing marketing conditions.

Farmers and Social Security

Since many Charlevoix county farmers are going to have new dealings with the Federal government after January 1, they need to become familiar with provisions of the new Social Security Act.

It extends benefits to farm laborers who meet certain conditions of employment. It requires the farmer to pay half the cost and to collect the other half from his hired help.

And he's to be responsible for keeping all records for himself and his workers and for making the payments to the U.S. Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Each Charlevoix county farmer will be brought under the act if these two conditions exist on his farm:

1. Any individual was hired on the farm for at least 60 full days during a calendar quarter of three months and earned not less than $50 per month.
2. This same individual had also worked for at least 60 days during the previous quarter.

Here's how it works: The law becomes effective Jan. 1, 1951. Your help will be covered for the first three months of 1951 if they also worked for you the last three months of 1950—that is a minimum of 60 days. It is to be assumed they were paid $50 or more per month.

What does the farmer do? He retains 1½ percent of the worker's salary and adds another 1½ per cent from his own pocket to make the required 3 per cent. The total is sent in at the end of each quarter with a special form. There are penalties for those who do not comply.

What are the benefits? Depending upon the average monthly cash earnings of a worker, there will be a Social Security pension when he reaches the age of 65 provided he has had 1½ years of employment covered by the law. He will receive payments equal to 50 per cent of his average monthly cash earnings up to $100 and 15 per cent of the next $200 or portion thereof earned.

For instance, those with average earnings of $80 a month will get $40 a month after age 65. An average of $130 a month will give a pension payment of $54.50 per month. Maximum payment will be $80 for those having an average monthly wage of $300 a month or $3,600 a year.

Rules and regulations will be issued within the next few months, word from Washington indicates. They may be quite complicated and each field office of the U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue is set up to aid farmers in understanding the law.

The law doesn't become effective until January 1 but in the meantime farmers will do well to keep accurate records of hired help for the current period. They'll need the information when the first of the year rolls around.

Did you ever see anything flying under their own power as the flock of wild ducks or geese that went over Friday afternoon? They must have been those big Canadian geese for we can't think of anything else quite so big . . . And if you've been hearing strange sounds during the night it's been other flocks of ducks or geese heading south . . . And with them will come the snow . . so they say . . . a happy (?) thought . . .

And a far cry from the snow are the spring flowers now in bloom . . . Mrs. Eva McDonald has some Oriental poppies which usually appear in May or June and Mrs. John Boss Sr. has a transplanted Easter lily with buds . . . blooming for the second time this year.

PEOPLE FROM surrounding towns often marvel at the school spirit in Charlevoix . . . they don't understand it for everyone from the youngest to the oldest seems to have . . . Friday's pep meeting may in some small way explain it . . the kindergarten with the boys wearing football helmets and the girls wearing little red and white caps which spelled out Charlevoix as they stood in front . . . accompanied by their own band they sang a Charlevoix fight song . . . they got a big hand from the high school students . . . and no wonder . . .

And speaking of football, the Rayders are doing all right by themselves and their coaching staff . . . and aren't their new home uniforms "purty"? . . . we like the gray and maroon combination . . it's something new and different . . .

A NOTE from Mrs. Ruth Bodley last week tells us that her daughter, Barbara, who contracted polio while visiting in southern Michigan is out of the iron lung and has been transferred from the University Hospital to Munson Hospital at Traverse City . . . She's still in bed however but can use her right arm quite a lot, her left arm a little and can wiggle her toes . . . quite an accomplishment for a youngster who was so very ill not long ago . . She loves hearing from her friends so drop her a line at Munson . . . those days can be mighty long and one can get mighty lonesome so give the youngster a thought and a card

Don't forget to start planning that Christmas parcel to that serviceman overseas . . . he'll be a long ways from home this Christmas and it won't hurt anyone to send some little remembrance . . . it's a small thing to do but it's going to mean so much to those swell guys over there . . . and you'll feel a lot better for having done it . . . believe us . . .

We were told once that we'd never really heard the Star Spangled Banner played until we'd heard it played by a military band with thousands of servicemen standing at attention on a huge military field . . . perhaps . . . but any day we'll take our own little band on our own football field with those players on the field, the youngsters in the stands and all the others standing at attention . . . the hope of the future, they say, lies in our youth . . . if that be true then we're not going to worry about it . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Young of Ainslee st. have received two most interesting letters from their son and daughter-in-law, Capt. and Mrs. Harold Young and family, who recently made a trip to Norway and Sweden to visit his parents' relatives. Capt. Young stationed in Germany with the army, took his family to visit his mother's relatives in Norway whom she hadn't seen in 40 years and to Sweden to visit his father's family whom he hadn't seen in 43 years. The letters gave detailed news of both countries, the conditions there and of the relatives they were meeting for the first time. As Mrs. Young said, "It was the next best thing to making the trip ourselves."

CLAYTON SMITH was telling of an experience he had one evening last week while driving along US 31 south of town . . . from out of nowhere, it seemed, came what he believes to be a bullet which hit the windshield at an angle and shattered it right before his eyes . . . and it also shattered his composure for a second too . . . No one could give an explanation for the accident . . . Now that hunting season is on, "fer heavens' sake, be careful."

Our grand old man of corn, Prof. Perry G. Holden, observed his 85th birthday anniversary Friday . . . On Sunday his daughter, Mrs. Ellsworth Besemer, had a few friends in for a social afternoon and refreshments . . . we can't help but feel that's it's a real inspiration to be associated with such a great and wonderful person . . . let's hope he'll have many more anniversaries and that we'll be invited to help him celebrate them . . .

Why Should You Give?

Why should you give to the United Campaign?

The answer is simple: You're a member of a community, a state and a nation in which great progress is being made toward achieving greater health and happiness for everyone. Research, study and treatment facilities that are necessary for this progress cost money.

Yes, this kind of progress costs money just like progress in other fields costs money. In most other fields the cost of progress is spread over years and is borne by the people who use the product or benefit by the progress.

When you buy a television set you don't pay for just the materials that go into it. You help to pay the cost of the research and study that made television possible . . . you help pay for the work now going on to improve television.

A man may choose whether or not he wants a television set. But he isn't asked if he would like to have arthritis, polio, heart disease or multiple sclerosis.

These things cost money too. And in addition they take away much of the person's ability to earn money.

Think how slow progress in fighting these diseases and difficulties would be if only the unfortunate victims were called upon to help finance the expensive research, study and facilities necessary.

When you make your contribution to the United Campaign you might almost consider your gift a personal insurance policy.

Your dollars can't protect you against getting any of these diseases.

But your dollars are put to work at once in research projects, in perfecting medicines, treatments and diagnostic techniques and in establishing treatment facilities.

If you, or your children, should become victims of any of these diseases more will be known about the disease and better treatment facilities will be available because YOU have helped.

Have YOU paid this year's premium on your health and welfare insurance?

Girl Scouts will Collect Clothing

The Senior Girl Scout troop 2 has been organized into a service group. Their projects during the year will be a series of services to aid in the community.

The first project will be the collection of clothing for children in the 1 through 14 year age group to be given to the welfare department.

The girls will call for the clothing, make all necessary minor repairs and prepare the articles for immediate use.

If anyone has any articles which could be used they are asked to call Edith Olach at 599.

Miss Olach and Mary Ann Murphy are the troop leaders.

Troop members are Kay Ikens, Cynthia Smith, Darlene Houck, Darlene Mason, Karen Smith, Patsy Ratigan, Sue Beaudoin, Elaine Poole and Paula Warner.

WCTU Meets with Mrs. Jake White

The W.C.T.U. met Friday at the home of Mrs. Jake White for their regular October meeting.

Mrs. Floyd Bartholomew led the devotions. Mrs. White had the lesson on "The doors of our community". Her topic was the church in relation to the temperance cause.

Mrs. John Funk reported on the 66th annual State meeting held at Kalkaska recently.

Plans were also made for the roll call luncheon to be held next month.

County Red Cross To Meet Oct. 26

The Charlevoix county chapter of the American Red Cross will hold its annual meeting and election of officers at the court house in Charlevoix at 8 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 26

At that time a new chairman will be named and the budget discussed.

Above: 1951 Packard "300"—one of nine exciting new models

THE YOUNG IN HEART, of every age, have claimed this daring new Packard for their very own. Overnight, with a steadily mounting tide of immediate orders, they've made it the most successful new Packard in our 51 historic years!

And here's authoritative confirmation of their good judgment . . .

From Hollywood comes news that the Society of Motion Picture Art Directors—America's foremost fashion-judging group—has awarded its coveted trophy to Packard as the most beautiful car of the year, "the car which, in our opinion, embodies the most advanced concepts of automotive styling."

Definitely, here is a car you must not miss!

Rampaging Rayders Gird For Harbor Springs 11

. . . And the Red Rayders of Charlevoix keep rolling. They tangle with Harbor Springs this Friday away from home. As one rabid Charlevoix supporter said after that 59-6 trouncing given Gaylord, "the only thing that will beat the Rayders are themselves."

True, every team in the conference has set its eyes on knocking off Charlevoix. It can be done but it's not likely as long as the boys play each game, one at a time and don't let down. That is when upsets are brewed. Take a look of the upsets in the college games this year.

Coach Del Terrill is doing his utmost to keep the Rayders "up" for each game. Harbor Springs is smarting under that 40 to 0 drubbing administered by Pellston which seems to be gaining momentum as the season swings along.

The Rayders, in rolling to their 38th straight game without a loss, won in easy style over Gaylord. The offensive might of the Rayders was impressive and the team as a whole played bang-up football.

The team this year has been rolling along in creditable style, gathering finesse and "know-how" in each game. This year's team is a well-balanced line and versatile backs. They have a will to win and play together as a unit.

The stars were many in the Gaylord game. In fact the whole team starred. Now on to Harbor Springs and victory No. 39.

IT HAPPENED ON . . . .
BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

It's round up time on the Island and Beaver beef is going to market. Last Monday, 35 two-year old calves belonging to James W. Gallagher were put aboard the North Shore for shipment.

Trucking cattle to the dock from the country and getting them aboard the boat is no small job. The majority of the bovine beauties resent being transfered from green pastures to the truck and to the boat and it takes experienced Beaver Island cow boys to handle the situation. James went to the mainland with his ship load of cattle.

Perch fishing is a lively business these days. Perch nets are yielding more than in the past five years. Willie John Gallagher, Rolland McCann, Joe Sendenburg, Joe Gallagher and John Martin are setting nets regularly

THE BEAVER Lodge is going up right along even though the progress was hampered to some extent by rainy days.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Johnson are in Pentwater for a few weeks.

Little Nancy Elms was released from the Charlevoix Hospital Monday. She was returned to the Island by Joe McPhillips.

Doctor and Mrs. Russell Palmer returned to the Island from their fall vacation Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Carlisle are spending several weeks on the Island.

ANOTHER NEW car landed on the Island recently. This time it is a new Chevrolet for our Domincan nuns. The Johnny Andy Gallaghers bought the car the nuns have used for the past two years, a late model Chevy.

Norbert Gallagher, Rochester, Ind., recently visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Gallagher.

Marguerite Connaghan and Charles Dudley, her nephew, were in Charlevoix for a few days last week.

It's hard to describe in mere words the breath taking beauty of Beaver Island this time of the year. The color combinations are a feast to the eye.

Don Campbell and Harold Hampton, Charlevoix, made a trip to the Island in the "Beaver", Don's yacht, to capture some of the Island's fall beauty with their camera. The two plan to reproduce the scenes on canvass during the winter months.

MRS. MARY ALLERS, who spent the summer months with her daughter, Mrs. Herman Pischner, has returned to her home in Kalamazoo. Mrs. Allers lived for years on the Island, and before the days when the Island had a resident doctor, brought into the world many of the Island's lads and lassies. Mrs. Allers is 92 years of age and is far from being on the "back list". She flew to Charlevoix in McPhillip's plane and enjoyed being up in the air very much.

Mrs. Dan Gatliff and children arrived on the Island last week for an indefinite stay. Dan is in the Marine Hospital with a serious operation coming up.

Kett Gillespie is feeling much better after being on the sick list for several days.

HENRY ALLEN arrived Wednesday for a stay of five days.

Every one is busy chinking up cracks before winter sets in. On the Island where we get the full sweep of the wind from all directions, plugging up cracks is vital for comfort.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Wright and Mrs. Wright's sister, Mrs. Best, left Friday for their winter home in Florida. Mrs. Wright was most anxious to see their brand new home which was built this past summer while they were on the Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McDonough returned from Grand Rapids Tuesday.

Joe Jodin, Norman Mominee and Ira Munding all of Toledo are visiting on the Island and are staying in Joe's cottage, the former Christie Gallagher's home Ira, who was on the Island a few weeks ago, entertained a large gathering at the Shamrock Friday evening showing two reels of his trip to Beaver.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cuddington arrived on the Island Friday for the opening of small game season. They are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McDonough. The Cuddingtons, who are great favorites on the Beavers, are being entertained with rounds of gatherings.

KARL ERBER arrived Saturday with a party of friends for the opening of the hunting season. With him were Doctor Pikes from Traverse City and Warren Shapten, game division biologist from Lansing.

Sunday was a beautiful day for the opening of hunting season. By evening reports began to come in from the day's luck. The Erber party went out for sharptail grouse with the assistance of bird dogs and the kill was seven or eight birds. The majority of Island lads went out for rabbits. Next week, with the assistance of conservation officer, Carl Keubler, your reporter expects to have a more detailed account of the first week of the season. According to Carl, he spotted a field Sunday morning with about one hundred and fifty grouse feeding. In case you want to know, folks, it was out near Tom McCauley's farm.

Legion Women Plan Activities for Year

Plans for the year were made by the American Legion Auxiliary when they met with Mrs. Eva McGhan Monday evening.

Committees were named by Mrs. Vance Walstad, president, and plans discussed for various activities during the winter.

Gifts for the Veterans' gift shop at Fort Custer were also discussed. The remainder of the 25 gifts requested will be purchased this week and all gifts will be packed and shipped.

Three new members joined the group. They were Mrs. Oscar Smith, Mrs. Robert Hamilton and Mrs. Lloyd Barnett.

A Hallowe'en party for members will be held at the home of Mrs. Lewis Brant later this month.

Ex-Islander Paints Mural in Chicago

A former Beaver Island resident, Allie McDonough, was mentioned in the North Town News, a weekly newspaper of West Rogers Park, a Chicago suburb, recently.

McDonough, a portrait and landscape artist, is currently painting a mural at one of the leading resturants, in which he is depicting Hawaiian, Mexican and California scenes as well as murals on sports.

McDonough who lives in West Rogers park with his wife, Geraldine, and three children, was born on Beaver Island. While he has had no formal art training, he developed his talent through the years. He is treasurer of the Uptown Artists Guild and has exhibited at the Guild and Mandel Brothers galleries.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Senior Girl Scout Troop 2 held an organization meeting recently and elected officers for the year. They are: president, Kay Ikens; vice president, Karen Smith; secretary, Patsy Ratigan; treasurer, Sue Beaudoin.

A potluck supper was planned for their former leader, Miss Marion Pletcher, when she returns to Charlevoix this fall.

A dish sale and a book sale were planned as a means of raising money for camp. The troop decided to devote a large part of their winter program to being service scouts and doing their part for the war effort.

ball on the 21 after Wallace recovered a fumble as the quarter ended.

A pass from Wallace to Fair-Banks as the second period started brought the ball to the 5. Two plays later Wallace scored on a quarterback sneak. Fairbanks' kick was good. Score: 19-0.

It was at this point Coach Terrill started substituting and during the second and third periods sophomores and juniors were used almost entirely.

After consistent ground gains and a pass by Cunningham, Donaldson, Left and Wallace, the ball was on the 1. An offside by the Rayders brought it back to the six-yard line from where Left took it over for the fourth touchdown. The kick was low. Score: 25-0.

In the second half Hardy, Fairbanks, Left, Johnson and Bryan scored for the Rayders and Kuras for Gaylord.

Sheltrown intercepted a Charlevoix pass on the 31-yd. line. On the next play Browe recovered a Gaylord fumble. One play later Hardy scored from the 32 behind fine blocking. Fairbanks' kick was good. Score: 32-0.

AN INTERCEPTED pass by Fairbanks who went from midfield to score came a few plays later. Cunningham's kick was good. Score: 39-0.

Fairbanks intercepted a pass attempt and returned it to the 35-yd. line. Johnson, sophomore full-back, made two yards on a line play and Fairbanks took a short pass for a first down. Left went through the line for another touchdown. Cunningham's kick was good. Score: 46-0.

Johnson scored next from the 25 yd. line after T. Donaldson had received a Gaylord punt. Cunningham's kick was good. the score was 53-0 as the third period ended.

GAYLORD'S lone tally came early in the period after they took to the air and moved the ball into a scoring position by a series of passes and line bucks. Fleming passed to Kuras from the 12-yd. line to score. Bowman blocked Hirsch's kick. Score: 53-6.

A line plunge in the last quarter by Bryan took the ball to the 16-yd. line but a Rayder offside set it back to the 22 from where Wallace carried it to the 1-yd. line on the next play. Bryan went over for the touchdown. The kick was missed. Score: 59-6.

The game ended minutes later with Gaylord trying desperately for another touchdown.

The entire squad, including the men who were seeing extensive action for the first time, made fine showings all through the game. Some of the best blocking seen this season was made by backs and linemen alike.

CORRECT RECORD

Charlevoix sport fans will note that the Gaylord victory was No. 38 in the Rayders' string and not No. 37 as generally believed. Bill Wallace and Dale Suomela checked the records and brought it to the Courier's attention. During this victory streak, going back to 1945, the locals have scored 1096 points against the opponents 79. Charlevoix has averaged 29.6 per game against 2.1 for their opponents.

Limit In Grouse

Karl Erber and his party including Circuit Judge Charles Brown, Dr. Donald Pike of Traverse City, Warren Shapton, conservation biologist, Tom Joynt of Traverse City and William Remine of Traverse City and Al Wilson of Traverse hunted for three days on Beaver Island. They shot their limit in Sharptail grouse.

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank all my friends, relatives and the Oddfellows for their many expressions of sympathy during my recent bereavement. 42c

Mrs. Joe Moore.

Be sure to give to the Community Chest drive. Starts Monday. Many drives in one solicitation.

With Deep Appreciation

We wish to thank the doctors, nurses and aides in the Charlevoix hospital, the relatives and friends that visited me and the many kind things done while I was in the hospital. Also those who turned out to help on our house. I am at home now and will appreciate visitors anytime.

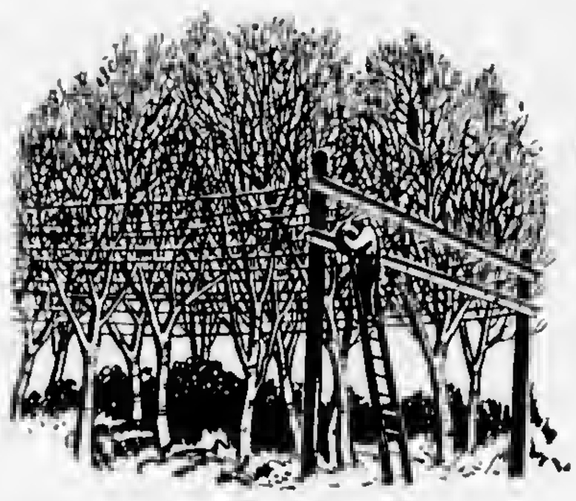
Rural Tele-news



BARK THAT BITES — To test various types of insulating coatings for telephone wires, Bell Laboratories maintain a dense birch forest in New Jersey. Wires strung through the forest show how different materials resist the rubbing action of tree limbs under actual outdoor conditions.

TIME WAS when the horse and buggy offered rural families and friends the only means of visiting back and forth. With the telephone, "visiting" without leaving the farm became possible. Now, extended area service, which permits subscribers in certain neighboring communities to call one another without a specific toll charge, is bringing telephone users on the farm even closer to their social and marketing centers. By the end of this year, over 200 Michigan Bell exchanges will have this new service.

USEFUL . . . AND FUN — A survey shows that more than half the farm families served by Michigan Bell use their telephones for reaching the doctor, dentist and veterinarian, and for ordering parts, repairs, feed and supplies. "Visiting" with friends and arranging church and social activities are high up on the list too.

These days you can't tell from the price tag how much quality a car holds. Ford, for example, is still priced with the lowest . . . yet in other respects it's in the fine car class. Take its styling, for examples for two years in a row Ford has been the recognized fashion leader.
Like America's finest cars Ford offers you a V-8 engine. No other low-priced car does. Nor does any other car at any price offer you a choice of V-8 or Six engines. And remember, Ford's V-8 costs hundreds less than most sixes—Ford's Six costs even less.

Missionary Union Plans Meetings At Ellsworth

Ellsworth — The Atwood-Ellsworth Women's Missionary Union will hold two meetings Monday, Oct. 30. An afternoon meeting will be held at 1:30 at Atwood Christian Reformed church and an evening meeting at 8 at Ellsworth Christian Reformed church.

Rev. Albert H. Smit, former missionary to China and one of the last to leave when Communists took over, will show an illustrated lecture on China and will speak on conditions in Korea at the evening session.

Other speakers are Rev. Herman Moes, home missionary for Christian Reformed churches in Canada, and Miss Cora Vogel, missionary to the Indians in New Mexico. Keep this date open.

Church Delegates Hold Busy Session

Ellsworth—Two delegates from each of the 26 congregations of Classis Muskegon of Christian Reformed churches met Wednesday at Ellsworth Christian Reformed church.

Business sessions started at 9 a.m. and lasted until 5 p.m. with time out for meals, served by members of the Dorcas and Junior Ladies Aid societies of the church.

Farm Roofs Need Much Better Care

Estimates say that 40 percent of the roofs of farm buildings in Michigan are galvanized sheets. According to Ed Rebman, county agent, the same surveys disclosed that about 50 percent of these roofs are rusty and should be cared for to stop further loss of metal.

A. J. Bell, agricultural engineer at Michigan State College, has supplied the agent with a few tips on paint selection for metal roofs.

He advises that metal roofs be coated as soon as rust is observed. This conserves paint and extends the service life of sheets. Badly rusted areas should be steel brushed to remove loose rust. The roof should then be swept with a broom. Two coats of paint should be used over bad rust--and a second coat is always a good investment. "Spot paint" rust areas first; then give entire surface a complete coat.

On choice of paint, the engineer states that asphalt, red or blue lead; aluminum; iron oxide; and metallic zinc paint are used for different effects. Asphalt is of value on closing very small holes and is cheap; but has the disadvantage of absorbing heat and is low in coverage. Red and blue lead are used as prime coats and must be covered with another paint to withstand the weather. Aluminum is used as a finish coat only. Iron oxide of at least 40 percent red oxide content makes a good prime or finish paint, is reasonably low in cost, and is fairly serviceable. Metallic zinc paint is the most durable for galvanized roofing, weathers well, and gives high coverage.

Rev. Faber Accepts Ellsworth Call

Ellsworth—Rev. Morris Faber, pastor of East Paris Christian Reformed church, has been called to serve as pastor of Ellsworth Christian Reformed church.

Cathay

Cathay, a name occasionally given to China in literary use, is often mentioned in Marco Polo's writings. But, the Venetian traveler of six centuries ago explains, it should be applied only to the portion of China north of the Yangtze river—the part which today is largely Communist-held. Manzi is the corresponding name of Marco Polo's time for the domain to the Yantze's south.

Charlevoix County Farm News

Dairy Farmers Face Problem In Feeding Right Minerals

Dairy farmers in Charlevoix county may be losing money in supplying minerals to their cattle, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent advised this week. Minerals are important, the farm adviser pointed out, but added that feeding minerals not needed, failing to feed essential minerals, or paying to much for commercial multiple-minerals is costly.

From Jim Hays, extension dairy specialist at Michigan State College, the agent received these rules which he thinks will enable farmers to feed minerals properly and economically:

SALT: Common salt should be provided for cattle of all ages on a "help-yourself" basis. When salt is supplied this way none need be added to grain rations. The salt should be "loose" if the time of daily access to the supply is short. Do not throw salt in the manger at feeding time,—an intake of too much or too little may result. "Block" salt, as the sole supply, should be used only when the cattle can get at it practically all day long, as where they are on pasture, in a pen-type barn or have containers at the stanchion line.

If the cattle keep in good health and in good production no other mineral need be fed.

Iodized salt should replace common salt if "big neck" or goiter occurs in new born calves, a signal of an iodine deficiency in the herd feed or water. Commercial "Trace Mineral Salt" contains sufficient stabilized iodine to prevent goiter.

Trace mineral salt should replace common salt when a deficiency of cobalt is indicated by cows lacking appetite for grain, by young stock lacking appetite for roughage or grain, or by any animals showing depraved appetites as when they chew boards or eat hair. The response to providing needed cobalt is quick. Improvement will be noted in a few days.

COBALT-SHY: calves are special problems. When calves getting milk are unthrifty, lack appetite one-fourth ounce of either cobalt sulphate or cobalt chloride in one quart of water. Feed one teaspoonful a day till the calf improves. Feeding trace mineral salt to such calves does not seem to correct a cobalt deficiency quickly enough.

STEAMED BONE MEAL, containing phosphorus, need not be fed to dairy cattle unless they have a depraved appetite that feeding trace mineral salt, containing cobalt, does not cure. Calves or young stock practically never need extra phosphorus. Cows may lack phosphorus where the ration consists of only cereal grains, but not if the grain contains at least one sixth of a high protein feed such as soy bean oil meal. Such concentrates and mill feeds like bran are rich in phosphorus.

To feed steamed bone meal, mix it with common salt or trace mineral salt, one part of bone meal to three of salt. Feed the mixture as you would common salt.

Demonstration on Building Terrace Set for Oct. 20

A demonstration on constructing a diversion terrace will be held next Friday afternoon, Oct. 20 starting at 2 p.m.

The demonstration will be held at the farm of Clayton Healey who lives on the Peninsula. This demonstration is sponsored by the Board of Directors of the Charlevoix Soil Conservation District and will be assisted by E. B. Watkins, Farm planner and Ed Rebman, County agricultural agent.

All farmers whether interested in a soil conservation plan or not are invited to attend this demonstration. Taking care of water is just as much of a soil conservation measure as preventing land from blowing away.

By the use of terraces and diversions this water is moving soil over a sod strip and whereby does not cause any erosion by washing. The equipment needed for this demonstration will be regular farm equipment which every farmer has at the present time.

Several of the newly purchased Holstein heifer calves are shown as members of the Charlevoix Veterans Institute viewed the calves on their field day trip last week.

County Farmers Buy Holstein Heifer Calves for Better Herds

Thirty grade Holstein heifer calves out of high-producing herds in Jefferson and Dodge counties, Wisconsin, have been imported into Charlevoix county by seven members of the Charlevoix county Veterans' Institute.

The calves were purchased in an effort to give their buyers improved foundation stock on which to build dairy herds.

The six weeks old calves, trucked to Michigan, were purchased by Robert Reidel and Vestal Clark of Wilson township; Roy Magee, William Jenkins and Frank Salisz of Boyne Valley township; Donald Kotesky of Bay township and Lloyd Cummings of Marion township.

SIXTY MEMBERS of the Veterans Institute participated in a field trip last week to see the new stock as well as other farm practices, equipment and buildings of a desirable nature.

During the day five farms in the county were visited. They were the Peter Winnick farm in Hayes township where they inspected his dairy herd and saw new farm equipment in use; the Robert Potter farm in Marion township where they saw the calves brought from Wisconsin last year; the Robert Reidel farm in Wilson township where they saw six of the calves brought from Wisconsin recently as well as a new stall-type barn, a new silo, rye planted in a cornfield to cut down erosion and young stock in summer pasture.

AT THE Nurval Kurthase farm in Boyne Valley township they examined a novel chicken house built of fence posts and a herd of pure-bred Yorkshire pigs; and at the Art Nieloy farm in Wilson township they viewed a new pen-type barn and a holstein herd.

Accompanying the group were their instructors, Floyd Ayres, Ellsworth Besemer and John Frith.

ORCHARD NOTES

By Claude Fairman

In planting young fruit trees, a short trunk is desirable and with some shade from the limbs to protect the trunks from the February sun.

In cold winters, the sun will thaw out one side of the trunk and then when it freezes hard, the bark will split. Leave one or two low branches on the southwest side of the young tree.

Get the bulletin "Trimming young fruit trees" from the county agriculture agent's office. While trimming has a stunting effect on the tree, it is better to shape the tree during the first two or three years while it is adjusting itself.

THIS WILL PREVENT the limbs from splitting down when the tree gets older. Limbs growing straight up are not desirable. Limbs growing straight out are the strongest and should not pass the 45 degree angle.

Do not cut off the leader or the tallest limb going straight and space the others at a fair distance. A good sized yearling tree can be cut back to a whip, only leave one branch on the southwest side.

This large yearling should have red bark. A smaller tree with gray bark should have most of the branches left out. An extra large tree should have four branches left on and in all cases some of the limbs should be nipped back in order to leave the leader the strongest and largest.

After the tree is well shaped and spared it needs no more trimming until it bears. Young trees should be hoed and cultivated the first year, using no fertilizer. Wire protectors should be placed around each tree before winter sets in to protect against mice.

REMOVE SNOW from around the tops of trees before too many thaws. As the snow settles and freezes to the limbs and then thaws again it has a tendency to strip off some of the limbs. Trimming trees young or old serves to make it easier to spray or harvest the crop.

Except peaches, any trimming cuts the yield and tonnage and stunts the tree and eventually the fruit itself. Sweet cherries need little or no pruning. On sour cherries cut out dead or real weak wood only.

APPLES need very little trimming until the tree gets to be 25 years old or more. Pears, little or no pruning at any time.

Peaches that have come to a bearing age need more trimming to produce new growth for the next year's crop. However, even peaches are usually trimmed too much.

Only two legs of lamb are obtained from each animal.

For Your Fall Work...

AN A-C TILLER DISC

Turn under small grain stubble. Destroy weeds. Conserve moisture and reduce erosion by weaving stubble or stalks into the soil with the Allis-Chalmers heavy-duty Tiller Disc Plow. Ideal for chopping corn or cotton stalks—for terrace building and conservation work.

In hard, dry land the sharp-edged 24- or 26-inch blades cut uniformly with less power. In trashy soil, tapered roller gang bearings keep discs rolling steadily — to turn, not push, the earth.

Rugged, 3, 4, 5 and 6-blade tiller disc plows fit your tractor, your soil, and your type of plowing. Heavy adjustable scrapers are standard equipment.

Ione Mosier Emerald Howe Exchange Vows

Ione Mosier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis N. Mosier, became the bride of Emerald Howe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Sheldon, at an impressive ceremony solemnized at the Church of God Saturday afternoon. The Rev. W. D. Wood read the double ring service before an altar decorated with baskets of autumn flowers in pastel shades.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Elmer Barber, at the organ, played a program of traditional wedding music. The Charlevoices, sang O Promise Me and The Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Barber also played the wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a white dressmaker suit, a headdress of white mums and navy accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of white mums centered with a gardenia.

Attends Bride

Donna Rose of Ann Arbor as her only attendant wore a blue dressmaker suit, navy accessories and a headdress of yellow mums which matched her colonial bouquet of the same flowers.

Jerome Whitley assisted the bridegroom as best man and ushers were Dick Marshall and Jack Mol.

Mrs. Mosier selected a navy print dress with matching jacket and navy accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Sheldon, mother of the bridegroom, wore a wine dress, and navy accessories. Both had corsages of yellow mums.

Wedding Reception

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents. A tiered wedding cake graced the refreshment table which was decorated with white tapers and silver bells. Bouquets of autumn flowers and white wedding bells were used about the rooms. Mrs. Whitley, Mrs. Glenn Ingalls, Mrs. Robert Lieberman of Saginaw and Nancy Heering of Mt. Pleasant assisted.

The couple will reside here following a wedding trip through the upper peninsula.

Both are graduates of the Charlevoix high school. The bridegroom also served three years in the army before attending Ferris Institute where he graduated recently.

Among those from away who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Payment of Empire; Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Grosvenor, Mrs. William Swartz, Mrs. Harry Garthe of Leland; Mrs. Eda Kolinski, Mrs. Jessie Smith and Mrs. Phil Jagmin of Traverse City; Mrs. Robert Lieberman of Saginaw; Mrs. Irwin Gilbert of Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Firestone of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. William Swaboda and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dennis of East Jordan; Nancy Heering of Mt. Pleasant.

Marion School Votes Against Annexation

A special school meeting was held at the Marion Center school Oct. 12 to vote on the proposal "Shall Marion Center School District No. 9, be annexed to Charlevoix School District No. 1" The proposal lost by a vote of 23 to 9.

After the meeting the school board was authorized to investigate the possibility of transportation of pupils within the district. This will be decided at a later date.

Joe Martinchek Honored at Party

A birthday party was given in honor of Joe Martinchek, Tuesday night by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Martinchek. Seventeen boys and girls spent the evening playing games.

Those present were Annabele and Albert Raymond, David Wachelin, Tom, Judy and Louise Brun, Eugene and Neoma Drost, Lucille and Lucy Himebauch, Phyllis French, and Beverly and David Richard. Joe received many gifts. Lunch was served.

Bride Honored At Three Showers

Ione Mosier, whose marriage to Emerald Howe was an event of Saturday was honored at three showers last week.

The Michigan Bell telephone operators entertained recently at a miscellanous shower at the home of Mrs. Bruce Henley.

A social hour and card games were followed by refreshments served at a table centered with a bride's cake topped by a miniature colonial bouquet.

Other guests besides the operators were Mrs. Louis Mosier, Mrs. Flossie Bulock and Mrs. Lynn Sheldon.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. Jerome Whitley invited a group in for a social hour, games and refreshments served at a table decorated with a miniature bride.

Present were Mrs. Frederick Keie, Mrs. Melvin Plum, Mrs. Louis McKenzie, Mrs. Claire Martin, Mrs. Jack Mol, Mrs. Don Wales, Mrs. Lester Gallagher, Mrs. William Lusk, Mrs. Don Brown and Mrs. Robert Lieberman of Saginaw.

Mrs. Carl F. Kohler and Mrs. John Mol entertained Thursday evening at the former's home for Miss Mosier. A bridal couple and autumn flowers decorated the mantle for the occasion.

Invited guests were Mrs. Glenn Kosé, Mrs. William Fisher, Mrs. Klaus Andersen, Mrs. William Heering, Mrs. Ray Hamilton, Mrs. Louis Mosier, Mrs. John Rathburn, Mrs. Elmer Barber, Mrs. Oakley J. Hammond and Mrs. Glenn See.

High School Girls Form New Group

A club to be known as the Future Homemakers of America has been organized at the Charlevoix high school under the direction of Miss Grayde Patterson. The purpose of the organization is to create a greater interest in homemaking and in the community.

Gail Krahnke has been named president. Other officers are: vice president, Patsy Ratigan; secretary, Joyce Hardy; treasurer, Joyce Cunningham; son leader, Patsy Ratigan; reporter, Karen Smith; historian, Mary Foley; parlimentarian, Janet Wojan.

The group was invited to East Jordan Thursday evening to witness the iniation ceremony. The Boyne City and Ellsworth clubs were also guests. Refreshments and a social hour which included round and square dancing followed the program.

Mrs. Lawton Reports On Gladiola Stalks

Mrs. A. B. Lawton, Rock Elm correspondent for the Courier, reported that her gladiolas have been producing extra blossom stalks this year. She wondered if other residents had the same experience.

Several of her bulbs have produced two and another produced three stalks. The secondaries, she reported, are more slender than the first ones and show up about the time the first ones come into bloom. When the early ones are cut, they bloom.

Red Rayders See Spartans Win Tilt

Thirty members of the Charlevoix Rayders, accompanied by Coach Del Terrill and Ray L. Kipke attended the William and Mary-Michigan State game in East Lansing Saturday. They made the trip via bus with Homer Brady as the driver.

Leaving here at 6:30 p.m. Friday they spent the night at the Wright Hotel in Alma and continued to Lansing Saturday. They had an opportunity to visit the Michigan State campus prior to game time.

Charlevoix school district which extends into Antrim county will receive only four mills as it is a fractional school district (drawing students from another county) Antrim county allocated four mills for schools and because the school district must levy a uniform tax, it must be the minimum which in this case is four mills.

It makes no difference that the Charlevoix school district showed a need for five mills. It must abide by the uniform millage.

Supervisors during the long session expressed their feelings that they were not notified of the meeting of the state tax commission with the county allocation board and therefore could not appear for their respective townships. They also maintained they were not notified of a ruling whereby the schools could be allowed the five mills and the townships be left with no millage.

The state tax commission said that the schools which appealed to the state tax commission should have appealed through the county with which they share fractional territory if they hoped to receive more than four mills.

THE SCHOOLS versus county controversy on the allocation brings into focus another problem. The townships, according to the county road commission, now cannot share the expense of snow removal which they have been doing in the past.

It may result in many township roads not being kept free of snow and ice this coming winter as the county road commission is having a financial struggle of its own.

Several supervisors were quite outspoken in their views against the millage split which means rural areas will have a snow removal problem to solve.

The session here was marked by the appearance last Friday of a member of the state tax office who explained the state's position on these matters.

- Theresa Zeitler of Detroit spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. John Zeitler Sr.
- Mrs. Gertie Kison and Mrs. Minnie Stoffell of Muskegon spent the week-end with Mrs. C. R. Munyon.
- Among those from away who attended the funeral services for Joseph W. Moore recently were Mr. and Mrs. George Ross of Dearborn, Mr. and Mrs. Ailer Poole and Mrs. Edna Novotny of Battle Creek; Dean Moore and Sidney Babcock of Muskegon; Mr. and Mrs. Eyre Babcock of Mackinaw City; Mrs. Robert Moore of Petoskey; Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Saunders and daughter of Detroit; Clayton Saunders of Bellville.

Rayders Face Tough Foe in Pellston Team

Verbal Sparks Mark Council's Decision On Hospital Site

Verbal fireworks marked the city council's meeting Monday night as the council voted to give a parcel of land to the hospital for its new building provided that the hospital pays for the construction of utilities.

At a meeting where tempers of several persons flared, the council approved a motion by Drew Young to give the hospital its choice of available city-owned lots with the proviso of paying for the sewage lines, power and water lines. Harry Geheau was the only alderman to vote no on this proposal.

While there was implied objection to locating the new hospital at the trailer park site, only a few residents appeared to raise their voices against it. One of these was George Haggard who maintained the utility cost would be prohibitive. He also stated that the hospital site committee lacked any authority from the hospital board.

THIS WAS denied by Herbert Schofield, activities chairman for the drive, who said that a board member more than a year ago was empowered to determine the site choice. Kit Carson, chairman of the fund drive, informed Haggard that he was willing to sign a contract for $4715, the amount which the city had said it would cost to construct utilities.

The debate between Carson and Haggard continued for a few minutes, but the council finally came through with a compromise in the form of Young's motion, leaving it up to the hospital committee to choose its own site.

The hospital site issue posed quite a problem to the council as there had been considerable protest raised, the councilmen said, against the lake site as being costly and too luxurious.

This was refuted by the hospital committee, headed by Carson, who said the building will cost very little more to construct there than at the present site. Too, the architect's plans for which a hospital building group has paid $4,100 for preliminary drawings cover the lake site. This would have to be junked if the site was changed, he said.

Gebeau favored letting the residents vote on whether the city should sell for $1 the trailer park to the hospital group. Ed Edwards and Frank Oleksy spoke in favor of the lake site, but John Wolf opposed it, saying that 31 out of 35 people he had talked with, objected to the lake location.

The council decided to ask for bids for a loader, a two-ton truck and lamps for the street lights. The rest of the meter posts on Clinton street, near the laundry will be removed and stored.

Hal M. Hill, superintendent of utilities, said that there are $2,177 in delinquent water bills. He was authorized to cut water service to delinquent water users.

City Workers Offered Raise Of 6 Percent

The city offered a 6 percent raise in pay to all city employees at its meeting Monday night. All but the electric department workers accepted the hike in wages effective as of Oct. 21.

The electric workers meeting with their union spokesman indicated they want to study the offer before giving a decision on it. The spokesman objected to the 44-hour work week provision, saying that it is contrary to the wages and hours act.

Effective Jan. 1, the city will permit the men to be included under social security. The city will pay the employer's share of 1½ cents per wage dollar and the employes will contribute a like amount.

This raise for city employes will cost this city about $5,000 a year.

Thomas Jensen, 63 Stone Mason Here, Taken by Death

Thomas T. Jensen, 63, of East Jordan, former resident of Charlevoix many years and a well-known stonemason, died Friday, Oct. 20 in the Charlevoix hospital.

Funeral services were held at the Watson Funeral home, East Jordan with Elder Ole Olson officiating. Burial was in Lakeside cemetery.

Mr. Jensen leaves his daughter, Mrs. Thomas Nielsen of East Jordan, four granddaughters, three sisters, Mrs. Joseph Hyatt, Detroit, Mrs. Julia Rude and Mrs. John Hall, East Jordan, three brothers, Elmer, East Jordan, Lawrence, Ellsworth route 1 and Tim, Detroit.

Mr. Jensen's wife, Iris, died Jan. 24, 1949 and a son, Wesley, died in 1929. He was born Sept. 23, 1887 in Norway, coming to this country as a small child.

Ex-Marion Resident Claimed by Death

News was received here last week of the death of Mrs. Lilly Black, Oct. 11 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John E. Wilson in Kalamazoo. Mrs. Black, the daughter of Alfred W., and Margaret Wilkins in Birmingham, Eng., was a pioneer resident of Marion township. She settled there with her husband, Capt. William Black.

She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Wilson and Miss Cecelia M. Black of Rochester, N. Y., and a granddaughter, Mrs. Geraldine Rice of Kalamazoo.

Rushed to Hospital

Frank Hammond, 82, was taken to the Charlevoix hospital via ambulance Wednesday morning after he was found on the floor of his house by his niece, Mrs. Nellie Meyers, who lives nearby. It is believed he suffered a stroke Tuesday evening or during the night.

Rev. W. D. Wood Declines Call To Serve Milwaukee Church

The Rev. W. D. Wood, pastor of the Church of God, will observe his eighth anniversary in Charlevoix on Sunday.

He has also announced that he will remain in Charlevoix after declining a call from a Milwaukee, Wis., church.

It is Charlevoix's good fortune that he has made this decision for he has not only served his church well but has given generously of his time to various community projects.

Under his guidance his church has paid its mortgage, has purchased a new Hammond organ and is now constructing Fellowship hall.

The congregation has also resumed the responsibility of a heavy foreign mission program and has contributed a $1,000 each year for several years to the program above its regular budget.

IN COMMUNITY activities he has been a member of the Charlevoix Kiwanis for five years, has served as its president and as lieutenant governor of Kiwanis district No. 9.

For the past three years he has taught the Dale Carnegie effective speech and human relations course at Traverse City, Petoskey, Alpena and Flint and plans to continue the work this winter. He was also chairman of the Kiwanis White Elephant sale for one year and funds chairman for the annual Red Cross funds drive. He is now a director of the Charlevoix county Red Cross chapter. Last spring he was a candidate for the office of mayor.

A NATIVE of Belding, he attended the Church of God college and seminary at Anderson, Ind., for six years and served his first pastorate in Joliet, Ill., for 6½ years before coming to Charlevoix.

He and Mrs. Wood have two children, Russell and Jean.

North Shore Back After Repairing Leak

The motorship, North Shore, of the Beaver Island Transit Co., returned to Charlevoix Tuesday after a trip to the dry-dock at Sturgeon Bay, Wis., for repairs.

The boat had developed a leak in the hull and the damage repaired prior to the storms and the busy season which will start with the deer hunting season next month.

The boat had passed a mine inspection earlier this month.

The boat resumed the Beaver Island run Wednesday. During its absence the fishtug, Lucille, owned by Rasmus Hendrickson carried the mail.

Dickens, Shakespeare Clubs View Paintings

The Dickens club entertained the Shakespeare club October 16 at Maude Miller Hoffmaster's Studio, Traverse City. There were 60 members present.

Mrs. Hoffmaster showed the guests her paintings and entertained them with stories of her productions. She is a painter of landscapes and an author. Her recent book is "Nee-Na", a children's book on wild flowers.

Tea was served. Mrs. Roy Bennett, president of the Dickens club and Mrs. Karl Erber, president of the Shakespeare club poured.

Death Claims E. B. Watkins, 31 Farm Planner

E. B. Watkins, farm planner and soils conservationist for Charlevoix county, died early Wednesday at the home of relatives whom he was visiting. He was 31 years old and lived in Boyne City.

He came to Charlevoix county less than two years ago and was well-known to farmers in this area. His unexpected death shocked Ed Rebman, county farm agent, and other county officials.

He was a pilot in the AAF during World War II. He leaves a widow and an infant daughter. He graduated from MSC. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Community Chest Raises $500 In First Two Days

The annual Community Chest drive got off to its start Monday in an effort to raise a total of $5,817. Workers reported Wednesday that $500 had been collected in the business section during the two-day period.

No report was available from the residential district as ward captains had not received a report from their workers.

The drive will furnish funds for the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Santa Claus Anonymous, Community Nurse, Charlevoix Hospital, Cancer Control, Emergency Fund and United Fund.

Everyone is being urged to contribute generously to these organizations so they may continue their valuable work.

Farm Bureau Urges Farmers to Vote

Fifteen members of the Barnard Farm Bureau attended the October meeting at the Sanford Matchett home.

A discussion on Blue Cross health insurance brought out that one in every three persons in Michigan is covered by Blue Cross.

The group decided that its members approve the proposal calling for a 30-day residence instead of 20 days the one calling for the state to bond for $65,000,000 for mental hospital construction, the proposal to stiffen the anti-communist elements and against the legalization of yellow oleo.

Most members expressed the belief that a more flexible price support for farm products would help to avoid farm surpluses.

The next meeting will be held at the Mick Cunningham home Nov. 16. All members were urged to vote Nov. 7.

Heinz Pickles Will Resume Operations

The H. J. Heinz Co., will resume operations in the Charlevoix area in 1951, John Knudsen, area supervisor, disclosed this week.

Mr Knudsen has been notified that all stations will be opened again. Farmers wishing to grow cucumbers should make their plans now.

Visitors May Provide Biggest Test of Year In Try to End Streak

Their offensive punch growing stronger each game, the Red Rayders of Charlevoix face what could be their most dangerous foe tomorrow afternoon at Kipke field when the Pellston high team comes to town.

The Rayders and their coach, Del Terrill, feel certain that the locals will be in for a rough time against Pellston which has played a jarring brand of football all season. To date they have dropped games to East Jordan and Boyne City.

The Pellston team, called by northern Michigan sports fans, the toughest in the area, comes here with a good chance to spoil the Rayders streak which has now reached 39 games.

THE RAYDERS scoring easily against outfought Harbor Springs last Friday put the 39th notch in their streak by a margin of 52 to 12. Coach Terrill played his sophomores and untried boys several times against Harbor.

Despite the win, Terrill was not satisfied with pass defense, particularly against that lateral-forward used by Harbor to score two touchdowns and several other large gains.

The Rayders scored twice in the opening period when a pass from Don Hardy to "Peg" Bryan clicked and Tom Donaldson ran around end for the second marker. Ron Cunningham scored on a 49-yard run and Jerry Left from the five in the second stanza.

Bill Wallace flipped an aerial to Charles Fairbanks in the third period and the Rayders came back strong to score twice in the final quarter. Cunningham legged it around end for 30 and a marker, Bryan intercepted an enemy pass and scooted the 40 and Wallace hit Fairbanks with another pass.

Both Harbor Springs scores resulted from passes in the final period.

Charlevoix punted once during the game. Jim Bowman, veteran center, who has been playing the best ball of his career, really had a good day. He was a tower of strength in the forward wall along with C. Krahnke and Fairbanks.

Five minutes after the game started, Charlevoix had its first score. Cunningham set it up with two nice runs and Fairbanks caught a pass to Harbor's 23. A pass, Hardy to Bryan, was good. The try by Cunningham was no good. It took only five plays.

FOUR MINUTES later the score was boosted to 13-0. Norm Ketchman hit Dean Boss for a first down on Harbor's 30. Hardy smashed up to the 15 and Donaldson zipped through for the score. Krahnke put the key block to enable Donaldson to cross the goal.

At the start of the second quarter Cunningham squirted through the line to outrun his opposition to score standing up from the 47. A fumble by Troup of Harbor aided Charlevoix to get its fourth score.

After Paul Johnson picked up five to the 5-yard marker, Left drove over for the score. The conversion was blocked.

Wallace had a hand in the next score, smacking Fairbanks with a pass from his 35-yard

Need Furniture, Old Clothes for Kiwanis Sale

Here's a chance to get rid of some of those items which have been cluttering up the basement and attic.

The Kiwanis annual White Elephant sale to raise money for underprivileged children in the Charlevoix area will be held Nov. 9-10-11 at the Charlevoix Oil Co., showrooms.

The Kiwanians need plenty of merchandise if they are going to help the needy children of the community.

So let's call 162 if there is something you no longer need and wish to donate to the cause. Anything of value is the measuring rod. It makes little difference what it is--old furniture, clothing, books etc.

Call 162 today or anytime in the next week and your items will be collected.

Kiwanis Hear Talk On Heart Disease

Dr. H. B. Hall of Traverse City, heart specialist, spoke to the Kiwanis club Monday night on heart disease and what is being done in research to combat the No. 1 killer in this nation.

He related that the Community Chest and United fund throughout Michigan makes it possible to carry on research to determine causes and reduce the attacks. The Michigan Heart association is a member agency of the United Fund.

Dr. Hall said that more than 600,000 persons in this nation die of heart disease, as compared with 180,000 who die annually from malignant diseases.

One Rotten Apple Can Spoil The Barrel

Said Harry S. Truman in an address on April 24 of this year: "We know that the greatest threat to us does not come from the Communists in this country . . . Under the supervision of the (Loyalty Review) Board, the loyalty program has rid the Government of all employees who were found to be disloyal and they were only a tiny fraction of one per cent . . . They (the Communists) are noisy and they are troublesome, but they are not a major threat." (Parentheses ours—Ed.)

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said on May 2 of this year: "The Communist Party possesses a well-knit, closely-disciplined destructive force of approximately 55,000 members in the United States. Behind this force . . . stand a half million fellow travelers and sympathizers ready to do the Communist bidding."

This means that today—and as a conservative estimate—there is one Communist Party member for every 2,735 Americans in the United States . . . one Communist sympathizer for every 300 Americans . . . one for every 200 adults . . . one for every 100 children.

Hoover further has warned: "Forty-eight per cent of the membership of the Communist Party is in the basic industry of this country . . . they would be able to sabotage essential industry in vital defense areas in the event of a national emergency."

One rotten apple can spoil the barrel. One disloyal person can betray a vital defense secret. One thousand Alger Hisses in strategical places in the Government (and that would be only a tiny fraction of one per cent!) can do— and have already done—irreparable damage to American security.

Hiss was not caught in the Loyalty Board's screening processes. Neither was Judith Coplon. Neither have others been.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

Did you ever watch a sea-gull in a strong wind? It's the most amazing thing the way they ride the air currents. We watched one on a windy day last week and instead of wasting his efforts flying into the wind he coasted on the air currents and was doing alright with very little effort on his part . . . At times he seemed to be losing altitude and almost going backward but it wasn't long before he was way out over the lake . . .

Have you heard that they're thinking of re-naming one of the wards at the Charlevoix hospital . . . the new name will be the Charlevoix high school ward . what with three of our football players there the new name would be quite fitting . . . there's Jim Elzinga, Junior Roberts and Tom Bleha . . . and while you're about it, why don't you drop in and see them or drop them a card . . . don't forget they received their injuries while playing for your school . . .

And if you haven't gotten that parcel off to your serviceman, remember, the time is getting short . . and Nov. 15 will be here before you know it . . .

And speaking of Nov. 15, have you noticed all those stag sessions going on around town . . . a few men here and another few on the corner . . don't be too concerned about them . . . it's just deer hunters making last-minute arrangements before making their annual trek into the wilds . . . Is it possible that the time is almost here? . . . Not long ago we were commenting on the beautiful Indian summer days . . . a certain hunter said, yes, they were lovely, as long as they didn't continue after about Nov. 10 . . . he wanted cold weather and a little snow . . .

We had a report on another Easter lily about to bloom for the second time this year . . . Mrs. Hair found one in her yard that had several buds on it and quick-like potted it and brought it inside . . . After the beautiful days we had early last week we can expect a lot of untimely bloomings . . .

What will YOU be doing this Friday afternoon . . . unless you've got something pretty important to do we hope you'll be up at Kipke field cheering the Rayders on to victory . . . this will be No. 40 if we can take it . . . Pellston's come a long way since the opening of the season . . . added to that their coach Ray Brown said in an interview a few years back that his one wish before he quits coaching was to have his team trim Charlevoix . . . We hear via the grapevine that this will be his last year . . . It's going too be a hard game . . . probably our toughest to date . . . how's about coming around and letting the Rayders know you're behind them . . . they're a grand gang and they play hard . . . not just at game time but five days every week . . . and if you don't think so, just watch them some night . . So to the team and Coach Del Terrill our best . . .

National flower week will start next Sunday . . . for one week . . . maybe we shouldn't tell this and spoil the surprise but we understand that all new mothers whose babies arrive during the week will receive something 'special' from your local florist .

Have you noticed the cleverly decorated wild-life window at Staley's . . . we think it's pretty nice and a grand opportunity to see some of the smaller animals . . We're also beginning to wonder if we'll recognize our town . . . what with all the changes being made . . . new windows at Dal's barber and beauty shop . . . a new tots' department at Geik's and a whole new front of Onaway stone and glass at Hess' furniture store . . . it will certainly add to the town . . .

A letter from Dave Hamilton who was inducted into the army recently tells his family that he is now stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., where he'll have six weeks of basic training before starting a course of specialized training. The other recruits who left with Dave are now at Camp Polk, La., a letter from a former resident, Ed Holmes whose home in now Mancelona, says he's at Fort Benning, Ga., he is the grandson of Mrs. Bessie O'Brien . . . we'd like news of any servicemen when you have it . . .

Superstition IS A KILLER!
Copr. A Featurers Exchange Inc. 1950

Everybody knows that the evil witches and mischievous goblins of Hallowe'en are only a harmless joke to entertain children. Yet, incredible as it may sound, some grown-ups who would laugh at a pumpkin head are willing slaves to dangerous superstitions concerning their health. They trust in charms and incantations — When you are ill, see your doctor. He alone, by academic training and experience, is qualified to treat you.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

You Can't Build A Better Mousetrap!

"They're not the best-looking boarders a man ever had," Hack Turner said one day, "and they've got awful tempers. But I've found it pays to have 'em around."

Hack was talking about a family of barn owls, nesting in his silo this year. Some folks believe those little white-faced screechers kill chickens—and ought to be shot on sight. But Hack disagrees.

"Up at State University they've studied barn owls for years—and never known one to eat a chicken. On the other hand, a daddy owl will clean up around 300 mice a month. Farmers that kill barn owls are throwing away the best mousetraps known to man!"

From where I sit, when someone shows a prejudice against any group of animals or humans—it's usually just based on misunderstanding. For instance, some folks are plumb intolerant about those of us who enjoy an occasional quiet glass of beer. Get to really know us and you're liable to find we're pretty good birds at that!

Plan Many Tests For Ellsworth Pupils

Ellsworth — Henry Smith is planning to give the high school many different tests. He plans on giving the California Mental I.Q. test to the sixth, eighth and tenth graders. To the eleventh grade he would like to give the Kruder interest test.

The comprehensive English test is only to be given to the eighth grade. To the tenth grade he is giving the University of Michigan check list test. The purpose of these tests are to compare our school to other schools. It also gives the teachers a chance to see if they are teaching the right things.

Annual PTA Harvest Is Huge Success

Ellsworth — The annual PTA harvest festival Tuesday was a big success. Everything was sold. There was such an abundance of articles that it kept both of the auctioneers perspiring quite freely as they took turns.

There was everything ranging from candy and cakes to potatoes and a bale of hay which was bought by the comedian of the evening, Pete Wieland

On the brighter side of the evening we find Pete Wieland asking permission to scratch his nose when the bid was raised on an article he was bidding on. Also we find that a woman didn't think they were getting enough for an article and raised her own bid. It was Mrs. Don Seifred.

Student Drivers Must Have License

Ellsworth—All boys and girls under 18 must have a operators license to operate their car or their parents.

All beginning drivers are required to take a theory test about Michigan laws that pertain to operating a car on the public highway and they also must pass a drivers test which includes the actual driving of the automobile. These tests are given by law enforcement officers approved by the state.

Banks Township School News

Ellsworth—There were quite a number of improvements made during potato digging vacation.

In the shop they have built a magazine rack which hangs on the wall. On Monday we got the new lathe which is much better than the old one.

They laid the tile on the hall floor and have painted the walls.

The Home Economics room was redecorated. The new cupboards were painted white.

The ceiling in the boiler room was plastered.

In the commercial room they have another table, so Mr. Aylsworth moved his desk to another corner. In the typing room they have their new tables.

The shop boys are making two new screens for the Hot Lunch kitchen.

New Principal

Donald Siefred is the principal of the High School this year. He attended State Teachers College at Oswego, N.Y., where he received his barbelor of Science degree.

Last year he taught Industrial Art and Drivers Education at Red Creek, New York.

Mr. Siefred served two years in the Infantry. Most of which was spent in the Phillipines and Japan. He is married and has two children.

Home Economics

The decorating of the Home Economics room is now completed. Our Home Economics notebooks were returned Monday from being corrected, with very good marks. We are going to start making Christmas gifts.

Girls Basketball

The Girls had a meeting Tuesday October 17, 1950. There are twenty-two girls going out for basketball. Mrs. George Brown and Mr. Henry Smith will coach. They are planning to schedule more games. These are the four games scheduled.

Hot Lunch News

The hot lunch started on Tuesday, October 17. If you buy one day meals it is fifteen cents per day or seventy-five cents weekly. The menu for the first day consisted of Macaroni and cheese or Macaroni and tomatoes, peanut butter sandwiches, milk, apples and string beans. We are one of three schools in all northern Michigan giving type A meals for fifteen cents.

Kindergarten News

We are enjoying some new toys that Mrs. Claude Dawson sent to school with Cluadia and Cathryn.

We also have some new beads, clay puzzles and games which have been furnished by the school.

We wish to thank everybody who has particapated in helping us get these things.

1st and 2nd Grade News

Our room wishes to thank Mrs. James Elzinga for the lovely plant she sent down to us.

We are enjoying our new workbooks in arithmetic, and also the new puzzles, games, and clay.

We are sorry that Wayne Goeman is sick, we hope that he will be back soon.

Education probably won't make us all leaders, but it can teach us which leader to follow.

Boyne Theater Offers Many New Features

The Boyne Theater in Boyne City, reopened last Saturday after a major job of remodeling. One of the additions to the theater include a "cry room" where mothers can take their infants and still enjoy the movie. A glass, sound proof partition makes it possible for mothers to have a comfortable seat while caring for the infant.

The north wall is completely reconstructed with new brick exterior. New sound and projection equipment, new lighting, new heating and air circulating system, a new balcony and completely new marquee are some of the new improvements.

The theater's sound, termed one of the best in northern Michigan, is even better. The theater is also being completely redecorated.

The new marquee, the latest in advertising movies, is expected in the near future. Albert Worthing and Boyd Heaton said they expect the installation to be completed in the next two weeks.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The meeting of Girl Scout troop 2 was called to order last Thursday evening by president Kay Ikens.

The three new members who attended are Joyce Hardy, Gail Krahnke and Marlene Kaunitz.

A suggestion was made that we sing Christmas carols for county hospital at East Jordan.

We are trying to collect used clothing for children whose ages range from one through fourteen years.

A recording machine was used at the meeting and we found out how our voices really sound. We sang songs and had them recorded.

State President Speaker at Farm Union Meeting

S. P. Martin of Stanton, president of the Michigan Farmers Union discussed "Land, and Rising Costs Are No Help to the Farmers" at a meeting last week of the Antrim county Farmers Union and the Triangle local. A large turnout was reported.

Martin declared that the smear tactics used by big business to discredit the Farmers Union were the same as were used against David Lillienthal, former Atomic Energy chairman and Owen Lattimore, Department of State adviser and many others who have tried to save the common man.

Ernest Lyons, secretary of the hospital insurance fund, reported on insurance and enrolled several members for policies. LeRoy Hardy reported on the burial fund.

Archie Murphy read a report on the decrease in prices and production between 1929 and 1932. His report showed certain comparisons like the price of farm machinery which decreased in price only 14 percent while production fell 84 percent but farm production decreased only three percent but prices fell 54 percent.

The next meeting will be at the Hayes Local at Hayes township hall Nov. 21. Potluck lunch will be served.

Dangerous Pellston Tangles with Streaking Rayders in Top Game in NMCC Play

The Rayders, still rolling along that victory trail, will meet their roughest opponent of the year tomorrow afternoon when it tangles with Pellston.

Pellston, whose record this year includes defeats by Boyne City and East Jordan, cannot be accepted on the basis of past performances. They have been playing an improved brand of ball, and their play has been called the roughest in years by several opposing coaches.

The Charlevoix team, possessing a winning streak of 39 games, seems to be growing stronger on the offensive side as the games go by. But the local lads have to be up for Pellston or else there will be a rude awakening, Coach Del Terrill maintains.

The play of Jim Bowman has been improving each game and it now looks like he is the best center in the league. His defensive tactics have stood out in a forward wall which is rated a hard working unit. The passing attack has been clicking and against Harbor Springs, everybody got into the act.

Ron Cunningham, Charley Fairbanks, Greg Bryan, Tom Donaldson, Don Hardy, Bill Wallace as well as the sophomores showed to advantage. Coach Terrill used his whole squad in an effort to give the younger lads game experience.

It's going to be a rough game but the Charlevoix team should continue on its winning way. C'mon, let's take on Pellston and then Mancelona.

Full Production '51 Profit Key Say Economists

Farmers, recovering from what economists termed the "profit squeeze" years of 1948-49, are at present digesting many forecasts of fairly prosperous years ahead.

What's in the picture for the Charlevoix and Antrim county farmer in 1951? The following conclusions are summarized from this year's outlook issue of Michigan Farm Economics as prepared by agricultural economists at Michigan State College. The monthly publication is an M.S.C. Extension Service feature.

As "mild" inflation continues, net farm earnings will rise above the levels of 1950. Wise farm management will accomplish this through full and even expanded production as farm product prices rise. Plans should include putting the farm business in shape to operate in high gear, not only in 1951 but for several years. The increase in farm prices in the year ahead is expected to average 10 to 15 percent above the average for the first half of 1950.

THERE'LL BE troublesome changes, too. Farm expenses will rise 5 to 8 percent and taxes 10 to 15 percent, over the 1950 level. Labor will become more scarce, and decisions on what to produce or what to buy will be more imporant to determine a profit or loss.

Some specific suggestions by M.S.C. ag economists include:

1. Buying or renting additional land if needed to increase size of operations will generally be good business.

2. Cash crops, on farms where they fit, will have an advantage price-wise over livestock, but on most general farms it will be best to maintain a good livestock load. Meat products will be in a stronger position than dairy and poultry.

3. Consider new outlays for machinery and improvements carefully before buying, but if needed . . . the sooner the better. Order and get next year's fertilizer and seed as soon as possible if storage is available.

4. In many cases it will pay better to put more emphasis on volume-less on quality. It may not be the livestock with the best finish, for example, that will make farmers the most money. This will be especially true for both livestock and crops if price controls should be placed on farm products.

5. More emphasis on labor saving equipment and building arrangements will help ease the pinch of a tightening labor supply.

The economists predict that if price ceilings come they will be at favorable levels. The latest legislation provides that ceilings cannot be set on farm products at less than parity or less than the highest price from May 24 to June 24, 1950, whichever is the higher.

Serving of Lamb

To serve lamb at its best always serve it hot or cold. It should never be served lukewarm. When served hot, roast lamb should be served on a warm platter. One easy way to warm the platter is to hold it under warm water for a few minutes. And in carving leg of lamb, always remember to carve across the grain of the meat.

Girls Compete in Grange Contest

Barbara Poquette and Betty Warner are representing the youth of the Charlevoix county Pomona grange at the state grange meeting being held in Muskegon this week.

Barbara was selected as Cinderella of the Pomona grange when her name was choosen from among county girls and women from nine granges in the county who were candidates for the honor. Later she was presented with a pair of silver slippers which she will wear at the program Wednesday evening when the girls who will represent Michigan at the national grange meeting will be selected from candidates from all county granges in Michigan.

Barbara is 14 years old, a freshman at the Charlevoix high school and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Poquette of Hayes township.

Betty will represent the youth of the area at the state meeting after being chosen as one of three delegates from the state grange camp near Traverse City last summer. The camp is one of two sponsored by the Grange in Michigan.

She is 17 years old, a senior at Charlevoix high school and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Warner of Norwood township.

Delegates to the state conventions are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Martinchek of the Marion grange and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bergmann of the Wilson grange.

Cattle Feeding Hits New High

Cattle feeding is at an all-time high and is likely to continue at present or increased levels through fall and winter and 1951.

Thirty-four percent more cattle were on feed July 1 than last year, but many are scheduled for later marketing this fall. Livestock production is on the increase and meat production during the last two years has kept pace with the growth in population. Emphasis placed on grassland farming the past year will have a tendency to increase livestock numbers. The annual consumption of meat has changed very little from last year, season for season.

Shipments of stocker and feeder cattle into the eight corn belt states during the first six months of 1950 were 29 per cent larger than in corresponding months of 1949. The number of calves going to the country was 19 percent higher than in 1949, indicating that cattlemen are trying to keep their investment down and make their profit on cheap gains, not margins.

THE WAR situation may cause some cattlemen to feed longer, for heavier cattle, rather than sell and invest in higher replacement cattle. War coditions also bring in a certain amount of risk and speculation with heavier cattle. In normal times these cattle would go to the packer for slaughter. This should take away some upward pressure on feeder cattle prices. However, the demand for meat may cause the packer to dip into the feeder alley for many of his cattle. This could cause feeder prices to follow or even exceed fat cattle prices.

Grass on western ranges has been good this year. Many ranch men may do more fat cattle feeding this year which would decrease the number of cattle coming to market.

Fall Leaves Start Good Compost File

When you burn that fall accumulation of leaves you're letting good fertilizer for your garden and shrubs go up in smoke, Dr. L. M. Turk, head of the soil science department at Michigan State College advises. He suggests you use them to make a compost pile which will furnish artificial manure for next spring and summer.

By putting the leaves, grass clippings, mature weeds, corn fodder and straw in a pile and treating the plant refuse with commercial fertilizer and ground limestone, valuable humus may be returned to the soil, Turk reports.

Many a man is forced to turn over a new leaf because his wife can read him like a book.

Milk Producers Will Meet Tonight

Milk producers from Emmet, Charlevoix and Antrim counties will attend a meeting at 8:30 p. m. Thursday (today) at the Charlevoix city hall.

The meeting was called by a committee of the Charlevoix Development Inc., to disruss the feasibility of starting a cheese plant here to service the district. S. E. Coleman, John Boss of Maxbauer's, Harold Totten and John Reid have been handling arrangements for the meeting.

Similar meetings have been held at Bellaire and Kalkaska. Farmers interested in obtaining a better market for their milk are urged to attend.

ORCHARD NOTES

By Claude Fairman

Fertilizing fruit trees has always been a big problem and it is generally thought by most specialists that nitrogen was the only fertilizer to use. I understand that the county agent can have your soil tested for the most common deficiences of nitrogen phosphorus and potash.

I think our best soils, or heavier lands not too badly washed out or hilly wohld contain most of the essential minerals. Off hand, most of our soils are low in phosphorous so it is a safe bet to add this material to the nitrogen or barnyard manure.

Manure and humas such as alfalfa hay is very good on any soil. Here at home we use phosphate on one aisle or on each side of the tree going up the center between the rows and nitrogen on the next aisle and then next year the reverse.

Unless alfalfa or sweet clover has been grown previous to planting an orchard there is usually plenty of potash in the soil. Sometimes the tree will load up too heavily with potash and not take in enough of the other elements.

However, sandy or light soil needs a complete fertilizer in any case and an all-mineral such as El-Min-Ell. All old fruit trees need a complete mineral and sometimes an added amount of borax.

Well fed fruit trees producer better flavored fruit and this is more noticeable in apples. Some apple growers are using large amounts of nitrogen around apple trees with good success. One grower reports using 100 lbs. per tree.

It is always better for the orchardists to carry out his own experiments over a period of years. As each different kind of fruit needs different treatment as well as the different varieties of each kind of fruit.

Poultry Conditioner

Farmers are finding that molasses is one of the best poultry conditioners.

See for yourself by using one of the following in your next grist.

Farm Bureau Milkmaker contains 7% molasses
Farm Bureau Bureaulass contains 25% molasses
Kandilass contains 50% molasses

Fight Blackhead

Fight blackhead in the turkey flock with Enheptin, a truely great drug to combat dread blackhead.

It can be used mixed in mash either to control blackhead after an outbreak starts, or to prevent outbreaks of blackhead by feeding smaller amounts of the drug continuously to the flock.

Now Is The Time

Clover and alfalfa seed should be brought to the Farm Bureau Co-op for custom cleaning.

Farmers having clover and alfalfa seed are urged to bring it in within the next few weeks.

DECEMBER FIRST is the absolute deadline. We can't accommodate farmers after that date.

line, to make it 31-0.

Seconds after the last period started, Harbor started its offensivo machine rolling. A lateral-forward from Troup to Swiss to Haven for 30 yards set the scoro up. Troup passed to Haven for the score from the 10-yard line, but his try for the extra point was blocked. Score 31-6.

Hardy took the kick-off back to his 44 and ran on the first play for 14 yards more. Fairbanks flipped a pass and Cunningham got 12 off tackle to the 30-yard line. On the next play, Cunningham eluded three tacklers and rambled over for the marker. His kick was good.

SECONDS LATER. Bryan came out of nowhere and snagged Troup's pass to Kruski and outran Harbor tacklers. Cunningham converted to make it 45-6. Three passes by Harbor helped it get into position to score. A pass, troup to Sterle to Haven, was good for 38 yards and a score. His conversion was blocked.

The final score of the game came when Wallace clicked on two passes to Cunningham, good for 58 yards. He threw to Fairbanks from his 35-yard line and Chazzy was waiting for it. He scored without a hand being put on him. Cunningham's point try was good. The final score was 52-12.

Miss F. L. Edson entertained 15 members of the Petoskey D.A.R. chapter at a luncheon at the Ross tea room Friday afternoon. A social hour followed.

Victory-Happy Rayders Oppose Mancelona In Final Grid Tilt

The Rayders will conclude their 1950 season this week when they meet the Mancelona Ironmen at Kipke field Friday.

Mancelona, in fourth place with three wins and three loses, will come to Charlevoix in the hopes of catching the Rayders 'down' after the hard game last week and easy prey for a team that has knocked off Boyne City, Gaylord and Grayling by sizeable scores earlier in the season.

Coach Del Terrill will be putting his team through their paces all week in an effort to conclude his successful season with a seventh win this year and No. 41 in the win column.

Trailing at half-time by a 12-6 score in the game with Pellston Friday, the Charlevoix Rayders put on a second half drive and came through to chalk up win No. 40 by an 18-12 score in their toughest game this season.

A daring play in the last period when Charlevoix, with 33 yards to go on a fourth down, gambled on a pass and won, gave the Rayders the winning touchdown after they had tied the score in the third period.

The game got off to a bad start for the home team when a Rayder fumble on the 30 yd. line on the first play after the kick-off was recovered by Pellston and returned to the 20 yd. line. Two plays later Don Jarman Hornet halfback, went over from the 6 yd. line for the first touchdown of the game. The extra point was missed and Pellston led 6-0.

CHARLEVOIX found itself in scoring position on the 5 yd. line after taking the kick-off and worked it down on a series of plays and a 15 yd. penalty on Pellston for unnecessary roughness. An off-side penalty set the Rayders back to the 10 yd. line from where a pass by Wallace to Hardy gave the Rayders six points. The kick for the extra point was missed and the score: 6-6.

A Pellston fomble on the 41 yd. line gave the ball to Charlevoix as the quarter ended.

The Rayders kicked into the end zone after they failed to advance in the opening plays of the second period and Pellston had the ball on the 10 yd. line.

The Hornets brought the ball to the 34 yd. line on the next play from where Bonter broke through for a long run which was halted on the Rayders' 6 yd. line by Ron Cunningham who raced from behind to tackle the runner. Three plays later Pickman went over on a pitch-out. Ward blocked the kick for extra point and Pellston led 12-6.

Pellston threatened once more after intercepting a Charlevoix pass but lost the ball on downs as the half ended.

For the first time this season the Rayders were trailing at half time.

The Rayders returned to the field in the second half to show the stuff that has made them the outstanding team they are.

Chest Drive Lags

The Charlevoix Community Chest is lagging badly with only $700 of its $5,715 goal reported collected, Chest officials said late Wednesday.

Workers and captains were urged to make all of their calls within the next week so that a more complete report can be made.

Collections in the residential sections of the city have not been reported, leading officials to believe that most of the solicitation calls are yet to be made.

Fran Martin Heads County Red Cross

The Charlevoix county chapter of the American Red Cross held its annual meeting and election of officers at the courthouse here Thursday evening.

Frances Martin was named chapter chairman for one year and will be assisted by Ralph S. Hamilton and Rev. W. D. Wood, vice chairmen. Other officers are secretary, Mrs. Jessie Haig of Boyne City; treasurer, Mrs. Ethel Crowell of East Jordan; executive secretary, Mrs. Minnie Freidley of Boyne City.

Directors named were Mrs. Elsie Bennett of Charlevoix; Mrs. Hilda Alexander of Ironton; Mrs. Ethel Clark of East Jordan and Gilbert Lindsay who agreed to serve until a successor could be named.

Miss Isabel Aold, area field representative, was present and outlined the need for expanding some services offered by the county chapter and curtailed others. She suggested the chapter plan for an increase in home services because of the additional number of men in the armed forces; an expanded blood program whereby the Red Cross will be expected to stockpile one million units of blood and plasma by July 1 for the military and civilian defense programs.

A communication asking the Charlevoix county chapter to supply 25 Christmas gift packages for the "Christmas on the high seas" program was read and adopted by the chapter. The boxes will be distributed among troops who are enroute to overseas stations during the holidays.

Reports by the various departments were read and accepted and a tentative budget for 1951 adopted.

Last Chance to Clean up for Elephant Sale

This is your last chance to clean out your attic before spring.

The annual White Elephant sale sponsored by the Kiwanis club will be held Nov. 9-10-11. Kiwanis members are still looking for articles of value you no longer need.

Anything from an old chair, sofa to old clothes or books are welcome. Call 162 and the article will be picked up.

All proceeds from it go to help the underprivileged children of Charlevoix.

Beaver's Fame Reaches Foreign Shores

Looking over one of the letters of inquiry from foreign shores asking about Beaver Island are Archie LaFreniere, secretary of the Beaver Island Chamber of Commerce and goodwill ambassador, and Charlevoix's Captain Joe Howard, harbormaster.

Proof that the fame of America's Emerald Isle, Beaver Island, is growing has been received by the Beaver Island Board of Commerce in the form of inquiries from three continents excluding North America.

The first came several months ago from Grafton Poblications, Dublin, Ireland, according to Archie LaFreniere, secretary of the board of commerce. The editor asked for a story and pictores on Erin's counterpart in the New World. The information was sent post-haste to the homeland of Beaver Island's Irish colony.

More recently letters asking for information and literature about the island have been received from Ninevah, Iraq and Aleffo, Syric in the Middle East, Rosario de Sante Fe, Argentine and England.

No indications were given in the letters how the writers heard of the island and what they hoped to find there bot one thing is certain . . . the fame of Beaver Island is spreading to the four corners of the earth.

Joyful Reunion Re-Unites Brothers And Their Niece

Twenty-three years of separation was ended last week-end for Kenneth Forbes of Charlevoix, his brother, Glenn and their niece, whom they had been seeking since 1927.

The joyous reunion came through a lucky break as Ken Forbes described it. He and his brother had not seen their niece, Mrs. Ruby Maschke of Port Hope, Mich., since she was five years old.

The niece was living in Detroit when her mother died in 1925. The girl went to live with her father in California a couple of years later. There the trail ended and no matter how hard the Forbes brothers looked, they could not locate their niece.

The trail led to Alpena, to Flint, to Deckerville and Detroit. Always with the same froitless answer.

Then after long years of trying, the niece heard from a friend in Detroit that there was a Ken Forbes in Charlevoix. A letter brought the welcome news that this Forbes was the uncle she was looking for. The reunion climaxed the search last Saturday.

Glenn and his wife flew here from Detroit. The little girl had grown to a woman with two children. Her great uncle, Ed Seaman of East Jordan and Mrs. Seaman were guests at the reunion dinner. Needless to say they spent the week-end talking about the search and expressing thanks for the reunion.

Mrs. Carson Named To School Board

Mrs. Kit Carson has been elected to the Charlevoix board of education to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Catherina C. Bergeon who resigned recently after serving seven years on the board.

Mrs. Carson will serve until the next school election in July, 1951.

Mrs. Carson is a former teacher and has always been interested in school and civic affairs.

Ypsilanti Couple Buy Brown Estate

Ironton—Mr. and Mrs. John Witte of Ypsilanti have purchased Whitmore Lodge, formerly the Frank Brown estate, on Lake Charlevoix south of Ironton, it was announced this week.

Negotiations for the property were completed at Ypsilanti last week end while Mr. and Mrs. Seth Whitmore, who porchased the property from the Browns over two years ago, were guests at the Witte home.

Serious Condition

Amos Webster, 79, remained in serious condition at the Charlevoix Hospital Wednesday where he was taken after suffering a stroke early Monday morning.

Fred Cartier Recalls Many Changes In Charlevoix During Half Century

Charlevoix's who's who would not be complete without mentioning one of the town's most progressive citizens as well as one of its oldest merchants . . Fred E. Cartier, who for half a century has called Charlevoix his home and who in that time has given generously of himself to make it a better place to live.

Charlevoix was a lovely little village when Mr. Cartier first came here from Chatham, Ont., in 1900. He realized its possibilities and over the years has devoted much of his time and efforts to make it one of the most beautiful resort towns in the state.

He did this by serving on the city council for several terms, as president and later director of the Charlevoix Board of Commerce and as director of the west Michigan Tourist and Resort Association. He was a member of the Charlevoix Hospital board for several years and urged the addition of the west wing.

Throught the years he has backed many civic improvements from the first sewage system installed in the early 1900's to the town's modern sewage disposal system. He was a member of the park committee of the city council and was influential in making the city parks the attractive spots they are today. For most of 25 years he was the local correspondent for a Grand Rapids paper and sold Charlevoix in many ways in the state papers.

He can tell many interesting stories about Charlevoix in 1900 right down to today.

After his first sommer here with the late Mr. Dodge, he returned to Chatham to bring Mrs. Cartier and their two sons, Harold and Claire to Charlevoix.

State Contests, Oleo Issue Certain to Lure Many Voters

The largest turnout of voters in an off-presidential year is expected in Charlevoix county and the remainder of the state next Tuesday.

Some 5,400 county voters are expected to go to the polls to elect county officers, two state legislators, a congressman and a full state ticket.

Also coming in for major attention of voters are the amendments including the one on controversial oleo coloring, bonding for $65 million for mental hospital construction and tightening of the subversion laws.

The rural vote is likely to be big because of the oleo issue. Farm Bureaus, Granges and other farm groups have been active in opposing the proposed coloring of oleo before the housewife buys it.

ALSO EXPECTED to be responsible for the large county vote is the balloting on liquor by the glass in Boyne City. This issue usually brings out bigger vote than normally is the case.

Charlevoix is likely to surpass the heavy balloting of the primary when nearly 900 local residents cast ballots.

Few county races loom. The campaign for sheriff has been the liveliest one to date with Henry Lamb, Boyne City Democratic candidate, visiting most of the communities in the county.

Sheriff Floyd W. Ikens is running for re-election on his record as an enforcement officer for more than 20 years.

There has been little doobt in political circles in this coonty that voters would give former Gov. Harry F. Kelly a handsome majority. But the county GOP is slugging away to make it as big as possible.

GENERALLY speaking, the race for governor is likely to be close with the decision being in doubt until all state returns are in. Kelly has been in Charlevoix county three times in the last six months.

Governor Williams has not campaigned in the coonty bot three of his aides were here last week.

Republicans and Democrats have been active in urging a YES vote on Proposal No. 2 calling for $65 million bond issue for mental hospitals. They point out that Michigan is 40th in caring for mental patients.

THE LEGISLATURE voted unanimously to put this proposal on the ballot. The bonding will be for the lifetime of the buildings. It has been estimated that it will cost Michigan residents 40 cents a year.

As it is now, they say, that there are thousands of mentally ill people waiting to enter hospitals but there is no room for them.

The other amendment received major attention is the oleo proposal. Farmers have been vehement in their protests and urban groups have been strong for it.

A third amendment would tighten up subversive activity control. It is aimed at the Communist party.

Dairy Co-op Elects Officers At Charlevoix

Members of the newly-organized Charlevoix Dairy Products Co-operative adopted by-laws, articles of incorporation and elected officers Tuesday night at the city hall.

Louis Lessard of Bellaire was named president. Other officers are Robert Straw of Charlevoix RFD 3, vice president and C. J. Fiedler, Charlevoix RFD 1, secretary-treasurer.

Directors are: Everett Shepherd of Harbor Springs, Mr. Fielder for one year terms, Ray Stolt of Petoskey, Robert Straw and Peter Winnick, two year terms, Mr. Lessard, John Devries and Kenneth Sweet, three-year terms.

Plans were discussed for a general meeting Nov. 9 for all farmers in northern Michigan who are interested in finding a market for their milk.

County Agent Ed Rebman was temporary chairman pending election of officers.

One hondred and fifteen farmers from the Charlevoix area met at the city hall Tuesday evening to discuss the proposed cheese factory for Charlevoix and to formulate plans for starting such a plant.

Louis Lessard of Bellaire and Ed. Rebman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent, spoke to the gathering on the need for such a factory and how to plan for one.

A committee was named by the group to arrange for an organizational meeting to be held at the high school assemby room Nov. 9. At that time the committee will present a plan for organization and stock will be issued.

Vote "No" On The Oleo Issue

Dairy farmers in Charlevoix county and the rest of the state have a lot to lose if colored oleo is permitted to compete with creamery butter. Your livelihood depends on it.

If yellow oleo is permitted, it will open the door to a host of substitutes for dairy products—oleo milk, oleo ice cream and oleo cheese—which will at first damage and then destroy the prosperity of our great state.

The real issue in the oleo matter is this: Shall vegetable fats raised in the cotton south and in the soybean mid-west and west be permitted to destroy our markets for animal fats in Michigan.

A vote in favor of yellow oleo is the same as voting to move a large part of the auto industry into the cotton south as far as the ultimate effect on the prosperity and employment in this state.

Michigan has 132,000 dairy farms with more than two million dollars invested which, together with 107 creameries and 620 other dairy products plants, is more than twice the assets of the Ford Motor Co.

One out of every six families in Michigan is dependent on the dairy business.

Michigan Voter:
PROTECT YOURSELF AND FAMILY!

① PROTECT YOURSELF
Against Imitation Butter

Your right to know—for sure—that there's BUTTER on the table—is threatened by a move to tamper with Michigan's long-standing imitation-BUTTER law. The present law is a GOOD law. It protects you—your family—and the family table. Especially, it also protects you when you "eat out."

Now, with a referendum vote on this subject on the ballot November 7, it's up to you. It's your job to protect yourself against imitation-BUTTER—to make sure you get the real thing. Vote "NO" on Proposal 4, November 7th.

② PROTECT YOURSELF
Against High Milk Prices

In case Michigan's present law—prohibiting substitutes colored yellow in imitation of BUTTER—is rendered ineffective in the November general election . . . thousands of Dairy Farms will be driven out of business. Milk will become scarcer . . . higher in price . . . as it has in other states which now allow imitation-BUTTER to be sold colored yellow. It is no accident that milk prices in cities in those states are 1½ cents a quart higher than milk prices in states (including Michigan) which maintain a protective law against selling imitation-BUTTER colored *yellow. Keep Michigan milk plentiful—reasonable in price. Vote "NO" on Proposal 4, Novemher 7th.

③ PROTECT YOUR OWN
and Michigan's Prosperity

WARNING: The first year Canada allowed substitutes to be colored yellow in imitation of BUTTER cost Dairy Farmers there 50 MILLION DOLLARS. That can happen in Michigan . . . where 600,000 people depend on Dairying for their livelihood . . . with an investment TWICE THAT OF THE ENTIRE WORLD OPERATIONS OF THE FORD MOTOR COMPANY! Reduce Michigan's income by many millions of dollars and you depress the market for all kinds of Michigan goods . . . besides irreparably damaging Michigan's soil and agriculture.

For your own sake . . . for your family's sake . . . for Michigan's sake . . . VOTE "NO"—on Proposal 4—general election, November 7th!

These facts are published by the Dairy Action League, 415 Hollister Building, Lansing, Mich., working with consumer, labor, farm and dairy groups in behalf of keeping Michigan's present and effective no-tax, butter-imitation law. It is financed by the 600,000 Michigan People dependent on dairying.

Four Proposals for Voters to Decide November 7th

If the Republicans win the state election on Nov. 7, one of the chief factors will be the large rural vote in outstate Michigan. Indications in Antrim, Charlevoix and Emmet counties point to a large vote, chiefly because of the oleo issue, one of four proposals on the ballot.

One of the most controversial items in many years has been this "colored" or not colored oleo margarine. The approval to color oleo was given by the state legislature and signed by the governor.

However, a petition referendum by those interested in preventing colored oleo from competing with butter succeeded in putting the issue squarely before the voters of the state.

With few exceptions, farm organizations in Charlevoix, Emmet and Antrim counties have been busy registering voters and attempting to get out a big vote against colored margarine. If the colored oleo issue is killed it will be because the farmers turned out in big numbers to vote against colored oleo.

The proposal as prepared by the anti-dairy interest would permit oleo to be colored yellow provided it is sold in a separate and distinct form and in such manner as will advise the consumer of its real character . . . in accordance with the federal definition and standard of identity for oleomargarine

Another important proposal for Michigan voters will be for a bonding issue of $65 million to build hospitals for mentally ill, epileptics, training schools for mental defectives and tuberculosis hospitals.

Don't let that bonding issue cause you to vote no on proposal No. 2. Let Probate Judge Supp tell you how crowded it is in our mental hospitals and how people in Charlevoix county who need treatment for mental illnesses must wait for a vacancy at Traverse City or other similar institutions.

Much of this sexual crime can be traced to failure of the state to treat these mentally ill patients simply because there is not enough room for them. It is one thing we must find money for, else people who are mentally ill will become progressively worse and cost us even more in human misery.

Other proposals which will be up for consideration Nov. 7 are: Proposal No. 1—changes an out-dated law for voting of persons in foreign countries and to change residence requirements of electors in any city or township from 20 to 30 days.

Proposal No. 3—Defines subversion as any act or advocacy of any act intended to overthrow the government. This proposal was designed to close the loopholes in the law which permits Communists to move about freely without fear of penalty.

Study these proposals before election day. Learn as much as possible about them. And then vote wisely. Be-sure to vote Nov. 7. It should be a must duty for you.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

A big 'well done' to the Rayders for their fine performance against Pellston Friday . . . did you ever see anything so good in all your life . . . there weren't just individuals on that field Friday but 11 boys who made up one team Such spectacular plays one rarely sees in high school football . . . but the Rayders came through when the chips were down and we love 'em . . . And don't let anyone ever tell you Pellston hasn't got a wonderful team . . . Our best to the Rayders this week-end when they wrap up the 1950 season . . .

And speaking of football, Coach Del Terrill's dad, Bradford Terrill was here from the east and for the first time saw his son's football team in action . . . they sure put on a grand show for him . . .

Now that football season's almost over we were foolish enough to ask what we'd talk about . . and were told but fast that basketball was just around the corner . . . Think you can take it?

WE HOPE you like our little yarn this week on Beaver Island we found it pretty interesting but we're curious enough to wonder how these people found out about the place . . . Had a fine chat with Mrs. Margaret Hanley, our Beaver Island correspondent, about the matter and she's promised to let us know if she hears anymore from the people . . .

We were talking to a lady on the street the other day . . . a lady whom we'd never considered exactly in the elderly stage . . . when a third grader who knew her well came up to her and said . . . We've been studying about the Battle of Pine River and our teacher told us to ask somebody old about it . . . We were a bit taken back for a moment but went on to explain that the battle took place almost a hundred years ago and chances were there wouldn't be anyone around who remembered it and suggested he look at the marker at the Coast Guard hill for further information . . . For a minute we were afraid he might turn to us with queries . . .

Did you ever see such beautiful Injun summer days as we've been having recently? . . . the nights are cold and frosty . . . we had our first white frost last week . . and the days are so bright and beautiful (with a little rain mixed in, we have to admit) . . . but such a treat . . .

There are two robins who returned to our neighborhood last week . . . they're as happy as can be with no sign that they're worried about the approaching winter . . . maybe they've had some advance information that it isn't coming right away (we hope.)

The Leon Josephs and daughter, Barbie, returned to Cincinnati Saturday after a couple years in Charlevoix . . . we were sorry to see them leave . . . their many friends here will miss them but we wish them loads of luck and hope they'll find time to return for a visit . .

Another Charlevoix boy, Chief Bruce Zeitler, U.S. Navy, realized the dream of a lifetime recently when he had an opportunity to make a Holy Year visit to Rome when his ship was in Italian waters . . . Others from the ship accompanied him and while in Rome saw Pope Pious XII . . . he's bringing gifts from the Vatican for his family . . . a grand thing, indeed . . .

Did you see the John Roen tug and its tow when it went through to Advance with a load of stone for the REA project last week? . . It was really something . . . one little old tug towing two loaded barges from Drummond Island . . and such big barges too . . . It's amazing the things they can do . .

Voice of Our Readers . . .

To the Editor:

Regarding the building site for the new hospital, it seems to me that the chosen site should be one which costs the least amount of money.

To me it seems that the present site where we have all the utilities needed without additional cost should be the site selected. The proposed site at the trailer park will result in a greater cost to the city and its taxpayers because of the need of a new sewer, electric and water lines.

We have been told that the reason for building it there is because it is much more quite there. I would like to point out that the Little Traverse hospital was built on two U.S. highways and that they are not bothered by noise.

Another reason given by those who favor the lake site is the beautiful scenery the patients will have looking at Lake Michigan. I would like to have someone show me any person who is injured or ill enough to be in a hospital who is interested in scenery. He wants to get well and go home as soon as possible and not stay an extra day or two to look at the scenery.

I have been informed by an egineer that the additional cost over the present hospital site will be somewhere between $35,000 and $50,000.

I think the people should have a right to say where the new hospital should be located.

George Haggard
Charlevoix

Editor of the Courier:

Most of you in Charlevoix probably read newspaper articles pertaining to my dismissal from the state highway department. The articles neglected to state two facts which I feel are important in this issue.

First, they neglected to state the fact that I had the choice of withdrawing from the election or accepting my dismissal papers, the latter of which I chose in order to offer my services to the people of this county.

Secondly, the articles neglected to state that the highway department in Lansing received their information directly from someone who opposed my candidacy.

I am not trying to condemn my opposition, I am merely presenting the facts of this issue as they are because the fine people of this county have a right to know what is going on. Because of my beliefs and my respect for my opponent, I have carried on a clean campaign and will continue to do so to the end.

Harry Lamb, Democratic nominee for sheriff.

To the Courier Editor:

We have been taxpayers in Charlevoix county for 60 years, more or less, possibly more but no less and I wonder as I wander who 'are the chosen few'—who make the rules, for the taxpayers.

Now take the Ironton Ferry, which I understand was built for the convenience of the people and why should a pedestrian have to wait, meekly wait and murmur not; while the man in a car, who is nicely covered, has service at once!

As it stands now the man who does not own or drive a car must stand and wait, in all kinds of weather until a car happens along—no matter how long that may be.

I understand those who went across the Ferry to vote at the polls a few Tuesdays ago, did not have to pay toll, and who has the right to say who shall pay and who shall not? It seems to me that the person who would like to attend church on Sunday should have the same privilege.

In summer when the sun shines, it is not too bad to wait and wait but when it rains or snows and the cold wind blows, it surely is not the kind of service that we want—or should have.

Maybe you can throw some light on this subject but in the name of common sense let's do something about it.

Signed, Disgusted.

P.S.—I notice others think you can do miracles too.

Dear Vic:

This new Army isn't bad. Drill sergeants are not allowed to holler at the men, and believe it or not to wake us in the morning our platoon sergeant turns on the lights and says "Good morning, gentlemen, formation at 6:15." No shouting, no swearing. Almost like Boy Scouts.

Start basic in earnest Monday morning, (Oct. 16). That will take 6 weeks. Then 6 weeks of special schools for those who qualify. Followed by 12 weeks of actual service. Engineers Construction does work on airfields, docks, bridges, etc.

The weather here is beautiful, lowest temperature is about 60 degrees in early morning, and by 1400 hrs it gets close to 90 degrees. But can't help thinking of the weather at home. Our company commander told us there was no snow here at all last year. The winds raise havoc tho'. He said "In the morning, Kansas blows out of the north, and after dinner, Texas' and Mexico go sailing by from the south."

Would appreciate it if you printed my address in the Courier. Someone I know might see it.

Thank you very much, marked the opening plays of the third quarter which found Pellston with the ball on their own 10 yd line. They returned it to the 19 yd. line from where they kicked and recovered their own punt on the 45 yd. line.

It looked as though they were about to roll again when Fairbanks went high in the air to intercept a Pellston pass which he took to the 21 yd. line where he fell. A series of nine plays took the ball to the 1 yd. line from where Hardy scored. The kick for extra point was wide and the score was tied 12 all.

More penalties on Pellston after the kick found them on their own 5 yd. line from where they punted to Charlevoix on the 41 yd. line Several plays brought the ball to the 19 yd. line where Hardy carried it to the 8 yd. line for another first down. A loss of 10 yards on twn plays and an incompleted pass found the Rayders on the 18 yd. line when they were penalized 15 yards and set back to the 33 yd. line with fourth down coming up.

IN THE NEXT play Charlevoix's line became impenetrable as Fairbanks faded back to the 40 yd. line while Cunningham raced around right end and cut across the field to take Fairbanks perfectly executed pass on the 5 yd. line and score. The kick was missed but Charlevoix led 18-12.

AN EXCHANGE of punts found Pellston in possession of the ball on their own 29 yd line as the game ended.

Pellston made consistent gains through the Rayder line in the first half but in the second period the gaps were closed and Charlevoix showed their reserve strength and aggressiveness to take the game.

Penalties were frequent throughout the game with Pellston collecting 9 for a total loss of 125 yards and Charlevoix 10 for 115 yards.

Cunningham played outstanding ball on both offense and defense and exceptional performances were made by all other 18 men who saw action in the game.

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank my many friends, relatives and neighbors for their kindnesses, flowers, cards and words of comfort, also the nurses and doctors of the Charlevoix Hospital, during my recent illness.

Condition Still Serious for Bob Bergmann

The condition of Robert O. 'Bud' Bergmann, 29, who was accidently shot in a hunting accident Saturday, is slightly improved Wednesday.

Bergmann, a Western Electric employee in Detroit who had come here for the week-end, was hit in the lower abdomen with bird shot fired from a .410 rifle by his brother, Ted, with whom he and another brother, Eugene, was hunting. The accident occurred north of town when the pair approached a thicket from opposite directions while stalking a bird.

Following the accident the brother carried him from the woods and rushed him to the Charlevoix Hospital for treatment.

Second Meeting for Real Estate Course

Second session of Real Estate I, offered in the northern part of the state as a monthly seminar, will meet at Shady Corners on Saturday, Nov. 4.

The course which is conducted by Guy W. Ellis, is being given by the University of Michigan Extension Service with the cooperation of the Emmet County Real Estate Board, the Antrim-Charlevoix Board of Realtors, the Traverse City Board of Realtors, and the Paul Bunyan Board of Realtors. The first session held in Petoskey Oct. 7, was attended by more than 20 realtors.

The Nov. 4 meeting will be held at 202 Michigan in Charlevoix and will follow the same pattern as the first session. The group will meet from 10 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., with intermissions for luncheon and dinner. Topics to be covered by Ellis will be official real estate records, buying and selling motives, advantages of a real estate investment, and building an estate.

Fred Cartier Recalls Changes in Charlevoix

years he was located at 308 Bridge street and changed locations only when the building was razed to make way for East Park

It was in 1920 that he added the "new-fangled" business of dry-cleaning at a time when dealers practically begged you tn buy cleaning fluid, a by-product of gasoline then, at five cents a gallon.

Early in the century Charlevoix was a small village, trying to expand and having its share of growing pains. Bridge street was a dirt street and when you crossed it you were either covered with dust or mud, depending on the weather; trees, which lined both sides of the business section, were boxed in so the horses couldn't chew the bark, board walks ran the length of the street and gutters were of stone; there were no funds to care for the streets and drunks spending ten days in jail formed the street department.

In those days and until the days of prohibition there were five saloons on Bridge st.

SHAKE-DOWNS for police protection, which one reads about today, is nothing new, according to Mr. Cartier, for in the early days the one and only policeman 'assessed' each saloon $5 a year for 'protection' and the money was used to purchase his uniform.

The population was about the same then as now but was composed of fishermen, lumbermen and sailors. As many as 60 vessels, some sail and some steam, entered the harbor daily, hauling freight, lumber and lumber products to and from the area. It was also the home port for a large fishing fleet for commercial fishing was one of the largest industries, second only to lumbering.

Logging and lumbering were in their hey-day then and continued until 1915. Land, covered with virgin timber, could be purchased for one dollar an acre by enterprising lumbermen who cut the timber and let the state reclaim the property for taxes.

IN 1900 the swing bridge which was replaced by the new Memorial bridge was being constructed and all traffic was towed across Pine river on a cable ferry.

His comment about Charlevoix today is probably the same as its been through the years . . . it's a good place to live.

And if, some evening, you see Mr. Cartier walking the length of Bridge street and back, he's just out keeping an eye on the town.

And waiting for him at home will be Mrs. Cartier for their four childen grew up and left Chalevoix long ago to make their way elsewhere. Harold is a construction engineer in New York City, Claire is now a dentist and resides in Grand Rapids, Stanley lives in Chicago and their one daughter, Betty, now Mrs. Willis Cross, Jr., resides in Ludington. There are also several grandchildren.

Note of Thanks

I wish to thank the doctors, nurses and aides in the Charlevoix Hospital for all they did for me, also those who visited me and sent me cards and flowers and fruit while I was in the hospital.

Farm Credit Group To Meet at Gaylord

At its sixteenth annual meeting of stockholders on Nov. 10, the Gaylord Production Credit association of Gaylord will celebrate the fact that it has become entirely member-owned. The meeting place will be the V.F.W. Hall, Gaylord, at 11 a.m.

George Susens, president of the Production Credit corporation of St. Paul will be the principal speaker.

Another important transaction of the day will be the election of one director for a term of three years. The term of Sheridan Rhoads of Comins expires and the nominating committee, has nominated Sheridan Rhoads and Raymond Shaver of Hillman as candidates.

In addition to this, there will be business reports, some entertainment, a free lunch at noon and drawings for door and other prizes.

All stockholders are urged to be present.

Program Announced for 15th Annual Potato and Apple Show

The 15th annual Northern Michigan Potato and Apple Show will be held at the high school gymnasium at Petoskey next Tuesday and Wednesday, November 7 and 8, according to anouncement by Ed Rebman, County agricultural agent. Classes in the premium book include those for potatoes, apples and legume seeds. There are sections for adult growers, Vocational Agricultural students and 4-H club and school exhibits. In addition to the exhibits there will be contests for the Vocational Agricultural, the 4-H clubs and Veterans groups on identification and judging of potatoes.

There will also be an apple pie baking contest under the direction of Emma Fero, home demonstration agent. The pies must be entered not later than noon on Wednesday, November 8. The winners do not have to be present to receive awards. All ladies are urged to bake an apple pie and enter it in the contest.

There will be an educational program starting at 1:30 p. m. on Wednesday afternoon. Walter Kirkpatrick will be in charge of the potato growers section and Carl Hemstreet in charge of the apple growers program. Miss Fero will also conduct a cooking school at 2:00 p. m. The evening program will consist of a banquet at 7:00 p. m. with a family style chicken dinner and will take place at the First Christian Church. The speaker for the banquet is Claude O. Ebling from Superior, Wisconsin. Mr. Ebling in the past, has served as county agricultural agent and an editor of the Stock and Dairy Farmers paper. He is known as the Farm Magic Philospher.

All potato and apple growers and also those raising legume seeds are urged by county agent Rebman to enter exhibits in this show. All schools and 4-H clubs and Veterans groups should plan to take part in the judging contest. Premium books for this show may be obtained from the Cooperative Extension office at Boyne City.

Favorable Prices Expected for '51 Livestock

Livestock producers can expect favorable prices for their product in the year ahead, and should plan accordingly, advise agricultural economists at Michigan State College.

Their optimistic outlook is based largely on (1) expected high economic activity stimulated by government spending—high consumer incomes mean a strong demand for meat, and (2) an increasing population. Current total meat production stayed about the same for the past five years while our human population increased by 10 million.

The economists predict that most cattle feeding profits in 1951 will be made on weight gains rather than margins. Feeder cattle prices are expected to continue high. Producers are advised to keep back some heifers to expand breeding herds if they have facilities and adequate feed.

With a favorable hog-corn ratio in sight, MSC economists think hog producers should find it profitable to expand production in the coming year. This ratio (bushels of corn equal in value to 100 pounds of hog) is expected to be about 13 to 1.

Five County Men Slated for Physicals

Nov. 13 has been set as the date five Charlevoix county registrants will go to Detroit for pre-induction physical examinations, the local draft board has announced.

The board has also been notified that the papers of registrants who were rejected because of insufficient teeth are being returned to the induction station for a re-check. It is possible these men may be called later.

County Farmers To Vote for PMA Committee

PMA farmer-committee elections will be held in each of Charlevoix County's 10 farm communities during the period of November 1 to 15, LeRoy Hardy, chairman of the county PMA committee announced.

Nomination meetings will be held in each community to select candidates for the positions of chairman, vice chairman, member of the community committee, and two alternates. Ballots listing the nominees will be mailed to approximately 1164 farmers in Charlevoix county.

Voting will be by mail and ballots will be received in the county PMA office from Nov. 24 to Dec. 21. Any farmer is eligible to vote who is an owner, operator, tenant or sharecropper on a farm that is participating in any program administered during the current calendar year by the county and community PMA committee.

Farmers in every community will also elect a delegate to a county convention where a county committee will be elected to serve during 1051.

The ballots will be counted by an impartial election board in the county PMA office on December 22.

This provision in farm legislation which gives farmers an opportunity to elect their fellow farmers to administer farm program is one of the most progressive steps in agricultural development in our times. Farmers of Charlevoix county can demonstrate their support of this democratic way of administration by attending the nomination meetings, help select the candidates and by voting for the farmers of their choice.

Time and place of community election will be announced next week.

People who are out for all they can get are soon in for it.

Follow Good Feed Program to Make Dairying Profitable

Dairy farmers in Charlevoix and Antrim counties looking for ways to increase profits through cost reduction might well start says Tim Hodge, Michigan State College research agricultural economist.

Feed, the largest expense item in dairying, makes up nearly half of the total cost per cow. Research at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station has produced a number of suggestions for cutting these costs. Here are three checks on feeding management listed by Hodge:

1--Good quality hay and silage grown on the farm offer nutrients at the lowest possible price. In general, feed as much good hay as a cow wants.

2--Supplement roughages with a grain ration suited to individual cows which will return maximum profits.

3--Watch seasonal feed price changes. Buy grown feed after harvest and soybean oil meal in March. Soybean oil meal is usually an economical buy for dairy production in the summer.

Hodge says two important factors in establishing grain feeding rates are often neglected-- the price of feed in relation to milk prices and the producing ability of individual cows.

When the milk price is low relative to feed—for example when 100 pounds of milk will buy only 120 pounds of grain-- a dairyman can't afford to feed as much grain as when 100 pounds of milk would buy 150 pounds of grain.

Poor producing cows may provide the greatest profit on a ration of one pound of grain to seven pounds of milk produced, while a good cow may be able to make profitable use of grain fed at the rate of one pound to four or less pounds of milk.

Good Ventilation Needed for Spuds

Well-ventilated potato storage will minimize losses from late blight and other soft rot, Michigan State College agricultural authorities advised this week.

One thousand bushels of potatoes put in storage at 52 degrees and cooled to 44 degrees in one month will give off about 75 gallons of water, they say. Electric fan forced ventilation is recommended, especially when air space is limited between the top of the potato pile and the warehouse ceiling.

Enough soil is lost from our farmlands each year to fill a string of freight cars that would reach around the world 19 times at the equator.

Farm Loan Plan Explained in County

The major part of Farmers Home Administration loans in Charlevoix county this year are being used to help farm families readjust their work to changing conditions. Some loans will be made to enable veterans and other young farmers to become established. Farmers Home Administration loans tend to encourage the family farm as the base of American Agriculture. The agency, today, discourages seasonal loans and ones where poor farming will be perpetuated. Farmers who do not want willingly to cooperate with Mr. Rebman, the county agent, or Production Marketing Association, or Soil Conservation Service, generally find a loan difficult.

During the past year over 100,000 farmers in the country, who were unable to get operating or production credit elsewhere, borrowed from the Farmers Home Administation, according to John C. Young, County Supervisor. His office is in the post office building, Boyne City.

According to Mr. Young, these loans run up to five years and are based on individual farm and home plans calling for good practices and such reorganization as will assure an adequate income.

"Give me liberty or give me death" are not the only words of Patrick Henry that go ringing down the years. He also said, "He is the greatest patriot who stops the most gullies."

Cover Crops Aid Fields Many Ways

Though the soil may not complain now about not being covered over winter, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent says that the results show up in poor soil condition later.

Cover crops can be a big help in protection from wind and water erosion and also save losses from leaching. A living cover crop will collect some of these losses and retain them for future use.

Agent Rebman agrees with Michigan State College soils and crops specialists who say that rye is a good cover crop to sow in the fall. The regular Rosen rye gives good soil protection. If spring pastures is needed, Balbo rye is recommended.

Rye can be sowed until about the end of October in Charlevoix county, the agent says.

A seeding of one and one-half to two bushels is sufficient. A quicker protective cover can be had by using a commercial fertilizer. Two hundred pounds of 3-12-12 on light sandy land is the application recommended.

Evangelistic Meeting

Special evangelistic services will be held nightly starting at 8 p.m. Nov. 5 at the Baptist church Rev. L. L. Lewis announced. The services will continue through Nov. 12. Rev. Ralph Karney of the Michigan State Baptist convention will be the evangelist. Special music nightly. The public is invited.

Hard Fighting Rayders, Still Victorious, Close Season Against Mancelona Here

Charlevoix's victory streak is still intact. But what a scare! What a comeback! The hundreds of loyal fans who saw the gallant Red Rayders come back in the final minutes to snatch that victory from Pellston and keep its string unbroken for the 40th time will never forget the suspense and the thrills.

For the first time in many games, the Rayders had to come from behind in a bitter, rough struggle against a Pellston team whose whole campaign was climaxed against Charlevoix. Pellston was out to break the streak, no matter what happened. They came too close for comfort.

But the Rayders were not to be denied this choice victory. The cause seemed almost hopeless when Charley Fairbanks dropped back to pass and then located Ron Cunningham. It clicked and it meant the ballgame.

For pure thrills, the fans admitted it was the best and hardest-fought game in the last couple of years. It was hard-fought all the way. And the linemen and the backs played a great game against great odds.

The Rayders and their coach, Del Terrill, deserve a big hand for overcoming that 40th hurdle. It was a great game for all of the boys. And they deserved to win.

This weekend finds Charlevoix facing Mancelona in its 1950 finale. It should be another good game.

Rites Tuesday For John Seetin, Road Employee

Funeral services for John Seetin, 59, Charlevoix county road employee, were held at the See Funeral Home Tuesday with the Rev G. D. Hnwell officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

He died unexpectedly late Saturday evening after suffering a heart attack.

Born in Riga, Latvia, May 14, 1891, he went to sea at the age of nine years as a cabin boy. He continued to follow the sea, first on salt water and since 1925 on the Great Lakes. He was employed on the freighter, Fred W. Green of the Roen Line and the J. B. John of the Petoskey Cement Co. He has been employed by the Charlevoix county road commission since 1937.

His wife, the former Jennie Stewart Nanegos whom he married Feb. 23, 1943, died Dec. 22, 1946.

Besides four step-sons he is survived by two sisters in Latvia.

Sunday Schools Meet In Charlevoix Nov. 9

The district Sunday school conference of the Assembly of God will be held at the church here Nov. 9, Rev. R. B. Warner, pastor of the church, has announced.

Principal speaker at the conference which will be attended by representatives from 14 churches in the northern zone will be Rev. W. H. Scott of Detroit district, state superintendent of the church, Everett D. Cooley of Benton Harbor, district Sunday school representative and Hart Armstrong of Springfield, Mo., editor of church school publications.

The theme of the conference will be "The Enlargement and Extension of the Sunday school."

The afternoon sessions will open at 1 p.m. with a dinner hour from 5 to 6:30 p.m. after which the evening meetings will start. The conference will close with a Sunday school workers consecration service.

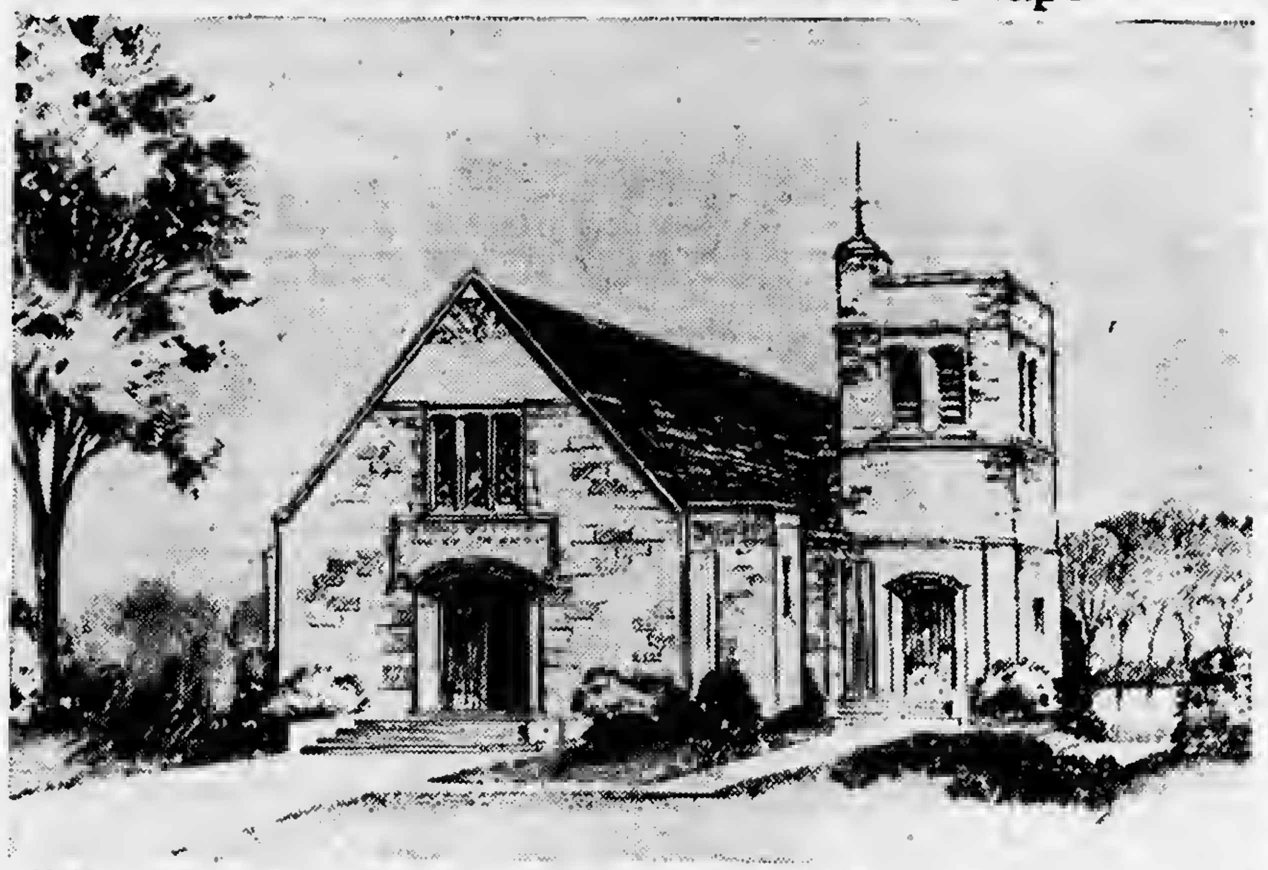
MSC to Build Alumni Memorial Chapel



Michigan State College will begin construction in October of a $170,000 all-faith memorial chapel, honoring approximately 500 Spartan alumni killed in all wars in which the U. S. has engaged. The structure, financed by contributions of MSC alumni all over the world, is expected to be completed in early spring of 1951. The chapel will be of stone construction and a modified Gothic style, according to Claud Erickson, Lansing, chairman of the MSC alumni building committee. To be located directly across the Red Cedar River from Shaw Hall, the building will seat more than 200 people. It will be open at all times for use by students, alumni, faculty and visitors, and will be used extensively for weddings, memorial services and other sacred events.

Michigan Mirror

Non-Partisan News Letter

By Gene Alleman
Lansing Observer for
Michigan Press Association

"Now is the time for all good men to" . . . Election time is here again finally pushing war news off front pages in Michigan. Gubernatorial candidates are slugging it out toe to toe.

Kelly makes not-so-subtle remarks about Socialism and Communism and the Democrats. Williams continues to foresee a "lobbyists' government" and more consumer taxes if Kelly wins. These are but a few of the charges--but those most repeated.

Both are being careful not to follow Dewey's lead, and are campaigning right up until the polls are closed. The odds? No two persons agree--but our guess is that the outcome will be close that Governor Williams has the best chance of any Democratic nominee in more than a decade to win re-election. The reasons are not hard to find: Population trends continue to favor urban industrial centers where labor unions are the strongest; the C.I.O. and the Americans for Democratic Action - the A. D. A. -- now control the Michigan Democratic party, proof of their remarkable strength. William's large primary vote, although he was unopposed demonstrated his popularity with Detroit liberals.

Tens of thousands of war workers flocked to Michigan during World War II from the Democratic South to work in our booming industrial plants. Thousands of them remained in Michigan big cities. This migration is again being repeated at the eve of the new rearmament orders from Washington. Many ready-made Democrats from the South have been added to Michigan poll lists, new votes for Governor Williams.

Former Governor Kelly's campaign theme has been the threat to Michigan government through alleged seizure of the Democratic party by socialist-minded tax-spending liberals in the ranks of organized labor. He has sought to link these liberals with communists as presenting a menace to American freedoms.

Observers predict the rip-snorting campaigns of both parties will draw a record off-year election vote. Everyone is pushing the "get out and vote" slogan. Perhaps they will. It will take a lot of Republican votes upstate to offset the Democratic margin in populous Detroit and Wayne county.

Many voters feel as one columnist stated: "It would be refreshing if sometimes a candidate would campaign for what he actually believes he could accomplish if elected governor rather than on the sad state of affairs that would face the people if they elect his opponent.

The smaller ballot issues go unannounced. There are four constitutional amendments also on the ballot They are:

Proposal No. 1 -- Would require registration in cities and townships by voters 30 days before election. Now it is 20 days. Election boards have complained that 20 days is too little time to compile their lists.

Proposal No. 2 -- Would allow the state to float a $65,000,000 bond issue to expand mental hospitals. Some $5,000,000 would go to aid the T. B. program. Would add 8,000 beds to state hospitals.

Proposal No. 3 -- Defines subversion and makes any acts therein a crime against the state. May be closest vote of the four amendments.

Proposal No. 4 -- Would repeal the 49-year-old ban on yellow margarine sales in the state. Has been the most heated argument of the four since it affects more persons.

General K. B. Wolfe of air materials headquarters announces a $200,000,000 program for presses to hammer out the tools of war. The statement followed a tour of Adrian's Gerity-Michigan Corp. plant where four huge presses are being used for experimental work.

And at the same time the steel industry is considering a rise in the price of steel—basic to a multitude of things used by everyone every day.

PIPER PLAYERS IN DEAR RUTH

Seniors Sponsor 'Dear Ruth' Thursday, Nov. 9

The Piper Players will present "Dear Ruth" a comedy in three acts at the Charlevoix high school gymnasium Thursday evening, Nov. 9, under the sponsorship of the Senior class.

The Players will also present the children's play, "Hansel and Gretel" at a matinee showing for the school children Thursday afternoon.

The Piper Players are visiting Charlevoix as one of seven student assembly programs arranged by the school.

The Players are one of the seven assembly programs presented for the school students during this year. The first was a talk and demonstration on deep-sea diving given by Zimmerman Oct. 23. The second in the series will be Loring Campbell, magician and entertainer who will appear in "Rapid Fire Magic" Monday, Nov. 6. The third in the fall series will be open to the public as are the Piper Players and will be an all-day historical exhibit.

Because of the limited seating facilities in the gym after the school students are seated, it has been impossible to arrange for the public to attend all programs.

For further information on the Piper Players and "Dear Ruth" contact members of the Senior class or H. E. Bingham, high school principal.

Bow and Arrow Gets Biggest Black Bear

LANSING, OCT. - The largest black bear ever taken in Michigan with bow and arrow has been shot by archer Dean P Loveless, Hamtramck, while hunting 15 miles north of Newberry.

Conservation department game men speculate that the over 600-pound male bear also may be larger than any taken with a gun.

The giant animal dressed out at 555 pounds and before probably weighed between 50 to 100 pounds more, according to M. K. Summers, department district supervisor who examined it. In 1943 an estimated over 600-pound bear was shot with a gun in the Dead Stream area by a Houghton lake area native, Arthur Jackson.

Confirmation Class

The Rt. Rev. Lewis B. Whittemore, bishop of the Diocese of Western Michigan, will confirm eight persons at Christ Episcopal church on Sunday, Nov. 5, at 5 p.m. Bishop Whittemore will also preach the sermon at this service. All persons interested in attending will be most welcome. Immediately after the service a potluck supper will be held in the church basement.

Annual Fly-up

The annual Brownie Fly-up will be held in the high school gym at 4 p.m. Thursday. Mothers and friends of the 19 Brownies who are flying up are invited to attend. Following the ceremony the girls become Girl Scouts.

Rainier Anniversary

It is golden jubilee year "where flowers and glaciers meet" in Washington state. Mount Rainier national park is celebrating a fiftieth birthday. Established by act of congress in 1899, the reservation is the fifth oldest of U. S. national parks. Its creation was due largely to the efforts of the National Geographic society, American Association for the Advancement of Science, Geographical Society of America, the Sierra club, and the Appalachian Mountain club.

Sewing Months

The previous belief that the summer months are poor home sewing months has been shattered completely. The quarterly sales average as follows: January, February and March, 23 per cent; July, August and September, 24½ per cent; October, November and December, 23 per cent. Each quarter holds its own.

IT HAPPENED ON ....
BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley.

The Beaver Island Community Chest drive is under way with Vernon LaFreniere as chairman. Tuesday evening, the first of a series of card parties was held in the Shilleigh for the benefit of the fund. The next party will be held Friday evening in the Beachcomber.

Roger Ricksgers arrived on the island Wednesday to visit his father and brother prior to his induction into the army. Roger reports to Uncle Sam November 1. Over the week-end, Roger had as his guests, his fiancee, Mary Ann Bonczkowski and her mother, Mrs. Jerome Bonczkowski, Grand Rapids.

Buddy McDonough's parents have received word that he is being transfered to an air base on the west coast.

Larry Cull is stationed in Camp Polk, La. Larry is in the engineer corps.

CHARLES MCCAULEY'S call to the colors has been deferred sixty days. Tommy Schmidt has also been deferred sixty days. Both boys are sailors on the Great Lakes.

C. W. Ziebarth and his son, Charles, were on the island for a few days last week. Ziebarth was here in the interest of his lumbering operations which has been going on since early summer under Jim Carpenter's management. Carpenter's mill has been turning out parts for Ziebarth's factories in Cary, Ohio and Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Gus Mielke returned to the island Wednesday. She was in Petoskey for a check-up at Little Traverse Hospital and in Charlevoix visiting relatives and friends.

A tumble down a flight of stairs resulted in minor injuries for Mrs. Lawrence Malloy, Sr., who is in Chicago to give assistance to her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Brown. Now the tables are turned. Mrs. Malloy is temporarily laid up.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spalding left the island Thursday for points south during the winter months. They will first go to Albany, Ga., where Fred will undergo a tonsilectomy. They expect to locate in Florida when Fred has sufficiently recuperated from the operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Carlisle left for Indianapolis Friday, but they will be back in two weeks.

Joe Sendenburg flew to Pellston Friday to attend the wedding of his cousin, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Dubiel.

Elmer Dudley, Chief Boatswains Mate, U.S.C.G., arrived on the Island Wednesday from Renton, Washington accompanied by Mrs. Dudley. They are visiting Mrs. Dudley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Connaghan.

IT'S ANOTHER daughter for Mr. and Mrs. Elston Pischner. The young lady arrived Oct. 26 on her Aunt Evelyn's (Pischner) birthday so has been given the name, Evelyn Kay. Mother and little Evelyn are in the Charlevoix Hospital and both are fine.

Carl Keulder is in Detroit visiting his sister.

A crew of REA linesmen came to the Island last week to set back the power lines on the Airport Road. This road is being widened to permit access to the airport during the period when the ice has not made in the harbor after navigation season and in the early spring when the harbor ice becomes unsafe for the plane to land.

Pete Renie and Fritz Copens, Traverse City, spent the week-end on the island hunting and visiting with friends. They occupied McDonough's cottage in the village.

The pupils of St. James schools received their report cards last Tuesday. Grace Gatliff and Ellen Nackerman have the distinction of being the only high school students to rate the honor roll.

Two new courses have been added to the high school curriculum this year, Spanish and vieve is teaching home economics vive is teaching Home Economics and the class is using the kitchen in the Parish Hall for the cooking course. Sewing will be included in the course later in the year.

(Last weeks news)

Beaver Island enjoyed a run of perfect fall days last week. It was ideal for the first week of the hunting season.

Not too many grouse have been picked off. They are here, but most Island lads have hunted rabbits. Lloyd McDonough and Lee Cuddington came home with a couple of grouse not to say anything of the string of rabbits. Lee and the missus returned home with enough cotton tails to cause them to be hoppin' all over Grand Rapids by now.

BEAVER ISLAND Game club met Tuesday to elect officers for the coming year. Vernon LaFreniere, president; Lawrence McDonough, secretary; Lloyd McDonough, treasurer.

The North Shore went to dry dock after the run to the Island Tuesday. The fish tug, Lucille H., of Charlevoix made the run the rest of the week with Willis Cross as pilot.

Two Island buildings are getting a new look. Frank Nackerman is putting in a new front of walite block and two large windows to the Post Office. Frank is doing this work himself. Last week, Walter Wojan began excavating for a new foundation under McDonough's store in preparation for a new front to the building.

MR. AND MRS. Arthur Miller's Island home has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kenny of Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Kenny and their two daughters will come to the Island within a month to make the Island their home. Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Kenny arrived with two trailers loaded with equipment. They plan to utilizing one of the buildings for a restaurant, Mr. and Mrs. Kenny have returned to Detroit for the big job of packing up and moving.

Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson invested in an electric powered cider press to run through the twenty-two gunny sacks of apples gathered in their orchard. Cider making started in earnest Tuesday and continued on through Wednesday. The results, a barrel of cider for the Wilsons to take home and thirty-eight gallons donated for the Hallowe'en party to be given in the parish hall on Hallowe'en night. Thirteen additional sacks of apples were gathered from Charlie "Harlem" Gallagher's orchard to complete the job for the party. Father Giles, Mrs. Mary Burt McDonough, a group of high school students and your B.I. reporter assisted with the cider making Wednesday and folks, I'm here to testify that Beaver Island apple nectar is delicious! Mr. and Mrs. Wilson returned to their home in Ferndale Thursday.

MR. AND MRS. Lawrence Davison returned to the Island Friday. Mrs. Mary Green returned from the wedding of her daughter Bornell. Enroute to the Island from Chicago, she stopped in Grand Rapids to visit with her daughter, Rose.

Mattie "Pearl" Perreau left the Island Saturday after spending the summer months with P. to the Swede. Mattie will spend the winter months in Boyne City.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Johnson left on Saturday's boat for a business trip to the mainland.

MRS. CHARLES Pischner and two sons and Mrs. Pischner's mother, Mrs. Mamie Gallagher, left by plane Saturday for Manistee and from there, continued on by train to their home in Green Bay. The Pischners and Mrs. Gallagher have been visiting on the Island since early summer.

Invitations have been received to the wedding of Margaret Lynch to Robert Gibson, Boatswain's Mate Second Class, USCG. The wedding will take place October 28 at St. Vincent de Paul church, Pontiac. Margaret is the adopted daughter of Beaver Islanders. She and a group of young ladies did a wonderful service to Island boys in the service during World War II.

Fetching a pail of perch last week, your B.I. reporter walked right into Noah's Ark and no foolin'. It is Joe Sendenburg's net shed and, folks, there's everything under the sun in that place. Acting as guide, Joe pointed out Pete Napont's old horse collar, John Ricksgers wagon riggings, a bunch of Wilfred O'Brien's old boots and shoes, and pile of assorted quilts of unknown origin, a collection of bottles, all sizes and shapes, and all kinds of fishing paraphernalia. It was a revelation.

A LARGE PARTY from Grand Rapids arrived Friday to fish and hunt. They were Raymond Oosdyke, Sr., and his sons Raymond, Jr., James and Gerald, Len Rossman, Albert Bockheim, Roger Bockheim, Ed Dekam, and Jerry Stiles. The fellows say they brought up one can of minnows and took home 90 lbs. of perch. In a half hour's time in the woods, they brought in four rabbits. Now, who could ask for better luck! The party occupied Allen's log house for over the week-end.

Father Raymond, Oosdyke OFM, Commissary Provincial of the Third Order of St. Francis, Our Lady of Consolation Province, arrived Friday. Sunday afternoon, Father Raymond met with the members of the Third Order for the annual canonical visitation. Received as novices for the Third Order were Rosemary Nackerman and Jerry Hanley. Janet Gallagher made her profession in the Order.

Foundation Plants

Foundation plantings around a house serve a number of purposes. One of the most important is to tie the house to the ground and blend it with the landscape. Another reason for such plantings is to emphasize the front door. Attractive shrubs also hide unsightly foundation material and bring out the fine qualities in the architectural design of the house.

Grouse Season Ends Nov. 5 on Island

Beaver Island—The first open season ever permitted on sharptail grouse is not attracting hunters to this Charlevoix county island Season closes November 5.

Few hunters out the first three days shot 20 birds. The conservation department introduced the species here ten years ago and estimates the original colony of 29 birds now has increased to over 200.

Snowshoe rabbits are abundant and also offer good hunting especially when tracking snow is on the ground.

Ruffed grouse recently were released on the island and may some day be legal hunting targets too.

Help the hospital drive.

Banks Township School News

KINDERGARTEN NEWS

Our kindergarten has been husy getting ready for Hallowe'en. We made a witch to put in the window of Vander Ark's grocery store. Every child had a part in making her, pasting newspapers together and tying them for her body, cutting out the hands, drawing and coloring a face, cutting and pasting hair, and dressing her. Judy Tornga made the spookiest face, so it was used for the witch. David Lemmen brought his great-grandmother's dress for the witch.

MORE BASKETBALL GAMES SCHEDULED

This week basketball began when the first practice of the season was held last Monday. Along with the practice came the announcement that there are two more games scheduled for Jan. 30, here and Feb. 20, there with Boyne City for the varsity and the Junior high. Also there have been two more games scheduled with St. Francis.

PTA MAKES GIFT

PTA bought a new wood lathe for shop. Also some of the hand tools which were on order arrived.

A group of 11th and 12th grade boys are busy working on hurdles for the track team.

Advise Vaccination Early for Pigs

Reports of hog losses have been increasing in the past two years, advises Dr. B. J. Killham, Michigan State College extension veterinarian. The trouble seems to be in connection with, or following, vaccination against hog cholera.

Investigations in Michigan indicate that losses are largely confined to shoats or olders hogs. Pigs vaccinated before weaning are rarely affected.

Preliminary research work by Dr. H. W. Dunne, animal pathologist at Michigan State College, appears to indicate that there are possibilities of variations in the virus used in vaccinating against cholera. Adjustments will have to be made in the serum to care for these variations. Much research in this connection is underway at present.

Dr. Kilham reports that vaccination hazards can be reduced by confining vaccinations, if possible, to pigs about six or seven weeks of age and before weaning.

New Poison Gives Good Rat Control

Farmers and others in Charlevoix and Antrim counties who are used to quick killing rat and mouse poisons will find that the new poison "warfarin" is slow but sure, says B. D. Kuhn, state agricultural extension leader at Michigan State College.

Warfarin, according to extensive tests by federal and private agencies, promises to be an important rat-killer for farm use, though it is not a fast killer like red squill. It requires several days for warfarin to work. Rats and mice need to eat only a small amount each day for about five days before death occurs.

The poison is odorless and tasteless and once rats start eating it, they do not drop until they are to far gone. For this reason, many die unnoticed in their burrows in the ground.

County agricultural agents are reporting that warfarin gives farmers one of the best tools to use in getting rid of rats and mice. It can be used safely on farms if reasonable precautions are taken to keep it out of reach of livestock and pets.

Bernice Roe, Thomas I. Smith Exchange Vows in Impressive Candlelight Ceremony

Bernice Rosan Roe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sage Roe became the bride of Thomas Irvin Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas Smith in candlelight ceremonies Saturday evening in St. Paul's Episcopal church, Lansing.

Dr. George Selway officiated at the double ring ceremony.

A cathedral length train extended beyond the bride's gown of heavy ivory satin. An imported rose point collar came down over the shoulders of the gown to fold behind the belt and extend into a peplum. The long bridal veil of white Flemish pointe d'esprit was edged in Honiton lace. Small white orchids formed her shower bouquet.

Attendents were Mrs. Rex Eugene Session of Lansing as matron of honor; Dorothy Helen Johns of Glen Head, L. I., maid of honor and Mrs. John Woodward Roe of Lansing and Mrs. Edward C Roe of Ann Arbor, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Philip Bond Fouke of Riverside, Calif., Delphine Marie King of St. Louis, Mo., Mary Josephine Kendig of York, Pa., Mrs. Robert Royce Zoeller and Janet Lusk Jury of Lansing, bridesmaids.

Nile Green Taffeta

Their gowns of nile green taffeta were worn with Eton jackets of matching material styled with stand-up collars. The matron of honor and the maid of honor carried large bouquets of red roses and bridesmaids' flowers were of red roses and large white chrysanthemums.

Roberta Olds Fouke of Riverside, Calif., cousin of the bride, was flower girl and wore a long dress of nile green. Edward D. Roe Jr. of Ann Arbor, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Howard Lewis Gibson Jr., of Lansing, was best man and Marshall Lloyd Wood of Clinton, Iowa was head usher. Armin Sage Roe, John Woodward Roe and Edward Olds Roe of Ann Arbor, brothers of the bride; Rex Eugene Sessions, Richard Warren Wood of Brighton, and John Wilden Hughes were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Roe chose a gown of imported silver lame and a small hat of green ostrich feathers. Mrs. Smith, mother of the bridegroom wore a gown of old gold tapestry net with a bouffant skirt and a gold lame cloche.

The reception and dinner followed at the Hotel Olds.

The bridal couple left via plane for a wedding trip to Bermuda and New York City. A cocoa brown suit with Russian sable collar and cuffs and accessories of brown and chartruese were worn by the bride for traveling.

The couple will live in East Lansing after a two weeks trip.

The families of the couple have been summer residents here many years.

Among those from here who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bridge, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith and Mr. and Mrs. William Butters.

Howard Houghton, E. Lansing Girl Exchange Vows

The wedding of Miss Joanna Exelby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon C. Exelby, East Lansing, to Howard E. Houghton, of Charlevoix, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Houghton of Newton Center, Mass., was solemnized at a candlelight service in Peoples church East Lansing, Oct. 21.

The bride wore a gown of imported white Venise lace and wore an heirloom lace cap upon her head. She carried a cascade bouquet of white Fugi mums with ivy streamers. Matron of honor was Mrs. Robert Exelby, sister-in-law of the bride, of Williamston. Her gown was of turquoise blue lace and net over taffeta. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink Fugi mums and ivy streamers. John Steven Reed, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. Best man was Donald E. Houghton, brother of the groom, of Newton Center. Ushers were Mr. Quilla D Reed of Okemos, and Franklin Houghton of Milwaukee. Mrs. Houghton wore a gown of teal blue and her accessories were dubonnet. Her corsage was of dubonnet mums. Mrs. Exelby wore a forest green faille suit and her accessories were dark green. Her corsage was of yellow and bronze mums.

A reception followed. The parlors were decorated with large baskets of bronze and pink mums. Those assisting at the reception were Mrs. James A. Wilson, Mrs. Richard Card, Miss Arlene Ernst, Mrs. Harriet Goodman, Mrs. Georgia Ball, Mrs. Allyn L. Faith, and Mrs. Quilla Reed, sister of the gride, presided at the coffee table.

The bride chose a navy blue suit and hat with red accessories for her going away costume. Her corsage was from her bridal bouquet. The couple will live in Charlevoix.

The broom is a graduate of Tufts College and received his masters degree at Massachusetts State College.

Out of town guests were from Brooklyn, Mich., Owosso, Ann Arbor, Tecumseh, Charlevoix, Britton, Boston, Mass., Williamston, Okemos and Grand Rapids.

Plan Activities Program for Girl Scout Leaders

An outdoor activities workshop for Girl Scout leaders and committee members will be held at the Park Place hotel in Traverse City Nov. 13 and 14, Mrs. Charles Bleha, chairman of the Northwestern Michigan Training Committee, has announced.

Catherine T. Hammett, former director of the camping division of the National Girl Scout Organization, will give the course to Girl Scout personnel in this area.

A camp consultant and free lance writer, Miss Hammett is director of Berrybrook, a training center for outdoor living in Vermont. She has worked in all phases of Girl Scouting, is national secretary of the American Camping Association, is author of a number of books on camping and outdoor activities including several Girl Scout publications.

In 1944 45 she was on the staff of UNRRA assigned to the Greek Mission. In this capacity she assisted the Greek government officials in establishing camps for the rehabilitation of Greek boys and girls, following the liberation of Greece.

The two-day meeting at Traverse City will open at the Park Place at 1:30 p.m. Monday and run through Tuesday. Dinner on Monday and luncheon Tuesday will be held at the Trinity Lutheran church.

Those wishing to attend are asked to call 841 or 696 for reservations which must be in this week.

City Studies Chance to Sell Hydro Plant

The possibility of selling the city-owned hydro-electric plant at Bellaire to the village of Bellaire is being explored by the city council.

Village officials met Monday night with local councilmen in an effort to find a fair price for the electric producing unit.

It was decided to appoint two disinterested engineers to appraise the hydro plant. They will report to a joint meeting of Bellaire and Charlevoix officials. Hal M. Hill, superintendent of utilities, estimated that the Bellaire plant produces 150 KW's an hour, a fraction of what is needed for Charlevoix.

THE POWER plant here is capable of producing 750 to 800 KW's per hour, representing the average need of the city during nine month of the year. The extra diesel at the local plant pushes the potential to twice that number to care for the summer needs, it was said.

Several councilmen feel that the Bellaire unit is not needed and is more expense to operate. No decision is likely on this issue for several weeks, it was said.

THE COUNCIL authorized the mayor and clerk to sign a contract with the Michigan Highway department for the maintenance of US31 and M66 in the city limits. Don Swinton was authorized to buy for the city a carload of cutback asphalt at the best obtainable price. There were no bids.

Frank Hammond, 82 Dies at Grandvue

Frank J. Hammond, 82, lifelong resident of this community, died Sunday at Grandvue hospital at East Jordan where he had been a patient for four days. He had been ill since Oct. 25 when he suffered a stroke.

Funeral services were held at the See Funeral Home Tuesday with the Rev. W. D. Wood officiating. Burial was in the Brookside cemetery.

Born in Charlevoix, April 6, 1868, Mr. Hammond was a well-driver, blacksmith and road construction grader.

Surviving are a brother, George Hammond of Central Lake and several nieces and nephews.

Area Farmers Vote for PMA Committeemen

Nomination meetings to select candidates for community PMA positions in the county and to pick candidates from which to elect delegates to the annual PMA convention at which the county PMA committee for 1951 will be elected are scheduled for this week throughout the county.

LeRoy Hardy, chairman of the Charlevoix County PMA Committee, said that the names of the candidates selected at the nominating meetings will be placed on ballots and mailed to all eligible farmers sometime between November 16 and 24.

Farmers will then have a full month—from Mid-November until December 21—in which to decide on their choices for the various offices, to mark their ballots, and to return the ballots to the county PMA office.

The marked ballots may be returned to the county PMA office in person by the farmers voting or they may be returned by mail, sealed in a plain envelope within the mailing envelope in order to maintain the secrecy of the ballot. All ballots will be counted in the county PMA office on December

Amos Webster, 79, Ex-Alderman Taken by Death

Funeral services for Amos A. Webster, 79, lifelong resident of this community, were held at the See Funeral Home Sunday with the Rev. Jackson E. Turner officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

He died Friday at the Charlevoix Hospital where he had been a patient for four days. He had been in failing health for several months.

Mr. Webster was born near Undine in Hayes township Jan. 9, 1871, the son of Isaac S. Webster and Martha Jane Cratsley. The following spring his family moved to the family homestead also in Hayes township now known as the Orson Cook farm. He lived in Charlevoix following his marriage to Edith Cram in 1900. She died in 1915. In 1918 he was married to Laura Fuller of St. Louis, Mo. He was a carpenter by trade.

Interested in civic affairs he served as city councilman for six years, as a member of the board of supervisors, and as street commissioner and city policeman. He was employed by Booth Fisheries for 12 years and prior to retiring several years ago was superintendent of the Charlevoix county infirmary at East Jordan for six years.

He was also a life member of the Charlevoix lodge No. 282 F&AM and Chapter No. 141 R.A.M. He had also been a member of the Elks and the Macabees.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a son, Chair S. Webster of Charlevoix; two daughters, Mrs. Richard K. Paddock of Midland and Miss Marjorie Webster of this city; five grandchildren; two great-grandchildren and one brother, Frank P. Webster of Toledo.

Kiwanis Hears Korean Story From Madison

The Americans were making too much progress in Korea to please the Communists and they chose open warfare, said Vincent Madison, former Charlevoix resident, who is visiting his family after many month in embattled Korea.

Mr. Madison, engineering official with the Detroit Edison, who had charge of power installations in south Korea, spoke to the Kiwanis club Monday night. He was introduced by Clarence Meggison.

Mr. Madison said that the Americans had done a good job in Korea in helping the Koreans get on their feet, adding that the country badly needad industry. He relatad how his family learned of the invasion by the Communist hordes.

He also showed colored slides of the power units and electrical installations in south Korea. The job of producing power was made difficult because of the rocky terrain.

THE RUSSIANS boasted about land reforms, he said, but the Koreans told a different story. Many people were given land but were forced to give 90 per cent of the return to the Reds. All we heard about the Reds, Madison said, is how they gave land to the poor.

Mr. Madison will remain here until Dec. 1 when he and a selected engineering staff will return to Korea under the E.C.A.

Legion Women Enjoy Halloween Party

Twenty-one members of the American Legion Auxiliary enjoyed a Hallowe'en party Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Lewis Brant. Mrs. W. E. Goss and Mrs. Harry Glossenger assisted.

The group enjoyed games with Mrs. Lloyd Barnett and Mrs. Harry Powers winning the prizes. Later they enjoyed a chop suey supper.

Mrs. Walstad who has served several terms as president was presented with a past president's pin from the group.

• Mr. and Mrs. Howard Struthers left recently for Lansdale, Pa., where they plan to make an extended visit.

Poor Showing

The Charlevoix Community Chest has made its poorest showing since it was organized. Only $1800 of a [illegible]715 goal has been subscribed to date. Officials believe that the drive will be extended after deer hunting season to permit greater solicitation.

44-Hour Week Adopted for City Workers

Working conditions for city employes were formulated by the city council Monday night to include a 44-hour work week for all employes. Many of the city workers have been working 48-hour weeks.

This action followed that of the council two weeks ago in giving city employes a six per cent boost in pay. All but the light employes have accepted the offer.

Workers employed longer than 44 hours a week will be given straight hourly time. Heretofore, many of the employes working for a salary did not get extra pay for overtime.

Workers who are called upon to work during legal holidays will be given double time for the period worked. For example, city employees who worked on election day are slated to receive double pay.

Deer Rifles Start Barking In Area Nov. 15

Deer rifles begin barking Nov. 15, heralding 16 days of action on the state's big game front which the conservation department does not anticipate will be significantly different from last season.

Department deer expert, I. H. Bartlett, says there might be a few more hunters than the 380,000 out last year but the total kill probably will vary little from the 115,000 bucks shot in 1949. Last season's harvest ended a two-year period of declining kill.

Deer starvation was relatively light last winter, causing no apparent change in the size of the herd estimated at around 1,000,000 deer. Judging from the physical condition of those deer taken by bow hunters, most of the animals are fat and in good shape.

Resident deer and bear license is $3.50, non-resident fee is $35 and a camp permit for deer is $3.50. Not less than four persons must comprise a hunter-camping group in order to take a buck for camp purposes.

Latest reports in the state tabulation of votes for Governor showed former Gov. Harry F. Kelly, Republican nominee, leading his Democratic opponent, Governor Williams by 11,000 votes. This total was compiled from voting in 4210 precincts. Only ninety have not reported. Congressman Potter was the winner over Fred Hanscom of Gaylord by a 2 to 1 margin.

Rayders Close Sixth Season Without Loss

Football equipment was being stored away for another year as the Red Rayders of Charlevoix look back on their sixth straight season without a setback.

Their victory over Mancelona last Friday gava them undisputed possession of the Northern Michigan Class C conference. The scora was 32 to 0.

The close of the season also marked the 41st straight game without a defeat. Ties by East Jordan in 1948 and 1949 are the only blots on the record.

Ron Cunningham, one of 14 seniors playing their last game for Charlevoix, played the best game of the season, showing the Mancelona team his heels on breakaway runs of 68, 50 and 48 yards for touchdowns.

ON EACH of those runs, Cunningham trotted back to his mates and slapped them on the back for their good blocking. He and Don Hardy were chosen co-captains by the squad two weeks ago.

The issue was not in doubt for long against Mancelona. Cunningham ran for 50 yards and the marker on the third running play of the game, after Greg Bryan had made 12 yards and a first down. Gerry Left kicked the extra point.

Minutes later the Rayders were on the march again. After Norm Ketehman recovered his teams fumble, Don Hardy passed to Charley Fairbanks for 32 yards to the Mancelona 2. Hardy ram-

County Will Send Five for Induction

Charlevoix county will be expected to send five men for induction into the armed services in December the local draft board has been notified.

The men are scheduled to leave here Dec. 14 for the Detroit Induction Center.

Registrants who are called up for induction are warned to bring sufficient winter clothing when they leave for induction. They are asked to wear clothing to last them until uniforms can be issued. This may be as long as three days.

Pvt. Rodney N. Nackerman, 20, son of F. J. Nackerman, Beaver Island, has completed his AF basic airmen indoctrination course at Lackland Air Force Base, the "Gateway to the Air Force".

Gains Margin In City, Kelly Gets 2-1 Nod

Sheriff Floyd W. Ikens, county officer for 18 years, was re-elected Tuesday by 607 votes, and former Gov. Harry F. Kelly carried Charlevoix county in his race for governor by less than a 2 to 1 margin.

The election marked the largest turnout of voters in the history of the county's off-year votes. A total of 4,415 votes was cast.

The race for the sheriff's post was the closest in years with Ikens winning on the basis of the Charlevoix city vote which swept him past a majority that Lamb had picked up in other parts of the county.

Lifelong County Resident Passes

William Henry Choon, 67, lifelong resident of Charlevoix county, died unexpectedly at his home Sunday.

Funeral services were held at the See Funeral Home Tuesday with the Rev. W. D. Wood officiating. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

Mr. Choon was born at Norwood, July 21, 1883 and had lived in Charlevoix for 59 years. He was a carpenter and mason by trade.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary Supernaw of Harbor Springs a sister, Mrs. Charles Marshall of this city and two half-sisters, Mrs. Mary Snider of Detroit and Mrs. Robert Armstrong of Harbor Springs.

Ralph Newman, 74, Dies Monday

Ralph Newman, 74, son of Charlevoix's first baker, died Monday at the Grandvue Hospital near East Jordan where he had been a patient for a month.

Funeral services were held at the See Funeral Home Wednesday with the Rev. W. D. Wood officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Born in Charlevoix April 19, 1876, he was the son of Henry and Elizabeth Newman. He had spent his entire life in this community. He had been employed as handy man at various business places for many years.

He is survived by his aunt, Mrs. Julia Einwachter of this city and several nieces and nephews.

One City Delivery On Armistice Day

There will be no window or rural service at the Charlevoix postoffice Saturday because of Armistice Day, Postmaster J. M. Foster has announced.

There will, however, be one delivery in the city during the day.

(A precinct comparison of votes in this race will be found elsewhere in this week's newspaper.)

The four proposals were approved in the county with the colored margarine issue carrying 2552 to 1713.

Fred M. Alger, GOP secretary of state incumbent led the state ticket in the county with 2940 votes. U.S. Rep. Charles Potter was the best vote getter in the county with 3008 votes. He beat Fred L. Hanscom by better than 2 to 1.

IKENS CARRIED 13 of the 25 precincts including all three in Charlevoix. The election was won here when voters gave him 850 to Lamb's 294 or roughly four to one. Lamb carried all four precincts in Boyne City but lost all three in East Jordan.

In rural parts of the county, Ikens carried seven precincts and Lamb had eight to his credit.

Kelly trailed the ticket in the county although Charlevoix gave him four to one lead over Governor Williams. Charlevoix voted 739 for Kelly and 271 for Williams.

East Jordan voted 347 for Kelly and 268 for Williams. In Boyne City, Democratic stronghold, Kelly had 543 to 476 for his rival.

The only precinct which Williams captured in the county were the first in East Jordan, the first in Boyne City, Peaine township and St. James.

On Beaver Island, voters lived up to their predictions, giving Williams 81 at St. James to 16 for Kelly and 28 in Peaine against nine for Kelly. Some observers felt that the Irish name of Kelly would help him carry Beaver Island. But not this year.

IN OTHER aspects of the election, it lived up according to form with few exceptions. Sen. Frank Andrews won his race with David S. Lees, 2859 to 1530.

The vote on proposals in the county, 24 of 25 precincts reported, follow: No. 1, 2222 Yes, 1096 No; No. 2, 3048 Yes, 842 No; No. 3, 2018 Yes, 1198 No; No. 4, 2552 Yes, 1713 No.

Interest in the sheriff's race and several of the state contests was high with many maintaining an all-night vigil for late returns.

Other county officers were unopposed. There was definite feeling in several parts of the county that the Democrats will put up a full slate of candidates in 1952 for the presidential election.

Deer Hunting Becomes No. 1 Duty

This is the time of year when business and other pressing affairs take a back seat to deer hunting job.

For weeks on end in Charlevoix and other northern Michigan communities, preparations have been stepped up with the objective of hitting for the north country and the deer hunting. It is not uncommon for business people in Charlevoix to close up shop for a week or two, depending on how great their love is for hunting.

Not long ago here one merchant was heard to say: "We can't possibly let anything interfere with our getting away for a few days to hunt It's not a bad idea. Only thing is that many more who would like to get away for a few days can't make the break.

It's the same in many towns throughout the state. Merchants, garage owners, gas station operators and others hear the call of the wild and the open country during the last two weeks in November. The "closed shop" will be a reality for many and there is no reference to the union use of the term.

The vacation does afford those, who go relaxation and a chance to get away from every day cares. There is growing indications that most of us are living too fast a life. Some fresh air and some exercise other than that obtained in daily life may give us a fresh outlook on things.

P.S. The Boss just said we can't go. Darn it.

The Costly Cold

The common cold will cause more absenteeism from office, industry and school during the next few months than all other communicable diseases together, according to Dr. F. S. Leeder, director of the Division of Disease Control of the Michigan Department of Health, pointing out that the first "cold" wave is just around the corner.

Colds, he explained, usually become widespread about the time that cool weather forces people to start heating their homes, schools, office buildings and factories, and they continue to be prevalent until spring. The virus which causes colds attacks the mucous membranes of the nose and throat, especially when these membranes are dried out by overheated rooms.

While it is known that colds are caused, not by changes in the weather, but by a virus, there is still no known cure or preventive, Dr. Leeder says.

As far as the antihistamines are concerned, he cautioned that they should be used only upon the advice of a practicing physician.

Dr. Leeder offered a few precautions to help avoid colds: (1) Stay away from person who has a cold and stay out of crowded places during cold epidemics. (2) Try not to get overheated or chilled. (3) Dress according to the weather and according to the temperature in which you must work.

(4) Get plenty of sleep. (5) Eat regular well balanced meals and drink plenty of water. (6) Go to bed at the first sign of a cold—call your doctor if the signs persist and follow his advice.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

The football season's over for the Rayders . . . and after sitting in the cold Friday to watch the last game we think everyone's a little glad it ended when it did . . . But there was a sad note in the game for 14 of the Rayders were playing their last high school game . . . Did you notice that Coach Terrill had a senior lineup during the game . . . But we'll bet that you'll be hearing more about some of those lads on the gridiron in years to come . . . on some college team . . .

THE DEER hunting season is almost upon us . . . and we've seen something that's hard to believe, particularly in view of the fact that we always thought hunters roughed it . . . but the new 'cabin' the Boss brothers have constructed has knocked all that for a loop . . . the cabin is built in sections and bolted together . . . it's 11 x 15, has built-in bunks (they even tell us some are taking inner-spring matresses) and tables, linoleum on the floor . . . in fact, all the comforts of home . . . oh yes, and it has a canvas roof . . . you've no doubt seen it in the yard at 1002 Bridge st. . . . In the party will be Frank and Ed Boss of Charlevoix, Jr. of Grand Rapids and their brother-in-law, Abe VanStadium and Leo Fairbanks also of Grand Rapids and Luther Lewis of Findlay, Ohio . . . and they plan to raise the cabin near Seeney . . .

WE HOPE YOU got out Tuesday and did your duty as a citizen . . . by casting your vote . . no one cares how you voted just as long as you made the effort . . And if you didn't vote, don't let anyone hear you griping about the administration that won if it wasn't your favorite . . .

A Coastguardsman, on Beaver Island, Cyril Jones, was lost in the woods while hunting recently and had the entire population out looking for him . . . it was a nice night so he decided to sleep in the woods . . . not realizing that the searchers were passing within a few hundred yards of him . . . we've since found out why the poor lad was in a fog . . he was to be married later in the week . . .

Saturday will be Armistice Day . . . to most it will be just another day for in this world we live in today, there seems to be no time nor thought for the one day which meant so much to another generation . . . Nov. 11, 1918 . . . we had the A.E.F. in France at that time fighting the war to end all wars . . . And everyone believed it then and hoped it was true until Sept. 1939 and Dec. 7, 1941 showed us all it couldn't be . . .

There were eight gold stars in Charlevoix when World War I ended and since then many have been added as the results of wounds and illnesses suffered . . History's stacked up on us pretty fast these last few years and we forget the things which came before . . . But when taps are sounded at 11 a.m. Saturday and the minute of silence observed remember the doughboys of the past and say a prayer for the future. . . .

And may we remind you again to get those packages out to the servicemen overseas . . . you have until next Wednesday . . . Since the turn of events in Korea late last week it looks as tho' our boys there are going to be tied up with other business for awhile and won't be home for Christmas as many families hoped . . . so get busy and get those parcels in the mail . . . you don't want him to think you've forgotten, do you?

And if you've got hunters leaving for deer camp, give us a ring and tell us about it . . . we can't find them all and we need your help . . .

P.S.— And you might imagine the scarlet complexion of our star staff writer when she asked if the "steers" sent to Beaver Island had improved the quality of the livestock.

Virginia Olsen Weds Guy Smith

In a quiet ceremony solemnized at the parsonage of the Parr Baptist church in Petoskey Saturday afternoon, Virginia Olsen, daughter of Mrs. Eli Olsen became the bride of Guy Smith, of Detroit, son of Mrs. Guy Smith Sr., of this city, who is now visiting in Honolulu, T.H.

The Rev. Mr. Reynhout read the service in the presence of their immediate families.

The bride selected a white knit suit, navy accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations for her wedding.

Luana Russell of Petoskey, her only attendant, wore a teal blue knit suit, brown accessories and a corsage of yellow and white mums.

William Novotny of Charlevoix attended the bridegroom as best man.

Mrs. Olsen chose a wine gown, navy accessories and a corsage of yellow and white mums for her daughter's wedding.

Immediately following the service a reception for 125 guests was held at the home of the bride's mother. Autumn flowers decorated the table which held the tierer wedding cake which was topped with a miniature bridal couple. Mrs. Milton Piehl of Petoskey and Mrs. Joseph Nuismer of Alpena, sisters of the bride, presided.

The couple has gone to Detroit where they will make their home.

The bride is a graduate of the Petoskey high school and the bridegroom is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school.

Among those from Charlevoix who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Homer Brady and Mrs. Jerine Durni.

Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Fenton F. Bulow make known the engagement of their daughter, Janet Elizabeth, to William E. Clark, a student at Michigan State College and the son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Clark of South Lyon, Mich. Janet is a graduate of the Detroit Business Institute and is now employed at Michigan State college.

Betty Weimer Ted Louiselle Speak Vows

In an impressive candlelight service solemnized at the Assembly of God church Saturday, Oct. 21, the Rev. Betty Jane Weimer, of Petoskey became the bride of Ted LeRoy Louiselle son of Mrs. William Louiselle and the late Mr. Louiselle.

The Rev. R. B. Warner read the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with pink and white gladioli, white pompoms, red roses and palms and lighted with tapers in seven branch candelabra.

Mrs. Ira L. Wood of Petoskey played a program of traditional wedding music and the wedding marches and accompanied Rev. Mr. Wood who sang "Because", "O Promise Me," and "Life's Pathway Together".

The bride selected a gown of white bridal satin styled with a high neckline, a sheer yoke trimmed with lace, a fitted bodice of lace and long sleeves. The full skirt ended in a long train and her fingertip veil fell from a seed pearl tiara. She carried a white Bible topped with red roses and white pompoms. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Rev. Ella Mae Barnum of Alma was matron of honor and Mrs. Eldean Chew, niece of the bridegroom, and Joyce Fiedler were bridesmaids. The matron of honors' gown was blue satin and those of the bridesmaids yellow and pink respectively. Mrs. Barnum wore a headdress of pink and white pompoms and carried a matching colonial bouquet. The bridesmaids headdresses and colonial bouquets were of yellow and white pompons.

Sherrie Barnum, gowned in yellow taffeta and carrying a pink flower basket was flower girl and Rodan Barnum, carrying the ring on a satin pillow, was ring bearer.

The Rev. Clayton Barnum of Alma was best man and Eldean Chew, Herbert Hamlin and Allan Louiselle, nephew of the bridegroom, seated the guests.

Mrs. Weimer wore a black print gown and navy accessories and Mrs. Louiselle chose a beige gabardine suit and matching accessories. Both wore corsages of pink and white pompoms.

Immediately following the service a reception was held in the high school cafeteria. Rev. Rose Crawford of Ithaca, gowned in light green chiffon and wearing a corsage of red roses and white pompons, was receptionist.

A six-tiered wedding cake graced the bride's table which was decorated with red roses and yellow and white snapdragons.

After a wedding trip through southern Michigan, the couple will reside here. For traveling the bride wore a coral gabardine suit, navy accessories and a corsage of white pompoms.

The bride attended the Petoskey high school and the L.I.F.E. Bible College, Angelus Temple, at Los Angeles, Calif., received her ordination in June 1945.

The bridegroom attended Charlevoix and Antrim county schools and Michigan State College. At present he is employed at Lockwood General Hospital in Petoskey.

Blue Cross-Blue Shield is so truly your
"friend in need"!

"BLUE CROSS COVERED NEARLY $1500 IN HOSPITAL BILLS
—AND BLUE SHIELD
PAID THE DOCTOR $165."

Talk about the VALUE of Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection—here's the record of one subscriber who spent 120 days in the hospital

First, Blue Cross covered nearly $1,500 of a total $1,536 hospital bill. All the patient paid was $60, which represented the difference between the private room the patient chose to use and the semi-private one provided for in his Blue Cross contract.

And Blue Shield paid the doctor $165 for his services.

(from Case #91-D50102-151 in Blue Cross files)

The Chances Are 1 in 9 YOU Will Have to Go to a Hospital Within the Next Twelve Months!

You can never tell when accident or sudden illness may strike bringing with them hospital and medical bills that may take months or even years to pay. About one out of nine people will see the inside of a hospital before the year is out!

That's why you—and your family—can't afford to be without BLUE CROSS AND BLUE SHIELD health-care protection. Already over 2,000,000 Michigan people are enrolled. The Blue Cross-Blue Shield Plans offer you a wide range of benefits at low cost because they are completely non-profit . . . a voluntary service on the part of the hospitals and doctors who run them.

Area Farmers Vote For Committeemen

22 by an impartial 3-man election board.

According to Mr. Hardy, no farmer who is eligible to vote should pass up the opportunity to "voice" his choice of the three farmers in his community best qualified to administer farm programs in 1951.

In the chairman's words, "The coming year can be expected to call for decisions and actions which will demand the most able leadership available.

This places the responsibility of electing able committeemen on the shoulders of the farmers in each of the 8 communities in Charlevoix county.

IT HAPPENED ON . . . .
BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Beaver Islanders are preparing for the invasion of a number of deer hunters from the mainland. Due to getting cars across, many hunters come to the Island two or three days in advance. This gives them time for a lot of visiting and "shop talk" about who's going to get the biggest buck. Of course, not all the hunters get a buck and that explains the row of one dollar bills tacked on the wall by the side of the Shamrock bar. Many hunters who do not get a buck to take home leave a "buck."

The weather is crisping up for the hunt after a week of very mild weather. The first of the week was unseasonably warm and fine for the "spooks" who went out on ghost night "trick or treats." The youngsters who came knocking at the door were dressed in all kinds of regalia, but two of the cutest were little Eddie Wojan and Nancy Elms who were out for the first year collecting treats.

THE HALLOWE'EN party was well attended and was a big success. The Parish hall was decorated with corn stalks from Lizzie McCauley's farm and field pumpkins from George Ricksgers. Streamers in Hallowe'en colors were strung around the walls and the refreshment table was decorated with orange and black crepe paper and pumpkins.

A number of games were arranged for different age groups. After the games, cider and donuts were served to the guests. Patrick with his fiddle and Mrs. Wilfred O'Brien at the piano furnished the music for the square dancing. Prizes for the most unusual costumes were won by Mrs. Nellie McDonough, dressed as a farmer and Colleen Nackerman dressed as Minnie Mouse.

MR. AND MRS. Joe Dillingham stepped out to the Hallowe'en party to celebrate the anniversary of their first meeting. They were the most original couple at the party. Joe was dressed as a seedy hillbilly with hay shooting out of his old straw hat and a little brown jug slung over his shoulder. The missus was dressed as a cow girl and "totted" a jap pistol—one Joe took off a Jap officer.

Joe Sendenburg surprised us all. He came in jigging during the evening dressed in oilers with high hip boots and his fisherman's hat pulled down over his eyes. He had us all guessing for a while.

Beaver Island will go 90% democratic on Tuesday's election predicts Pat LaFreniere. It is, also, predicted Turner Boyle will be elected turnkey of the notorious Beaver Island jail, the rusty air-conditioned object laying on it's side in the woods. Turner is being opposed by Tom Gatliff.

MONDAY and Tuesday officials and representatives arrived on the Island to run an acceptance test of the new diesel engine recently installed in the Island's REA plant. Those making the test were Everett J. Raushenberger, Power Division, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C.; Phil Warren, state salesman and Robert V. Batt, service manager, Michigan Tractor Co., Grand Rapids; George Evans and Bob Doverman from the J. & G. Doverman Co., Grand Rapids, designers of the plant; George Raven, Louis Goode and Ken Ranie, Kirkof Elcetric Co., Grand Rapids, contractors for installation of the switchboard; Mr. Loding, traveling engineer, Northern Michigan Electric Cooperation. The test was made Tuesday.

Mrs. Elston Pischner and baby, Evelyn, returned home from the Charlevoix Hospital during the week.

MRS ROSE BONNER was a patient at the Burns Clinic in Petoskey last week.

Jean Catherine LaFreniere invited a group of her school mates to her home Wednesday afternoon to help celebrate her tenth birthday.

Julia Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allen, recently underwent a serious eye operation at St. Joseph's Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Buddy McDonough is stationed at Edwards Air Base Murac, Calif. His address is: Pvt. Joseph McDonough A. F. 16338210, 3076 Air Base Group, Edwards, A.F.B. Murac, Calif.

Maria and Hugh Gallagher went out in their car last week looking for Dan Boyles horse. They found him out by the old Antrim lumber camp. It was a toss up who was to ride the horse back home. It was decided for Maria to take charge of the horse, so Hugh hoistered her up and away she went down the road riding bare back. "First time I'd been on a horse in thirty-five years", said Maria. "And she did all right", said Hugh.

Mary Ellen McDonough arrived on the island Saturday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McDonough.

Mrs. Betty Moody returned to the island Saturday. She is visiting her mother, Mrs. Edyth Kleinhinz.

The Coast Guards were alerted Sunday evening at chow time to answer a fire alarm. It was a fire in the field out back of Johnny Greene's farm. Before the fire could be gotten under control, about an acre was devastated. The fellows say it was lucky the farm was in lee of the wind, otherwise a most destructive fire would have swept the island. The origin of the fire has not been determined. All indications point to a careless hunter, a lighted match or cigarette dropped.

Members of the Altar Society met Sunday afternoon in the Parish Hall. A benefit party is planned for Monday, November 13 in the hall. During the evening, a lunch will be served.

Win your Thanksgiving fowl. Lots of turkeys, chickens etc. K-P Feather Party Nov 20 at K-P hall.

Milestone in a Career!

We see it happen over and over again—and it's one of the greatest satisfactions we enjoy in this happy business of selling Cadillac cars.

It's when a man comes into possession of his first Cadillac—and we see the wonderful things it does for him.

We see his happiness as he places his order—not as the result of a sudden inspiration, but because he has gradually reached the conclusion that he has earned the right to enjoy the unquestioned best.

And then we see him on that happy day when his car is available for delivery—and he settles himself so proudly behind the wheel.

He's a little quizzical, we sometimes note. Could it be, he wonders, that he has been anticipating a bit too much?

And then he's out in the street—headed for home the long way 'round.

Those are thrilling days that follow.

There's the first long ride with the family . . . the first trip to the office . . . and the time he learns, in an emergency, that his car is worth its whole price in safety alone.

And then, almost before he knows it, the odometer registers a thousand miles—and he's back to tell us all about it. And, perhaps, to grumble a little bit at giving it up—even for a little while!

Yes, it's a priceless privilege to watch all this. Makes a man feel that he's doing good.

Hats Off to the Victorious Red Rayders!!

Close Sixth Season In Row Without Loss

Another football season has come to an end with the Red Rayders of Charlevoix high school continuing its dominance of the Northern Michigan Class C conference and extending its winning streak to 41 games.

The football streak, believed to be the longest in the state of Michigan high school grid circles, has been carved out for the last six seasons. Principal architect of the streak was Ray Kipke who this year turned over the reins to Del Terrill.

The football players can well feel proud of their accomplishment. The players have played clean, hard football. Their sportsmanship has been beyond question. A few of the boys have starred but it took the combined efforts of the whole squad and the coaches to go through the season unscathed by defeat.

That the team went undefeated was no accident. It took a lot of work and planning. To Terrill, Stewart Coleman and Pete Burns, the community extends its congratulations. To the players on the 1950 squad, the community says "well-done" and "well-deserved."

Now that Terrill has been through his first campaign of football, he has a right to feel proud of his first season of football here. The job of taking Kipke's place was not an easy one. It's never easy to follow in the footsteps of a coach who has enjoyed remarkable success over a 22-year span.

The community can feel proud of its school and team for such a fine football team. Let us hope the community can be as good a loser as it is a winner when the tide turns.

GENUINE PARTS and EXPERT SERVICE

One thing you'll like about the Ford Tractor . . . It's simple in design and built right. Doesn't take much servicing. Yet when it needs something done here or there, it's easy to do.

For example, we can reline brakes in almost no time... don't have to pull the axle. Transmission, steering . . . everything is designed for efficient service.

With this new Ford Tractor, you won't need us often but when you do, you'll like our work. We service all Ford Tractors, and Dearborn Farm Equipment, with genuine parts.

Bumper Crops TAKE A LOT OUT OF YOUR SOIL

Bigger yields from improved crop varieties and hybrids take more plant food out of your soil. As organic matter disappears, soil gets harder to plow, erodes more, soaks up less rain. Prompt manure spreading puts back most of the plant food that feed crops take out, prevents loss through fermenting and leaching. The organic matter in manure makes soil easier to work, helps prevent erosion, and lets your fields soak up more rain for future use.

CASE

It's so quick and easy to hitch up the Case tractor spreader that it's practical to haul whenever you get a chance. No lifting, no jack to fool with. The self-raising hitch rests right on the ground . . . lifts front of box when tractor starts . . . gives it an 18-inch running start in slick barnyards before taking up the load. Come in and see how easy it is to back up, how low to load. Ask for copy of "Handling Manure for Extra Benefits."

Beaver Island Also Raises Livestock

Harold Holm (right) and his assistant, Glenn Crain, load one of the 14 cattle and young stock sent to the mainland from Beaver Island recently. 150 head, most of which was feeder stock, has been shipped here this fall aboard the North Shore.

The importation of good bulls to Beaver Island in the last ten years is now showing results in the increased number of improved stock being shipped to the mainland for transportation to livestock markets at Gaylord and Traverse City.

Most of the 150 head sent over this fall have been young feeder stock although some cattle and yearlings have been included in the shipments. Approximately 15 more young stock are yet to be marketed before winter sets in.

James W. Gallagher, who has become one of the larger growers, said he started with a few head as a hobby, found that they could be raised profitably so went into business on a larger scale. He has marketed feeder stock for about ten years, and will have about 30 cows and bulls left for breeding this fall. William Smith and George Ricksgers raise equally as many with Frank O'Donnell raising fewer.

ED REBMAN, county agricultural agent, said that Beaver Island herds have grown considerably since he first visited the island four years ago. He also said that improved stock had played a major role in increasing the number and quality of the stock.

He added that the island's best crop is in feeder stock for the growers do not have the necessary grain on the island to fatten the stock for sale as beef cattle.

Most of the stock is turned out in the fields in the spring and have most of the island as pasture since few farmers fence their herds in. The stock to be shipped later this fall are still running wild on the island and have to be caught by the owners.

Lawrence McDonough operates the dairy on the island and has about 20 milking cows.

Pearsall Is Renamed Fair Board Head

The new board of directors of the Charlevoix County Fair met and elected their new officers for 1951.

Claude Pearsall was re-elected president, Dan Bennett and Jess Smith were re-elected vice-presidents, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, was re-elected secretary and George Ferris is the new treasurer.

The board held considerable discussion in regards to the dates for the 1951 fair. The date should be late enough that there would be plenty of agricultural produce to exhibit and still should be early enough so that school children could attend and the weather not be to cold. After much discussion it was tenatively decided that the dates would be September 4 through 8 which is the week of Labor Day.

Oat Growers Fear Stem Rust Spread

Charlevoix and Antrim county farmers who grow oats have their fingers crossed and are watching developments on the spread of a new race of stem rust which damaged crops as much as 20 percent in parts of the midwest in 1950.

It is race 7 of oat stem rust and M. E. Turner, official of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in charge of barberry eradication in Michigan reports it was found in Gratiot and Alger counties in 1949. It was generally distributed this past summer. Turner says the new race of stem rust affects most varieties of oats grown in the midwest including Bonham, Kent, Clinton, Benton and all the new Bond crosses. These make up 95 percent of the Michigan crop.

Turner works in cooperation with plant pathologists at Michigan State College and the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

New Co-op Group Meets Tonight

The meeting to organize the proposed cheese plant at Charlevoix will be held this Thursday evening, Nov. 9 at 8:30 p.m. in the Charlevoix high school.

The committee of cooperators have met and have drawn up a tenative set of by-laws and articles of incorporation and will have them to present at the meeting. All farmers who are interested in milk production are urged by Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, to attend this meeting.

Rebman states that the success of this plant will depend entirely on the volume of milk that can be delivered to the plant.

ORCHARD NOTES

By Claude Fairman

Grapes are something that everyone could raise along the fence row, backyard or fence corners. Grapes are not grown commercially here and it is not considered a profitable commercial crop for this section.

However, it is profitable to grow your own in town, suburbs or country, if you get the right varieties. Most everyone thinks of Concords, Niagara, etc. These varieties do not always ripen in this section.

In the blue grapes, the Worden was the first earlier grape to come out and then the Fredonia came out, which is two weeks earlier than Concord and now comes the Van Buren which is still earlier.

The varieties to plant here are: Blue grapes, Fredonia and Van Buren; red grapes, Caco; white, Seneca. The Seneca is half California type and half eastern type, making a real good early white or yellow grape. Another real early white grape is the Ontario.

If your favorite nursery does not supply these varieties, it is better to buy your plants from one of the New York grape nurseries. For home use, the two year old roots will start quicker and better.

The plants can be kept hoed and spaded or else use a heavy mulch of dead grass, leaves or similar rubbish. We do not have the diseases up here that they have in the grape growing sections and spraying is seldom necessary.

Trimming is necessary as the fruit grows on the current years growth. Also a fence or wire trellis is necessary for the vines to climb on.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

There are four teams in the girls league. These are Alba, Mancelona, Central Lake and Ellsworth. Ellsworth girls will be playing two games with Vanderbelt. The girls are now practicing on Tuesdays and Fridays.

YOUR TEACHER

Mr. Neil Norcross, Science and Mathematics teacher at Ellsworth High School received his B.S. Degree from Western Michigan. Last semester of 1949 he taught at a Student Teachers College at Paw Paw, Michigan.

This year Mr. Norcross, teaches the seventh, eighth, and ninth graders Mathematics. He also teaches eighth grade General Science and eleventh and twelfth grade Physics.

Mr. Norcross was raised in South Haven. His father was a farmer.

FIRST and SECOND GRADES

Our room certainly wants to thank Mrs. Leonard Hillman for the ice cream, cake and candy, that she brought to our room. This was a little farewell party for Mary Lee Hillman who is leaving our room and going to school in Gaylord.

We have a new girl in our first grade starting today (Thursday.) Linda Bitterle.

NEW LEAGUE SET UP

A new league was formed this year for the Junior High Basketball teams of Central Lake, Mancelona, Alba, Elk Rapids, Bellaire and Ellsworth. There will be a trophy given at the end of the year to the leader of the league. All Ellsworth games will be played during the same nights that the girls play.

The Student Council has been put in charge of all the financial affairs of the Atheltics Association.

KINDERGARTEN NEWS

The kindergarten children enjoyed a hallowe'en party last Thursday afternoon. All the children wore funny costumes and paraded with the first and second grade room. And then we paraded to the other rooms and sang some songs for them that we had learned. Also we went down town and sang for the people in the stores we enjoyed it very much. We are looking foreward to Chirstmas and we will sing again, we like to sing.

OFFICE NEWS

The Banking System for our school went under way on Nov. 1, 1950. Each class has a bank book of its own.

Mr. Glenn Aylsworth, Mr. Eugene Inman, and Mr. Henry L. Smith attended a Antrim County Athletic Association at Bellaire on October 26, 1950.

Mr. Donald Seifred has gone to Gaylord to a tractor training school for one week.

Bus News

Ellsworth merchants donated money for a hallowe'en party and buses went on their usual run at 5:30 to bring the little folks into the party.. At 9:30 the buses went out on their run to take the little folks back home and bring back the high school students who didn't come in for the early fun. Then at 11:30 tho buses took all of the students home.

The buses made five round round trips Thursday.

Home Economics

Most of the home economic girls have completed their samples of the various kinds of stitches. We are now going to begin to make Christmas gifts.

Hot Lunch

On an average about 175 students eat their hot lunch every day. Turkey, chicken and deer are coming up on the menu. Six new tables are heing set up in the hot lunch room.

Eighth Grade

The eighth grade class party was scheduled for last Friday night. It was postponed because of bad weather. They held a class meeting Thursday morning.

Band News

The Ellsworth high school band will play at the Junior play Nov. 8..

Dean Fiedler, band instructor, said the band would play several pieces before the play starts.

Third and Fourth Grades

The 3rd and 4th grade had a combined birthday and hallowe'en party Tuesday afternoon. Margaret Hastings was the only one in the room who had a birthday in October. We played games until three o'clock, then we lighted the candles on the birthday cake and sang happy birthday to Margaret. Mrs. Hastings was our guest. Refreshments consisted of pop, sandwiches, cake and candy. There was a few minutes left before buses loaded so we had a volunteer program.

The 3rd and 4th grade room won first prize in decorating Robert Smalley's store window. Now we are trying to decide what to buy for the room with the $3.00.

FIFTH AND SIXTH GRADE

The fifth and sixth grade had a hallowe'en party Tuesday afternoon. During the party the kindergaten, first and second graders came in their room all dressed in costume's and sang them songs. The sixth grade had a multiplication test with the seventh grade. The seventh grade won but the sixth hoped they do the next time. They also had a fine time at the halloween party Tuesday night.

Hay Ride

The ninth grade are planning a big hay ride for Nov. 17 with a lunch to follow at the hall.

They will be inviting other students. Mr. Inman our assistant coach, will drive the tractor but as of yet he doesn't know it.

Clarify Mix-up in Special Deer Cards

The Conservation department advises that some of the applicants for the special December deer season have received blank notification cards. In some instances two cards stuck together during the printing operation. The blank cards cannot be honored.

Conservation Officer Edward Starback advises that those who have received blank notification cards should return them immediately to the general operations division, Department of Conservation, Lansing. They will then be notified whether or not they were among the 21,800 successful applicants.

CHEVROLET TRUCKS
with Chevrolet's Hypoid Rear Axle

Chevrolet trucks are engineered to "take it," in every way. Chevrolet's heavy-duty hypoid rear axles offer maximum strength . . . with single-unit housings formed into tubular steel beams, and splined axle-to-hub connections that deliver power more evenly. Gears last longer, too . . . pinion gear is ball-bearing supported at each end, with adjustable thrust pad to prevent distortion on extra heavy pulls. Add these advantages to powerful Valve-in-Head engines, Synchro-Mesh transmissions, and channel-type frames. Then you'll know why Chevrolet is the most popular truck in America. Come see these great Chevrolet trucks today!

Rayders End Sixth Season Without Loss

med through center for the score on the next play but Left missed his conversion. Charlevoix led 13-0.

LaROWE, Lucas and Ayers played good ball against the Rayders but could not cope with the well-balanced attack of Charlevoix. Several times the Mancelona stars broke loose and appeared to be away for long runs.

With the ball on Charlevoix's 30, Left grabbed a couple of yards, Bryan dashed for six and Cunningham broke to the right and down the sidelines for 62 yards and a touchdown. The pass for extra point was no good. This made the score 19-0 as the quarter ended shortly afterwards.

Not long after the second quarter started Charles Krahnke and Fairbanks smeared LaRowe when he tried to make a small gain on fourth down. Charlevoix took over on its own 40 yard stripe. Ketchman passed to Fairbanks for 20 yards and again Cunningham legged it for the goal, running 40 yards to score his third marker.

IN THE LAST period, a touchdown pass from Wallace to Fairbanks for 45 yards was called back because of a penalty. But this did not stop the winners for long. Several passes from Wallace to Fairbanks set up the final score with Bryan plunging through from the six yard mark. Cunningham's kick was good. The final score was 32-0.

Jim Bowman, senior center, played another of his bang-up ball games and stands out as the most improved player on the squad. His tackling and blocking have been top-notch. Krahnke and Wojan among others played good games on the line.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL TOWNSHIP MEETING AND ELECTION AND OF REGISTRATION OF VOTERS

WHEREAS, at a meeting of the Township Board of the Township of Eveline, Charlevoix County, Michigan, held on the 6 day of November, 1950, a franchise ordinance was adopted, entitled as follows:

AN ORDINANCE, granting to CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY, its successors and assigns, the right, power and authority to construct, maintain and commercially use electric lines consisting of towers, masts, poles, crossarms, guys, braces, wires, transformers and other electrical appliances on, along and across the public highways, streets, alleys, bridges and other public places, and to do a local electric business in the TOWNSHIP OF EVELINE, CHARLEVOIX COUNTY, MICHIGAN, for a period of thirty years.

WHEREAS, said Consumers Power Company has heretofore filed its written acceptance of said franchise, and has requested that the question of confirming the grant thereof be submitted to the qualified electors of the Township, at a special election to be held for that purpose, and has also paid to the Township Board the estimated expense of holding such special election; and,

WHEREAS, there has been heretofore filed with said Board, a petition signed by at least twelve electors, requesting that a special township meeting and election be called for such purpose.

NOW, THEREFORE, pursuant to resolutions adopted by said Board, notice is hereby given that a special meeting and election will be held in said Township at the township hall on Monday, the 18 day of December, 1950, for the purpose of voting on the confirmation of the action of said Township Board in granting such franchise.

The polls of said election will be opened at 7 o'clock in the forenoon, or as soon thereafter as may be, and will be held open until 8 o'clock P. M., Eastern Standard Time. The Township Clerk will be in his office on the 28 day of November, 1950, said date being the twentieth day, as determined by statute, preceding the date of said election, for the purpose of reviewing the registration and registering such of the qualified electors of the Township as shall appear and apply therefor, which registration may be made on said date between the hours of 8 o'clock A.M. and 8 o'clock P.M., Eastern Standard Time.

Said franchise as granted by said Board is on file with the undersigned Township Clerk for the purpose of inspection by the qualified electors.

BY ORDER OF THE TOWNSHIP BOARD.

Charlevoix Digs Out After 20 Inch Snowfall

The Charlevoix area still showed traces of the heaviest early season snowfall in the city's history.

More than 20 inches of snow tell during a 14-hour period Friday night and early Saturday, bringing all traffic in the area to an abrupt halt, piling snow against doors so they could not be opened and marooning two Greyhound busses between Charlevoix and Petoskey.

A score or more of motorists who were caught in the deluge of snow sought shelter away from their cars as they mired in nearly two feet of snow. Charlevoix was apparently the only section in the state to report such a heavy snow.

WHEN RESIDENTS awoke Saturdoy morning, snow buried almost everything in sight. Bewildered, they could hardy believe their eyes. The surprise snow engulfed the street department which had had no advance warning. It was late Saturday before many streets were opened to one-way traffic.

In the country, crews work around the clock to keep the roads open with varying degrees of success. City and county workers were snowed under with work as were garage owners who also worked on a 24-hour basis. Virtually every car owner needed help.

Damaged hy the storm were the Wojan building on Stover road, housing the Morry Steel Products which is moving to a plant in Ellsworth, and the Ray Hamilton boatworks. Several flat roofed buildings were sagging badly at last reports.

Lack of severe winds prevented the snow from drifting. Roads to and from Charlevoix were plugged for hours, and many secondary roads did not get opened until this week.

THE FREAK snowstorm was said to be the heaviest in the memory of many oldtimers. Several could remember other heavy snowfalls but none so early in the season.

By Mondoy traffic in and out of the city was nearly normal with school busses operating on schedule. All but one of the rural schools were open. Only Marion township school was closed Monday. It resumed classes Tuesdoy.

Traffic at the airport was brought to a standstill because there was little or no snow in other areas, rendering use of skiis impossible. A score of residents here intending to see the Minnesota-State game were forced to listen to the game over the radio.

Freedman Will Head Local Kiwanis Club

Gordon L. Freedman was elected president of the Kiwanis club for 1951 ot the club meeting Monday. He succeeds School Supt. Roy G. Bennett.

Other officers are Frank Bird, vice president, Hubert Paddock, vice president, Fred Bancroft, Leonard Burns, Clarence Meggison, Edward Shanahan, Archie Livingston and Rev. W. D. Wood, directors.

Plane Victim At Torch Lake Was Movie Pilot

Three prominent Canadian businessmen who were treated at the Charlevoix Hospital for shock and minor injuries received when their four-passenger seaplane crashed into Torch Lake late Friday, were discharged from the hospital late Saturday.

A fourth man, Raymond Roy, 35, pilot of the plane, was drowned when he attempted to swim to shore from the capsized plane.

The injured men were John A. Fullerton, said to be a member of the Canadian House of Parlament, William McDonald and J. Gerard Joncas, all of Thessalon, Ont.

The pilot, also of Thessalon, had served as chief pilot in the movie, Captain of the Clouds, Bush Pilot and other movie productions. He had planned to retire soon,

The plane was enroute from Muskegon to Saulte Ste. Marie and had planned to stop at Charlevoix to refuel when it ran into a snowstorm. The pilot, with only 20 minutes gas supply remaining, decided to return to Torch Lake and land, rather then attempt to find Charlevoix in the storm. His plane hit a tree top as it came in for a landing on the east side of Torch Lake about a mile from the village of East port. Nearby residents heard the plane go down and rescued the three men from the floating plane and recovered the body of the pilot.

'Carey Boys' Will Speak at Annual Grid Banquet

The undefeated Red Rayders foothall squad, cheer leaders, student managers ond coaches will be the guests of the Masonic lodge at the annual football banquet Nov. 25 at 7 p.m. at the Masonic hall.

Lee Barker, chairman of arrangements, reported that Bill and Bob Carey of Michigan State will speak and show pictures of the Notre Dame- MSC game this fall. The banquet was originally set for Nov. 27 but had to be moved up because of a conflict with the onnual MSC bust which the Carey boys will attend.

Ray Kipke, former coach who retired from athletic duties this year after 22 years service here, will be an honored guest. James Hiller will be the toastmaster. Rev. Gaylord Howell and Rev. Fr., Leo Malinowski will give thanks.

There will be a limited ticket sale for the general public. No more than 100 tickets will be available for the general public so persons desiring tickets are urged to get them ot once at Central Drug, Schroeder & Hovey and Williams' Cigar store.

Several Injured in Snow Mishaps

John Connolly of the Charlevoix hotel suffered a fractured leg when he fell Saturday on the ice. Lester Gallagher, Jr., is in Charlevoix hospital with o leg injury suffered when he was helping to pull cars out of snowbanks with a troctor.

Henry C. Heckler also injured himself when he fell Sunday on Bridge street. X-rays showed no broken bones but a severe sprain ond torn ligaments.

Leave for hunting

Plenny Gennett left Saturday with his brother, Reed Gennett of Bellaire, for their hunting camp near Roscommon.

Two Oldsters Lead Deer-Hunting Army

By Fran Martin

When Charlevoix's army of deer hunter take to the woods Wednesday, there were two who are believed to be the town's two oldest hunters.

They are Christ Drost, who hasn't missed a season since he was 15 years old and he'll be 85 years old on Christmas Day and Bert (D. E.) Ingalls who has been hunting since he was 12 and he'll be 82 on Jan. 28.

That adds up to a heap of hunting in anyone's language.

When 'Pop' as Mr. Drost is called by everyone, went hunting this week he'll be accompanied by ot least one of his five sons whom he has taught to hunt and who always go with him.

MR. INGALLS was undecided whether he would return to the upper peninsula where he hunted last year or go into the woods around here.

Both go into the woods, not only for the game they'll get but for the love of the outdoors for Mr. Drost is a retired lumberman and Mr. Ingalls a retired farmer.

WHEN THEY return from a hunting trip they can tell you about most every tree of any size in the woods. They enjoy any kind of hunting whether it's small game, birds or deer.

The pair have something else in common for both were born in Michigan and hunted when there was a wealth of wild game of all kinds and when the woods of Michigan were literally forests.

Pop Drost was born at Holland and came to northern Michigan to work in the lumberwoods when still in his teens. Mr. Ingalls was born on the family homestead in Banks township, Antrim county, and lived on a farm in Marion township until 8½ years ago.

Crist Drost, (left) and Bert Ingalls, two of Charlevoix's oldest hunters, look over a gun at Staley's hardware while purchasing deer hunting licenses and hunting equipment recently. Mr. Ingalls who will be 81 years old in January took time off from shingling a house and Mr. Drost who will be 85 on Christmas Day left his chores at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Drost to purchase their licenses.

Three Hunters Get Their Bucks Early

Success crowned the efforts of at least three local deer hunters who reported early Wednesday of getting their buck in the Charlevoix area.

First to call the Courier was Harold Totten, Norwood township farmer, who reported he got his 160-pound five point buck a few minutes after seven. It was his first buck in eight years of hunting. He was less than a quarter mile from home when he brought it down.

Close behind Totten's report was Charles Bleha's, local merchant, who got his first buck in three years of hunting near Greensky hill. It weighed nearly 200 pounds and was a 10-pointer.

Leonard Thomson reported shooting an eight-pointer near Ironton about 9 a.m.

Three County Men Ordered for Exams

Charlevoix county will send three men to Detroit for pre-induction physicals in December, the local draft board has announced. The names of the men ond the date they will report will be announced later.

The names of the five men who are scheduled to report Dec. 14 for induction into the armed services will be selected at a draft board meeting later this month.

What's The Matter?

There will be an important meeting of Community Chest workers at 8 p.m. today (Nov. 16) at the courthouse in an effort to revive the lagging chest drive. To date less than $2,000 of the $5,715 goal has been subscribed. If you are interested in the Chest, you are urged to attend.

School Bands To Give Concert On Nov. 21

The Charlevoix high school junior and senior bands will combine their talents in a concert to be presented at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 21 at the high school auditorium. The concert will be given under the direction of C. A. Odmark.

The junior band, 22 pieces strong, will open the program with a group of marches and selections. This band, composed of mostly eighth and ninth graders, is the feeder group which in all probability will join the senior band next fall.

The senior band will provide the last half of the concert featuring a completely varied program. Included will be several morches, an overture entitled "The Enchanted Prince" and several selections ranging from "Etude in Boogie", a piano solo with June Guild as soloist with band accompaniment to the popular "Goodnight Irene". Also included will be a South American Samba entitled "Copa Cabana", by Harold Walters.

Another feature which has proved very popular with audiences is called "Build the Band" in which Mr. Odmark will explain the various instruments of the band, have the instruments play their parts and then combine all groups to make the complete band arrangement.

Proceeds from the concert will go toward the purchase of odditional band uniforms and for the generol expense of maintaining the musical organizations. Tickets

Rayders Lose 14 Gridders

Teams in the Northern Michigan Class C conference are shedding few tears over the fact that Charlevoix, league champions, is losing 14 players from their 1950 squad.

In the game for the last time for the Rayders were Ron Cunningham, Don Hardy, Greg Bryan, Bill Wallace, Charles Fairbanks, Ron Wojan, Jim Bowman, Fritz Allard, Niley Loulselle, Howard Campbell, Tom Donaldson, Dale Suomela, Bill Ward and Harold Homlin. All have left their mark in high school athletics and will be missed when the 1951 season rolls around.

INCLUDED in the seniors are three of the league's top scorers . . . Ron Cunningham with 9 tds and 13 extra points for a totol of 67 points; Don Hardy with 10 tds for 60 points; Greg Bryan with 48 points. Charles Fairbanks has scored 19 points and Tom Donaldson 6 points.

Among the seniors are also several players who are likely candidates for all-conference berths in the northern Michigan Class C league.

The 1950 squad added 238 points to make the six-year total 1257 points while they allowed only 36 to their opponents for a total of 109 for the six-years.

THE TOTALS for the years are: 1945, 229-0; 1946, 372-6; 1947 193-18; 1948, 148-12; 1949, 177-37. Seven games were played each except in 1945 when there were six.

Mayor Knight Will Head Industry Group

Officers for the newly-organized Charlevoix Development Corp., Inc., were elected last week.

President is Mayor John Knight Other officers are: Arthur Bergeon, former mayor, vice president, Henry Heckler, secretary and E. D. Hawley, treasurer.

Directors elected by the stockholders are Bergeon, Heckler, Knight, Hawley, Victor Spaniolo, Robert Bridge, Harold Dutcher, Don Campbell, Herb Campbell, and Archie L. Livingston.

Purpose of the corporation, a non-profit organization, will be to encourage and assist industry and resort development in Charlevoix. Plans are underway to assist several ventures.

The by-laws and constitution of the organization were read by City Attorney Norman Ance. It is expected that some $20,000 will be subscribed by local residents to aid worthy enterprises in getting a start.

Officers and directors will serve without pay

Cage Season Takes Over in Intensive Drills

With football equipment stored for another year, the Charlevoix Rayders have turned their attention to basketball.

Coach Del Terrill called practice early last week and candidates have been working out in the gym for the season's opening game Dec. 1. at Harbor Springs.

The time to date has been devoted to fundamentals and drills leading up to the type of offense to be used this season. No scrimmage sessions have been held thus far.

COACH TERRILL has a wealth of material from which to select his squad and competition will be keen for each berth.

Among the seniors out for practice are Don Hardy, Charles Fairbanks, Tom Donaldson. Bill Wallace, Ron Cunningham, Dwight Smith, Jim Bowman, Chuck McFarland and Ron Wojan, 6 ft. 4 in., who is playing his first season of ball here.

Six juniors who played consistent ball with the Reserves last season and who saw some action with the Varsity at the close of the scheule will be giving the seniors plenty of competition for regular positions on the first five. They are Charles Krahnke, Norm Ketchman, Dean Boss, Gerry Left, Nothan Boss and Bud Barber.

In addition to the candidates for the Varsity team, 25 sophomores and freshmen have reported for Reserve team practice. Several sophomores were with the Reserves last season as freshmen and will be trying for regular berths with the second team which is a feeder group for the Varsity.

3 Mental Hygiene Talks Are Planned

Tri-County Chapter of Michigan Society for Mental Hygiene will sponsor a series of three odult education lectures hy Dr. Robert Drews, who recently returned from Europe where he served as consultant on post-war mental hygiene problems.

Dr. Drews first lecture will be "Mental Hygiene and a World Crisis" given November 17 at 7:00 p.m. in the auditorium of the Petoskey High School. On January 12 he will speak on "Husband and Wife Team", and on February 9 his topic will be "Toward Firmer Family Ties".

Locals Place Six Players On First Team

In mute recognition of Charlevoix's long winning streak the Rayders monopolized the northern Michigan Class C All- Conference football team by having six players named to the first eleven.

The players are Ron Cunningham and Don Hardy, hard-playing backs who were also the team's top-scorers; Charles Fairbanks, end; Charles Krahnke, tackle; Ted Browe, guard and Jim Bowman, center. All but Browe and Krahnke are seniors.

Other players who were given berths on the first eleven are Bill Worden, Grayling fullback; Bryan Boring, East Jordan, quarterback; Ed Smigowski, Mancelona tackle; Elery Horning, Grayling guard and Jim Schreur, Gaylord end. Worden, Boring and Horning are seniors.

This is the second year Fairbanks and Worden have received all-conference recognition.

Named to the second team are Art Kujawski of Boyne City and Warren Haven of Harbor Springs, ends; Don Maxwell of East Jordan and Dick Kiser of Pellston, tackles; Don Jordan of Pellston and Danny Thomas of East Jordan, guards; Ed Lee of Mancelona, center.

In the backfield of the second team are: Don Arner of Boyne City; Don Whiteford and Max Sommerville of East Jordan and Jack Fleming of Gaylord.

Haven, Lee, Sommerville and Fleming are the only seniors.

Honorable mention was given to Ray Towne and Lyle West of Boyne City; Lee Nolan and Bob Sunday of Grayling; Duane Rhine of Harbor Springs; Bob Fosdick of Gaylord; Don Jarman and George Carlson of Pellston; Carl Bartell, Dick Lucas and Ron LaRowe of Mancelona.

This marked one of the few times that a team in the NMCC has placed more than three players on the all-star team. One coach went so far as to say that he would take the Charlevoix team in preference to any all-star team.

Inductees Leave Town Without Sendoff

A group of nine Charlevoix county men left Charlevoix recently for service in the armed forces.

These young men were ordered from their families, their jobs and friends to enter the service of their country. Hundreds of others from this county have answered similar calls.

These men were requested to stop whatever they were doing by their country's leaders, because of the threat of large-scale warfare.

Perhaps some might think that leaving home for an extended period of army or navy life does not represent too much of a sacrifice. But the biggest majority of Americans realize that the men are performing the most important of duties.

And yet let's consider what kind of a sendoff this community gives the young men as they await their bus which takes them to induction center.

The Charlevoix Service organization which is having a rough time obtaining enough money with which to carry out its naturally-limited program, presents each fellow with a small gift, cigarettes etc.

This is a great gesture from a small group of sympathetic residents. This is the farewell that the community pays to young men who face the enemy in a fight for the life of their country as well as their own.

This is it. The town and its people are too busy making a living, doing their small job and paying little attention to the bigger things in life--love of man, sympathy and understanding.

With the exception of the CSO attempts to say farewell to the inductees, not a single thing has been done to make the young men who leave, feel that the community wants to say a fervent farewell and wish them Godspeed in returning to their homes in our county.

This does not mean maudlin sentimentality. But sentiment does change the commonplace to the sublime.

How would you feel if you were called to leave your home, friends and loved ones, if the peuple for whom you are serving and sacrificing pay little attention to your leaving.

One 22-year-old inductee was heard to say as the group waited for their bus: "Gee, this is a h— of a sendoff. These people certainly don't care if we come back or not."

One can't blame this lad and others for being bitter. They have reason to be. The community is falling down on one of its prime duties.

It's possible for a committee to be formed which would organize a sendoff for the inductees. It need not be long or elaborate. But it would make the boys feel that they are not neglected and that this community does recognize their sacrifice.

A brief message by a city official, minister or city leader and a shaking of hands could be part of it. This brief sendoff would leave a good impression with the inductees as they leave civilian life for a stint of military duty.

Mistakes Galore Mark Close Election

The mistakes that have turned up in the closest state election in 100 years is appalling.

In scores of precincts downstate, errors running into hundreds of votes have been found. In several Detroit precincts, errors were found involving 7,000 votes.

As a result of all this confusion, the decision as to who will be governor has been delayed pending full check of the votes by canvassing boards. A recount at this writing seems inevitable.

The confusion has been greater than ever before, election officials say. Here in Charlevoix county, a mistake of 22 votes was discovered by county canvassers. Both Kelly and Williams gained 11 in the official canvass.

One state official in criticising the election errors said that a "five-year-old boy would have done a better job than some election counters in Wayne county." We would not go that far but it is safe to say that there is considerable need for revamping the election setup of workers.

The election witnessed the largest turnout in the state's off-year election history. The vote for governor changed almost hourly since the polls closed. Ten days afterwards, the decision is still in doubt.

The Charlevoix county turnout showed that about 62 percent of the eligible voters cast ballots.

The other 38 percent, barring unusual reasons, should have second-class citizenship papers as they did not deem it important to vote. But there are communities such as Harbor Springs and others which campaigned to get out the vote. It really paid off as some towns reported 85 to 90 percent of the people going to the polls.

Election officials say that if a greater number had turned out in northern Michigan, the governor's race might not have been so close. But that is water over the dam.

The election is over. Let's forget individual preferences and work for the common good of the community, state and nation.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

Mrs. Walter Jarvis called in the middle of our recent snow storm to tell us she had an Easter lily in full bloom . . . all four blossoms . . . she had received it as a gift when in the hospital last spring, placed it in the ground for the summer and potted it when she realized it was going to flower again . . . indeed a bit of spring in the midst of the storm.

And everyone's talking about the storm . . . it held the trek of the deer hunters up for a while but they braved the snow here when they learned there wasn't any past Petoskey . . . it made a lot of people feel like pioneers or something . . . walking to the store by breaking a path through the drifts . . . no milk until they got it out from the creamery by toboggan late Sunday . . . We hear the milk men tried to rent horses in order to deliver the milk but none were to be had . . The Kit Carsons had quite an experience and were happy no one was out to see them . . . the snow blocked their storm door shut and someone had to crawl through a window in order to open the door from the outside . . . Let's hope this isn't a sample of what we're going to have this winter . . . And don't forget to feed the birds in this weather . . . their source of food is covered and they'll starve if you don't place something out for them.

Lee Barker told us the other day that he thought he'd seen about everything until Saturday when he blinked and made a second take and sure enough, he'd seen right the first time . . . two hunters perched in the front of an old-fashioned hearse and the back packed with their hunting equipment.

THIS IS ABOUT the best one we heard about the telephone strike last Thursday . . . as most of you know the record announcing the strike played when you lifted the receiver . . . one subscriber, we're told, picked up the receiver only to hear the man's voice and in an indignant tone said "You might give a lady a chance to say something" . . .

When Mrs. Floyd Ikens retired as worthy matron of the local OES chapter Friday evening she presented her officers with hand-painted handkerchiefs which she had made herself . . . she had learned the art from a woman prisoner who had spent some time in the county jail since Sheriff and Mrs. Ikens have been in charge . . .

THERE'S TO BE a band concert . . . the first one of the present school year . . . at the high school gym next Tuesday . . . We think the Band Parents Association has come up with the best idea yet . . . a family ticket for such an event . . . It's a nominal fee for both parents and all the youngsters on one ticket . . . The junior band will appear on the program along with the senior band . . . it should be a fine concert . . . as are all director C. A. Odmark's presentations . . .

The faces of two Norwood nimrods are a bit on the red side these days . . . and no wonder the pair were hunting near Ellsworth one day recently and came on a flock of ducks on a small pond . . . they crawled up to within shooting distance and let go with a volley of blast and got several of the beautiful birds . . . only to have an irate farmer come a-tearing to inform them they'd shot his flock of tame ducks . . . they had to pay for the damage they'd done but didn't get the ducks . . . What an experience . .

Congratulations to the Rayders and their coach Del Terrill for placing six men on the all-conference 'dream team' . . we think it has come as a surprise to everyone for never in our memory has one team held so many berths . . it certainly speaks well for our Rayders . . . but then, we knew they were pretty good all along . .

Wonder who the lucky hunter will be this week . . . Can't imagine anyone tramping through the snow around here in an effort to get a deer . . . but in the U.P. they say hunting conditions are ideal . . . It will be interesting to hear who it will be . . .

For a quicker return to health, pay close attention to the instructions that appear on the label of your prescribed medicine. They represent your doctor's carefully considered judgement as to the amount and frequency of dosage best suited to your particular needs. Follow them faithfully. For instance, if the directions read "1 teaspoonful after each meal", it would be very unwise to try to make up for forgetfulness by taking 3 teaspoonsful after one meal. You don't have to take prescribed medicine too often, and a little extra effort to take it as directed will pay off in health benefits received.

Hunters Yield to Buck Fever Despite Snow, Bad Highways

Neither snow, nor ice, nor winter's blast have kept the hunters from his appointment in the north woods for the opening of the deer hunting season in Michigan Nov. 15.

Since Friday local nimrods have been leaving for their favorite hunting grounds in the upper peninsula and in eastern Michigan woods.

Fritz Bergman and his sons, George, Bill, Big, Al and Gene along with Bob Mitchell have gone to Ontonagon. Another son, Bud, recuperating from a recent hunting accident, did not accompany the group.

Floyd Ikens, Art Staley, Frank Zeitler and Ernest Staley left the same day and will set up camp in the same area.

The Boss crowd, Ed, Frank Jr. of Grand Rapids, Abe VanStadum and Leo Fairbanks also of Grand Rapids and Luther Lewis of Finlay, Ohio, picked up their knocked-down cabin and headed for Seeney.

Lee Barker, Ray Shearer, J. C. Marshall, Joe Williams, accompanied by Bob Heise and Arlo Crites of Detroit left Monday for Thompson. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Swanson and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Scott have set up headquarters near Ralph.

Busy Week for Girl Scout Leaders

The past week has been a busy one for Girl Scout executives and leaders.

Mrs. H. E. Paddock, president of the local council, Mrs. Ralph Hamilton and Mrs. Lester Smith of the council were in Grand Rapids from Wednesday to Friday where they attended the Great Lakes region 7 Girl Scout conference.

Monday and Tuesday eleven leaders and council members attended a camping institute held at the Park Place Hotel in Traverse City.

Those attending were Mrs. Paddock, Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Herbert Campbell, Mrs. Ray L. Kipke, Mrs. Mark Cross, Mrs. Frank Oleksy, Edith Olach, Mrs. William Ratigan and Mrs. Charles Bleha.

Historical Exhibit Scheduled Here

Students compare a present day newspaper and an 1865 edition, one of the meny interesting early American documents which will be displayed at the American Historical Exhibit at the high school gym Nov. 29.

Mrs. Alfred Snook To Review Book for Benefit Nov. 27

The Dickens and Shakespeare clubs are co-sponsoring a book review by Mrs. Alfred H. Snook, noted book reviewer, Monday, Nov. 27 at 2 p.m. at the Congregational church.

The book review will be given for the benefit of the new hospital fund.

Mrs. Snook will review "The Little World of Don Camillo" by G. Guaneschi, a best seller. The reviewer is well-known to Charlevoix residents since she has made several appearances here. A former Bellaire resident, she was a reviewer for Grand Rapids' leading department store.

The book she will review is a popular, eleverly-written story of the cold war being hotly-waged in a little Italian town.

Tickets can be purchased from club members.

Announce Marriage

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Mrs. Blanche Facer and Lee Allard at Bay City Monday. The couple will spend several weeks in southern Michigan before returning here.

Students to View Historical Exhibit

The American Historical Exhibit, the second school assembly to be opened to the public, will be presented at the gymnasium all day Wednesday, Nov. 29.

The exhibit features 300 original papers and documents which are a part of American history from the Revolution to the first World War.

A nominal fee will be charged to view the exhibit which will be arranged in the gym. All school students will visit the exhibit during the day.

Garden Club Sells Lapel Pin Flowers

The Charlevoix Garden Club has on hand a member of small glass flower vials to be used as lapel pins.

These will make attractive gifts for shutins, Christmas or party favors. A small flower or sprig of holly in the vase with a little water makes a gift people will long remember.

They are sold in lots of one dozen or more. Anyone wishing any may call 422 or any Garden club member.

Betty Warner Is Honor 4-H Worker in Area

Betty Warner, Charlevoix high school senior, has been selected as an outstanding 4-H club worker in Charlevoix county to attend the International Livestock exhibit in Chicago later this month with other winners of the Grand Rapids Press award from western Michigan counties.

The selections were made on reports from county 4-H agents and essays submitted by the candidates.

In awarding the annual trip, the Press takes the opportunity to award oustanding club members for achieving those qualities which make better citizens of west Michigan's rural youth.

Miss Warner is one of 22 west Michigan 4-H workers who will attend the Chicago exhibits Nov. 27-28-29. She was selected by K. C. Festerling, district 4-H club agent.

She has participated in 4-H club work for 7 years has won many awards for her work and has also attended the 4-H club camp at Gaylord. She recently represented the Michigan Grange youth of this area at the state Grange convention in Muskegon.

Besides her 4-H work she is a majorette with the high school band, played cornet in the band for two years, sings with the high school choir and the Norwood Methodist church choir.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Warner.

Griffin-Ochs Nuptials Read

On November 11 at a 10 o'clock ceremony at the First Presbyterian church, Flint, Marion June Griffin became the bride of James William Ochs.

Only members of the immediate families were present at the ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Griffin of Flint, is a graduate of the University of Michigan and her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Ochs of Charlevoix, is a graduate of Michigan State College and has a position as an accountant in Detroit.

After a luncheon at Cromers, the happy couple left on a two weeks honeymoon. Upon their return they will go into their new home, which is ready for them in Lincoln Park.

Banks Township School News

12th Grade News

The Donkey Basketball game was a pretty good success considering Old Man Winter tried to keep it from being so. The donkeys finally arrived at about 6:45 p.m.

There were four races on the Hobby Donkeys. In the first race Janis Smith, Grendoyyn Donaldson and Shirley Alward competed with Shirley winning. In the second race Alonzo Barror won out over Hank Klooster and Adrian Goeman. Mr. Don Seified was the winner in the teachers race with Mr. Eugene Inman and Mr. Dean Fiedler coming in close second and third. In the final race among the winners Mr. Don Seified won. There were many laughs and spills.

In the real donkey race the teachers beat the Seniors 12 to 10. The girls got so interested that they had to play the last quarter between the 10th and 11th grades.

Band News

Mr. Dean Fiedler has started a harmony band for the grade students of Banks Township School. The band contains six instruments. These consist of three flutes and three chimes.

Bus News

Mr. Levi Donaldson had to put a new thermostat on the GMC and the older International.

He had to put chains on one bus Monday morning. The buses have been running on schedule everyday.

Home Economics

The Home Economics girls have all completed their stitches and have handed them in to be checked. We plan on making some Christmas gifts now.

Tenth Grade News

The tenth grade had a class meeting Friday November 1 and decided to have a roller skating party November 22, at Walloon Lake. They are planning on inviting the whole high school.

OFFICE NEWS

Mrs. George Brown was absent Nov. 13, because of illness in the home.

A new ditto machine is coming this week.

There is going to be a Thanksgiving Turkey dinner Nov. 22. It will be served in family style. All local ministers are invited.

Eligibility List Out Monday

In putting out the eligibility list Monday, Mr. Henry Smith found that several of the boys out for basketball are not eligible to play. They will have to bring up their marks, and stay in for two weeks before going to practice, and cannot play in the first game.

Eighth Grade

The eighth grade sent flowers, to Mrs. Corneilous Vanden Berg who died last week. Beverly Klooster is in the eighth grade and it was her grandmother.

Future Homemakers Set Initiation Here

Members of the Future Homemakers of America will hold a public initiation at the Charlevoix high school gymnasium at 7:30 Friday evening.

At that time all members of the newly-organized group will receive pins.

Miss Grayde Patterson is faculty leader of the club. In her absence Friday the program will be under the sponsorship of Miss Donna Valley and Mrs. Louis O'Neill.

Club members are all students participating in the homemaking programs the school offers.

Parents and friends are invited to attend. Refreshments and entertainment will follow the initiation ceremony.

Reykjavik, the capital of Iceland, and Boise, capital of Idaho, both receive a special handout from nature, observes the National Geographic society. The gift is in the form of convenient hot springs and wells, which afford the two cities a netural hot water source for heating and other individual home and civic use.

Install Officers For Eastern Star At Rites Here

Mrs Ronald Abfalter was installed as worthy matron of the Charlevoix chapter No. 72 of the Order of the Eastern Star at an impressive service at the Masonic Temple Friday evening.

Mrs. Floyd Ikens, retiring worthy matron, opened the service, expressing her thanks to her officers for their able assistance during the past year.

As Mrs. Abfalter was escorted to the East by Mrs. Charles Bellinger, past grand Adah and installing marshall, ten little boys and girls, Parris Halverson, James Ladd, Janice Burns, Pamela Korth Sharon Abfalter, John Norton, Charles Coleman, Donald Heise, Mary Lou VerWys, and Judy Ikens, formed an aisle and sang an original song of welcome to her. They also presented her with a bouquet of autumn flowers. As Leland H. Barker was installed, the same group sang "What's the matter with Leland".

Other elective officers installed were Mrs. Russell Curtis, associate matron; Robert Fochtman, associate patron, who was escorted to the west by his daughter, Sharon; Mrs. Laverne Heise, secretary; Mrs. Glenn Ingalls, treasurer; Mrs. Harry Gebeau, conductress; Mrs. Lawrence Korth associate conductress.

Thirteen appointive officers were also installed by Mrs. Frank Courier, installing officer; Mrs. Bellinger, installing marshall; Mrs. C. S. Webster, installing organist and Mrs. Angus L. Fochtman, installing chaplain.

Mrs. S. E. Coleman, president of the Past Matrons' club presented Mrs. Ikens with her past matron's jewel.

At the close of the service members and guests enjoyed refreshments served from tables decorated with autumn flowers and leaves.

"I'VE BEEN WORKING ON THE RAILROAD"

When you hear of a great-grandmother celebrating her birthday, you have a mental picture of a little old lady at home with her family, perhaps sitting in a rocking chair doing some knitting. But Annabelle Cooper, a great-grandmother of Battle Creek, Mich., who recently celebrated her 59th birthday, didn't have time for a quiet party at bome. This mild-mannered, pleasant woman was too busy working on the railroad at her job of operating one of the huge cranes that pick up locomotives being repaired in the Grand Trunk Western locomotive shops and move them from one section to another.

For the last 32 years, ever since World War I, Annabelle, who looks mora like a housewife than a railroad worker, has been doing a man-sized job for the GTW during the day and dividing her evenings between writing poetry and being a good neighbor—looking after her aick frienda or belping taka cara of their children. Annabelle likes to cook and bake, mucb to tha delight of her family, but sbe saya she is still a tomboy too and spends many of her off daya hunting and fishing.

Although sbe is devoted to her job, Annabella was happy to climb down the long, upright ladder from her lofty crane ona day recently to tha shop floor far below, where her two-year-old great-granddaugbter was waving vigorously. Tba little girl and her seven-month-old brother wera determined to hava a birthday party for Great-Grandma, and so they brougbt har birthday cake down to tha railroad shops, wbara she joined them in blowing out the 59 candlas.

Non-Partisan News Letter

By Gene Alleman
Lansing Observer for
Michigan Press Association

While the Communists continue to accuse the U. S. of "bloody Intervention" in Korea, Michigan men are in the midst of their own annual intervention. Nearly 400,000 hunters will storm the woods in the next two weeks, bringing out an estimated 115,000 deer. About hunter casualties, no one is talking. But hope springs eternal.

Some 3,250 Michigan young men will get guns from the government before November ends. The draft still claims its monthly total, attesting that the Korean conflict is far from over.

Government expense has gone up. Says R. Perry Shorts, Saginaw banker: "The cost of living since 1940 has increased about 75 percent, while the cost of the government has increased 274 percent". The blame? Not defense spending, but non-defense . . . which he says has quadrupled since 1940.

The government got one return. Kaiser Steel Corporation gave RFC a check for $91,185,990.80 in full payment of wartime loans. Payment in full. Down to the eighty cents. And is was paid 20 years ahead of schedule.

An old song is the labor shortage. Detroit suffers most, along with Flint, Pontiac and Lansing, smaller inustrial areas. Harry C. Markle, MUCC director, suggests in-plant training to augment skilled worker forces.

Employers, expecting the situation to grow even more critical, talk mysteriously about "advantages" and already are hinting at Christmas bonuses to hold men on their jobs. Others are paying the workers' social security for them, increasing minimum rates.

Apparently the college boom is over. Michigan educators are planning for "seven lean years". The Very Rev. Celestin J. Steiner, president of the University of Detroit, predicts many colleges may have to close. He sees enrollment losses up to 50 percent.

Credit curbs still claim page one news space. On the whole the news restrictions have not had the predicted dire results. Even the used car market . . . usually among the first to feel the impact of such curbs . . . has held up with but few decreases.

A fluctuating stock market has reflected fear of soaring war taxes. Here is a far more sensitive barometer than prices that Korea is more than a name.

One of every six Michigan veterans has used his G. I. home loan guarantee. In the last six years the regional office of the VA has authorized 98,196 insured loans. VA guarantees amount to $323,681,840.

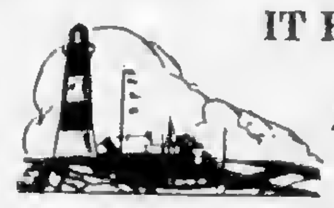
Michigan's parole system is under the glass again. Earnest C. Brooks, corrections commissioner, wants broader discretionary power for parole officers. Grounds? "Any written set of rules that fits one man is not suited to another case," Commissioner Brooks says.

The rent control picture still is hazy. Pontiac is leading the fray with its problems before the Michigan Supreme Court. As the year draws to an end the cudgel will be taken up in more communities throughout Michigan. Landlords and their tenants already have drawn lines in several of the larger communities.

"Operation American Citizenship". An educational program sparked by Dr. Lee M. Thurston, state superintendent of public instruction, hopes to "multiply and improve the amount and quality of citizenship education in Michigan."

Election comment: This column adheres to a policy of being nonpartisan in its interpretations of state politics. The Nov. 7 vote outcome is now on the record. On Thursday, Nov. 2, this column observed: "Governor Williams has the best chance of any Democratic nominee in more than a decade to win re-election . . . It will take a lot of Republican votes upstate to offset the Democratic margin of populous Detroit and Wayne county." This was printed five days before E-Day.

Republicans strengthened their control of state government at Michigan. The administrative board and the state legislature will be dominated by G.O.P. officials and legislators. Practically speaking, August Scholle and his CIO liberal group were defeated by Michigan voters on Nov. 7.



IT HAPPENED ON .... BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Beaver Island has a setting of real winter to welcome in the deer season. At this writing, the island has a soft, foot deep blanket of snow and it's beautiful! The hunters will be able to track deer this season. Last year, the island was barren of snow for the chase.

Prior to deer season, the North Shore was scheduled to make double trips to the island each day to accomodate the hunters. Saturday, however, the boat was unable to leave Charlevoix until five p.m. due to the heavy snow fall in the Charlevoix area.

With over two feet of snow plugging up the approach to the dock, it was impossible to load the boat. Beaver Islanders were astounded at the news of the heavy blanket of snow across the lake when all day Saturday we were basking in sunshine . . . but then, we got the blanket Sunday afternoon.

THE CHILDREN were thrilled with the first good snow fall of the season. Mothers made a nose dive into the box of boots so the youngsters could get out for fun with sleds and snow balls. Most of the youngsters were so happy, they wallowed in the white, soft flakes as soon as they hit the snow.

To get back to the deer season, Charlie "Harlem" Gallagher was in town Saturday to meet a party of hunters who had reservations at "Harlem's Hotel". Said Charlie, "Saw two bucks yesterday and two the day before, two beautiful big bucks. This is going to be a good season this year." And this is confirmed by Carl Keubler, our conservation officer, who says the herd looks better this year than last year.

The annual hunters dinner and ball sponsored by the Beaver Island Game Club will be held on the 16th is the Parish Hall.

* * *

TO SWELL the Community Chest fund, a benefit card party was held last Tuesday evening in the Shamrock Tavern. This was the third party given for the drive.

Coast Guardsman Cyril Jones and Mrs. Jones, who were recently married in Charlevoix, have rented the Peter Owen Gallagher home. Mrs. Jones was the former Lila Lee Connaghan.

Mrs. Patrick Bonner, who was a recent patient in the Burns Clinic, Petoskey, is home and improving right along.

Mrs. Elsie O'Donnell was a recent patient in Little Traverse Hospital where she underwent major surgery. While Mrs. O'Donnell was hospitalized, her sister, Mrs. Christie Gallagher, held down the home fort..

WELL SIR, the Williams-Kelly see-saw has us up one minute and down the next, depending on which side one is pulling for. Democrat Dominic Gallagher hasn't had a good night's sleep since election day. His ears have been glued to the radio. One day, there'll be a lot of beaming democratic faces with the "I told you so" expression written all over their "maps" and a bit of Republican gloom here and there, the next day, the situation is thrown in reverse with the 10 Republicans ribbing their opponents. It's a great life.

There's quite an attraction for the little ones down at Bruce McDonough's house. Hopping around is the cutest little ball of black fur, a tiny black rabbit Bruce found while out hunting. Being fond of pets, he couldn't resist taking it home. Bunny bunks in a box beside Bruce's bed and behaves beautifully. During the day, Black Bunny goes hippity-hop around the house and never fails to surprise and delight visitors to the McDonough's home.

ROGER CARLISLE is back on the island after two weeks in Indianapolis.

James W. Gallagher left Sunday for South Bend, which only gave him a half day at home to celebrate his birthday. It was Burt McDonough's birthday, also, there was a birthday cake at your B. I. reporters home, too. Terry celebrated his twelfth birthday.

The two one act skits presented by the high school students Sunday afternoon in the Parish Hall to officially open Book Week on the island were very entertaining and to the point why we should read only the best.

On display were books for all ages, the best on the market. Posters made by the students giving out the call for good reading added to the attractive arrangements of the books. During the week, these posters will be judged and a prize awarded the winner. After the skits, high school students took orders for books.

Island Grouse Hunting Draws 16

Beaver Island — First sharptail grouse hunting ever allowed by the conservation department here attracted 16 hunters who shot 40 birds. Season closed November 5.

This was an average of two and one-half birds each.

Species was introduced on this Charlevoix county island ten years ago and the original colony of 29 birds is estimated to now have increased to over 200.

W.C.T.U. Group Hears Congressman

The Women's Christian Temperance Union held its annual roll call and dues paying luncheon at the Congregational church Friday afternoon.

Delegates who attended the 76th annual state Convention at Saginaw Oct. 18-20 reported on the convention and said that one of the highlights of the meeting was an address by the Hon. Joseph Bryson, congressman of North Carolina. Mrs. Bessie Leismer, district president and Mrs. M. K. Hebesstreit of Petoskey and Mrs. Clara Howe of the local union reported on the convention.

Devotions were given by Mrs. A. J. Usher and Mrs. Clara Howe, vice president, presided at the business session. The meeting closed with a solo "Greater is He That is in You" by Mrs. Jane Fiedler.

Reports were given by the secretary and treasurer. The membership of the local union is now 45.

Union Services

The Union Thanksgiving Service will be held this year at the Barnard Reformed church on Wednesday evening, November 22, at 8 p.m. Rev. Joseph Bekkering will bring the message. Other protestant ministers will participate.

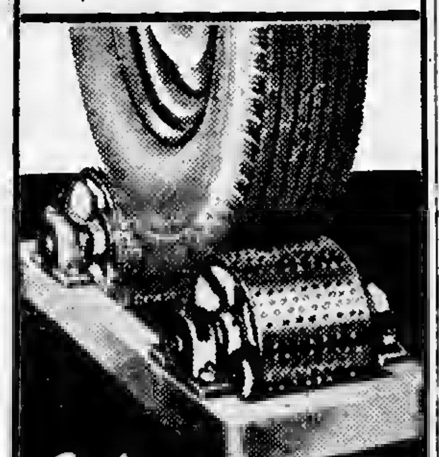
MAKE YOUR TIRES SAFER ON SLIPPERY ROADS!



Get GOODYEAR TIRE TRACTIONIZING

Here's what it is:

Goodyear's amazing new machine, the "Tractionizer" perforates the entire traction surface of tire treads with thousands of tiny, sharp-edges that resist skids in every direction! Tractionizing is done right on your car and one treatment lasts the average driver an entire season . . . when it wears off you have your original tough tread rubber for hot weather driving.

Here's what it does:

- Gives you extra traction for starts and stops on wet, icy, slippery roads!
- Reduces slipping and skidding in every direction!
- Does away with the need to buy — to put on — and to take off "special" recaps. Extra traction's there when you need it!
- Gives any make tire non-skid safety it never had before!

Injured Hunter Still In Serious Condition

The condition of James Baker, 33, of Bayshore, father of six children, who was injured in a hunting accident Friday remains serious at Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey.

He was wounded when a 410 gun loaded with No 5 shot carried by his brother-in-law, Wallace Mattson of Flushing, discharged when the latter slipped on wet brush while the pair were rabbit hunting east of Bayshore. The shot hit him in the lower back from a distance of 20 ft. shattering his lower spine.

Mattson carried him a mile through the woods to US 31 where a passing truck took him to the Petoskey hospital.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL TOWNSHIP MEETING AND ELECTION AND OF REGISTRATION OF VOTERS

WHEREAS, at a meeting of the Township Board of the Township of Eveline, Charlevoix County, Michigan, held on the 6 day of November, 1950, a franchise ordinance was adopted, entitled as follows:

AN ORDINANCE, granting to CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY, its successors and assigns, the right, power and authority to construct, maintain and commercially use electric lines consisting of towers, masts, poles, crossarms, guys, braces, wires, transformers and other electrical appliances on, along and across the public highways, streets, alleys, bridges and other public places, and to do a local electric business in the TOWNSHIP OF EVELINE, CHARLEVOIX COUNTY, MICHIGAN, for a period of thirty years.

WHEREAS, said Consumers Power Company has heretofore filed its written acceptance of said franchise, and has requested that the question of confirming the grant thereof be submitted to the qualified electors of the Township, at a special election to be held for that purpose, and has also paid to the Township Board the estimated expense of holding such special election; and,

WHEREAS, there has been heretofore filed with said Board, a petition signed by at least twelve electors, requesting that a special township meeting and election be called for such purpose.

NOW, THEREFORE, pursuant to resolutions adopted by said Board, notice is hereby given that a special meeting and election will be held in said Township at the township hall on Monday, the 18 day of December, 1950, for the purpose of voting on the confirmation of the action of said Township Board in granting such franchise.

The polls of said election will be opened at 7 o'clock in the forenoon, or as soon thereafter as may be, and will be held open until 8 o'clock P. M., Eastern Standard Time. The Township Clerk will be in his office on the 28 day of November, 1950, said date being the twentieth day, as determined by statute, preceding the date of said election, for the purpose of reviewing the registration and registering such of the qualified electors of the Township as shall appear and apply therefor, which registration may be made on said date between the hours of 8 o'clock A.M. and 8 o'clock P.M., Eastern Standard Time.

Said franchise as granted by said Board is on file with the undersigned Township Clerk for the purpose of inspection by the qualified electors.

BY ORDER OF THE TOWNSHIP BOARD.

RALPH PRICE, Township Clerk

it's a CHANCE you wouldn't take

No, you wouldn't risk moving in, unarmed and unprotected, on a deadly rattler, no more than you'd expose your life to any one of the hundreds of risks against which you can have protection.

But it's easier to see the peril of a rattler poised to strike than to sense some of the everyday chances many of us still take with our own and our families' lives.

Leaving a family without the security of life insurance is no less a risk than tempting a rattler; it's a risk no man can afford to take.

For without adequate life insurance a family is taking chances, reckless, unnecessary chances. See for yourself how easy and inexpensive it is to secure family protection—there's an Equitable representative near your home who will be glad to explain how you can assure your family's future.

4-H, FFA Help Boys Learn Good Farming

How do I get started in farming? This perplexing question frequently comes to county agricultural agent Ed Rebman.

As an aid to young men who may be faced with this problem, the agent sites some recent research by Don Shepard of the Michigan State college department of short courses, covering 90 young Michigan farmers.

The study shows that some of the successful young farmers have come up through having their father start them in 4-H Club work just as soon as they were old enough. In other words, the sons started early to secure experience and to earn money.

Many of the sons enrolled in the FFA program when they entered high school. They continued to expand their earnings and gained experience. They gained additional experience or education under the direction of the father, agricultural teacher, or 4-H club agent, or perhaps all three.

Shepard pointed out that these factors are usually most important:

1. The prospective young farmer needs to be really interested and must like to farm.

2. The prospective young farmer needs all the farm experience and education he can secure.

3. It is important that the prospective farmer accumulate capital at an early age. The study showed that the young man who accumulated around $1,000 early in life and then invested it wisely in farm property made the most rapid progress.

4. If the young farmer has a father who has helped him do all of this, he is well on the road to becoming a farmer. If the necessary conditions for a partnership are present, he is a fortunate young man.

Storage Provides Winter Vegetables

With fall coming on and the job of canning at hand, more and more home gardeners are turning toward storage as a means of preserving garden vegetables and fruit.

Though the job of canning can't be underrated, many persons nevertheless feel that storage of vegetables and fruits, has been overlooked. It is often less expensive and requires less work than canning.

An extension service bulletin entitled "Home Vegetable Storage" (Number E-232), published by Michigan State College, offers many suggestions for home vegetable storage. It gives all the latest innovations in food storage, including construction details for a basement vegetable storage room.

Area Turkey Growers Completing Marketing of 20,000 Birds

With Thanksgiving stuffing only a week off, Charlevoix area turkey growers, numbering some 75, are about through with their marketing of gobblers for another year.

While there are a number of growers who have held some back for the Christmas trade, the big bulk of the turkeys has been marketed, Fred Willis, manager of the Charlevoix Co-Op and the turkay processing plant declared Tuesday.

Some 28,000 to 29,000 turkeys have been raised by growers in the Charlevoix, East Jordan, Ellsworth belt. Most of them have been processed through the local plant, although there are a few who have marketed their own birds in southern Michigan cities such as Detroit, Flint, Lansing and Holland.

IT WAS ESTIMATED by Mr. Willis and Rowley Williams, a growers, that some 12,000 birds will have passed through the processing plant this season. About 2,500 birds will be retained by the growers as breeders.

The broad-breasted bronze turkey continues to be the favorite here, although the Beltsville White and the White Holland birds are gaining in popularity. Hi Brock is one of the growers who has Beltsville Whites. These birds are much smaller and well-adapted for small families. In the eastern part of the country, this variety is the favorite.

Most of the birds are raised on the range, although there are a half a dozen growers who confine their birds on platforms off ground under cover. Eldon Jones and Frank Bird raise turkeys this way.

The flocks of turkeys are as large as they have been in former years. Largest grower continues to be Arlo Wickersham, whose birds were processed through the local plant.

OTHER LARGE growers include Ernie Brock and John Brock, both of whom have upwards of 3,500 each, Frank Bird reportedly has some 3,000. Rowley Williams raised only 300 this year, a sharp drop from last year. He has processed all of his birds, keeping none for breeding purposes.

Other area growers who have processed birds through the plant here this fall include Louis Nelson, Addison Chew, Henry Altman, Ed Bradford, O. M. Sanders, John L. Boss, Al Carlson, Art Geer, Eldon Jones, J. Romback, Mrs. Bertha Roberts.

Other growers include Dick and Hiram Potter, Allan Potter, Sanford Matchett, A. J. French, Franklin Cellner, Rudy Korth. Korth has trucked most of his to Detroit and Holland for marketing.

THE PRICE the growers will receive for the birds through the Land-O'Lakes company with which the local processing plant is affiliated, will be close to last year's price.

In Detroit and Grand Rapids last week-end turkey prices on the wholesale market were 38-40 cents a pound for young hens and 10 cents less for toms.

Plan New Rules for Cream Marketing

More rigid requirements for the production and handling of cream offered for sale to be used in butter manufacture will become effective in Michigan Jan. 1.

Don Murray, extension dairyman at Michigan State College, who spoke in Charlevoix last spring reports that the proposal for an acidity test as a measure of quality was made at a recent meeting by representatives of the Michigan Creamery Owners association, bureau of dairying of the State Department of Agriculture, and the MSC dairy department.

In conjunction with the present standards in the Michigan state law for insanitary cream, a voluntary standard was adopted to reject cream in excess of eight-tenths of one percent (.8) acidity. It was considered that excessively sour cream indicates decomposition and would not make edible butter.

Murray advises that for producers to meet this acidity standard, it will be necessary to cool cream immediately after separation and to store at a temperature below 60 degrees Fahrenheit. Cream should be delivered at least twice weekly and clean equipment and utensils used in handling and production.

The standard which was proposed incorporated recommendations from five district meetings of creamery operators held prior to the Lansing meeting.

Predict Need For Big Output Of Milk in '51

Good dairy farm management in 1951 will call for a large output of milk with continued emphasis on efficiency. Total milk production in the year ahead will be about the same as for 1950 . . dairy product prices will be slightly higher.

These predictions come from Michigan State College agricultural economists in their annual outlook opinions.

The economists point out that while dairying will be profitable, dairy prices will continue low relative to beef and hog prices, as they have for several years. Demand is expected to rise faster than dairy product supplies, but price rises will be slowed down because of the storage stocks of butter, cheese and dry skim milk.

A changing fats and oils situation is seen as a favorable factor in the dairy outlook. Edible vegetable oils production will be lower. Reduced cottonseed and peanut production is expected to more than offset increases in soybean production. Higher fats and oils prices will bolster butter and other dairy prices.

Many farmers who have switched to marketing cream off the farm in recent years are expected to go back to selling milk in 1951. Less butter will be produced as demand for other dairy products expands. Continued high consumer incomes will result in a greater proportion of milk used for fluid purposes.

The MSC economists believe that with volume a major goal in 1951, it may not pay for the dairyman to cull as closely as in the past year unless he is sure of replacements. They also suggest feeding grain at a fairly liberal rate to high producing cows. The farmer who can substitute high quality roughage for expensive protein supplement will be able to reduce costs without lowering production.

Dairymen to Hear M.S.C. Specialist

"Keep down the cost of feeding the dairy cow and the battle is half won," says J. G. Hays, extension dairyman, Michigan State college.

County agent Ed Rebman has arranged to have Hays talk about feeding the dairy cow at a meeting set for 2 p.m. at Boyne City, Wednesday, Dec. 6. Anybody interested in milk production is invited to attend.

It doesn't do to keep down the feed bill by skimping on the amount of the cow's grub. If the cow is to roll out all the milk she is capable of making, she must be amply fed. If she produces economically, she must be fed the right rations of roughage and of grain. She must have the right pasture. Feed is an important item to watch closely because it amounts to about half the total cost of producing milk.

How to work out a feeding program in a practical way will be covered in Hays' talk. He will cover management problems such as the feeding of minerals. There will be ample time for questions.

New Rules Affect Spud Marketing

When potato marketing recommendations of the North Central Potato Committee are approved by the United States Department of Agriculture, farmers in southern Michigan will have different marketing regulations than those in the northern part of the state.

According to information reaching Michigan State College from the committee's meeting, regulations may become effective about November 15, 1950.

Under proposed regulations, potatoes produced in southern Michigan must grade at least U. S. No. 2, 65 percent U. S. No. 1 or better. This area includes all counties south of Oceana, Newaygo, Mecosta, Isabella, Midland and Bay.

North of, and including these counties, potatoes must grade U. S. Commercial, 85 percent U. S. No. 1 or better. This area includes the biggest volume of production including the upper peninsula.

Washed potatoes in either region must grade U. S. No. 2, 30 percent U. S. No. 1 or better in order to be marketed. Minimum size for marketing of all potatoes in either region is listed at 2 inches in diameter for round varieties and 1¾ inches in diameter for long varieties.

Official inspection would be required on all commercial shipments of 50 or more hundred-pound bags.

There is little doubt that U. S. D. A. officials will approve the recommendations of the committee, thinks Clarence Prentice, Michigan State College extension marketing specialist.

Fred Hibst, Cadillac, Mich., was renamed chairman of the 6-state committee administering marketing order No. 60. This order covers North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and northern parts of Iowa and Indiana.

Lights for Hens Mean More Eggs

Now that the days are getting shorter it's time to turn on the lights in the hen house, says Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

Michigan State College poultry specialists have supplied the extension office with some facts about lights for the laying house. Agent Rebman believes all farmers should know about lights for poultry.

Hens should be provided with sufficient light to assure a 13 to 14 hour working day. Whether the lights are turned on in the morning or evening makes no difference, though the poultrymen say lights should be on every day at the same time.

One 40-watt light bulb in a cone-shaped reflector provides enough for a 200 foot square hen house. In larger houses, one 40-watt bulb should be used for every 200 square feet of floor space.

The agent advises that hens are not likely to respond to the light right away--it usually takes from two to four weeks before you can detect a boost in production. Hens of average or below average production respond best to artificial light. The high producers usually lay well during the winter without the extra stimulus.

We Ask That "Fares" Play Fair

Judge Cunningham was telling about a taxi ride he took over to the County Seat last week. The cab was all littered with cigarette butts, plus candy and gum wrappers. This annoyed the Judge and he spoke to the driver about it.

To his surprise the cabman answered right back. "Don't blame me," he said "Fast as I clear this taxi out, the fares just mess it up again. I like a clean cab as well as anybody, but a man has to have some co-operation!"

Judge figures the fellow was in the right, and maybe we ought to do a little campaigning with the public. I agree with him—that's why I'm writing this article.

From where I sit, it's important for us to remember the fellow who's going to get in the cab after we leave it. Because he pays the same as we do, he's got the same right to a clean, comfortable ride—just as he has the same right to enjoy the beverage of his choice (be it coffee, beer, lemonade, or what have you).

ORCHARD NOTES

By Claude Fairman

Statistics show that the large part of the nursery stock that is planted either fails to grow the first year or is neglected before it comes in bearing, or does not have the proper pollenation by being planted beside the desired variety, or some other cause.

As the Courier furnishes this column, it is intended more or less for the beginner or the home orchardist, whether it is to be from one tree or more. It is better to take one kind and variety at a time in order to get the value of the nursery stock, land value, time and labor.

This time we will take a difficult variety to grow, but one of the best, not the most apples per tree, but bringing most money per bushel, the Red Delicious. Known on markets under the names of Star King, Stark's Delicious or Richer Red, it is still the same variety.

It is winter hardy, more frost proof and will grow upon any well drained soil and will do better on heavier than some varieties. The most important thing is pollenation as the blooms are set very deep. Bees must make several trips to the same portion of the bloom.

It takes lots of bees and the proper varieties planted next to it. The best to plant next to a Delicious is the Jonathan, after that the Yellow Delicious. For orchard planting, plant one row of Jonathan, then two rows of Delicious and repeat.

The next difficulty is getting large size apples and good color after the tree is 15 years old. In as much as the Delicious has a more narrow leaf than other apple trees, in order to keep the apples like they were on the first few crops, it is necesary to thin the apples to 10 or 12 inches apart early in the season.

Use a little more fertilizer for this variety, as well as plenty of moisture. Heavy trimming will not do the trick. The exception is when the trees becomes 25 years old, it could be top worked or renewed altogether to last another five years.

It does not pay to keep this variety over 25 or 30 years. In harvesting, leave the stem of the apple and pick early enough to prevent the apple being dry or mealy when ripened, and still late enough to retain full flavor and to enable it to stay crisp.

Rats and mice prefer this variety to all others.

Editor's note: And so do most humans.

Men Needed for Organized Reserves

With the present stepped up program to increase the Armed Forces of the United States, there is now a great need for young men and veterans in the Organized Reserves.

The 310th Ord Depot Company, Headquarters in Boyne City has a number of vacancies to be filled by young men and veterans who qualify and volunteer for enlistment in this unit.

This is a Troop Basic Unit and members of a Troop Basic Unit are exempted from the draft provided they meet certain attendance requirements. This exemption may appeal to potential draftees and certain veterans of draft age that may be included in the future draft requirements, who would rather go into active service with a group with whom they are acquainted than among strangers as individuals. However, potential draftees must not have received their pre-induction notice before enlistment.

Commercial Fish Haul Drops Off From Year Ago

Lansing—Commercial fish haul from Michigan Great Lakes waters now totals 12,165,000 pounds as compared to 12,837,000 pounds through the same eight-month period last year.

According to the conservation department, final July and August reports from commercial fishermen reveal chubs as leading production in the two-month 3,081,000-pound harvest. Over 829,000 pounds were netted with Lake Michigan producing 787,000 pounds.

Again the lake trout catch was second in the production picture. Over 570,000 pounds were taken and Lake Superior accounted for all except 4,000 pounds. However, reports of Lake Superior fishermen indicate more lamprey-scarred trout are appearing in nets set out in the western end of the lake.

Third in the two-month harvest period was the whitefish catch. Commercial fishing crews hauled in 527,000 pounds. Lake Michigan take totaled 372,000 pounds. Over 285,000 pounds of herring were caught, 157,000 pounds from Lake Huron, for the fourth best Great Lakes crop.

The two-month commercial catch of all species including yellow pike-perch, yellow perch, suckers, carp and other species from Michigan water of the Great Lakes: Lake Michigan, 1,601,200 pounds; Lake Superior, 724,000 pounds; Lake Huron, 642,000 pounds and Lake Erie, 114,000 pounds.

Total 1949 production from Michigan Great Lakes waters was 25,533,816 pounds

Annual closed season on lake trout now are in effect through October 31 in Lake Huron, November 4 in Lake Superior and through November 10 in Lake Michigan. Chubs may not be taken in any of the three lakes from October 15-November 20.

School Open House Program Attracts Large Crowd Here

The largest crowd to visit the various classrooms were present at the first Open House of the year at the Charlevoix schools Wednesday evening.

More than 200 parents and friends remained for the program which followed in the auditorium. "Visual Education and it place in the school system" was the theme of the program.

Dr. C. O. Whitten illustrated how visual education is being used in the school today. He also said there was a definite teaching technique to go with the films which will unfold an entire new field of possibilities in the future.

He explained what films were available and how the armed forces have used visual education in training members of the armed forces. He also illustrated how the use of the camera and projector could be most desirable for use in the schools.

DR. WHITTEN spoke from a wealth of experience and knowledge of the subject and also gave a report on the national convention on visual education.

Glenn Snider, a member of the faculty, demonstrated the meager equipment the school has for such a program and defined visual education as any type of education which appeals to the eye.

Supt. Roy G. Bennett, presented current problems in administration and listed among them the need of a program of guidance lack of proper space for modern subjects and explained the reduction in millage being given to the schools for operation and building and site fund and what it would mean to the schools.

• • •

UNO SUOMELA of the program committee welcomed the visitors and introduced the speakers. C. A. Odmark played two violin solos accompanied by Mrs. Leonard Burns at the piano. Coffee and doughnuts were served following the program.

League Cage Play to Start On Tuesday

The northern Michigan Class C conference will open its 1950-51 basketball season Tuesday when East Jordan journeys to Alpena to meet the new Catholic Central team.

The new parochial school, which came into existence last summer following the constroction of a new school building and combining of the former Class D schools, St. Anne's and St. Bernard's has scheduled two games with East Jordan five.

Mancelona will open its season the following Tuesday when they host Grayling which left the league following the close of the football season.

All seven-teams in the conference will play Friday, Dec. 1 with the Rayders playing at Harbor Springs; East Jordan ot Gaylord; Mancelona at Boyne City and Pellston meeting Cheboygan on the former's floor in a non-conference game.

With Grayling leaving the league teams scheduled games with other non-conference teams. Pellston will play Mackinaw City, Cheboygan and Rogers City; East Jordan will exchange games with the Alpena Catholic Central; Boyne City has two games with Cheboygan besides their regular non-league games with Petoskey; Gaylord and Mancelona will continue to play Grayling and also Kalkaska; Charlevoix and Harbor Springs will each play Petoskey but to date have taken no other ootside games and thos will have a 14 game schedole this season instead of 16 as in recent years.

Ellsworth Boy, 16 Hurt in Mishap

Ellsworth—John Best 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merion Best of Ellsworth, is in Charlevoix hospital with a painful injury to his right leg.

He hurt the leg when he was unloading a trock at the East Jordan Co-op Monday afternoon. He had the misfortune to hurt his other leg in a football accident a year ago.

House of David Cagers to Play Local All-Stars

The world-famous House of David basketball team which entertained a large crowd last year will return here Dec. 6 at 8 p. m. at the high school gym to oppose the Charlevoix All-Stars.

The bearded men will put on a clinic at 7:30 in which trick shots will be demonstrated.

The visitors will present their 7' 3" center, Moose Ludka and the star forward and clown, Bobby Roth. They will be supported by their usual good cast.

Playing for Charlevoix will he Coach Del Terrill, Gayle Saxton, East Jordan coach and Louie Brown, St. Francis coach, Capt. Chick Gallagher, Bill Lusk, Johnny Swanson, Don Meggison, Pat Martin and Big Bergmann. The locals will start practice Thanksgiving weekend. Other men who would like to play with the Independents are urged to report.

Better Pay Light, Water Bills on Time

For the second time in the last six months, the city council gave its support to a "get tough" policy in the collection of electric light, power and water bills.

City Comptroller Don Swinton told the council that a dozen or more homes and commercial places had their lights turned off in the last few days.

The collection of the utility bills, totaling $7,450, would help ease the city's financial woes, Swinton said. A total of $2,717 in water bills are due the city and $4,543 in electric light and power bills.

Swinton told the council that 10 commercial accounts are delinquent. The council told him to take necessary measores to collect the bills. Many delinquent householders face loss of electric lights.

The electricity and water will be turned off in homes and stores if they are delinquent. It may take several weeks before city workers reach all delinquents.

Ex-Mayor Bergeon Has Maintained Active Interest in Area Problems

By Fran Martin

City Assessor Arthor Bergeon is one person who really likes to use figures.

It's a good thing as he has recently completed his first assessment job since being appointed to the city position last spring. But using figures has been one of his favorite jobs. The former mayor of Charlevoix has been a public servant for more than 30 years and is recognized as a tax authority in Charlevoix coonty.

And the man who has completed this trying job is Arthur Bergeon, second ward supervisor and former mayor who was appointed city assessor by Mayor Knight last May.

That he is qualified for the job has been proven by his tine record as a public servant in both the city and county where his knowledge of taxes and public needs has made him an authority on the subject.

His interest in city and county finance first started in 1920 when he served as second ward alderman. He has continoed to study taxes by which cities and counties are financed, as he pots it, 'just on general principals".

THAT HE HAS learned a lot about them over a period of 30 years is shown in his record as mayor of Charlevoix for 12 years from 1922 to '32 and from 1937-39.

Some of the town's most prosperous days were in the roaring twenties' for during that time the electric light and water plants were constructed and put into operation; boulevard lights were installed on Bridge street, State street, and Belvedere avenue; the first yacht slips were built along Round Lake; Belvedere ave. and south Bridge st. were paved and East Park started.

All this work was accomplished by the city without going into debt. Not only that but the taxes were not undoly high doring the period and during the last year he was in office the tax assessment was only 10 mills, a sharp contrast to the 19 mills levied today.

As a member of the Charlevoix county board of sopervisors he has also grasped in no small degree the coonty's tax situation for he has served on the board since 1930 when he was appointed to fill the onexpired term of the late Darwin Meech.

HE HAS SERVED on various committees of the board and during the 1948-49 term was chairman.

It is his opinion that in many ways the public is to blame for the city and county operating at a deficit for the residents of the county continue to make more and more demands on the city and county. If they are to expect the added services they must expect to pay for them. As he sees it there is only one way to keep on the credit side of the ledger and that is to raise the county's valuation or to economize . . . it's going to be up to the public to decide which they want.

West Indies Storm Described In Local Letter

The Rev. and Mrs. Charles Struthers, missionaries at Jamacia, B. W. I., have written to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Strothers and Mr. and Mrs. John Funk, of the storm which hit the West Indies recently.

The letter follows in part.

You have been hearing of the storm over the Caribbean, I suppose, or have you? We had not even heard of it so possibly you have not. It was one of those that seemed to slip on us without warning.

No one seemed to know anything aboot it so we left home and started over the moontains to Charles Town 60 miles away. We noted that the rain had been very heavy and the flat bridge at Bog Walk almost under water when we passed at 8:30 a.m. Then it never seemed to let up all day long. Rain, rain and more rain. We could not even go to chorch at all.

WE THOUGHT we woold wait until 3 p.m. and see what it was like then and start for home if no one could come oot.

That is what we were doing but what a storm we were facing no one knew or we would be there yet today.

We came home by Junction road and what a mess . . . the rivers were like roaring lions and every little ways a place that would be flooded. Some times we couldn't even see the road. Then there were big rocks which were falling from the mountains. They would be all over the road and sometimes I don't know how we got through. Many cars were left behind with stalled motors.

It took us five hours but we kept coming right along. When we got to Stony Hill we thooght we had reached heaven. Coming down the hill it looked as though the hill was a river hed and tons of rock were right in the road. When we got to Constant Spring the hridge across the gully was flooded with water 15 inches deep. It was like this almost to Half Way Tree. Hope Road looked like a river.

We had Brother Crothers, Sister Brown and Sister Gaskin from Panama with us and after taking them home we came up here (to Half Way Tree) and after eating, went to bed. It stormed all night I don't know how much it rained but in another storm they said 7½ inches fell in 18 minutes and that's raining.

We are safe and sound and don't want wou to worry. That is why we took time to write.

Reunion Brings Happiness After 40 Long Years

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel H. Fales and his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Jud Hardy, had a surprise Nov. 11 when three nephews of the former and cousins of the latter whom they hadn't seen for 40 years came to visit. The visitors arrived late Saturday afternoon in the snowstorm which seemed to have slowed most traffic.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fales, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Fales and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fales, all of Powell, Wyo.

The three boys had been born at Ellsworth and left here March, 1910 when they were small children. It was their first visit to Michigan since then. They are now farmers and cattle raisers in the west.

Mrs. Fales' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Byron E. 'Sandy' Martin, of Grand Rapids, former Ellsworth residents, were also visiting here at the time and enjoyed the visit of the long-lost relatives, who continued their trip last Tuesday.

Rites Monday For Mr. Elzinga, Ex-Antrim Leader

Ellsworth—Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Atwood Christian Reformed church for Albert Elzinga, who died Thursday night after a long illness.

Albert was born at South Blendon August 17, 1885 the son of Hemke and Jantze Elzinga. He came to Atwood when a small boy to the farm six miles west of Ellsworth, where he has since made his home.

He was united in marriage in Sept. 1912 to Gertie Veenstra.

Ill health over two years ago caused Mr. Elzinga's retirement from public life. He had formerly served as a member of the Antrim County Social Welfare board, a Justice of the peace, board member of the former Atwood school and an elder in the Atwood Christian Reformed church.

He is survived by his wife Gertie, four sons, Henry, Martin, John and Allan all of Atwood and two daughters, Ona (Mrs. Robert Baker) of Albion and Janet (Mrs. Max Bolser) of Ellsworth. Also surviving are two brother James and Henry of Ellsworth and three grandchildren.

City Work Week May Be Revised Again by Council

The new 44-hour work week for hourly city workers may undergo some revision in the near future.

The possibility loomed Monday night when several members of the street crew reminded city council that the recent six per cent increase in pay actually has resolted in less take-home pay if the 44-hour week is carried through.

It was pointed out that under the 44-hour week, the men's take-home pay has dropped several dollars. The council is taking onder consideration the possibility of returning to the 48-hoor week and granting the six per cent raise on top of it.

While no definite decision was taken, it is likely to be considered again at the next council meeting.

Snow Removal On Sidewalks Touchy Subject

Do you want the city sidewalks cleared of snow this winter?

The council is seeking an answer to this perplexing question. Residents are asked to voice their opinion at the next meeting of the council, Dec. 4 at 8 p.m.

City aldermen discussed Monday night the possibility of clearing only Bridge street sidewalks and those on streets, one block from Bridge. Another suggestion was to plow the "valley" only and leave the north and south side walks to the residents.

The city has in the past hired Harry Hooker's horses to plow the sidewalks. Last year some $250 was spent on cleaning sidewalks. But it was recalled that it was a mild winter and there was little snow compared with previous years.

Leon Brower, 60 Ex-Courier Member Dies In Lansing

Leon S. Brower, 60, of the Lansing State Journal staff and former member of the Charlevoix Courier staff, died unexpectedly in Lansing Thorsday after a brief illness. Funeral services and borial were held Saturday.

Mr. Brower is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Mont Withers who with her son and daoghter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Withers, attended the foneral services.

A native of southern Michigan Mr. Brower came to northern Michigan and was employed for about four years as shop foreman at the Charlevoix Courier office. They returned to soothern Michigan more than 35 years ago and later went to Lansing where he had been with the Lansing Joornal for 20 years.

Surviving are his wife, the former Ruth Anderson; two sons, Maurice and Stanley who were born here and a daughter, Marie.

EXCHANGE VOWS

Lawrence Walgamolt Jr. of Atwood and Wanda Patten from Central Lake were married in a quiet ceremony at the Atwood Reformed parsonage Saturday evening, Nov. 18. Rev. Wayne Lenmen read the nuptials.

Three generations of hunters. That is the boast of the Ward clan. Here are shown Bernie Ward, Sr., left, his father, Oscar, and his son, Bernie, Jr., who are hunting in the upper peninsula.

Lucky Poor Shot

Poor shooting on the part of a "Trigger-happy Nit-wit" late Sunday afternoon was serious good luck for Earl Hoskins who was returning from hunting on the Charles Wells farm where he resides. By no stretch of the imagination does Earl look like a buck, doe or faun but the trigger-happy boys took a shot at him anyway.

Needless to say, there is righteous indignation on the part of some Norwood township property owners. Recklessness of this type leads to more rigid enforcement of the trespass laws at the cost of the decent sportsmen.

College Students Coming Home for Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving time is homecoming time for families and many college students will be returning for the first long week-end since September.

Largest group will be those expected from Michigan State and will include Bill and Bob Carey, Doug Byers, Clarke and Mike Bergeon, Sally Miller, Warren Shadko, Marge Brow, Jack Dodge, Gerry Gibbons, George Haggard, Betty Orvis, Ruth Blanchard and Jack Abfalter.

Others expected from Lansing will be Sally Eccleston and Patsy Hamlin, students at Acme Business College and Delores Winnick student nurse at St. Lawrence Hospital.

Central Michigan College at Mt. Pleasant will close for the long week-end and Bob Bartlett, Nell Suomela, Beverly Looze, Vane Smith, Mary Roberts, Nancy Heering and Herb Wickersham are among the students expected for the holiday. Jim Roberts will come and remain here for a month's internship in the local high school.

From the University of Detroit are expected Charles and Jim Gibbons and Bill Barber; from the University of Michigan Bruce Shanahan, Brad Foster, Bill Kane and Mary Simmons; from Ferris Institute Phyllis Trimble, Bill Poole and Edward Novotny accompanied by Mrs. Novotny and daughter.

Patsy Hamilton, Beverly Trimble and Roger Sweet are expected from Albion College; Sally Swinton from Michigan State Teachers from Ypsilanti; Frank Partridge from Aquinas College from Grand Rapids; Bruce Barker from the Soo branch of Michigan Tech; Larry Petersen from Davenport Institute in Grand Rapids; Pat Rose from Elkhart Business Institute; Nick Hamilton from Western Michigan Kalamazoo and Tom Hamlin from Notre Dame.

Morry Steel Plant Gets Alterations

Ellsworth—Alterations are underway on the boilding to house the Morry Steel Products and it is planned to have the plant in operation about the middle of December, according to Don Schroeder, manager.

Immediate alterations include construction of a steel reinforced concrete floor, installation of heavy duty wiring and raising the large doorway.

The management believes the plant will be operating with two 6 or 8 man shifts by the first of the year.

Mr. Schroeder states that he is very well pleased with the reception accorded the organization by the community. The plant moved last week from Charlevoix.

Split Vote Delays Buying Snow Loader

The City council Monday night authorized the porchase of a two-ton Ford Truck but a split vote delayed the purchase of a front-end loader to be used for snow removal.

The Northern Auto Co., was the only bidder for the two-ton truck. Its bid was $2,378 without a tradein of the 15-year-old truck now being used. The city will keep the present truck.

A ruling by City Attorney Norman Ance that the 3 to 1 vote in favor of buying the front-end loader from the Telford Epuipment Co., was not valid held up the acceptance of the Telford bid.

ANCE RULED that the measure reqoired a majority of the aldermen elected. This meant four votes of the six council members. Alderman Claode Davy and Fred Kohler were absent. Mr. Davy is in Florida and Mr. Kohler is deer hunting. Alderman Drew Young voted no on the issue.

The proposal was held over until the next meeting when Mr. Kohler will return. The Telford company agreed to make immediate delivery if the city decided in favor of its bid of $3595. The company will not bill the city until next July.

The council also set Dec. 21 as the hearing date for objections to the vacating of the trailer park. Several weeks ago the cooncil agreed to sell it for a $1 to the hospital association. Bills totaling $7,606 were ordered paid.

4-H Groups in County Cover Many Interests

4-H Agent

While the county agent is out in the woods learning about deer and deer hunters, the job of writing this column falls to yours troly, the 4 H Club Agent. As of this writing Ed Rebman, coonty agent deer hunter, has not bagged his bock. Will some of his friends please save him a piece of venison?

The Eveline community is bound for success in 4-H Club work this winter. Those offering to lead clubs in that community are William Schnieder, Mrs. John Brock, Mrs. Harold Thomas, Mrs. Homer Nasson and Mrs. Douglas Knudson. This group met with the 4 H club agent at the home of Mrs. Harold Thomas last week to complete the plans for getting the club program running in that community.

Interest in club work has sprung up in the Loeb Community and it looks like the program will get onder way this winter with a handicraft and clothing club. Leadership is not definite but it has been hinted that Mrs. Addison Chew will lead the girls and Mr. Donald Mort will take care of the boys. The knitting clubs of East Jordan are going great gons, so the youngsters have been telling me who attend the East Jordan school. Their leaders are Mrs. Leatha Larsen and Mrs. L. B. Karr.

THE HORTON Bay school is planning to have a handicraft club for boys and a clothing and knitting club for girls. Leadership for the projects has not been selected.

The South Arm community club who are state champions in model business meeting demonstration work are still waiting for their check for $50. The group have

Local Suggestion May Have Merit

Reports continue to circulate in the Northern Michigan district about illegal kill of deer out of the regular hunting season.

Several farmers in the Charlevoix-Antrim sector have reported from time to time that shots are heard in the summer and fall. Evidence has turned up indicating that deer have been killed.

The enforcement division of the Conservation department does not have the manpower to cope with the problem. While it is taken for granted that sportsmen will not hunt deer out of season, the opposite is true for some hunters.

The Conservation officers would have to be increased twenty-fold if they were to combat this problem. And this would be financially impossible.

However, Jay Adams, clerk of Marion township, recently came up with a suggestion which is worthy of merit and attention. He suggested that each township board appoint a game warden to serve without pay from the township.

Violators who are convicted would be required to pay an extra $50 which could be given to the game warden. Adams thinks this would go a long ways toward eliminating the illegal hunter.

We don't profess to be an expert on conservation matters, but perhaps the suggestion has merit.

Proof of the Importance of Voting

With the threatened recount of votes in the November 7 election now a reality for all precincts in Michigan, no one knows for certainty who the next governor will be. It seems unlikely that the official verdict will be known until late next month or early in January.

This much is certain: that Charlevoix county elected a governor. If that sounds ridiculous, consider this: Ex-Governor Harry Kelly received 2716 votes. As he trails Governor Williams by some 1,200 votes, what would have been his total had Republican voters laid down on the job?

Likewise, Governor Williams received 1816 votes. He can also claim that Charlevoix county voters are responsible for his election. And it certainly is true. He would have been out of the runing had he not received Democratic support in this county.

The important thing is that this election turned the spotlight upon the importance of the individual's vote in Michigan. Never before in our time have we thought our " our little vote" was so significant in a state whereby two million voters were counted in a gubernatorial election.

May we never again wonder "whether our vote will do any good." All we have to do is to think back on the 1950 election and--no matter which political party we are backing--we can again realize that votes are not wasted. All votes count and are important.

We may not know at the moment who the next governor will be but by golly, we elected somebody.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fren Martin

Stories are still coming in about deer hunters but the one we like the best was about the hunter who was hurrying to his favorite hunting spot early Wednesday and discovered he didn't have his gun when he'd gotten as far as Ironton . . . then there's the one about the two young hunters who got two red fox and turned them in for bounty to help finance a few more days of hunting . . . Of course there were some lucky hunters that first day too . . . among them Bob Wexstaff who got an 8-point buck near Vanderbilt before 8 a.m. the opening day . . . Ray Nowland Jr. who stopped north of town after hunting all day in the eastern section of the county and got an 8-pointer less then 3 miles from home . . . Bob Sommerville picked off a 6-point buck near East Jordan the same day while Jack Grupa got a six-pointer early Thursday.

We feel that that's the same personal attention every mother gives her child when she sends him off to school in the morning . . . and it's nice to know the children receive it . . . And that's only one example of all the 'extras' given by all those teachers with whom your children spend a good part of each day . . .

Seek Relics for M.S.C. Museum Exhibits

If there's a hand-made axe, an old grain cradle or even the surrey that grandad used to court grandma left around the farm or home, don't throw it away. Michigan State College will be happy to have them for the agricultural museum.

J. W. Stack, director of the Michigan State College museum, has asked Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent and other leaders of Michigan on the look out for items of early Michigan agriculture and homemaking.

"Some of these old articles have been in the family so long that the present owner may not know what the articles were used for and they may be thrown away or destroyed," Stack commented about articles used in lumbering, sugar making and farming enterprises.

The museum is also seeking early homemaking equipment for displays of early Michigan homelife.

Among the recent collections received for the museum at East Lansing is a dog treadmill used to churn butter. A spinning wheel, wooden sap buckets, hand-made farm tools, an early-day grain binder are in the collection.

Bob Gibson, Margaret Lynch Speak Vows

Robert Kerwin Gibson, B.M. 2/c, U. S. Coast Guard and Mrs. Gibson are making their home at Bayfield, Wisc., following their marriage at St. Vincent dePaul church Pontiac, Oct. 28.

The bride is the former Margaret Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lynch of Pontiac and the bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gibson of Petoskey.

The bride selected a white velvet gown designed along princess lines which featured a lace bodice, long sleeves and a cathedral length train. Her full length veil fell from a white velvet cloche of rose-petal design. She carried a white prayer book topped with white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. William Nesbitt of Pontiac, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Mrs. Norman Gallagher of South Lyons, was bridesmaid. They wore velvet gowns of wine and deep blue respectively, matching velvet headdresses. Mrs. Nesbitt carried a bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and Mrs. Gallagher a bouquet of pink roses.

Mary Colleen Barnet, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid and wore a torquoise velvet gown and matching headdress and carried a bouquet of pinnochio roses.

Maureen Lynch of Lansing, niece of the bride, in white velvet and lace fashioned like the bride's was flower girl. Michael Kelly Lynch, nephew of the bride of Lansing, was the ring bearer.

Gerald Lesher of Petoskey and Gaylord was best man, William Nesbitt of Pontiac and Joseph LaFreniere of St. James were groomsmen.

WITH 43 NEW "LOOK AHEAD" FEATURES

See It Friday at your Ford Dealer's—the '51 Ford! It's the newest Ford! It's the finest Ford! And it gives you 43 new "Look Ahead" features—engineered and built into the car not just for this year and next, but for the years ahead!

"Test Drive" the '51 Ford! You'll like the quiet "jet-away" performance of either the 100-h.p. Ford V-8 or the 95-h.p. Six . . . the ease of sure Centramatic Steering . . . and the extra safety of new, Double-Seal King-Size Brakes. And the '51 Ford offers three advanced transmissions—the Conventional Drive, the Overdrive,* and Fordomatic Drive,* the newest, finest and most flexible of all automatic transmissions.

Optional at extra cost.*

NEW AUTOMATIC RIDE CONTROL

. . . a new and unique springing system which automatically adjusts spring reaction to road conditions. Advanced "Hydra-Coil" Front Springs and new Variable-Rate Rear Spring Suspension team with new "Viscous Control" Shock Absorbers to give you an easy ride—a level ride. Stroboscopic illustration above indicates how car stays level when going is roughest.

Here are a few of the 43 new "Look Ahead" features in the '51 FORD

New "Safety Glow" Control Panel . . . The new design places all controls literally at the driver's finger tips. New "Chanalited" Instrument Cluster is easily visible at night without being distracting. New "Glow-Cup" Controls are individually illuminated . . . a Ford exclusive!

New "Luxury Lounge" Interior . . . with new long-wearing Fordcraft upholstery fabrics, new harmonizing appointments, smart new colors, new "Colorblend" Carpeting—the '51 Ford's new "Luxury Lounge" Interiors are "decorator designed" for the years ahead. Interior colors and new Fordcraft Fabrics are "Color-Keyed" to outside body colors!

New Automatic Posture Control . . . moves front seat forward automatically at release of lever, raises it for shorter drivers. Push seat back, it lowers automatically for taller drivers.

Automatic Mileage Maker . . . saves gas automatically. New Waterproof Ignition System, including snug synthetic rubber spark plug boots, prevents engine being shorted out by moisture.

IT HAPPENED ON . . . . BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Buck fever patients are being given the best of treatment on Beaver Island this season. The season, as predicted, is better than last year and the count of bucks dropped thus far is 25. This information was picked up on the fourth day of hunting. There's no telling how many more will be picked off before the season ends.

An estimated 80 hunters from the mainland were on the island for the opening day. Usually, there are around 150.

And there wasn't a drop of snow left on the ground to help the hunters track deer. A warm sou'west wind Tuesday took the snow away and there's not a trace of the white blanket.

There wasn't exactly a "closed shop" condition on the island the opening of deer season, the stores are all busy and the women folk lend a helping hand, the island nimrods can take to the woods. Bruce McDonough, Walter Wojan, Walter McCauley, Chuck Kleinheinz dropped their bucks soon after the season opened.

THERE'S a lot of hunting stories going around, but the most important is the story about Raymond Lewis. It wasn't a buck that Raymond brought in last week, it was a cotton tail, but no deer hunter was more proud of his first buck than Raymond of his first rabbit since small game season opened up.

Monday evening's party in the Parish Hall for the benefit of Holy Cross Church was a big success. The lucky winner of the turkey at the party was Mrs. Carl Left. Cake Walk winners were Mrs. Lawrence Davison, Mrs. Teddy Wojan and your B.I. reporter. Mrs. Willie Ricksgers, Mrs. Florence Ricksgers and Mrs. Pat LaFreniere made the cakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Larsen have returned to the island after three weeks in Detroit. Art was a patient in the Marine Hospital.

HENRY ALLEN arrived on the island Tuesday with more supplies for his cabin project and to take in the deer season.

Tuesday evening, members of the Third Order of St. Francis met at the home of Mrs. Margaret Hanley. As a work of mercy, Third Order members have agreed to assist with the clothing drive for the destitute in Korea.

Rodney Nackerman has been transferred to Witchita Falls, Texas. His address is. Pvt. Rodney C. Nackerman, AF 16339017, Tech Tr. Sq. 3767, Sheppard Air Force Base, Witchita, Texas.

The animal hunter's dinner and ball sponsored by the Beaver Island Game Club was held Thursday in the Parish Hall. Mrs. Mike Cull and Mrs. Mary Burt McDonough were in charge of the dinner which was a delicious ham and perch feast. Donning an apron and assistig the ladies with the job of frying up 150 lbs. of perch was Mike Cull and he did a fine job. Ask Willie O'Donnell who passed up everything on the table but perch and the count was twenty-two eaten when he pushed his chair back from the table.

THURSDAY and Friday afternoon. Willie Schmidt held a turkey shoot on the beach in front of the Beachcomber. Russell Greene hit the bull's eye Thursday to win a turkey. Buck Willoughby was the lucky winner Friday.

James W. Gallagher returned from South Bend.

Early Friday morning, cries for help were heard in the vicinity of James Gallagher's dock. Mr. and Mrs. Vernon LaFreniere, who happened to be passing at the time, went to investigate. They found Johnny Andrews, an island Indian, in the lake up to his neck hanging on to one of the old piles jutting out from the water.

Mr. and Mrs. LaFreniere were able to rescue the man from the icy waters with some difficulties. He was taken to the Coast Guard Station for first aid and treatment for shock. It is believed Andrews was attempting to climb into one of the fish tugs, missed his footing and fell into the lake. How long had he been in the lake? Nobody knows, not even Andrews who is known on the island as "Johnny Jumbo".

Friday evening, a shuffle board tournament was inaugurated at the Shamrock Tavern. This has created quite a bit of excitement among the young folks. Your reporter was'nt there so as to give an eye witness account of the contest, but next week, we will list the teams and the winners and a few side lights.

"HARLEM'S HOTEL" filled up last week with hunters from Pontiac. They were Buck Willoughby, Jess Herren, Dick Berry, Sandy McGregor, Frank Harnikie, Russell Omans, Cliff Manning and Lloyd McPherson. So far, Frank is the only one in the bunch to drop a buck, but Willoughby is taking home the turkey he won at the shoot.

Quite a delegation is on the island from Greenville. Out at Francis Ricksger's farm home there's Mr. and Mrs. William Huyler, Clarence Edwards and Jim Lieffers. At McDonough's cottage in the village, there's Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sorensen, Doctor Nels Sorensen, Vic Sorensen, Harold Krause and Dr. Robert E. Rice.

DR. CHARLIE McCann and party from Bay City were up here for the first week of deer season.

Karl Erber and party from Charlevoix occupied Erber's cottage on Sand Bay.

For the past nine years Mr. and Mrs. Keastner have come to the island for the chase. This year, they brought with them Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wuerfel and Guy Neff, all from Three Rivers and Angelo Maxam from Marcellus. They occupied one of McDonough's cabins on Sand Bay.

The luck of the Olsons from South Haven! Three came for the hunt and two have already gotten their buck. In the party were Dave Olaf and Elmer Olsen, Fred Hains and Buck Gruffin.

Ralph Rutt and party from Hammond, Ind. occupied Rutt's log cabin at the south end of the island.

It's Monday morning as the news is being typed out and it's snowing again. Looks as tho we'll have a white Thanksgiving.

Ex-mayor Bergeon Active in Community

In tha city ha feels that mora cooperation among the residents, particularly the businessmen, is necessary and that an affort should be made to understand others' problems and in so doing solve one's own.

If you have a personal interest in the people of the community you are bound to have a personal interest in the town and want to aid in every way to make it a better town, he said.

"God has been good to Charlevoix", he added "but Charlevoix doesn't seem to enjoy or utilize what he has given them."

MR. BERGEON is well qualified to make such statements in view of his years of service and business in the town. Born in Montague, he went to Traverse City as a boy and immediately after completing high school came to Charlevoix in 1900. He was first employed at the Levinson dry goods store and later at the old J. L. Crane store. In 1912 he went into business for himself and was first located in the present Harbor View cafe building. Later he was located in the Geiken building and has been at his present site at 321 Bridge st. for 25 years.

Asked why he stayed in Charlevoix he jokingly answered that he never had enough money to get out but such was not the case. It was a school teacher, one of three Fanning sisters, whose name was Lena. He was later married to her and she too became interested in civic affairs. She died in 1936.

Today Mr. Bergeon is as interested in the welfare of Charlevoix as a summer resort and small industrial center as he was a quarter or even a half century ago. He gives generously of the knowledge he has gained over the years and the town is fortunate to have such a person in its midst.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank Mrs. Alfred Brow for the delicious applesauce and apple jelly which she donated to the Charlevoix Hospital. 47x

4-H Groups Cover Varied Interests demonstrated their ability before the Rotary club in East Jordan and the anual meeting of the Farm Bureau at Charlevoix but the presentation of the award will be made at our winter 4-H leaders meeting.

4-H Club members were made happy this past week by tha delivary of their premium checks won at the Charlevoix County Fair. Often a club member is so happy about this premium that he fails to cash his check within 30 days of its dating. Club members should take note of this date and cash their check immediately. Total premiums paid to 4-H club exhibiting at the 1950 fair was $442.50. This was for 471 entries.

The Charlevoix 31 club are aspiring to build themselves a meeting place. This older youth group which is purely a recreational organization has membership from Maple Grove, Burgess, Murray, North Bay, Bay Shore and Carpenter comunity. Until now they have been privileged to use the Murray school for their meetings.

The people of Murray communitp feel that the responsibility of providing a meeting place for these folks should be shared by all the communities. This group of young people are planning to build a community building. The area needs a hall for community recreation. Perhaps everyone in the area can put their shoulders to the wheel and help these young people build a meeting place.

Delegates attending this Congress from the northern area and riding with Mr. Festerling will be Eleanor Harmon of Cheboygan. Greta Goerke of Top-in-a-Bee, Jack Hummel of Frederick, and Glen Ernest of Petoskey. This group are riding with Mr. Festerling leaving on Saturday morning. Betty Warner of Route 1, Charlevoix and Walter Hufford of Route 3, Petoskey will attend the International Livestock show at Chicago, 27, 28, and 29.

These two people will be sponsored by the Grand Rapids Press ans will travel by bus from Grand Rapids. Last year Emmet county did not have a trip winner but from Charlevoix, Dick Jolliffee of Route 1, Charlevoix attended. Both the trip to the International and to the Club Congress will provide thrills never to be forgotten by those attending.

A special award from General Foods Inc. has been received for Joyce Fiedler, outstanding Food Preparation member. This award is a 14 piece baking set. This award too will be presented on spring achievement day.

MEDALS FOR outstanding work in the county have just been received by the 4-H Club office and will be awarded in the spring to the following.

To Serve 300 at Ellsworth for Turkey Dinner

Ellsworth—The Banks Township school hot lunch program, which is one of three in northern Michigan offering a type A luncheon for only fifteen cents, will serve a complete Thanksgiving dinner including turkey and all the fixings to the students on Wednesday.

The idea is to see that in as much as possible, no child will be without a good Thanksgiving dinner; and to point out to them the meaning of Thanksgiving and how much each has to be thankful for.

The children and guests, school board members and a representative of each of the four churches in the community will be served family style. It is expected about 300 will be served at the dinner compared with 175 regularly.

The grade children will begin eating at eleven-thirty. A lay member of the Ellsworth Christian Reformed church will offer prayer and Rev. H. Goodyke of the Atwood Christian Reformed church will give a short talk on "The Meaning of Thanksgiving".

The high school pupils will be served at twelve-thirty. Rev. Dillon of the Pilgrim Holiness church will offer prayer and a Thanksgiving talk will be given by Rev. Wayne Lemmen of the Atwood Reformed church.

Mrs. Edson Hostess To Extension Club

Ellsworth—Members of the Ellsworth Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Charles Edson Tuesday evening for a pot-luck supper.

A business meeting followed. A short report on the district Homemaker Rally at Gaylord was given by Mrs. Peter Wieland. The group voted to give the United Nations flag, recently made by members to the school along with an American flag of the same size.

Most members plan to attend the county Christmas tea in Bellaire Dec. 5. It was voted to have a Christmas party and gift exchange at the December meeting at the home of Mrs. Anthony Shooks. The gifts are to be homemade and not to exceed fifty cents in cost.

The lesson on the making of Christmas wreathes and decorations was given by Mrs. George Koster and Mrs. Claud Dawson.

George Smith Heads Maple Grove Grange

George Smith was installed as master of the Maple Grove Grange at the hall last week.

Other officers installed are: Alfred Allison, Sr., overseer; Gloria Ostrum, lecturer; William Allison, steward; Don Rising, assistant steward; Mrs. Hazel Burke, chaplain; Mrs. Eva Ostrum, secretary; Claude Baker, gatekeeper; Leola Huston, Ceres; Betty Straw, Pomona; Flora, Barbara Poquette; Lady steward, Ruth Struthers; Otto Kane, Eldred Ostrum and Lee Sneathen, Jr. members of the evecutive committee.

Installing officers were Mr. and and Mrs. Frank Poquette of Maple Grove Grange, county delegates to the state convention.

Insecticide Shortage in '51

Michigan fruit and vegetable growers may run into local insecticide shortages in 1951, say MSC agricultural economists in their outlook opinions. Orders should be placed early, particularly for those containing chlorine and benzine, such as DDT, toxaphene, chlordane, and benzene hexachloride.

C.S.O. Needs Funds To Help Men Who Enter Service

With the reactivation of the Selective Service Act last summer following the Korean conflict, Charlevoix county has again been called upon to send its youth to the armed services.

Members of the Charlevoix Service Organization which was reactivated at the same time, felt that these men should not be sent from the community without some action to make this involuntary service a little more pleasant and indicate that the people of the county appreciate the service of these young men to their country.

Since Sept. 27 a total of 23 Charlevoix county men have been inducted into the armed services and five will leave next month. Every man who has left since that date has been presented with a small gift package containing candy, gum, cigarettes, postcards and magazines. The candy has been donated by a local candy shop and the remainder of the costs taken care of personally by a member of the C. S. O.

DURING WORID War II an account known as the C. S. O. Fund, was opened at the Charlevoix County State bank. From this fund, men were given send-off parcels, hospital boxes, Christmas packages and greetings, the local newspaper and other small services.

The account has been opened again and persons are being asked to contrihute to it. The C.S.O. hesitates to conduct a drive it this time for at the present time the needs are small. However, as the Selective Service Act expands as it most certainly will in the near future, a meeting will be called to decide what is necessary.

An appeal for voluntary contributions is being made to service organizations not only in this city but in East Jordan, Boyne City, Boyne Falls and Walloon Lake.

The C. S. O. Committee, composed of local residents who have volunteered to handle the job, is asking that everyone consider the above appeal and contribute to this worthy cause to assure every man leaving the community the grateful thanks of its citizens of the best country on earth.

Have you visited Cooper's Perfume Shop? You'll be surprised to see the complete line of gifts, cosmetics and jewelry. Open 1 to 6 p.m. daily and Saturday evenings.

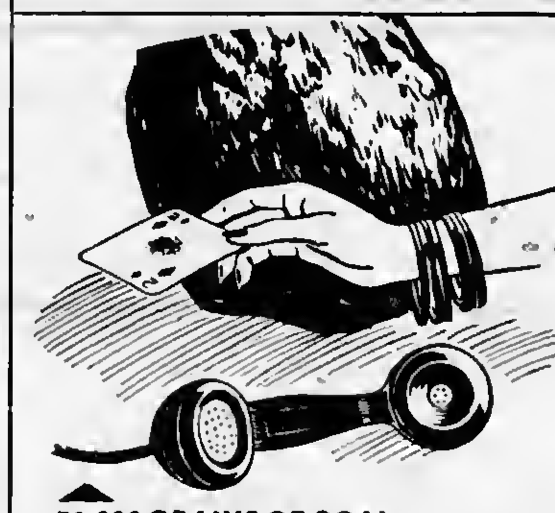
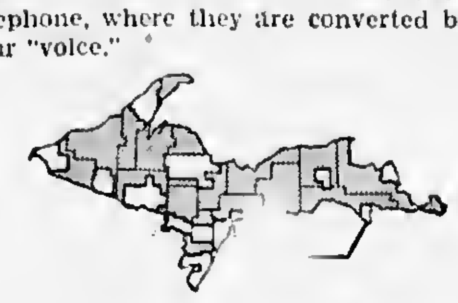
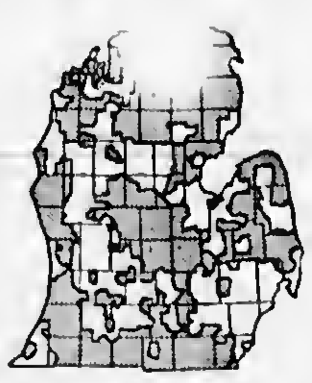
Rural Tele-news



$480 TELEPHONES—Last year, the average cost of new plant and equipment for each telephone added was $480. More telephones are going in all the time. So a lot more dollars are needed to continue Michigan Bell's rural construction program. This money comes from investors. To attract their savings, the telephone business must earn enough to pay them a fair return. Since more and better rural service benefits you, it's good for you to have Michigan Bell make a fair profit.

50,000 GRAINS OF COAL—Did you know there was coal in your telephone? There are about 50,000 grains of it—behind the diaphragm of the mouthpiece—enough to cover a surface about the size of a dime. Coal used in telephones translates the vibrations of your voice into electric waves on wires. These waves are sent to another telephone, where they are converted back into your "voice."





FITS TOGETHER—Did you know that, in addition to Michigan Bell, there are 151 "Independent" telephone companies in Michigan? Their territory is shown in gray on the adjoining map. Thousands of rural folks are served by these companies whose lines connect with Michigan Bell (area in white) for long distance service. Both the "Independents" and Michigan Bell have as their goal more and better rural telephone service.

Michigan Mirror
INTERPRETING THE NEWS

By Gene Alloman
Lansing Observer for
Michigan Press Association

Michigan is one of four states where lower schools in city and country are sadly lacking. So says the National Education Association. That group says slow gains have been made but high building costs and increased enrollment complicates the financial situation.

The Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission has a reserve balance of about $220, 000,000 an all-time high. Harry C. Markle, executive director, says that amount is "still far from sufficient to see the state through a long period of econo-upset and unemployment."

Detroit now offers a unique legal service. To aid those unfamiliar with procedures for hiring a lawyer or seeking legal advice a lawyer reference service has been set up. Appointments are made by phone.

The highly touted color television has found its niche. Some 600 doctors of Michigan recently watched a televised operation. The use of color makes this medium excellent for medical schools.

Some 1,300 of Michigan's imported Puerto Rican laborers are missing. Of the 5,700 flown here only 4,425 can be found. No one is worried, assuming they are finding their own way home or have taken employment in factories.

Flint has saved the federal government $1,000,000 in the last eight years by administering its own rent control. When controls were set up in 1942, Flint devised a plan to "keep the beareaucrats out" and it has worked smoothly and efficiently under local management.

The automobile industry, Michigan's largest industry, is worried over metals. The proposed cutback of copper and aluminum has filled the industry with doubt and uncertainty. Car production may be hit harder than was expected.

Who is governor? It's like that old "Who's on first base" story. Now more than two weeks after election when Michigan should be looking forward to Christmas the $20,000 (per year) question: Who is governor?

The legislture was in a dither as confusing as that surrounding the average citizen. Would they adjourn, now that Williams' 12 appointments were blocked? Their six-month's recess was stretched on to Dec. 30. The lawmakerss just couldn't hang around Lansing with nothing to do while the gubernatorial seat was being fought over.

But Christmas will not be denied. Behind the tinsel of store decorations lurks the shadow of ever-present inflation. Merchants expect a record season--if they get out and hustle. Higher prices have raised Michigan sales resistance.

The dollar now is worth only 60 cents--lowest purchasing power it has commanded since 1914 when the federal reserve system was set up. This decrease in value is cutting the treasury's "E" bond sales. Ten years ago, if one invested $75, he now gets $100 in return--which still will buy only $60 worth of food.

With the holidays comes bad weather. And already Michigan's traffic toll is pushing to higher figures. Safety officials hold their heads and ask drivers to use care on icy roads.

Senator Vandenberg's fight to regain health has become top news in Washington. Internationalists believe the powerful voice of Michigan's senior senator is needed if victory-flushed isolationists are not to reverse the whole recent trend of American foreign policy.

Community Chest Drive Must Not Fail!

County Awaits Starting Time For Recount

Charlevoix county today awaited the starting date for gubernatorial recount as county officials prepared to have everything in readiness when the signal to proceed is received from Lansing.

County Clerk F. R. Bulow, clerk of the county canvassing board, attended a meeting in Traverse City earlier this week for recount instructions. This marks the first recount in this county since 1930, Bulow said.

The recount in the state is expected to start sometime between Dec. 2 and Dec. 9. It was learned that county officials expect to start about Dec. 4, although this belief lacked official confirmation.

PRELIMINARY steps have been taken to have the state police or local law officials pick up the ballot boxes from the precincts and transport them to the courtroom where they will be cunted again.

Police protection will be given the board of canvassers and the ballots at all times. It is more than likely that Sheriff Floyd Ikens will be appointed by the state police to provide police protection.

Prosecuting Attorney C. Meredith Bice has been appointed by the county har as legal advisor. Members of the board of canvassers are Miss Annabelle Cunningham, Verne Whitford of East Jordan, Loton Willson of Boyne City and Mr. Bulow, clerk.

CHALLENGERS for both political parties will be permitted to watch the proceedings.

The Republicans have appointed George Haggard and Clarence B. Meggison as challengers. Democratic appointments have not been announced.

The recount means that every ballot cast on Nov. 7 will be counted again in the governor's race. It is expected to take about three or four days.

According to the official count of the election Former Gov. Harry Kelly received 2765 votes in this county and Governor Williams 1863. Each candidate received 11 votes more in the official count due to errors then in the unofficial count.

At present Williams was renamed Governor by some 1000 votes in the state. Kelly demanded a recount because of the large number of errors in the first count and the closeness of the voting.

William Murray Rites Held at East Jordan

Funeral services for William George Murray, 80, pioneer resident of East Jordan, were held at the Watson Funeral Home Sunday with the Rev. Scott Bartholomew officiating. Burial was in Sunset Hill cemetery.

He died Friday at his home following a long illness.

Born in South Arm township, the son of Forbus and Abigail Murray he had spent his entire life in that community. On Nov. 10, 1097 he was married to Sarah M. Leapard of Eugenia Falls, Ont., who preceded him in death Aug. 11, 1945.

Surviving are one son, Alonzo of Charlevoix, two daughters, Mrs. Rose Bussler of East Jordan and Mrs. Lena Holland of this city; five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bussler and daughter of Albion, Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Bussler and son of Cheboygan, Mrs. Gerald Smith of Lansing, Miss Ellen White and Art Godwin of Central Lake and Mrs. Lucy Molet of Charlevoix.

Furniture's Mr. Hess Will Be Big Asset

'Wants to Help in Building Up Charlevoix'

By Fran Martin

This week the Courier would like to introduce a newcomer to Charlevoix . . . he has not been here long enough to be included in the "Who's Who" in Charlevoix series but given time he will leave his mark on the passing history of the town.

He is Ralph V. Hess who came here Sept. 1, 1950, from Nashville after purchasing Smith Housefurnishing from E. J. Smith.

Mr. Hess, however, is well known here for he has been coming here as a visitor for 15 years and since 1949 has had a cabin at Oyster Bay.

At the present time the building at 113 Bridge st. which will house his business is being remodeled and when completed will feature an Onoway stone and glass front and large display room. A complete line of well-known appliances and furnishings will be sold in the store.

More recently he has purchased the Lewis building on Van Pelt place for a warehouse. The building will be repaired and a loading dock added. Large items will be housed there as well as stock for the retail store.

He plans to open the newly remodeled shop within ten days.

That he will like Charlevoix and be an asset to the town is verified by the fact that he and his family came here because they like the north and because he feels that Charlevoix is a growing town. As he puts it, we're going to stay because we've burned all our bridges behind us.

Ralph V. Hess

By that he means that he has sold the businesses he owned before coming here. In 1947 he disposed of the furniture business he had operated for seventeen years and when he came here he sold the undertaking business and funeral home he had operated for 20 years.

That he will be interested in the welfare of the town is proven by the fact that he had been active in civic and fraternal affairs in Nashville where he served as president of the school board for ten years, was a member of bank board of the Security National Bank, the Lions Club, the Knights of the Pythias and the Masonic Order.

He is an ardent sports fan and is looking forward to the coming basketball season. In active sports he likes to hunt and recently returned from the Manistique area with an eight-point buck. In the summer he likes to play golf.

He is a registered mortician and a graduate of the Worsham's school in Chicago.

Coming to Charlevoix with Mr. Hess are his wife and their daughter, Joan, a high school senior. The couple also has a son, Ralph, a freshman at Central Michigan College.

CAA Demonstration Shows Students Two-Way Radio

Through special arrangements with the Civil Aeronautics Administration, a demonstration depicting the use of CAA navigational facilities will be made in Charlevoix at the high school gym at 10 a. m. Wednesday, Dec. 6

The purpose of the demonstration is to encourage the use of two-way radio facilities as normally installed in the average light aircraft. Through the use of a mock-up and certain mechanical devices, a simulated cross-country flight in all of its phases will be shown.

The original idea was conceived through recognition of either a lack of knowledge of the average personal aircraft owner and private pilot in the use of his two-way radio, or by a recognized inherent fear of some pilots to use the CAA facilities provided for their purpose.

In the showing to be staged at Charlevoix, the demonstration team will jointly portray the roles of pilot, weatherman, aircraft communicator and tower operator. In a planned flight between two distant points, the complete use of two-way radio facilities, as normally installed in the average light aircraft, will be demonstrated. During the flight an amendment to the original plan is necessitated by inclement weather, and requires the use of an alternate destination.

As a sequel, another flight will be depicted, in which an overconfident pilot takes off without a plan, flies into darkness and becomes lost. The orientation method in utilizing the lost plane procedure is fully depicted in this phase of the demonstration. In previous showings at various locations throughout CAA's Region III, which comprises eight states, it has not ordinarily been possible to accommodate the many people desiring to witness the demonstration. All interested aviation groups and the public are invited to attend.

Summer Resident Passes in Florida

News of the unexpected death of Oscar C. Zachary, 42, summer resident here for many years, in Ocala, Fla., Friday has been received by friends here.

A native of Jacksonville, Ill., Mr. Zachary had come to Charlevoix as a summer resident since he was a child. He was an attorney and had lived in the south for several years.

He is survived by his wife, Mary; two children, Mitchell and Sally; his mother, Mrs. Herma C. Zachary of Jacksonville, Ill.; a brother, William and a sister, Alice, also of Jacksonville.

Funeral services and burial were in Jacksonville Wednesday.

All-State Honors

For the second time in Charlevoix's athletic history a member of the Rayders has been named to several all-state teams. He is Charlevoix end, Charles Fairbanks, who was named to the United Press third team and on the first and second team's of two Detroit newspapers. Bob Carey was All- State in 1947.

County to Send Eight for Draft Next Month

The Charlevoix county draft board has been notified that the county will be expected to send three men for pre-induction physical examinations and eight men for induction into the armed services in December.

The three men who will leave for Detroit for physical examinations at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 5 are Robert E. Scott of Boyne City; James D. Cole of Bay Shore; Augustine Wabanimkee of Charlevoix. They will report at the court house at the appointed time.

Ordered to report at the courthouse at 8 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 14 for transportation to the Detroit Induction center are the following: Robert Sevenski of Boyne Falls; James H. Matthews, Jack T. Davis, and Norman D. Erno of Boyne City; Russell J. Green of St. James; Ellwood W. Lewis of East Jordan.

The induction of two others have been postponed for the present. They are Merlin D. Roberts who will go in February and James G. Coplas of Boyne City, a college student who will be called at the end of the present term.

The local draft board was notified Wednesday that the Charlevoix County draft quota for January has been set at 16.

Rayman Infant Son After Short Illness

James Edward Rayman, 10-day old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Rayman, died unexpectedly Tuesday at the home of his parents after a brief illness.

Funeral services were held at St. Mary's church at 10 a.m. Wednesday with the Rev. Leo Malinowski officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

The child was born at the Charlevoix Hospital Nov. 18.

Besides his parents he is survived by a sister, Paula; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Anna Rayman and his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coatta.

Letters Awarded To 24 Members Of Rayder Squad

At a special assembly held earlier this week 24 members of the Charlevoix Rayders, 1950 football champs, were awarded letters by Coach Del Terrill.

They were: Ron Cunningham and Don Hardy, co-captains, Charles Fairbanks, Dale Suomela, Howard Campbell, Fritz Allard, Bill Ward, Tom Donaldson, Bill Wallace, Niley Louiselle, Harold Hamlin, Jim Bowman, Ron Wojan, and Greg Bryan, all seniors.

Also Dean Boss, Tom Bleha, Bud Barber, Norm Ketchman, Nathan Boss, Ted Browe, Charles Krahnke, Chuck Donaldson and Gerry Left, all juniors. Stan Whitley was the only sophomore to win a letter.

The letters are awarded on a point system with so many points given a player for the number of years out for the sport plus points for games played.

Large Crowd Enjoys Annual Football Bust

A large crowd of sports fans turned out Saturday evening to honor the Charlevoix Rayders, 1950 northern Michigan champs and their coaching staff at a dinner given at the Masonic Temple by the Masonic lodge.

The gathering heard Bob Carey, end, and Bill Carey, quarterback, of the Michigan State Spartans, tell interesting experiences with the college team as well as several stories about various members of the coaching staff. As former members of the Rayders squad, they commended Coach Del Terrill and the '50 squad for their fine work in continuing one of the longest winning streaks in prep school history and urged them to carry on the winning tradition in basketball.

During the program Coach Terrill introduced the members of his squad; Leonard Burns introduced the cheerleaders who were also guests at the dinner; Fran Martin spoke briefly; Rev. Gaylord D. Howell gave the invocation; Tom Carey, representing the Masons welcomed the group and James Hiller was toastmaster.

Following the dinner, movies of the Michigan State-Notre Dame and the Michigan-State-Oregon State football games were shown with Bill and Bob Carey giving the commentary.

Former Pastor Here Dies Suddenly in G. R.

Rev. Joseph Ciesluk, 40, pastor of St. Mary's church here in 1943, died unexpectedly of a heart attack at St. Francis de Sales rectory in Muskegon Monday.

Rayders Open Cage Season At Harbor

The Charlevoix Rayders will open their 1950-51 basketball season against Harbor Springs Friday.

The Rayders will meet the Rams on the latter's floor for the first time since the tight game last February when the Rayders came through to win by a 33-31 score.

Harbor Springs with several returning lettermen including Waren Haven, Dick Melching, Jim Snively and Dick Troup can be expected to remember the much-disputed game and attempt to even scores this season.

Coach Del Terrill will not name his starting line-up until game time Friday but should have little trouble finding the proper combination from the impressive list of candidates.

Among the thirteen who will be ready for the game will be Ron Wojan, Charles Fairbanks, Dean Boss, Dwight Smith, Charles Krahnke, Bill Wallace, and Don Hardy all of who range in height from 6 ft. to 6 ft. 4 inches; Tom Donaldson, Ron Cunningham, Jim Bowman, Nathan Boss, Norm Ketchman and Bud Barber.

The team has continued to work on fundamentals as well as plays for the opener.

The Charlevoix Reserves will play the Harbor Reserves in the preliminary game Friday.

Stroke Proves Fatal to Widow Of Frank Prekale

Mrs. Katherine Prekale, 77, widow of Frank Prekale, died early Wednesday at the Charlevoix Hospital where she had been a patient for eight days after suffering a stroke Nov. 20.

Funeral services will be held at St. Mary's church at 9 a.m. Friday with the Rev. Leo Malinowski officiating. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery. Members of St. Mary's church will recite the rosary at the See Funeral Home at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Born in Czechoslovakia Sept. 27, 1873, the former Katherine Kamodi was married to Frank Prekale and came to this country in 1910. The family resided in Chicago until coming to Charlevoix about 20 years ago. Mr. Prekale preceded her in death in May, 1940.

She was a member of St. Mary's church.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Edward Olach of Charlevoix and Mrs. Tony Olszewski of Traverse City; 11 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Workers Take Pledge To Intensify Drive To Raise $5,715 Goal

"We dare not fail".

With this cry in answer to the challenge of the lagging Community Chest, workers and leaders pledged Wednesday night that the $5715 goal will be subscribed.

Meeting last night at an emergency meeting called to revive the drive which to date has resulted in only $2645.85, less than one half of the goal, being collected, workers and leaders dedicated themselves toward reaching the goal.

This is the first time that Charlevoix has had to resort to an extra-ioning drive to reach its goal for the Community Chest. In other years the community set the pace for this section of the state.

Charlevoix is one of the few in Michigan not to reach its goal officials stated.

But this year, it's been a different story.

THERE HAVE been a wide variety of reasons. Some good. Some not so good. But the vital fact has been that the community is way behind in raising its funds for the Chest which spends all but a small part of the money in this community.

Organizations receiving help from the Chest include:

Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Community Nurse, Charlevoix Hospital, Santa Claus Annonymous. These are local organizations . . . your organizations.

THROUGH the United Fund, your contributions help servicemen through a new USO type organization.

This organization provides off-the-post activities for our servicemen. There are 128 installations throughout the world where our men are stationed.

The Michigan Heart association, another recipient of the Chest, helps you live longer by carrying out research on heart disease and heart surgery. This organization gives major financial support to the Traverse City Rheumatic Control Center for children. This center services Charlevoix county.

Cerebral Palsy is another United Fund agency. Through this fund, county children are provided treatment at the Traverse City Palsy clinic.

OTHER FUND agencies which offer heath assistance to you include the Arthritis foundation, the Multiple Sclerosis foundation, the Sister Kenny foundation, Epilepsy. These health services are available to the residents of this county through the Community Chest.

Officials of the Chest took occasion to thank solicitors who have done a grand job in the face of difficult obstacles. They were asked to do their utmost for another two weeks.

Senior Play Cast Busy on 'Young Men's Fancy'

The hilariously amusing comedy, "A Young Man's Fancy" will be presented by the senior class of the Charlevoix high school Dec. 13-14 under the direction of Miss Donna Valley.

It's the story of a youngster who goes to a boy's camp as a sissy and in a matter of weeks gets to be a regular guy under the guidance of Sylvia (Joan Hess) a camp counsellor.

Throughout the play runs the story of Dickie Crandall (Charles Rose), whose parents have never allowed him to be a boy among boys and who is utterly miserable when he arrives at Camp Freedom.

Sylvia soon has him turning the tables on his bunk mates and everything goes along fine until he borrows a book from Dr. Spee (Alvin Ranger) in order to help his friend Sylvia and her boyfriend, the camp director, Harold (Jim Bowman). What he believes to be a book on love and courtship turns out to be one on diet and digestion and he really has problems.

His grown-up letters to his parents- (Dale Suomela and Donna Everts) alarm them and they rush to camp only to find their darling rebeling at the thought of leaving camp. The father, who has helped the camp financially is ready to induce another backer (Joan Mathews) to withdraw her support and ruin the camp when Dickie hears about it.

What he does about that and how he wins the baseball game for his camp will be interesting to see in the production at the high school auditorium in mid-December.

In the supporting cast are Duvie (George VerWys), Grilly (Sam Hamilton), Jokey Stephen (Greg Bryan), Buddy (Ron Cunningham), all campers along with Howard Campbell; Sara Coleman and Joan Mathews, girl campers; Joan Lewis and Shirlee Clement, counsellors at the girls' camp.

Andy Essenberg, Jr. Reporting:

Grim Letter Tells of Korean War

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Essenberg Sr. have received several letters from their son, Cpl. Andrew Essenberg in Korea after eight weeks with no word from him. Earlier letters told them he was one of nine men who escaped when his company was surrounded by the Reds in recent action.

His most recent letter reads in part: I know it has been a long time since I have written but I haven't been feeling well the past three weeks. It is also hard to get paper.

I am sitting in a mud hut and it's very cold. I can hardly hold the pencil.

You asked a lot of questions which I can answer now. First I'll tell you what I do. I'm a first gunner on a mortar. I'm in the 7th Cavalry Regiment which is in the first Cavalry Division.

I do get lots of mail. Nina writes almost every day and the girls write often too. I got your package but the cake was spoiled. However, the frosting was good. Why don't you make some candy like that. We don't get too much food over here. When you send a box send some small cans of fruit mostly peaches and some gumdrops.

When I was back at Tague I was down tu 122 pounds but I've gained some of it back. I am now about 20 miles north of the capitol city of Ponyang on the west coast.

You said God has been good to me, Mother. You just don't know how good. You wouldn't believe me if I told you some of the tight spots I've been in and never got hit. My Company came over here with 158 men and there are nine of us left. Sometimes I feel the guys who lose a foot or leg are lucky. At least they don't have to be in this anymore.

My hand are getting cold again so I'll have to stop and warm them.

The weather here is clear but awfully cold. I have slept in this hut the past two nights but I have lice so bad I can hardly stand it but I'm not alone.

Your loving son, Andy.

The above letter, in its own simple way, portrays the hardships and sacrifices being made by the Americans in Korea.

His address: Cpl. Andrew Essenberg Jr. R. A. 10296765 Co. H. 7th Cav. Regt. APO Unit 4 % Postmaster San Francisco, Calif.

Don't Let Death Take Your Holiday

Once again American armed forces are in action trying to protect and uphold the ideal of freedum. Once again the spirit of Christmas will be mocked by the hate and bloodshed of the battlefield.

In many American homes the roar of cannon will make it hard to hear the ringing of the Christmas bells. That is to be deeply regretted, but throughout history the torch of man's dignity and freedom has been held aloft only through the sacrifice of its bearers.

We can do little to prevent such personal tragedies. But we can do a lot to prevent another kind of tragedy which is equally poignant at the Christmas season . . and more cruel because it is needless.

We refer to the preventable tragedy of accidents. The National Safety Council has called for intensive accident prevention effort during the holidays . . . usually a very dangerous period of the year.

That is an objective which has our wholehearted support, not only because it is better to have a joyous Yuletide, but also because we cannot afford to waste the resources of manpower and material so necessary these days to uur national strength.

The waste is enormous . . . much more than most persons realize. The American Medical Association has shown that accidents rob the nation of more working years than any disease, because accidents strike all age groups, not just those whose productive years are largely behind them.

The traffic accident problem this year is seriuus, with a death toll of 35,000 in prospect. That would be the largest number of automobile victims since the record year of 1941.

Rigid enforcement of the laws by state, county and municipal police, plus individual determination to play it safe, can keep the Christmas spirit . . . and all of us . . . alive this year.

Heed these simple rules for Christmas safety in traffic and in the home.

1. Use extra care for the extra holiday hazards.
2. Put the Christmas spirit of "good will" into your attitude toward drivers and pedestrians.
3. Don't let Christmas packages obstruct your vision when walking.
4. Don't drive if you drink . . . and vice versa.
5. Start in time and take it easy. Allow for winter weather and extra holiday traffic.
6. Check your home for anything that might cause an accident.
7. Keep your Christmas tree in water and away from flames.
8. Use electric tree and window lights . . no lighted candles ever. Don't leave tree lights on when you are out of the room for considerable time.
9. Check your electrical connections for shorts and wornout wires.
10. Keep flimsy Christmas decorations and wrappings away from the fireplace.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

Weather seems to continue as the main topie of conversation and Charlevoix sure had a variety of it over the holiday weekend . . . to temperatures around zero to rain and sleet Saturday night to snow Sunday that made everything look like a winter wonderland . . . But at that we were lucky with 22 degrees below zero at Pellston and scads of snow in Ohio, Pennsylvania and elsewhere . . . actually, we didn't fare too badly . . . It must be awful in the cities where they have no snow removal facilities when such a snowfall comes . . . In Cleveland the National Guard and their tanks were called out . . in Pittsburgh everybody able to swing a snow shovel was pressed into service . . . And how about that Michigan-Ohio State game . .

Most of our deer hunters were back before the storm and several reported getting bucks . . . Glenn Pemberton, Gordon Moeller and Glenn Rose each got one near Eckeman . . . Jeff, Frank and Albert Novotny each brought one home from the Munising area . . Herb Ager of Flint, Carlton Ager of Muskegon, Archie Balch of Charlevoix and a fourth member of their party from Lansing, all hunting near Bruce's Crossing filled their licenses while Keith Ager, hunting at Greensky Hill, brought down a buck . . .

A BOUQUET to Lee Barker and the Masonic lodge for the grand dinner for the football team Saturday night . . . it was perfectly planned and executed . . . and everyone had a wonderful time . . . it was grand having Bill and Bob Carey with us . . . and that some of the team and others couldn't be present because of previous plans . . . they were missed . . . And the Rayders . . . we see them all fall on the playing field and rarely realize what a swell looking bunch of kids they are when they're all dressed up . . . I'm sure everyone was pretty proud of them when Coach Terrill introduced them . . .

* * *

WE FOUND this definition which we thought rather good . . 'Man . . . a creature who buys football tickets three months in advance and waits until Christmas Eve to do his gift shopping' . . . which is just our way of reminding you there are only 20 more shopping days til Christmas so you'd better get that list made out and start shopping . . . We feel you should have little trouble this year purchasing elever gifts, smart gifts, useful gifts . . . whatever you're looking for because we've seen just about anything you'd like displayed in the shops about town . . . just take some time one of these days and make the rounds . . . you'd be surprised the things you'll find . . .

THE CHARLEVOIX RAYDERS will go to Harbor Springs this Friday for the opening of what looks like a wonderful season for the lads . . . For our money they've got everything . . . height, speed and, we hope, that undefinable something that makes a team . . . We could be wrong but we're betting they'll end up in Lansing come March . . . Lots of luck to you Rayders and Coach Terrill . . . we're sure we speak for everyone in saying that . . .

When you go to the basketball games this year you'll be seeing four new cheerleaders . . . who are they? . . . we don't know yet but they're to be selected at the pep meeting Friday morning . . we understand there are ten candidates and we're just as anxious as you are to know who they'll be . . .

Ploegstra-Drenth Exchange Vows at Church Ceremony

Ellsworth—The Rudyard Christian Reformed church was the scene Friday afternoon of a very pretty wedding when Thelma Ploegstra daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ploegstra became the bride of John Drenth, son of Jacob Drenth of Ellsworth. Rev. Dick Mellema preformed the double ring ceremony before an alter banked with pine boughs and lighted tapers.

The organist, Janice Mellema, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Jake Falkertsma, uncle of the bride, who sang, "Bless This House", before the entrance of the bridal party and "The Lords Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar following the ceremony.

The bride's gown was fashioned of white slipper satin with a lace trimmed net yoke. Her finger tip veil of bridal illusion and lace, was held in place by a tiara of simulated pearls. The bride carried a white Bible topped with white gardenias. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

The maid of honor, Miss Wilma Berkompas, cousin of the bride, wore a pastel green satin and net gown. Her hat was made of the same material. She carried a bouquet of asters and red rose buds. The bride's sister, Ellen Ploegstra, acted as bridesmaid. She wore a gown of yellow taffeta and net and her hat was fashioned of the same material. She carried a bouquet similar to that of the maid of honor.

Harvey Drenth assisted his brother as best man. The ushers were George Jake Drenth and Elmer Bestaman, brother-in-law of the bride. The men wore white gardenia boutonnieres.

The brides mother wore a black crepe dress and a corsage of white gardenias and red rose buds. The brides grandmother, Mrs. Falkertsma wore a black crepe dress and her corsage was made up of lavender mums.

Following the wedding, a reception for about 200 guests was held at the Kinross 4-H Club house. The brides uncle, Jake Falkertsma, acted as master of ceremonies. A four tiered wedding cake iced in pink and white and topped with a miniature bride and groom, decorated the brides table. A wedding supper was served to the guests.

After a short trip through upper Michigan, the couple will live in one of the James Heeres cottages on Six-mile Lake. Mrs. Drenth will continue her teaching duties at the Ebenezer school.

Out of town guests were Jake Drenth, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jake Drenth and children, Mr. and Mrs. George Jake Drenth, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Drenth, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Jake Drenth and Marilyn, the Misses Marjorie, Greta and Betty Drenth, Mr. and Mrs. Miner Koster and Jerry, John Drenth, Andrew Klooster, Mr. and Mrs. James Ruis, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Rubingh, Mr. and Mrs. John Jansen, Gerrit Vander Ark, Mrs. Tena Bolhuis and Miss Martha Postmus all of Ellsworth. Mrs. Arthur Burns and Miss Flora Veenstra from Atwood and Miss Laura Van Noord of Texas.

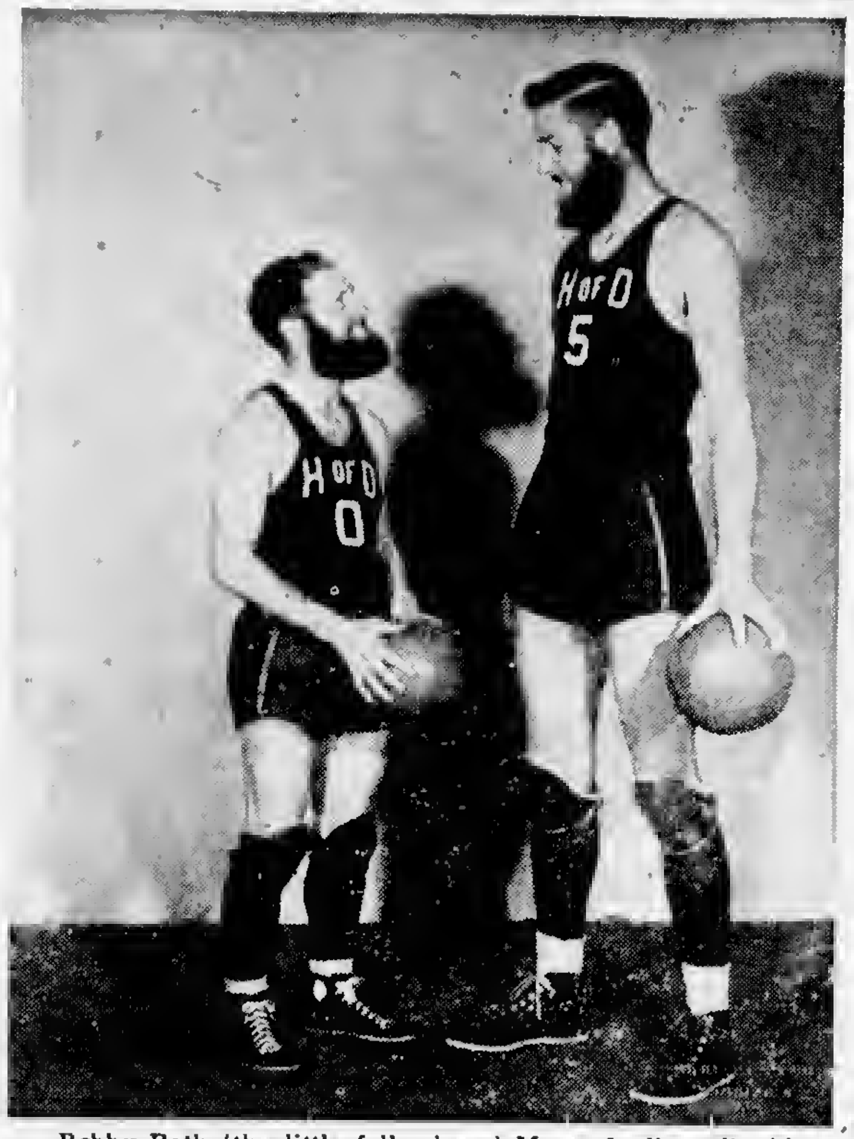
The Long and Short of It



Bobby Roth (the little fellow) and Moose Ludka talk things over. They are two of the House of David star cagers who will face the Independents here Dec. 6.

The Independents were strengthened by the addition of Ross Case, Michigan State college. The Bearded Men are paced by their giant center, Ludka und the clown-playing Roth plus other well-known teammates.

Opposing them will be the best collection of players in this area. They include Lou Brown, Ace Zographos, Gayle Saxton, Chick Gallagher and many other well-known stars.

Heart Attack Fatal to John Goemau, 75

Ellsworth — Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at the Atwood Reformed church for John Goeman, 75, long time resident of Banks township, who passed away suddenly Tuesday evening of a heart attack. Burial was made in the Atwood Cemetery.

Mr. Geoman was born in the Netherlands, April 26, 1875 and came to the United States in 1880 with his parents. They came to the Grand Rapids vicinity where Mr. Goeman lived until 1900 when he came to Banks township.

He was united in marriage in 1902 to Maggie Andree and has since lived in the same home in the Mitchell district.

Mr. Goeman is survived by his wife, four sons, Solomon of Grand Rapids, Cyrus and William of Ellsworth and Marvin of Grand Rapids, also two daughters, (Irene) Mrs. John Bosma of Grandville and (Wilma) Mrs. George Meppilink of Hudsonville.

To Remove Snow

Approval for the purchase of a snow-loader from the Telford Equipment Co., was voted by the city council last week at a special meeting. The vote was 4-1 with Alderman Drew Young voting no. The purchase of the tractor-loader totals about $3550. The city will not pay for it until next July.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

I Have A "Close Squeak"!

Spent last Saturday morning wandering all over the house. Wherever I went—upstairs or down—I kept hearing a "squeak." Couldn't find out where it was coming from until noon-time when the missus came home from her weekly shopping.

"Listen," I saya to her, "hear that squeak?" I started walking real quiet-like across the kitchen and there it went again! "Joe Marsh," she ladghs, "that is nothing but your suspender clips rubbing back and forth when you walk!" And darned if it wasn't!

From where I sit, I'd been letting a little thing become a serious problem. Like some little difference of opinion or taste will start off a great big argument. I may prefer a temperate glass of beer with my dinner—while the missus likes tea—but we figure that no two people have exactly the same likes and dislikes. So, why get all "het up" about it?

The moral is, check your suspenders—and check your temper when it comes to little things.

Community Chest Must Succeed

not been contacted, it was reported. Many of the business people other than the Bridge street merchants have not been contacted for donations.

The Community fund is your opportunity to serve the needy and well-deserving in the community. It is your opportunity to give a little pleasure at Christmastime, where there would be little or none at all. It is your chance to support the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the hospital and other agencies in the community and state dedicated to helping you obtain better health.

As one official said: "It's not a gift but an investment in better living".

The Chest will go over if everyone helps.

The workers and leaders were guests at a dinner last night at the Oddfellow hall. The dinner was given by several residents who are doing more than their share to see to it that Charlevoix reaches its goal.

It was emphasized that the dinner was not paid for by Chest funds.

IT HAPPENED ON ....
BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

This past week saw an influx of more hunters to the island. The count of hunters from the mainland has jumped to 122. The total number of bucks dropped at the end of the week was 40. Bucks are beginning to hang in clusters from the branches of front yard trees. This is a bang-up season for the hunters and we're all happy about the whole thing.

* * *

THE WEATHER played some fancy tricks last week. Strong winds from all directions accompanied with snow made hunting rugged business. But with it all the temperature on the island did not drop to the depth of our neighboring communities on the mainland. When Pellston reported a drop in the mercury to 22 below, Beaver Islanders were basking in 10 above. Saturday, there was only four degrees difference between Miami and island temperatures . . . Miami 26 above . . . Beaver Island 22. It isn't exactly summer time but we aren't freezing to death.

A few more islanders will have venison on the table. Barney Mooney, Walter McCauley, and Larry Davison dropped their bucks during the week.

This item proves there is such a thing as beginner's luck. Bob Wielke, a lad of sixteen from Pontiac, came to the island for his first try at deer hunting. He was out only a half hour when he got his buck. Brother Cliff, who came up with Bob, dropped his buck the next morning. They are the guests of Frank and Mel Gallagher nut on Trail Road.

DANO SKIDMORE, father of Mrs. Bob Peterson, has been hunting all over Michigan for the past twenty-five years with no luck at all. This season will long be remembered for Dano. He dropped his first buck. Yessiree, it's a long road that had no turn and Dano is mighty satisfied with hunting on Beaver Island. Besides Dano, who hails from Lansing, the Petersons had as their guests Pat Isbell, daughter of Mrs. Peterson, and Bernard King, both of Lapeer.

Tuesday evening, a series of card games began in the Parish Hall. To make the games more interesting, the series will be in the form of a tournament and at the end of the series, a prize will be awarded. The card games will be held every two weeks and a door prize will be awarded each evening of the games. Richard O'Donnell won the door prize last week.

* * *

SCHOOL was dismissed Wednesday afternoon for the Thanksgiving holidays. And Wednesday was home-coming day for Joy McDonough, Betty Davison and Patricia Ramsey. Joy is a student at Mercy Central School of Nursing, Grand Rapids; Betty is a freshman at Hope College, Holland and Pat is a sophomore at Central Michigan Teacher's College, Mt. Pleasant.

What a blessing Wednesday was a clear day! At least the day was clear long enuugh for Sylvester Howard to fly his plane from the island to Holland to pick up Betty and return to the island.

Attending Mass began Thanksgiving day for many islanders. It was a blustering morning later turning into a regular blizzard. It was a good day to stay indoors, enjoy the aromas emitting from the kitchen which eventually resulted in mighty good eating. And while we sat in the warmth of our homes with all the comforts, our thoughts drifted time and again to our boys away from home serving our country. May next Thanksgiving day find them all at home in the family circle.

THANKSGIVING evening, there was a hotly contested shuffle board game going on in the Shamrock Tavern. It was tournament night. Captains of the two teams are Geraldine Buckner and Lila Lee Connoghan. Clara Cull is president and acts as a sort of Kennesaw Mountain Landis capacity. So far, Geraldine's team is in the lead.

After the tournament games, four of the top-notch gals were challanged by four Eager Beavers. The girls team was made up of Geraldine, Sally Cull, Clara and Lila Lee. The fellows were Walter Wojan, Gene Connaghan, Vernon and Archie LaFreniere. The fellows claim they gave the girls a trimming.

The bumper crop of bunnies on the island has put plenty of meat on tables this fall. "Sure Shot" Collins gets the limit every time he goes out with his shootin' iron and he's chalked up close to ninety according to the "grapevine".

The McDonough family had a Thanksgiving Day call from Buddy who is stationed out in California. Each member of the family took a turn talking to Buddy and he had some promising news for the folks. He is pretty sure he'll be home for Christmas.

RODNEY NACKERMAN and Larry Cull have high hopes they'll be home for Christmas, too. It will be pretty wonderful to have our island lads home with their families for this happy feast.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Dunbar, Seattle, Wash., were recent visitors to the island. Mrs. Dunbar was the former Catherine McCann. All members of the McCann family were here for a reunion except Marguerite, who couldn't make it to the island.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Near, Detroit, came up for the hunting season and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Donnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fisher, Leon Farmer and son Leon, Jr. all of Luddington and Mrs. Nellie Babylon, Covington, Ohio made up a party who came to the island for the hunting season.

SEVEN and a half l-o-n-g hours bucking wind and not being able to see more than five hundred feet ahead, that's the story of the North Shore's trip to the island Saturday. The Ferry left Charlevoix at 8:30 a.m. and didn't reach the island until 4:00 p.m. On board and taking the beating were two of our nuns, Sister Jordan and Sister Genevive and two visitors, Andy Murch and friend from Paw Paw. It was an experience they wouldn't care to repeat. In the meantime over here on the island, parties of hunters waiting for the boat to return to the mainland almost sat the bottoms out of chairs. Anxious islanders almost pierced holes thru the plate glass windows of the village stores watching and trying to sight the boat. As it happened, the skipper spent around forty-five minutes to sight the harbor. Needless to say, Captain Dick Lyons did not make the return trip that day. Due to strong winds out of the nor' west, the boat did not leave the island until 1:30 a.m. Monday morning.

HUNTERS who were trying to return to their cabins at the head of the island Saturday evening got as far as Bob "Vesti" McDonough's home on Sand Bay and could go no farther. So, Bob and Charlotte welcomed the stranded visitors into their home and all total, they had thirteen unexpected guests for overnight.

It's Monday morning again and the boat is due back most any time. Just want to add a P.S. to say the island is a picture of winter wonderland this morning. There's not a breeze stiring and every twig and branch is ladened with snow. Sleighs are going past and it looks as though winter is sho nuf here.

So far as known, everyone around here has come through the storm without any serious accident for which all are thankful. It has been a little difficult getting out as the road was badly drifted at the foot of the hill in front of the Smatts place but it was possible to go through to the East Jordan Ellsworth road so we were not entirely shut in.

There were some deer hunters around here when the season first opened but haven't heard whether anyone succeeded in getting a deer, although they were often seen in the open during the closed season.

Cows Producing 200 Pounds Fat Not Profitable

A dairy cow that produces only 200-pounds of butterfat a year isn't making a profit for her owner, regardless of costs and milk prices, thinks Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

This is shown by the production records in Dairy Herds Improvement association herds in Michigan. The 1949 association cows that averaged 200-pounds of butterfat, consumed $126 worth of feed, and returned $106 over feed costs.

These cows did not "pay their way" by about $20 if we go on the basis that feed costs represent half the total cost of keeping a cow.

The DHIA analysis shows that in Michigan, a cow should produce close to 250-pounds of butterfat a year to make a profit for her owner.

As the average production levels increased, the relationship between total production cost and income became more favorable. For instance, the average butterfat production for all cows enrolled in associations in 1949 was 351 pounds. These cows consumed $157 worth of feed and returned $247 over feed costs to their owners.

Cows that produced 500-pounds of butterfat the same year consumed $188 worth of feed and returned $378 over the feed costs.

Dairy Specialist Scheduled for Two County Meetings

Two dairy meetings are planned for the first week in December featuring Jim Hayes, dairy specialist from Michigan State College. The meeting on Tuesday afternoon, December 5 will be held in the basement of the Boyne City Library starting promptly at 2.00 p.m. The meeting on Wednesday afternoon, December 6 will be held in the community hall at Ellsworth and will also start promptly at 2:00 p.m.

The Boyne Artificial Breeders Association will also hold their annual meeting on Tuesday afternoon, December 5 in Boyne City. The first part of the program will be the reading of annual reports and the election of directors. The Charlevoix-Antrim Dairy Herd Improvement Association will hold their annual meeting in connection with the Wednesday meeting at Ellsworth. They will also present annual reports and the election of directors. All members of these associations and all other dairy farmers are urged by Ed Rebman, County agent, to attend one of these meetings.

Turkey Growers Pick Saginaw for Festival

Saginaw will be the site of the 1950 Michigan Turkey Festival, William Aho, Michigan State College poultry specialist and manager of the annual event, announces. It will be held in the city Auditorium on December 6 and 7 and is open both to growers and consumers.

Held in Alma the last three years, the event is being moved to Saginaw because of the need for more facilities.

As in past years, a turkey preparation and cooking demonstration will be held for the homemakers. It will be in the Michigan Theater at 1:30 p.m., December 6, reports J. M. Moore, MSC poultry specialist.

One of the highlights will be a judging of birds entered by growers according to H. J. Pinter, of St. Louis, president of the Michigan Turkey Growers association. Premium awards will be offered to winning contestants.

Judging will start at 12 noon on December 6. The live birds will be judged first followed, by the New York and oven-ready classes.

The buffet supper, one of the main features of the get-to-gether, will be held so feed and equipment men can discuss turkey raising problems with growers. It will be at 6:30 p.m. December 6. F. N. Barrett, specialist in feeding problems, and Dr. R. C. Belding, turkey health specialist, will be present to talk with growers. Both are from Michigan State College.

The climax of the judging will be the auction at the festival banquet on Thursday night when the two grand champion birds will go to the highest bidder. Other entries are also to be sold. The turkey growers group, the Saginaw Chamber of Commerce and the poultry department at Michigan State College jointly sponsor the event.

To chop nuts, put them throught the meat grinder, using the coarse blade. Or put them in a paper hag and roll with the rolling pin several times.

More Cows Added To ABA Program

Thirteen thousand more cows in 2,207 additional Michigan dairy herds were added to the rolls of the Michigan Artificial Breeders' Cooperative during the first six months of 1950. A. C. Baltzer, secretary-manager of the group and extension dairyman at Michigan State College, reports that internal growth of the organization is now replacing expansion into new counties.

The farmer-owned cooperative, with its central laboratory on land leased from Michigan State College at East Lansing, serves 146 local associations in 70 counties.

Social Security Now Affects Farm With Hired Help

Every farmer with hired help, and farm and other agricultural workers should become familiar with the new amendment to the Social Security program as soon as possible, advises E. B. Hill, agricultural economist at Michigan State College. Social security for farm workers will be effective January 1, 1951.

Here in brief are some of the important provisions listed by Hill:

"Regular" farm workers are covered . . . farm operators and their families are not, with the exception of children over 21. A regular farm worker is one who works three months during one calendar quarter for one farm operator and who works at least 60 days and earns at least $50 cash in the succeeding 3-month period for the same farmer. Non-cash "wages" such as room, board or farm products cannot be counted.

The 3-month periods begin in January, April, July or October. Workers may use the last quarter of 1950 to qualify. They pay no tax during the quarter in which they qualify.

Household workers on farms are considered farm workers. Wages paid by a farmer to his children under 21 do not count toward social security. Neither do wages paid by a husband to his wife, by a wife to her husband, or by sons and daughters to parents.

The farm worker should get a social security card from the nearest social security office if he does not already have a card.

What must the farm operator do?

Hill emphasizes that the program is compulsory and the operator will be held responsible for the collection and remission of the tax.

The farm operator should get the proper forms from the United States Collector of Internal Revenue. He fills in the name and social security number of his hired worker, number of days worked, and amount of cash wages paid the worker in that quarter. At the end of each quarter the employer sends this report to the Collector of Internal Revenue along with the social security tax.

The tax is 3 percent through 1953 . . . 1½ percent in deducted from the worker's wages and 1½ percent is contributed by the farm operator. It will pay farmers with hired help to keep an accurate record of days worked, wages paid and taxes deducted.

4-H Seamstresses Hold Meetings in House Trailer

K. C. Festerling

So you think your house isn't big enough for a 4-H club. According to Mrs. June Hammond of Grand Rapids, you can have a lot of fun with a 4-H sewing club of fourteen members even if you have to meet in a house trailer. Mrs. June Hammond is the former June Blanshan of Boyne City. For years she carried a 4-H club clothing project. In a recent letter, she stated she is leading a club of fourteen beginners who are between the ages of 10 and 13. They meet on Tuesday evenings, sew a little, play games, and have lunch. In addition to leading the 4-H club, Mrs. Hammond holds down a full time job as a cashier in a grocery store and is the mother of one small child. June writes that she is grateful to the people in Boyne City who helped her in 4-H club work and feels now she should help others. She is limited in facilities but plenty high in will power.

Two sewing groups and a baking group have been formed in the Eveline orchards community. The first to report a sewing organization was Mrs. Jessie Brock. Her members are Sharon Brock, Bonnie Snyder, Wendy Knudson and Rhea Zitka.

The 4-H Club Agent has been searching for the last few days for a good quality, registered Holstein heifer. This animal will be awarded December 5 to the most deserving 4-H dairy member in Emmet county. The animal is being sponsored by the Emmet county dairy council. Funds for the purchase of the animal were contributed by farm organizations in the county. The occasion of the presentation will be the second annual Emmet county dairy banquet to be held at the Harbor Springs Gymnasium. Announcements of the winner of the calf will be made at the banquet.

"If I don't go to Flint after Thanksgiving, I will be happy to lead a group of boys in handicraft club work", says Donald Mort. Don is the communities choice as a handicraft leader but he thinks he might take work down below which would make it impossible for him to lead. Mrs. Addison Chew informs me she will help the girls with sewing in the Loeb community. She says she is no expert but will be willing to help. A meeting will be called of the youth in that community early in December.

According to the latest report, Ed Rebman, your county agent, has no buck. I suggest you deer hunters save him just a small piece of yours.

Mrs. Hazel Beebe, 4-H Club leader from Maple Grove community is rather proud of the progress being made on her new home. The neighbors have had several "bees" helping to erect the home. When she has a home of her own she will have more room for her 4-H club meetings. Mrs. Beebe led the food preparation club of the Maple Grove community last summer.

Michigan State college agricultural authorities say young stock can be kept in a pen where hay can be self fed and silage fed once a day. The pen does not have to be heated or closed. In fact, a straw shed makes a good shelter for young stock.

In a typical year, nearly 300,000 entire animal carcasses are condemmed in federally inspected meat-packing plants.

U.N. & U.S. Flags Presented to Banks Township School

Ellsworth—A large crowd was in attendance at the Banks township P.T.A. meeting at the school last Tuesday evening.

Group singing led by Rev. Wayne Lemmen with Mrs. Hans DeYoung accompanying ot the piano, opened the meeting. Rev. Lemmen offered prayer.

The musical program which followed was greatly enjoyed. Alex Klooster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Klooster, played a piano solo. Howard Bearss played a very beautiful saxaphone solo, accompanied by Mrs. Henry Smith at the piano.

Mrs. Henry Elzinga and Mrs. Peter Wieland, past president and president elect, respectively of the Ellsworth Extension Club presented the United Nations Flag and an American Flag, donated by Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Rood, to the school. Mr. Smith accepted the flags on behalf of the school.

The program committee had secured two films, one on the Crop program and one on school improvement, which were then shown.

Much enthusiasm was shown in the attendance contest which was initiated at this meeting. The Junior high had the greatest number of parents at the meeting so won the coins to buy something for their room.

The P.T.A. voted to ask the teachers and pupils to put on a Christmas program for the next meeting Dec. 19 which will be held at the community hall. President Mrs. Ruis, appointed Mrs. Henry Wassenaar as chairman of the candy committee to supply treats for the children. She will be assisted by Mrs. Harry Cooper, Mrs. Ernest Brown, Mrs. John Wieland and Mrs. John Tornga Jr.

Mr. Smith expressed the thanks of the teachers and the school for the help and interest the P.T.A. is showing in the school and its activities. He also extended an invitation to every one to go through the school and notice the improvements. A set of child-craft books for the lower grades and a new lathe for the shop have recently been purchased by the P.T.A.

The lunch committee served delicious refreshments at the close of the meeting. Mrs. Nathan Carpenter as chairman was assisted by Mrs. Lynn Carpenter, Mrs. John Peebles, Mrs. Ken Peebles, Mrs. Silas Doctor, Mrs. Minert Veenstra, Mrs. Miner Koster and Mrs. Claude Foirman.

Church Group Honor Oldsters

Ellsworth—At a special service at the Atwood Reformed church Sunday afternoon, the older people of the congregation were especially honored.

White carnation boutonnaires were presented to those present and sent those confined to their home by the severe weather. Special letters were sent to those older members of the church who live in cities far removed from this community.

During the service, Dutch Psalms were sung to please the honored ones and letters received from those unable to attend, were read from the pulpit. Rev. Lemmen preached a special sermon paying tribute to these people.

Keep Approaches to Mail Boxes Clear

Residents of the community who receive their mail via rural carriers are reminded by the Post Office Department that they must keep approaches to their boxes clear of snow or, if their road is not snow plowed, they must place their boxes so the carrier can reach it without leaving his car. They may also make arrangements to have their mail left in another patrons box which can be serviced.

The carriers are not required to perform service on foot when roads cannot be traveled with the conveyances ordinarily used by them.

If a patron repeatedly fails to cooperate in keeping the approach to his box clear, delivery by carrier may be withheld until such time as the approach is cleared.

Sidewalks To Be Plowed For Residents

The sidewalks in the residential district of the city will continue to be plowed by the city, the council voted Monday night.

The decision climaxed several weeks of study by the council into the possibility of eliminating some plowing of sidewalks. Several persons appeared to request the council to continue its job of plowing.

It was revealed that it costs the city from $210 to $350 each winter to plow the sidewalks. Frank Bird pointed out that elderly people would have a difficult time if they had to walk in the streets.

It was also decided that sidewalks along Bridge street in front of vacant buildings would be cleaned. The property owners will be billed for the work, however.

OVERTIME pay for the police department was also discussed by the council. Mayor Knight explained that some means will have to be worked out whereby the police are out on an annual salary. T[illegible]il agreed that the new 44-[illegible] week which went into eff[illegible]eral weeks ago will have to [illegible]considered. Police Chi[illegible]ce Heise and Al[illegible] Hamilton, chairm[illegible] the police committee, are expected to give their views on the matter at the next council meeting.

The council took under consideration the request of J. O. Reed of Eastport who wants to buy a parcel of land owned by the city on the old golf club property. Reed, who produces ceramics wants to build here.

The request of Mrs. Gordon Dennis for a light on Division and Meech street was referred to the light department.

Mrs. Mary Feindt, city surveyor, appeared before the council and reported that she found several parcels of land in the city which are not on the tax rolls. She was asked to facilitate their being put on the rolls.

Yule Program By Grade School Set for Dec. 21

The annual Christmas program being presented this year by the later elementary grades of the Charlevoix public schools will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 21 at the high school auditorium.

Opening the program will be the kindergarten rhythm groups directed by Mrs. Dorothy McRae and Mrs. Kathryn Smith. This is an annual feature of the program and is looked forward to by all.

Following the kindergarten groups, the fourth, fifth and sixth grades will present a pageant, "Christmas comes to old grouch". This pageant includes some tableaus and has a continuity which makes a good Christmas story.

One of the features of the pageant will be the 150 voice choir which will sing most of the carols familiar to the Christmas season.

Earlier the same week the high school will present a Christmas program during the afternoon of Wednesday, Dec. 20. The high school choir and senior band will participate in this event.

There will be no admission for either programs and parents and friends are cordially invited to attend both events.

Two Local Men Turn to Oil Painting

'We're Just a Couple of Daubers'

P. D. (Don) Campbell puts the finishing touches on a Beaver Island scene while Charles Hampton, at his easal, works on a painting of a summer home here.

By Fran Martin

That a person without any apparent talent or training can learn to paint is the contention of two local men who took up oil painting as a hobby six years ago and are now turning out some laudable pieces of art.

They are P. D. (Don) Campbell, local businessman, and Charles Hampton, retired salesman, who recently opened the Northland Studio as a result of their interest in painting.

As Mr. Hampton explains his interest in oils, "I sold paint for several nationally-known companies for about 40 years and never knew one pigment from another until I took up painting on the advice of my doctor following a heart attack. Shortly after I returned to Charlevoix Mrs. Rosa Nettleton saw me trying my hand at it and was most helpful in explaining technique and colors to me".

MR. CAMPBELL took up the hobby about the same time just because he thought he'd like it. Always interested in water and boats, marine art was the first thing he tried and after awhile the waves breaking over the rocks on the canvas started to look like waves breaking over the rocks and he found he could paint.

Today the men have a studio and often collaborate on pictures which goes to show that two amateurs can paint and, when necessary, paint alike.

Mr. Hampton was born at Harbor Springs where his grandfather was the first doctor the town had. He came here as a child when his father became editor of the old Charlevoix Democrat which was later renamed the Charlevoix Courier. He and Mr. Campbell grew up together on the north side. After graduation from high school in 1906 he attended business college in southern Michigan and went into the business world. He returned here several years ago.

Mr. Campbell was born at Whitehall and came here in 1897, a year after his father, Capt. Peter Campbell had come to northern Michigan. Capt. Campbell was a tug boat operator and for years had towed lumber barges from Michigan ports to Chicago. His tug was tied up in the Chicago river while on such a trip at the time of the Chicago fire.

After coming here in 1896 he operated the motorship, Beaver, on the Beaver Island run until the boat burned in 1916. It was on this boat his son, Don, got his first sailing experience. Later he sailed the Great Lakes on other vessels. He still has his master's license for 3000 tons on the Great Lakes. During World War I he operated a tug in New York harbor. In 1919 he returned to Charlevoix and a year later went into his present business of operating a boot shop.

Because of the old friendship and a mutual interest in painting the men now operate the studio. Early this fall they made a trip to Beaver Island and photographed many old and interesting scenes. Mr. Campbell has been reproducing these pictures in oils while Mr. Hampton has been concentrating on winter scenes of many of the lovely summer homes in the area.

As a hobby or as an avocation both men are convinced of the merits and pleasure to be found in the field of painting.

Foster Boat Working on Gov't Orders

Foster Boat company has just shipped out an order of plywood Compartment lids for Army Ordnance, Detroit. It is now processing a contract with Civil Aeronautics Administration for a number of portable shelters, to be completed shortly after the first of the year. Window sash for these shelters is being furnished by Ever-Seal Window Company of Charlevoix.

Armed Services Medical Procurement Agency, Brooklyn, has informed Foster Boat that it is the low bidder on a quantity of canvas litter carrier covers. Formal notice of award of contract is expected within a few days. These covers are for the protection of casualties while they are being transported on stretchers carried by jeeps.

Formal notification of award is also being awaited on three other canvas items required by the Detroit Arsenal.

Several government agencies contemplate contracting for portable shelters of types similar to that which Foster built for Army Air Forces two years ago. Because contruction of such shelters involves canvas work as well as woodworking, Foster is one of the few concerns in the country equipped to build complete shelters.

If the situation with respect to availability of materials does not change too drastically in the meantime, the Foster Boat company expects to require about 50 additional sewing machine operators and woodworkers soon after Christmas.

Deer in Town Cause Commotion

Residents of the north side and valley couldn't believe their eyes Tuesday when they looked out to see a deer ambling through the yards.

The large doe had been chased into town from North Point by some hunters and in an effort to get away jumped into Pine River near the Paul residencce on River st. The Coast Guard were called and herded it ashore near the Goldman cottage on Michigan ave. only to have it return to the river and swim across to the south side. It was last seen going toward South Point.

A. D. Cunningham Heads Pythians

A. D. Cunningham was elected chancellor commander of the Knights of Pythias at their annual meeting.

Other officers are: Albert Smith, vice chancellor, Earl Shapton, prelate, H. B. Schofield, master of arms, Robert Hamilton, inner guard, George R. Case, outer guard, Frank Novotny, master of work, Grover C. Geneit, Jr., secretary, Richard Edwards, treasurer, Albert Novotny, financial secretary, Frank Novotny, delegate to the grand lodge, Earl Shapton, alternate delegate, John Rathburn, member of executive board for three years.

Installation of officers will be held Jan. 8. S. W. Jarvie, grand chancellor of Michigan, will be installing officer.

Role of Schools Explained at Area MEA Meeting

"Education Today" was the theme of the program presented at the Charlevoix county M.E.A. meeting in East Jordan Tuesday evening.

Rev. W. D. Wood of Charlevoix, representing the church, Howard Porter of East Jordan, representing business, Probate Judge Floyd A. Supp of Charlevoix, representing the courts and Maurice Hartung of East Jordan, representing farming, gave appraisals of the job the schools were doing and could do in the future in education.

John Downing of East Jordan presided at the business session. Charles Robinson of Boyne City, chairman of the program committee, introduced the speakers.

All M.E.A. members from Charlevoix attended the meeting.

Rev. Parker Buys Austin Home Here

Their many friends in Charlevoix and the surrounding area will be pleased to know that the Rev. and Mrs. R. G. Parker of Northport have purchased the former Louise Austin home on Antrim street, Earl A. Young, realtor announced.

Rev. and Mrs. Parker expect to move here when he retires from the ministry.

Long Illness Fatal to Henry Hair, 93

William Hair, 93, retired Hayes farmer, died Saturday at his home after a long illness.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the See Funeral home with the Rev. W. D. Wood officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Born in Canada Oct. 13, 1857 he came to northern Michigan as a young man and settled on a farm in Hayes township which he operated for 60 years. About 1886 he was married to Hannah Baker who preceded him in death in 1914. In 1916 he was married to Mrs. Emma Aenis Boak in Petoskey. He was a former member of the Maple Grove Grange and the Farm Bureau and had been active in community affairs. He was also a member of the Church of God.

Besides his wife he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. David Anderson of Detroit; two sons, William of Charlevoix and George of Detroit; a step-son, Clarence Boak of Chicago; a brother, Robert and a sister, Mrs. Ida Hemphill, both of Bar River, Ont; eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Pair Bound over On Theft Charge

In a special term of circuit court Thursday John Elam, 24, and Paul, 19, of Walloon Lake, pleaded not guilty to a charge of larceny over $50 and were bound over to the next term of court Jan. 8. At that time a jury will be called to hear this case and two civil cases.

The pair are charged with breaking into cars owned by James D. Wellington and Frederick R. Hughey at Walloon Lake and taking a guitar, radio, clothing and other items valued at $108.

They are in the Charlevoix county jail awaiting trial after bonds of $1000 each were not furnished.

Light Crew Praised for Yule Decorations

Residents continued to praise the city electric light crew for putting up the best street lighting for Christmas in many years. The council praised the work of the crew at its meeting Monday night.

Directed by Hal M. Hill, superintendent of utilities, the men did all the construction work and erected the lighting at a cost of about $150.

Helping Hill were Ed Swanson, Charley Alexander, George Smith, John Geer, Jim Whitley, Bruce Henley and Morris Ackert. It marked the first time that the streets had been lighted overhead, Hill said.

Chest Drive Fails to Show Much Increase

Solicitors and many residents in Charlevoix must be too busy with Christmas preparations, one Community Chest official said Tuesday as reports showed that the drive to raise $5,715 for the 1951 Chest continues to lag far behind.

Only a handful of workers had reported contributions through Tuesday, Lawrence Feindt, Chest treasurer, raported. The Chest drive which was extended two weeks has now raised about $2,825, less than $150 more than was reported last week.

The Chest was off to a slow start last month and apparently has not fared too well. Officials expressed their confidence that the drive will go over, but not without every solicitor giving every resident a chance to give to the Chest.

CHEST OFFICIALS cleared up one point last week which has puzzled some contributors. The Chest budget calls for $2,000 for the hospital. It was emphasized that this is not for the new hospital but is used to help defray the operations cost of the present one.

The budget figures for the hospital were the same as last year. Nearly every community in Michigan having a Chest raised some funds for hospital operation expenses. Port Huron, Muskegon, Greenville, Charltte, Marshall and Battle Creek are some of the communities which do this.

Solicitors were implored to make all their contacts and clean up their phase of the drive within the next week as it is hoped that by Dec. 15 all work will have been completed.

10 Bay Township Votes Thrown Out Because Of Officials' Error

With the recount of votes from the November election nearly half completed, Gov. Williams appears to have gathered 14 additional votes from his Republican opponent, Harry F. Kelly, in Charlevoix county.

Tho recount is in its fourth day, and an early belief that the recount could ba finished in four days is all but shattered. It is not known when the board of canvassers will get to the ballot boxes of Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan.

By mid-afternoon Wednesday, the canvassers had counted ballots in 10 precincts of 25 in the county. The court room presented a busy spectacle of canvassers going over the ballots as party challengers and a State policeman stood by. Mrs. Ada Golden was pressed into service as an official stenographer.

TO DATE KELLY has lost 19 votes from the recount in Bay, Boyne Valley, Chandler, Charlevoix, Evangeline, Eveline, Hayes, Hudson, Marion, and Melrose townships. On the other hand Williams has lost five votes.

The biggest loss occurred in Bay township where recount officials threw out 10 ballots because an election official failed to initial the ballots. In the other township recounts, there has been no more than a one vote difference from the original count.

• • •

COUNT CLERK F. R. Bulow said that with the exception of the Bay township recount, the new tally of votes is running true to predictions.

Elsewhere in the state, it appears that Governor Williams is

City Leases Land to Boat Building Firm

At a special council meeting last week, the city council leased a parcel of city-owned property adjacent to the Ferry park beach to C. Douglas Van Patton, a prominent naval architect.

Mr. Van Patton and his associates plan to build three buildings on the site which will bo used for construction of custom-built luxury boats.

Construction is expected to start next spring.

MR. VAN PATTON, personal friend of S. E. Coleman whose several years of effort to induce the naval architect to locate here was rewarded, is the designer of Miss Canada IV which earlier this year held the world's speed record on the water. Miss Canada has been a challenger for the Harmsworth trophy.

A civilian advisor to the defense department, he has spent much time in the last few years in Washington. His design for a rescue boat was accepted recently. Mr. Van Patton several weeks ago said that it is likely that the plant will manufacture defense items if the international situation worsens.

The floor area of the proposed plant will initially be about 5,000 square feet. It is expected that some 15 to 20 men, mostly craftsmen, will be employed in the initial operation.

Terms of the lease of a $1 a year are invalid if construction is not started within a year.

A graduate of Columbia university, he has been a naval architect for some 20 years. Recently he completed designs on a jet propelled boat which will be constructed in England next spring.

County Rural Schools to Get Start in Visual Education

Charlevoix county rural schools will make a limited start in a visual education program.

This was decided last week at the meeting of the County Board of Education, Mrs. Catherina C. Bergeon, county superintendent of schools announced.

Last spring the county board sponsored a cooperative plan among rural school districts to permit a start in visual education. Through contributions from the various rural school districts a film-strip projector and films have been purchased which are circulated through the rural schools week by week.

In this way, at no great cost to any one district, a good beginning in a visual education program has been made. The plan is to increase the number of projectors each year until each school has its own.

UNDER THE sponsorship of the county boards of education of Charlevoix and Emmet counties, a library conference was held Nov. 1 at the Walloon Lake school for the rural teachers of the two counties.

Miss Jean Johnson, library consultant, and Miss Louise Rees, school library consultant, visited the schools for two days, and then,

What About Voting Machines?

Since the revelation of Michigan's comedy of election errors, there has been a lot of clamor on the part of Detroit newspapers for equipping all the state's election precincts with voting machines. Over in Ingram county some of the precincts use voting machines and others employ paper ballots, so we were particularly interested in this editorial comment which appeared in last week's Ingam County New—

"There is no machine which can compare with a paper ballot in registering a voter's choice at an election.

"Voting machines now in use expedite voting and the counting of votes yet they are subject to the human errors in tallying votes and to mechanical errors as well.

"Daily Newspapers demand voting machines for speed in returns. Really, the speed in determining election returns should be secondary. Accuracy should come first.

"There'll be the same cry for voting machines if a recount is held. Daily newspaper arguments will be that votes cast on voting machines don't have to be recounted. There is not anything to check except wheels and levers. Voting machines now in use in some counties have no detail strips like adding machines or cash registers. There is nothing which can be checked. There is nothing by which to discover the intent of a voter. Mistakes in voting are buried forever.

"Exponents of voting machines overlook the error in a Lansing precinct last week. The totals taken down from the machines on election night were correct but they were placed in the wrong columns. Alderman John Russell was apparently beaten. When the votes were canvassed the error was discovered. Instead of being defeated, Alderman Russell was elected.

"The percentage of error in tabulating votes is small, probably as small as the percentage of error in banks. It is likely that there would be just as many errors discovered in Ohio, California, Illinois or New York if the outcome of political contests hung by such a slender thread as it does in Michigan. But nobody in Ohio is sitting on the anxious seat over Taft. He has a 450,000 plurality. What if 50 or 100 precincts in Cleveland, Cincinnati or Toledo made mistakes? Who will care? The outcome of the election won't be changed. Here in Michigan Kelly and Williams are within a fraction of a vote per precinct of being tied. That's why the comparatively few errors are being magnified all out of proportion.

"The Michigan system is not perfect. There are several changes which could be made to improve both the accuracy and speed of counting. There is no necessity to make the ballot squares so big. A smaller square would result in a smaller ballot, easier and quicker to count, easier for voters to mark and less costly to print. Under the present law, additional and fresh crews could be set at work counting ballots just as soon as the polls close. That would eliminate most of the errors which are the result of two and three a.m. drowsiness and exhaustion.

"Michigan can well be proud of its election boards. The percentage of error is extremely low. Voting machines, as demanded by some of the big newspapers, will not reduce errors. They will only make errors harder to discover and difficult to correct."

Ushers: Elaine Russell, Luanna Bambach, Velma May, Rheta Boss, Pat and Joyce Murray.

Entertainment between acts will be presented by Sam Hamilton and Joan Hess; selections by a quartette composed of Joyce and Pat Murray, Luanna Bambach and Rheta Boss accompanied by Mrs. Orlin Cunningham; Alvin Ranger and Dwight Smith.

The play is being given through arrangements with the Dramatics Play Service, New York.

Mrs. Clara Melms Weds Ironton Man

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Scott announce the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Clara Melms, to Leonard Thomson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Thomson of Ironton.

The double ring service was solemnized at the Congregational manse at 8:30 Saturday evening by the Rev. Jackson E. Turner.

Their only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dutcher.

A reception for their immediate families and friends was held at their home at 214 E. Hurlbut ave. immediately following the ceremony. A two-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple graced the refreshment table. Bebe mums decorated the rooms.

The couple left Sunday on a wedding trip to southern Michigan and Canada. They will return here to make their home.

Miss Annette Nordrum returned to Grand Rapids Saturday after spending Thangsgiving with her sister, Mrs. Frank Rassat.

Floyd Bartholomews Observe Golden Wedding at Home Without Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bartholomew observed their golden wedding anniversary quietly at their home Tuesday. In speaking of the occasion Mrs. Bartholomew said, "We are thankful for all our blessings through the years."

The couple was married at the Methodist church here Dec. 5, 1900 by the Rev. Mr. Nagler. They have resided in this community since then.

From the time of their marriage until 1928 they lived on a farm in Hayes township near Horton's Bay. In '28 they moved into Charlevoix where Mr. Bartholomew was employed by the W. H. Wallace Oil Co. until he retired in 1943.

For his own enjoyment he spends his time in his workshop at his home making furniture for his yard or for the house. He has made a large desk, chest of drawers and other pieces which can be found in all the rooms of his home.

Mrs. Bartholomew paints for a hobby, a project she started 15 years ago because before that, as she says, she never had time for it. She paints in oils and confines herself to landscapes. She is a member of the Methodist church which she joined at Horton's Bay when she was sixteen and the W.C.T.U.

Mr. Bartholomew was born at Webbersville Oct. 12, 1880 and lived in Detroit before coming to Hayes township with his family at the age of 11 years.

Mrs. Bartholomew, the former Lillian Smith, was born in Hayes township May 18, 1881.

The couple has one son, Clair, of Detroit. They also have two nephews, Wesley and Milo Smith, whom they reared from small children and whom they consider their own. They also have three grandsons.

Choir to Present Vesper Concert Here on Dec. 23

The Christmas season will be ushered in this year with the first appearance of Charlevoix's newest musical organization . . the Charlevoix Community Choir.

The group will open the yuletide season with a vesper concert at the high school auditorium at 3:30 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 17.

Presented at that time will be a program of the finest in choral literature written for the Christmas season.

The choir, directed by C. A. Odmark, consists of some forty volunteer singers who expressed the wish for such an organization after having sung together for Baccalaureate services for several years.

Meeting weekly the organization has been working hard for this, their premier performance. The choir is truly a community choir with almost all of the church choirs in the city being represented.

Active members in the choir are: Mrs. Dorothea Badger, Mrs. Don Brown, Mrs. John L. Ross. Mrs. Leonard Burns, Cecil Burns, Helen Rose Cline, Mrs. Orlin Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Davenport, Charles Duerr, Mrs. C. J. Fiedler, Dean Fiedler, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Foley.

Robert Gill, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Krohn, Rev. L. L. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Walker Miles, Mrs. Jack Mol, Maryann Murphy, Howard North, Mrs. A. F. Novotny, Mrs. C. A. Odmark, Grayde Patterson. Clifford Riley, Mrs. Fred Senger, Mrs. Clayton Smith, Mrs. Victor Spaniolo, Harry Stutt, Mrs. Uno Suomela, Mrs. Don Swinton, Delbert Terrill, Fred Tyler, Donna Valley, Mrs. C. S. Webster, Sue Webster.

Trout Planting

Lansing—The job of setting a million or more legal-size trout into the streams for fishing in 1951 and again in 1952 starts now at conservation department fish hatcheries. The department has scheduled distribution of brook, brown and rainbow trout eggs . . . which eventually will mean about 2,000,000 fish . . . into state hatcheries. This will supplement fingerling stock remaining after completion of 1949 releases this month.

Ann Gill and Annamae Maxwell left Sunday for Grand Rapids where they have enrolled at Davenport Institute.

Who Has The Buttons?

Lansing—The business of dredging mussels from Michigan streams for button-making, worth a half-million dollars annually prior to the 1930's, finally has skidded into oblivion.

Keep a pair of scissors in your kitchen utensil drawer. They make quick work of dicing celery, chives, peppers and other vegetables. They also trim pastry well, advise Michigan State College home economists.

during the day conference, instructed the teachers on the selection of books, the display to make them invitingly available to the children. They also showed ways of weeding out undesirable reading matter and methods of economical purchasing.

County boards of the five counties in the northern area are also sponsoring a workshop for school lunch cooks, supervisors and administrators on Saturday, Dec. 9.

IN FEBRUARY a training class for bus drivers in this county will be given by Central Michigan College in cooperation with the State Department of Public Instruction.

A transferal of a piece of property from the Charlevoix district to the Hayes school district was also effected.

Tentative plans were also made for a spring meeting at which the county board of education will be host to the boards of the individual school districts of the county.

Members of the county board of education are: Mrs. Hazel Evers of Charlevoix, James H. Gallagher of St. James, Howard Porter of East Jordan, William Parsons of Norwood, and Ross Renwick of Walloon Lake.

Chief defense of the rabbit and snowshoe hare is speed and ability to dodge.

Hens Doubled Production When Placed in Lighted House

By Vic Spaniolo

Egg production more than doubled within two weeks after his hens were moved inside his lighted henhouse, giving sure-fire proof of the dividends from artificial light for chickens.

Dan Haggerty, 27-year-old poultry grower on Charlevoix Route 3, reports that he is providing his 2,600 Rhoda Island Reds with about 14½ hours of light. It took his hens a few days to become accustomed to the lighting conditions. At present his daily egg production is between 1700 and 1800. At one time this fall, it rose to 2000.

Haggerty's egg production last year averaged 234 eggs per hen, or about 73 eggs more than the state average. But that is not good enough, Haggerty pointed out. He is convinced that his production of eggs can be increased further.

* * *

In his third year of his program, Haggerty gives promise of becoming the largest egg producer in northern Michigan. He aims to have some 10,000 chickens within a few years. Each year he has been constructing additions to his hen housing facilities. Haggerty is a student at the Charlevoix Veterans' Institute. His instructor is Ellsworth Bessemer.

Polaroid One-Minute Photo

Dan Haggerty shows us one of his hens that responded to the light treatment. Flock egg production doubled during the first two weeks the hens were in a lighted house.

At present he has a poultry building, 30 by 300, built since he started three years ago. He has plenty of floor space at present so that the birds are not crowded.

In the meantime he is utilizing every tested technique to increase his egg production and improve the strains of chickens. An avid reader of poultry magazines and journals, he works overtime to speed his program progress.

When Haggerty started out, he had 600 New Hampshires but he has switched to Rhode Island Reds. He believes that he will find an improved strain which will give him even greater production as well as a lower mortality.

He has one strain at present which has only a 7 per cent mortality. The mortality among his other strains ranges to 40 percent. Haggerty is seeking a strain which has a greater paralysis resistance, chief mortality causa.

Broodiness among his strains ranges from zero to 40 per cent. He has tested 15 strains.

There are several important reasons behind Haggerty's success in obtaining greater egg proruction. Chiefly responsible is the fact that he has bought certified chickens from pullorum-clean breeders. His strains have been bought from many states.

When he buys chickens, he selects those from breeders whose records are between 220 and 256 eggs per year on a hen house basis. In fact he tries to do better than that. His main flock of 2200 chickens is from flocks headed by pedigree males of 280 eggs or more.

Several features of his henhouse are worthy of mention. His deep litter feature saves labor and cleaning. It is built up about eight inches. It provides cleanliness. It is necessary to clean it out only twice a year.

From experiment here and elsewhere, it is believed that disease-resistance is built up in chickens using deep litter method. Haggerty is believed to be one of the few in northern Michigan using the deep litter.

Forced ventilation enables him to keep a uniform temperaturo in his henhouse at all times. Tha fans aro set to go on at 48 degrees during tha winter months. This provides much better ventilation than tha haphazard kind. Two of the big problems facing chicken growers aro ventilation and insulation.

For feed, he uses a diet composed of about half oats and half mash.

Dan has lived on a farm all of his life except the time he spent in service. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Haggerty, are lifelong residents of Hayes township

Chicks are started under gas brooding. He said he found it more economical. He estimates it costs 6½ cents per bird for brooding. His brooders can accommodate 250 to 300 birds each. His chickens were started in January and March.

Cites Obstacles Facing Beef Herd Operator

One of the main problems of organizing a profitable beef cattle farm in Charlevoix and Antrim counties is production of an adequate gross income, according to Dr. Karl T. Wright, Michigan State College agricultural economist.

It may look easy to the outsider, when each brood cow drops a calf that will sell as a feeder for around $100 by the time the snow flies. But Wright says records kept by northeast Michigan farmers on beef herd operations do not show it quite so simple.

Most successful farmers have gross incomes of at least $8,000 to $10,000 in order to cover the expenses of operation and provide an adequate net income, Wright states.

It takes a sizeable herd to make a profit-producing farm operation. One year of bad luck in breeding, or the loss of a brood cow or a few calves will soon wipe out any chance of profit on a small operation.

Average feed requirments for maintaining a beef cow for a year on Michigan farms includes seven months of pasture, nearly 1.5 tons of hay and nearly a ton of other roughages. Around 12 hours of labor is required to care for the animal during the year.

Wright believes that some other livestock enterprise or some type of cash crop farming needs to be tied together with beef cattle production for efficient and profitable operation in Michigan. The exception would be where acreage is available for a large beef breeding herd.

Acid Poisoning May Affect Cows

If any of your cattle begin to stagger as if drunk, they may have been poisoned by prussic acid. Michigan State College extension veterinarians say it pays stockmen to keep a sharp lookout for signs of prussic acid poisoning.

The acid, which contains cyanide, is often present in plants damaged by wilting, bruising or frost. Second growth of grass, following the first frost, usually contains the poison.

Tractor with Clean Motor Starts Better In Cold Weather

Having trouble getting your tractor to start on these cold mornings? If so, you'll benefit from these three suggestions this week by Ed Rebman, County agricultural agent.

He recommends keeping the engine clean as the first job. Dirt collects around the spark plugs, magneto, and distributor cap. Then it gets damp and shorts the electrical system. A clean engine is always a help to easier tractor starting.

Agent Rebman also says to be sure you use winterized fuel. Some manufacturers add volatile materials during the winter months, and these light materials help promote easier starting.

Finally, the agent advises, keep the fuel tank full as much of the time as possible this winter. This will help keep moisture from condensing on the inside of the tank and promote easier starting.

ORCHARD NOTES

By Claude Fairman

Perhaps the most widely known sweet cherry is the Bing and I cannot see why home orchards cannot grow a tree or two of them.

It is a little harder to make the sweet cherry live the first year, however, nurseries are improving the trees and are recommending yearling trees as best to plant and by planting early in the spring a much larger percentage stay alive. Once started, the sweet cherry will live and grow where the sour cherry will die, that is if the cause is neglect from not spraying, etc.

Also the bloom of the sweet cherry is usually frost proof and crops of sweet cherries are more regular. Whereas sour cherries can be frozen during the frost period, either reducing the crop or causing loss of the entire crop.

The Bing needs a pollenizer planted alongside, such as a Windsor or Black Tartarian. We cull a weak growing tree, one that does not grow as fast or get as large as the average varieties.

The Bing come in the smaller tree class and the fruit will stand five rains before splitting and does not crack as badly as the Hambert sweet cherry. It holds flavor after ripened and ships well.

Store knives in a knife rack or drawer equipped with a rack, say Michigan State college farm safety specialists. Sharp knives should be washed separately from other utensils as a precaution against cuts.

The porcupine is equipped with an estimated 30,000 individual quills.

Looking Ahead

LOOKING AHEAD

Social security for farm workers is here—the tax is compulsory—the farm operator is liable.

• • •

In the next month or so hog prices should decline about the usual seasonal amount. The decline in price of other red meats will probably be less than usual.

• • •

Egg prices in December will average about 10 cents a dozen below November levels. (U.S. Grade A large prices paid to grading stations by first receivers in Detroit will likely average 45 to 50 cents a dozen.)

Now is the time to plan for the 1951 laying flock replacements with chicks hatched in January or February.

If you have storage capacity buy your feed grains early. On the other hand, if you are selling grain it will pay to store corn, soybeans and the like until next year.

There won't be as much soft corn as was once expected—and what there is should disappear fairly rapidly.

The purchasing power of the dollar in terms of living costs declined from $1.00 in 1939 to about 57½ cents as of now. This is another way of saying retail prices have gone up about three-fourths.

• • •

Credit curbs are getting tougher—but nothing has been done yet that will completely stop inflation.

Lancers Defeat Trojans 52-39

Ellsworth—For the first time in a number of years Ellsworth has beaten Central Lake in regular season play. The team got off to a slow start but settled down after the middle of the first uarter and then they really began to hit. The final score was 52-39.

Jim Smith was high point man for Ellsworth and Burt Eckard for Central Lake. The Reserves won their first game of the year 35-32. The first team and the girls team play Vanderbilt there Tuesday night. The first and second teams play Bellaire here Friday night.

County Road Group Attends G. R. Meeting

The annual conference of the Michigan Road Commissioners Association was held in Grand Rapids Dec. 4-5-6.

Attending from Charlevoix county were Ralph Hamilton, clerk of the Road Commission, Angus Fochtman, Lyle Wangeman of Boyne City and Sam Rogers of East Jordan. Accompanying them to the convention were Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Fochtman, Mrs. Wangeman and Mrs. Rogers.

Hymn Sing

An Old Fashioned Hymn Sing with special songs, duets, and solos will be held at the Church of God Sunday evening at 8 p.m., the time of the regular service. Free will offering for the organ.

Betty Warner Tells of Trip

The following account was written by Betty Warner, who represented Charlevoix County 4-H'ers on a trip to Chicago sponsored by Grand Rapids Press.

We left Grand Rapids about 9:45 a.m. after having our pictures taken. The weather was bad and we did not arrive in Chicago until 5:30 p.m. We spent the evening by seeing "The West Point Story" and a stage show.

The next morning we ate breakfast early and boarded the bus which took us to Armour's packing plant. It was interesting to see how meat was prepared for market. We also visited the stockshow. The judging of the animals proved very interesting.

We remained at the stockshow and saw horses in jumping races and performing tricks. The following morning we went to the grain pit where we watched grain futures being bought and sold. Our trip uptown on the elevated took us to Marshall Field's. The main attraction was a 50-foot Christmas tree. It took 12 men about 14 hours to decorate the huge tree.

We also visited the Planetarium before we started our return trip. Our return trip was uneventful and we arrived back home tired but happy because we had such a good time. All of us enjoyed the trip immensely.

Measle Outbreak In State Reported To Be Dropping

The 1950 measles epidemic in Michigan is subsiding and we can look toward a comparatively small number of cases in 1951, Dr. F. S. Leeder, director, division of disease control, records and statistics of the Michigan Department of Health, said today. Measles epidemics usually occur in two-year cycles in Michigan.

Nearly 38,000 cases of measles have been reported so far this year, but only 45 of them in the past week, Dr. Leeder said. Highest incidence occurred during the early part of the year when there were over 2,000 cases being reported weekly.

Measles is one of the most contagious of all acute communicable diseases. No person is immune who has not had the disease, except infants under one year whose mothers have had measles. It is most serious among preschool children.

At one time measles had a high mortality rate among infants, but the use of gamma globulin, a blood product, has done much to reduce the death toll. Gamma globulin is used to modify the disease in youngsters or to prevent it in infants and older children who are physically below par.

When preschool children are exposed to measles they should be taken to a physician at once. Where it is desirable to prevent measles, gamma globulin must be given immediately upon exposure. To modify the disease it must be given on the fifth or sixth day after exposure, Dr. Leeder said.

Hess Furniture To Open Store Here Saturday

Workmen were putting on the finishing touches today at the Hess Furniture store on Bridge street prior to the opening nf the completely modernized store on Saturday, Dec. 9.

The store and the building bears little or no resemblance to the old building. An up to the minute stone front, featuring a large picture window on a slant affords passersby a complete view of the interior.

The biggest single feature is that the new store which is 133 feet long by a width of 26 feet affords more than four times the floor space for displaying a complete line of furniture and appliances.

The interior walls of plaster board are painted in a soft pastel green. The office has been moved to the rear of the store which will be on two levels.

Expected to serve Charlevoix county and the surrounding area, Hess Furniture will have one of the largest stocks of rugs, furniture and appliances in northern Michigan. Ralph V. Hess, owner, announced this week a credit plan for purchase which will enable residents a chance to use time payment plans.

A new truck, specially designed for delivering furniture and appliances has been purchased by Mr. Hess. He also bought the former Lewis building on Van Pelt place to be used as a warehouse for his large stock.

Ralph Mitchell Back in States After 4 Years

Master Sgt. Ralph Mitchell, who has been serving in Germany since March, 1946, has returned to his country for cadre duty at Fort Benning, Ga. He expects to be returned overseas in March.

When he visited his grandmother, Mrs. Theresa Walker and other relatives here last week enroute to Fort Benning he was accompanied by his wife the former Rosa Pearl, a Romanian girl whom he met and married at Garmisch, Germany in May, 1949.

Since returning to Europe M/Sgt. Mitchell has served as a guard at Nurenberg war criminals trial where he heard the trials and saw all the Nazies who were on trial there. Later he was among the guards who took several prisoners who were given long sentences, among them Hess, to the British zone in Germany where they are imprisoned.

His wife is a former displaced person who was brought from her native Romonia in 1942 and who was in Dachau and other equally infamous concentration camps. Since the war all remaining members of her family have come to this country.

M/Sgt. Mitchell is a veteran of the Italian campaign during World War II when he served from Nov. 1943 until Dec. 1945 with the 34th Division. He had entered the service in June, 1943. He re-enlisted after a brief visit here and returned to Europe for futher overseas duty.

Bowling Results

Walt Moore's had three game high of 2258 and singles of 794 for high honors of the Charlevoix Bowling league last week. Frank Davis, Courier substitute, walked off with high three-game individual total of 631 and single game honors with 199.

Extension Clubs Elect New Officers

The Charlevoix County Extension clubs met at the I.O.O.F. hall here Tuesday for their annual Christmas party and election of officers. Sixty-five members attended.

The Charlevoix group was host at the Christmas tea which followed a lesson on hats given by Miss Emma Fero. The tea table was decorated in a Christmas motif featuring Rudolph, the red-nosed reindeer and a small sleigh filled with green and red tapers.

The new officers are: chairman, Mrs. Rose Adair of East Jordan who succeeds Mrs. Lulu Clark, also of East Jordan; vice chairman, Mrs. Agnes Hagerberg of East Jordan; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Helen Melin of Boyne City; recreation leader, Mrs. Helen Sneathen of the Burgess group.

Mrs. Daisy Blood To Head Rebekahs

Mrs. Daisy Blood was elected noble grand of the Charlevoix Rebekah lodge No. 293 at the annual election of officers Tuesday evening. She succeeds Mrs. Helen Baker in the office.

Other newly-elected officers are vice grand, Mrs. Alma Swanson; secretary, Mrs. Loretta Swanson; financial secretary, Mrs. Ida Rose; treasurer, Mrs. Irma Hannah; captain, Mrs. Margaret Poole.

The appointive officers will be named by the noble grand and vice grand for the formal installation early in January.

Plans were also made for the annual Christmas party to be held Dec. 19.

Mrs. C. Bergmann Honored at Shower

Mrs. Charles Bergmann was guest of honor at a stork shower given Thursday evening by Mrs. Eugene Bergmann and Mrs. Fred Bergmann at the latter's home.

The guests enjoyed games followed by refreshments. The many lovely gifts were presented to the honoree in a bassinet.

Guests present were Mrs. Richard Bergmann, Mrs. Robert Bergmann, Mrs. George Bergmann, Mrs. Ted Bergmann, Mrs. Alfred Bergmann, Mrs. Robert Pearl, Mrs. Warren Allison, Mrs. Charles Novak, Mrs. Harry Gregory, Mrs. Harry Potter, Mrs. Richard Potter.

adding to his original vote total. Late Wednesday it was reported that Williams led his GOP opponent by more than 1,600 votes.

It was explained that the recount in many places is barely underway. Both parties are confident that the new tally will bring victory to their respective candidate.

IN CHARLEVOIX county, the recount started Monday. In the opening hours, the Republicans were without challengers. Five Democrats appeared.

The recount continued to progress here without incident. Officials hoped that the recount might be completed by Monday of next week but were not at all sure that it would wind up before Dec. 15.

On Saturday father and son went to Grand Rapids to visit other relatives before Sgt. VanderArk reported at camp. Sunday August returned to his home in Ellsworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Howe and son from Royal Oak spent from Thursday to Sunday visiting in the John R. Wieland home.

Mrs. Violet Bernier and daughter, who had been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rosene Woodcock for two weeks, returned Tuesday to their home in Detroit.

Ellsworth Seniors Plan Year Book

The senior class is busy working on the 1951 yearbook, "The Wee Ten". Everywhere flash bulbs are being flashed for the picture pages. Pencils are flying and typewriters are banging away in an effort to get the written pages and picture pages finished before Christmas.

The advertising pages and one picture page are back from the printers. The blue suede covers are here too.

The year books will include the prophesy, who's who, class will, and dedication. Illustrated pages will carry pictures of the seniors, juniors, sophomores and freshmen. There will be group pictures of the grades. There also will be pages of snap shots.

HOME ECONOMICS

The girls cooked today, and made some Walnut Cresents. Most of them have finished their Christmas presents. While Mrs. George Brown was home over Thanksgiving she got carring backs and more beads to finish the gifts.

Band News

Mr. Dean Fiedler announced last week that members of the band would get a LETTER at the end of the year.

12th Grade News

The seniors sent a basket of goodies to John Best who was in the hospital. We hope you enjoy eating them John.

TEACHERS TAKE TRIP

Glenn Aylesworth, Gene Inman, Henry Smith and Jim Smith went to Grand Rapids, Wednesday afternoon to watch the Harlem Globe Trotters play basketball.

YOUR TEACHER

Mrs. Betty Potter, fifth and sixth grade teacher at Ellsworth attended Chicago Evangelistic Institute four years. She has a Bachelor of Theology degree.

Mrs. Potter has taken further work at Central Michigan college of Education in Mount Pleasant.

She has taught three years in Rural schools in Charlevoix county..

Mrs. Potter is married and lives in Charlevoix. She was reared in Lansing.

1st & 2nd Grade News

We enjoy our new band instruments and hope Mr. Fiedler will be able to teach us new songs before Chrtstmas.

Both the first and second grades are enjoying there new phonic books. They are very helpful in learning the sounds of letters and also in learning new words.

Linda Petter is back in school again.

KINDERGARTEN NEWS

The kindergarten children are practicing children songs. They are also learning xylophone parts for the toy band.

Wilma Honeysette, Donna Hofman, Sandra Donaldson and Judy DeYoung are the ones who are practicing now, but more will be playing later.

Third and Fourth Grades

Mike and Jon Boss left our oom and have gone to live in Ann Arbor. We were sorry to have them leave our room. We welcome Judy Honeysette to the third grade. She comes from the Charlevoix school.

We drew names for Christmas Monday.

We started practicing our band instruments. We have harmony pipes, flutes and alto and tenor chimes.

Bobby Carpenter's dog wants to be in our band. Last week he found Bobby's flute and tried to play it when Bobby wasn't looking, but he had too many teeth and not enough flute.

FIFTH AND SIXTH GRADE

The fifth and sixth grade girls are organizing a 4-H club. They are starting with first year sewing.

Seventh and Eighth Grades

The seventh and eighth graders had a class meeting Thursday morning, Nov. 23.

TENTH GRADE

The tenth graders are describing a student out of their grade. Each week a different person will be described, and the name of the person described the week before will be given.

If you know any of the tenth graders why not try to figure out who the person is.

He has dark eyes, black curly hair and is quite stout and heavy built. He is pretty good on the first team if he doesn't go out on foul's. He doesn't live in town. That is, Ellsworth.

Eleventh Grade

The eleventh graders had a class meeting, Tuesday, Nov. 27.

Ellsworth Teacher Says Wedding Vows

ELLSWORTH—Choosing the Thanksgiving vacation for their wedding, Miss Betty Jane Cochrane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour B. Cochrane, and Neil LeRoy Norcross were married in the First Congregational church in South Haven. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Norcross of Farnum road, South Haven.

The bride is an instructor in physical education in the Cadillac schools and the groom is an instructor at Ellsworth. Both received their bachelor of science degrees from Western College Kalamazoo, last June.

Settings for the wedding were carried out in a two-tono effect with yellow and white chrysanthemums massed at the altar of the sanctuary. Yellow tapers shed a matching glow from seven-branch slanted candelbra.

Officiates at Ceremony

The Rev. Lawrence E. Tenhopen minister of the church, officiated at the ceremony.

Miss Mary Irene Shoemaker was organist. Preceding the nuptial vows, Reginald N. Holman sang "I Love You Truly", and "O Promise Me". Miss Barbara Herriman, vocalist, sang "Tell Me Why" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride was given in marriage by Martin Johnson. She was attired in a bridal gown, fashioned of heavy slipper satin, the bodice with Princess collar being embroidered with the tiniest of seed pearls and silver bugle beads. The skirt fell in a long sweeping train. Her slippers were of silver.

The bride chose a fingertip illusion veil, blusher styled, cascaded from a crown of pearls, which were woven into the daintiest design of orange blossoms. She carried a white orchid, with a deep purple center, surrounded with snow-white chrysanthemums and an heirloom lace handkerchief, the handiwork of her mother.

Miss Grace Lawrence, a childhood friend, was maid of honor. She wore a peacock blue satin gown with mandarin neckline and fitted waistline, the skirt being softly fulled. Her flowers were a shower of yellow and golden bronze chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Clarence Wenzel, a student at Albion college, and Mrs. Martin Johnson were attendants.

Master David Goff groomed in a black velvet suit, was ring bearer.

Robert Goff was best man and Gene Strait of Hancock, a college roommate of the groom and Karl Hockenmaier of Kalamazoo, brother-in-law of the groom, were groomsmen.

Mr. Norcross and his bride are delaying their wedding trip until the close of the school year in June and are returning to resume their teaching duties.

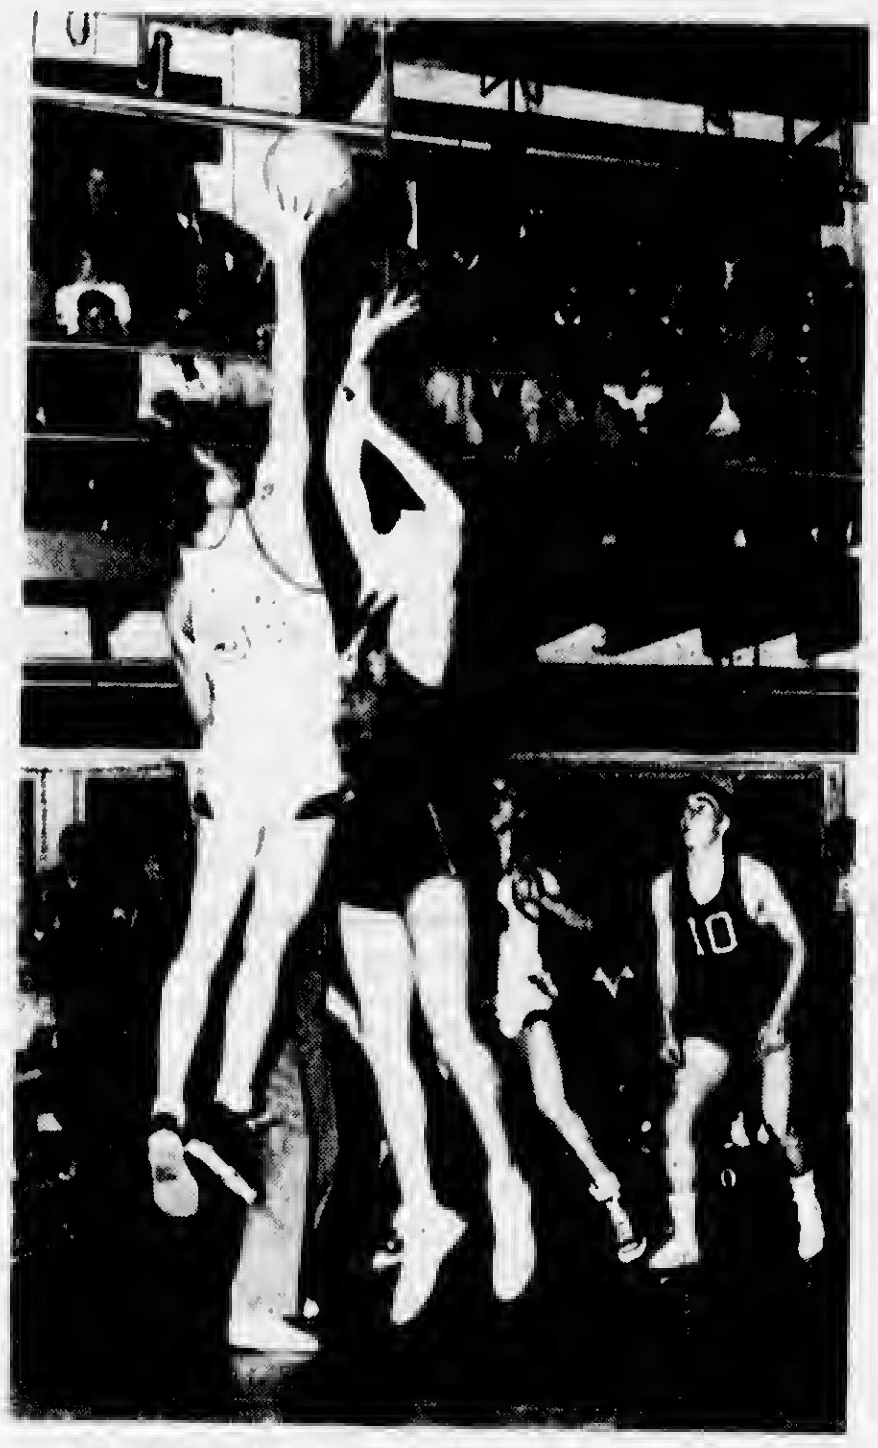
Fresh from Easy Victory Over Harbor Springs Rayders Seek 2nd Win from Gaylord



Warren Haven, Harbor Springs, (99) jumps against Ron Wojan in the first quarter of last week's game at Harbor Springs. No. 10 is Charlevoix's Ron Cunningham.

Coach Terrill Employs 13 Players In Opener to Find Strong Lineup

Fresh from an easy victory over Harbor Springs, the Red Rayders make their second start of the cage season tomorrow night at the local gym when they oppose Gaylord.

Coach Del Terrill utilized all 13 men on his varsity squad in an effort to get a good look at his charges under actual game conditions. The final score was 55-31.

The starting five for the Harbor game was composed of Charles Fairbanks and Bill Wallace at the forwards, Slim Wojan at the center slot and Norm Ketchman and Ron Cunningham at the guards.

THE WINNERS jumped off to an early lead and were never headed by Harbor Springs which last year gave the Rayders a close tussle before losing out by two points. Bill Wallace won high point honors with 13, followed by Cunningham with 10, Charles Krahnke with nine and Fairbanks with eight.

The starting five swept away to a commanding lead of 19 to 4 at the first quarter mark. At this point the Rayder coach inserted Don Hardy, Tom Donaldson, Dean Boss, Krahnke and Dwight Smith.

THIS QUINTET moved the score to 26-14 at the half. The Rayders led 39-21 at the third quarter mark. Harbor Springs did not look impressive but at times gave promise of developing into a much stronger team later in the season.

On the other hand, Charlevoix appeared good but it was also evident that the Rayders should improve a great deal as the season progresses. The play of Wojan at center will mean added height. He should develop as the games roll by.

* * *

NORM KETCHMAN appears to have improved his ballhandling over a year ago. He is a good team player and should provide his team with some good floorwork.

Bud Barber, N. Boss and Jim Bowman also saw action and Bowman rang up seven points the short time he was in there.

Snively was high point man for Harbor with 12 points.

The Rayder seconds lost a close game 32-28 against the Harbor Reserves The seconds had the game apparently won in the early part of the contest but Harbor Reserves came back strong in the last half to snatch victory.

Far from satisfied with his team's performance, Coach Terrill is working his charges hard this week to meet the Gaylord threat. The Rayders defeated them twice last year.

Busy at Work on Red Cross Gifts

Thrae Junior Red Cross members came to tha aid of the Charlavoix county chapter of the American Red Cross when it was tima to pack and wrap Christmas gift boxes for the Christmas-on-the-highseas program in which tha county chapter participated.

Virginia Smith (laft), Barbara Bice and Dorothy Allers, Charlevoix high school juniors, packed the boxes for shipping after they had been boxed and gift-wrappad under the suparvision of Fran Martin, chaptar chairman.

In each box were four packs cigarettes wrapped in aluminum foil, a pocket comb, a pencil, two packs rasor blades, a deck of playing cards, a pocket book, four rolls hard candy, two packs gum and a Christmas card with the name of tha chapter.

Tha Charlevoix county chapter sent 25 gifts as its share of a nation-wide program. The gifts were shipped to tha west coast whara they will be placed aboard ships carrying troops to foraign stations at holiday time. On Christmas day the gifts will be distributed among the troops.

William Shaw, 77, Area Farmer Passes Sunday

William W. Shaw, 77, retired Marion township farmer, died Sunday at the Charlevoix hospital where he had been a patient for five days. He had been in failing health for five years.

Funeral services were held at the See Funeral Home Tuesday with the Rev. W. D. Wood officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Born in Tuscarawas county, Ohio, he moved to Indiana with his parents as a child. On Aug. 12, 1894 he was married to Daisy Belle Waters at Huntington, Ind. They moved to a farm in Norwood township in 1904 and six years later moved to Marion township where he continued to operate a farm until ill health forced him to retire. Mrs. Shaw preceded him in death on Dec. 8, 1035. For several years he has made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Addison Chew, and his son, John Shaw.

He was an active member of the Church of God.

Besides his son and daughter he is survived by two other sons, Albert of Charlevoix and Russell of Traverse City; eight grand children and eight great grandchildren.

Courier Error

Last week's Courier inadvertently said that William Hair died after an illness at his home. It was Henry Hair, 93, a former longtime resident of Hayes township.

Born in Conada Oct. 13, 1857, he settled on a farm in Hayes township as a young man. He married Hannah Baker about 1886. She died in 1904. In 1910 he married Mrs. Emma Aenis Boak in Petoskey. He was a former member of Maple Grove Grange and the Farm Bureau and had been active in community affairs. He was a member of the Church of God.

Attending the funeral of Henry Hair from out of town were George Hair and Marybell Hair Anderson of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Boak of West Chicago, Fred Zipp and Merritt Lesher, of Petoskey.

Co-op Reports Record Year Of Business

The Charlevoix Co-Operative company enjoyed its most successful business year in the last 12 months since the Co-Op was started in 1019.

This good nows was reported by Fred Willis, manager of tha Co-Op, who said that a total of $245,000 worth of business was done during the year. This represented an increase of $25,000 ovar 1949 which until now was the best year.

Stockholders heard detailed reports of the business and improvements at the annual meeting Tuesday night at the high school. Some 150 stockholders and their wives attended.

The board of directors voted to retire the capital stock of the company which was issued in 1945.

President L. E. McGhan reported that during the past year new grain bins had been added which increased the storage capacity of the elevator by 50 percent. The roof nver the driveway and truck scales were raised. A new roof was built over the unloading dock, a much-needed improvement.

Directors elected for a two-year term were Rowley Williams Jasper Warner, Kenneth Sweot and Burr Blanchard. Mr. Blanchard is a newcomer and replaces Laverne Straw, retiring member.

Percy Penfold, manager of the Jordan Valley Co-Operative Creamery, discussed the marketing of fluid milk and the outlook for various products manufactured from fluid milk.

Ellsworth Besemer and John Frith of the Veterans Institute showed movies of the farm training program. Lunch was served. Walter Harger of the state Farm Bureau services in Lansing discussed the operating statements with the stockholders.

He termed the Charlevoix Co-Op one of the best in the whole state from a financial standpoint.

BULLETIN

Former Gov. Harry Kelly late Wednesday conceded the governor's race to his Democratic opponent, Gov. G. Mennen Williams. Three-fourths of the state's precincts have been recounted in the first statewide recount since 1930.

No VFW Meeting

The Charlevoix VFW will not meet Thursday, Dec. 14, Fred Koehler, commander reported.

Kelly Gains 11 Votes in Recount Here

Former Governor Kelly gained 11 votes as the result of the recount of Nov. 7 ballots here, County Clerk F. R. Bulow, clerk of the board of canvassers, disclosed. The recount was completed Saturday.

In the correction of votes Kelly had a total of 2751 votas in the county as compared with 2765 in the official canvass, but Governor Williams had 1838 votes as compared with 1863 in the canvass.

This meant that Kelly lost 14 votes in the recount but Williams lost 25, netting the former governnr 11 more votes than he had originally.

* * *

HOWEVER, IN other parts of the state Kelly was falling behind Williams as the recount neared completion. It appeared more than likely that the present governor would finish with a greater majority than he had two weeks ago.

A number of ballots were discarded because election officials failed tn intial the ballots or initialed in the wrong spot.

In Hay township as reported last week, Kelly lost 10 votes because of the failure of an official to initial the ballots. In Boyne City, thero was a ten vote differ-

Bob Carey Given Top Honor By MSC Team

Bob Carey, Michigan State's pass catching end, was given the highest honor his football teammates could bestow when they elected him captain of next year's Spartan team.

Bob has been a standout since he arrived nn the MSC campus. While a sophomore, he was shown an unusual honor by being presented a game ball by his teammates in recognition of his outstanding play.

In every game this fall, Carey was a marked man with at times three men attempting to guard him from catching passes. While MSC did not utilize their passing game, particularly in the latter stages of the season, Bob usually succeeded in drawing a couple of men away from the line to watch him.

Sportswriters have almost unanimous in their belief that he is one of the best ends in the nation. He seems destined to lead one of State's strongest teams in history.

Children's School Program Planned For Thursday

The annual Christmas pageant, "Christmas Comes to Old Grouch," will be presented hy three grades of the Charlevoix elementary school at 8 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 21

The fourth, fifth and sixth grade students will participate in the pageant by Martha Mixer in the high school auditorium.

Preceding the presentation by the older students, members of the two kindergarten classes will present a brief program. 54 Years of Fire Service Is Achievement of Charlie Marshall

By Fran Martin

When one mentions the Charlevoix fire department, residents immediately think of its fire chief, Charles Marshall, and rightfully so. He's been associated with the fire fighters of the town since he was 18 years old.

He'll he 72 come January 9.

He's been a regular member of the department since 1919 when he became assistant chief and driver of the Oldsmobile Four the first horseless equipment the city purchased that year. He's been fire chief for the last 15 years since his brother, the late Henry Marshall, retired after many years service.

Charlie, as he affectionately is called by youngsters and oldsters alike, is really the personification of Charlevoix's fire department.

Born in Canada

Born in Canada he and his two brothers, Henry and Eber, came to northern Michigan when Charlie was two years old. His father, Jacob, was a millwright and worked in the mills of the area that were then opening up in the growing lumber business.

It hadn't been too many years before that the town's first fire department, a bucket brigade, had been formed. The next equipment purchased was a hose cart with a hand pump which was operated by volunteers.

Charlie relates how the fire bell would ring and the volunteers would race to the courthouse building where the equipment was stored in what is now the register of deeds office. They would haul the cart out and start it along the street until the horses which ordinarily hauled it could he brought from the barn at the top of State st. hill. They would hitch them up and rush off to the fire.

Good Old Sylvia

The next equipment which was purchased in the lato 1890's was the old Sylvia which Charlie speaks of in loving tones. At that time it was the best equipment which could be purchased. It was a pump operated hy steam had 200 pounds pressure and was stoked by coal or wood.

Ketchman Sinks Goal To Give Charlevoix Third Win in Row

A thrilling finish in the final minutes of the final period enabled Charlevoix Red Rayders to defeat Boyne City by a score of 39-37 Tuesday night.

Norm Ketchman flashed through with the winning goal in the last minute of play after Boyne had tied it up on goal by Ted Mason. The last half play of Charley Fairbanks and Bill Wallace sparked the Rayders to the hard-earned victory.

The Rayders face East Jordan here tomorrow night in another outstanding game of the season.

Playing at Boyne City, the Rayders were behind the entire game except for the final two minutes. Surprisingly, the game was tied up only once. At one time Boyne had a nine point bulge.

COACH DEL Terrill's boys appeared off form, missing many fouls and set shots. The Rayders made only five of 22 fnuls and only 17 goals in 52 attempts.

But they won the game and that is what counts. Sportswriters and coaches were fairly well-agreed that the officiating was gond.

Fairbanks rammed home seven field goals, six in the last half, for high point honors hut Bill Wallace was only a step behind with 13. Wallace had eight points in the first half. Mason scored 13 to lead his team.

The game started off as if Boyne City was really going to give Charlevoix the business, hopping off to a 8-2 lead in the opening minutes. Boyne led at the quarter mark 13-5. Bob "String" Boan was hot in this interim with four goals.

Wallace started things off in the second quarter, coming thrnugh with three goals and two free tosses. Meanwhile Mason scored four field goals and Erickson and Buss Kujawski had a goal apiece to give Boyne a 23-14 lead at halftime.

The Rayder team opened up the last half with more determination and fire. Fairbanks hit on three field goals from out on the court while Wallace chipped in with a goal and a free toss, and Ketchman, a two-pointer to make it 25 for Charlevoix and 31 far Boyne at the end of the third period.

Continue Efforts To Salvage Luxury Yacht Near Here

Salvage operations to free the 62-ft. luxury yacht, Sidney B., from the beach 18 miles south of here on the east side of Grand Traverse Bay were started Wednesday morning by the Seara Dredge and Salvage Co. of Traverse City after attempts by the Coast Guard failed Tuesday.

The $120,000 Cris-Craft yacht, enroute from the shipyards to Memphis, Tenn., via Lake Michigan and the Chicago Canal, was beached by its crew late Monday when they feared it would sink after its hull was damaged when it went on the rocks at Skillagalee.

The U. S. Coast Guard lifeboat station here received a distress call from the boat at 5:20 p. m. Monday giving its position as 10 miles north of Charlevoix. The lifeboat from the local station and the 83-ft. Coast Guard cutter were dispatched to the aid of the vessel.

A distress flare reported by the Beaver Head lighthouse changed the search to the Grand Traverse Bay area a short time later. A crewman from the beached craft, Winston Blackley of Memphis, Tenn., went ashore and called the Charlevoix lifeboat station to notify them of the boat's position.

Local Coastguardsmen aboard the cutter stood by all night and were joined early Tuesday morning by the lifeboat in an effort to free the pleasure craft from a sand har 150 ft. from shore.

The hoat is owned by L. V. Butler of Memphis, Tenn., cotton broker. It was enroute lo his home port of Memphis in charge of Roger Farrow of Chicago at the time of the accident. Julius Saunders of Memphis is the third member of the crew.

CSO Committee Pushes Plans For Send-Offs

A committee of five appointed by Mayor John Knight to serve with the Charlevoix Service Organization met Thursday evening.

Plans were made by the group to continue to provide send-off gifts for all inductees leaving Charlevoix county for the armed services. Means of getting a crowd to the bus station to see the boys off were also discussed. It was voted to ask the city to sound the fire siren once at 8 a. m. and again at 8:30 p. m. so local persons could gather at the bus station for a brief program for the inductees.

Plans for raising money for the purchase of send-off packages and for sending the Courier to the Charlevoix boys in tho service were also discussed.

An effort will be made to get the names of all boys and girls from Charlevoix and vicinity who

Why Does Community Fail Chest Drive?

For the first time since the Community Chest was organized in Charlevoix, it appears that the goal will not be met.

There are a hundred excuses heard. Some are valid. Most of them are not. Chest leaders in trying to analyze the situation which means that several Chest agencies, which normally receive funds from this united gift, will have to restrict their activities for the coming year.

It means that the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Santa Claus Annonymous among others will be forced to carry out only part of their projected program. It also means that the Charlevoix hospital will receive less from the Community Chest.

In connection with the hospital, several workers reported that they heard objections to giving to the hospital because they thought it was for the new hospital. Some workers did not know the correct answer to that and said nothing to refute it. They are not blame except that they should have learned for what the money to the Chest was being used.

The truth is that the $2,000 in this year's Chest budget was to go to defray operating expenses of the present hospital. It has been that way since the Chest was organized. It's that way in scores of cities throughout the state which help their community's health program by financially assisting the hospital. This is as it should be.

The Chest drive which lagged from the start later had the misfortune to compete with the Christmas season. As a result of various facters, Chest leaders are doing their best to revive the drive enough to permit the collection of additional money.

Several leaders in the community gave once and are being asked to give again. Many of these have increased their gifts in the face of the deficit. We hear of several residents who have doubled their contribution for better living to help meet the Chest goal.

It has been estimated that more than 100 people in the community have not been contacted to give. If that is so, those residents are urgently asked to leave their gift at either of the banks or call any of the Chest workers.

It seems peculiar that the Chest drive which in past years has gone over the top here while other communities in the county and area failed, has now slipped to a new low.

Perhaps a resurgence on the part of residents in the community who feel like giving a little more will come to the aid of the Chest.

It does need your help. How about it?

Expert Leadership Needed In World Crisis

The fearful consequences of another all-out war which may be unleashed on this nation at any moment underscores the importance of providing this country with the best possible leadership.

The Korean war news running the gamut of extreme optimism only a few weeks ago has been replaced with the tragic withdrawal and a Far Eastern "Dunquerque." What is the matter? That is the question being asked by so many of the residents in Charlevoix as well as New York.

Few people realize just what the war with Communist China or Soviet Russia actually means for all of us. To most of us the Korean war has been something that we have been interested in. We have viewed the war with a detached view. But what about the parents of boys in that frozen, forsaken country.

It's not a distant war to those parents and families who have been notified of injuries and even death. The war has been real. Those of us who have been enjoying the warmth of our homes and business as usual were shocked to read Andy Essenberg's letter.

One paragraph of it is enough to cause one to say a prayer, asking divine guidance in helping clear up this muddle. For those who didn't see the letter in the Nov. 30 issue of the Courier, let us quote:

"You said God has been good to me, Mother. You just don't know how good. You would not believe me if I told you some of the tight spots I've been in and never got hit. My company came here with 158 men and there are nine of us left. Sometimes I feel that a guy who loses a foot or leg is lucky. At least they don't have to be in this anymore.

"My hands are getting cold again so I'll have to stop and warm them."

Does that sound like business as usual.

Does that sound like the boys in Korea are concerned with Christmas shopping and dislike for shoveling off their sidewalks. How long can we in this country continue to enjoy civilian luxuries while our boys are getting shot at, maimed or killed.

Isn't it about time that the Administration in Washington puts its house in order and lays down the law to curb inflation and really back up the men on the front lines.

The American people have never shirked their duty to their fighting men if given intelligent leadership. The thing that most of us have trouble understanding is the bungling with our foreign policy and lack of intelligent leadership.

We are heading for national disaster faster than anyone realizes. It's time that we put the best possible men in responsible positions instead of having muddle-headed men like Secretary of State Acheson make our decisions.

He makes the decisions but our boys may die because his ability may be lacking in many respects.

Makes Covering Gay

Half of the gift is the wrapping—let's make the covering as gay as the gift inside.

For the girl who likes to sew, material for a dress in a fabric-wrapped box, rick-rack for the ribbon and spools of thread with big buttons for the decoration create an unusual package. If you give yarn for a sweater, use one skein for the big bow.

When Wrapping Gifts

Why not use a necktie knot in decorating the box containing a tie? Fasten the ends of the ribbon under the lid about ¼ way down; bring to center; tie the knot and shape the ends tie fashion. Use a dark blue, wine or green ribbon about one and one-half inches wide. These are attractive used on a striped or plaid paper.

IT CAN'T HAPPEN IT CAN'T, IT CAN'T IT CAN HAPPEN IT CAN, IT CAN

"Can't" or "Can"?

IT'S A FALLACY to say "It can't happen here!" Just about then it does happen — and it will happen again whether fire, windstorm, explosion or other calamity.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

Art Ranger has brought to our attention a column called St. Louis Letter written by Ralph Coghlan which appeared this fall in the St. Louis, Mo. Post Dispatch. The name of the letter is "The Killer of the Great Lakes" and is written by Coghlan who visited at the Alvin Goldman and Irvin Bettman summer homes here and saw at first hand the damage being wrought by the killer of the Great Lakes . . . the lamprey eel . . . it's a story well known to those of us who live on the lakes . . . and it's a sad, sad story . . that doesn't seem to have a solution . . . let's hope experiments now being made give some solution to the problem . . .

BELATED congratulations to Bob Carey who has been named captain of the Michigan State Spartans 1951 football squad . . . it's a great honor he's brought to Charlevoix . . . And we're pretty proud of him and brother Bill too . . . Which reminds us of some teen-agers from downstate whom we met last summer . . . One of the first things they wanted to know was . . . Do you know the Carey boys . . . we said yes . . and wide-eyed they said . . . You mean you know 'em well enough to talk to them . . . and did our stock go up in a hurry . . . And were they amazed when they finally met the twins to find they were just two swell boys that were pretty human and lived and talked like anyone else . . . but to many kids they're heroes . . . and that's the way they should be . . . and we're proud to list them among our friends . . .

WE DON'T KNOW how you feel about it but we think the new snow removal tractor the city has purchased it just about the nicest thing they've ever invested in . . . It's sure something to be able to cross the street or get to your car without climbing over snowbanks . . . and the streets sure look better too . . . And the city light crews is surely to be complimented on the street decorations . . .

How can we help but get the Christmas spirit these days . . . there's Christmas carols on the radio and on the street . . . the windows are so prettily decorated and gifts galore are shown everywhere one looks . . . the kids are busy writing letters to Santa Claus and after a trip to the store running home and sending a postscript to the first to ask for something new . . .

And if you still haven't got the spirit make a trip to the grade school . . . from every room comes the sound of Christmas songs and carols . . . and Christmas trees are brightly lighted and youngsters are busy making all sorts of gifts for mothers and dads . . . grown-ups are making and painting scenery for the Christmas pageant . . . It's a hustle and bustle where ever one goes but isn't it wonderful?

WE THINK Charlevoix's pretty lucky this holiday season in having so many grand Christmas programs . . . on Sunday there's the community choir vesper concert to put everyone in the mood for the week to come . . . on Wednesday afternoon there's the high school band and choir program at the high school gym and on Thursday night there's the grade school program which will feature those 'out of this world' tableaus that takes one back to that first Christmas . . . you're going to miss a lot if you don't take in these programs . . .

How did you think those Charlevoix Rayders looked against Gaylord Friday . . . it's so good to see those kids on the floor again, playing the same type of grand basketball Charlevoix fans are used to seeing . . . good clean sportsmanship all the way . . . and don't you think all those youngsters who wear our colors make up just about the best looking teams you've ever seen? . . . Or could it be that we're a bit prejudiced? . . .

YOU'VE STILL got time to get a Christmas card to that boy in the service . . . call his folks, get his address and find the prettiest Christmas card made and get it off to him with an airmail stamp . . . And don't forget to get your cards and packages off this week . . . if you want them to reach their destination . . .

One of the nicest assignments we have is doing the "Who's who in Charlevoix" series . . . one meets the nicest people or gets to know the most interesting things about the people we already know . . . we hope you enjoy reading them just half as much as we enjoy doing them . .

On Bridge st. there's an office which observed its golden anniversary this year . . . It was first opened 50 years ago by Mrs. Myrtle Young and today it's operated by her son, Earl A. Young and Mrs. Young . . . the name is a tradition not only in northern Michigan but in real estate circles throughout the middle west . . . Our congratulations . . . and may there always be a Young at that attractive office at 224 Bridge st.

And if you're looking for a way to help someone this Christmas, how's about pitching in and helping Santa Claus Ananymous . . . it's a wonderful and worthwhile project but like everything else it needs somebody to do the work . . . If you want to know more about it give Mrs. Bill Supernaw a ring . . .

To Mrs. Shetterly's First Graders a big thank you for all the wonder letters sent to us for taking pictures in their room one day recently . . Believe us, it was a privilege . . . and we'll accept that invitation to return again some time . . .

Fire Precaution

Set stoves and heaters on substantial bases well away from walls. Place a sheet of metal under stoves on wooden floors. Protect any nearby woodwork with sheet metal or asbestos. Keep smokepipe clean, in good repair, securely supported, and at least a foot from woodwork or combustible material. When smokepipes pass through a combustible partition use a ventilated thimble with a foot clearance around the pipe.

Ellsworth Farmer Fractures Leg

Ellsworth — Merlon Sitzema, 35, was removed to his home Tuesday from Charlevoix hospital where he was taken Monday for a fractured left leg suffered when he lost control of his two-hore team as he was skidding horse team as he was skidding farm, four miles west of Ellsworth.

His leg was fractured when it was caught between a tree and the log he was hauling.

School Choir To Give Program Wednesday, Dec. 20

The Charlevoix high school choir and senior band will present a Christmas program at the high school auditorium at 2 p. m., Wednesday, Dec. 20.

The choir will open the program with a group of traditional Christmas carols and in addition will present the negro spiritual "Little David" and the Mozart "Ave Verum". Mrs. Leonard Burns will be the accompanist.

The entire audience will then sing a group of Christmas carols under the direction of C. A. Odmark.

S. E. Coleman will deliver a Christmas message, "One Solitary Life".

The senior band will furnish music for the last portion of the program. Highlighting the band's program will be the popular "Sleigh Ride" by LeRoy Anderson and "Christmas Rhapsody", a modern version of many of the Christmas melodies.

Parents and friends are cordially invited to attend the program. There will be no admission charge.

Legion Auxiliary Holds Yule Party

Mrs. Robert Hamilton opened her home to the members of the American Legion Auxiliary for their annual Christmas party Monday evening.

The house was decorated in a holiday motif and a lighted Christmas tree. The refreshment table featured Christmas candles and greens.

Seventeen members and two new members, Mrs. Ralph Roberts and Mrs. Stanley Moore, were present.

A brief business session preceded the party. The group voted to contribute $5 to the Community Chest and to send Christmas baskets and remembrance baskets.

Gifts were exchanged and refreshments and a social hour enjoyed after the business meeting. Mrs. Bert Carey, Mrs. C. H. Sternberg and Mrs. Leo Carey assisted the hostess.

Spotted Fever

The mortality of Rocky mountain spotted fever throughout the nation averaged 23 per cent in 4,053 cases reported during the period 1939-1946. Fortunately, two of the newer antibotics, aureomycin and chloromycetin, give promise of being effective in treatment of this disease.

Edith Olach Everett Stenman Speak Vows

In a ceremony solemnized at St. Mary's rectory Saturday afternoon, Edith Olga Olach became the bride of Everett Stenman of Cadillac. The Rev. Fr. Leo Malinowski officiated in the presence of their immediate families.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Olach and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stenman of Tustin.

For the wedding the bride selected a raspberry gaberdine suit, navy accessories and a corsage of white camellias.

Mrs. Clement Olach of Flint, sister-in-law of the bride, was her only attendent. She wore a navy and white checked suit, navy accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Sgt. Vincent Olach, U. S. Army stationed in Munich, Germany, assisted the bridegroom as best man.

Mrs. Olach chose a beige suit and brown accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Stenman, mother of the bridegroom, wore a green crepe dress and black accessories Both had corsages of yellow mums.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for a hundred guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. A tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple graced the refreshment table at which Mrs. Fred Bancroft and Mrs. Charles Hamlin presided.

The couple plan to return here for the present after a brief wedding trip. They will reside in Cadillac after the holidays."

Among those from away who were here for the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Stenman and son, Arthur; Mr. and Mrs. Clement Olach of Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Laurent and daughter of Cadillac; Mrs. Tony Olszewski and daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Ferguson and son, James, of Traverse City; Willa Holmberg and Kenneth Fagerman of Cadillac.

Keep Barns Clean Is Advice Of County Agent

Approach of winter means it's time for a thorough barn cleanup says Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, who points out that the barn will soon become the principal work center for daily farm chores.

Unfortunately, there are hazards in many barns and feed lofts in Charlevoix county, the agent reports.

Following are some of the cleanup recommendations advocated by David Stenicke, extension safety specialist at Michigan State College.

Clean out alleyways and work areas which have become obstructed by feed, tools, harnesses, carts, or other objects. Avoid storing loose materials overhead.

Check your barn for things that may cause falls. High door sills, changes in floor levels, weak boards, protruding cleats, or other tripping hazards should be removed. All floors should be made smooth, solid, and continuous.

Dust off light bulbs and replace those that have gone to provide maximum light during dark winter mornings and evenings.

Loft doors, feed chutes, and ladders are accident hazards in most barns, Stenicke says. He strongly recommends that a hand rail be added to stairways and that the steps be kept clear at all times. Where it is necessary to use a ladder see that it extends well above the loft floor, and check the rungs to make sure they are secure.

Holidays Are Bad Times for Mishaps

December, the gayest month of all, is also the deadliest.

This is the warning given by Sgt. Harold Moore, commander of the Gaylord post of the Michigan State Police, in a plea to pedestrians and drivers to be especially careful during the holiday season.

Pointing out that police agencies throughout the state are now carrying on a holiday traffic safety campaign, Sergeant Moore said:

"Traffic records show that the death toll in December is the heaviest of the year. Since 1945 more than 750 persons have been killed in December traffic accidents on Michigan streets and highways, and of these nearly 300 were pedestrians.

"Christmas shopping and other holiday activities bring more people out-of-doors. Added to this are longer periods of darkness, unfavorable weather conditions and an added tendency towards carelessness because we're thinking of other things.

"Don't spoil your Christmas and bring sorrow into your home because of a traffic accident. This season is supposed to be the happiest of the year. Keep it that way by walking and driving safely."

Lutheran Children Plan Yule Service

The Sunday School Children of Bethany Lutheran Church will hold their Christmas service on Wednesday, December 20, at 8 p.m. The title of the service will be "Two Shepherds as they watched their Flocks."

There will be a Candlelight Service at Bethany on Christmas eve starting at 8 p.m. This is a beautiful service with all members participating.

The Church will be appropriately decorated with a Christmas tree, candles and boughs.

Wilderness Road

The development of the United States west of the Alleghenies did not begin until the Wilderness road was opened in 1795. Prior to that time there was no road westward to accomodate vehicles. With the opening of the Wilderness road mountains were crossed and exploration westward began. Pioneers opened the trails The army followed close behind constructing forts to protect against Indian raids.

Mistletoe Is Bad?

The flame-thrower and atomic energy — lethal instruments borrowed from modern warfare—are out to kill that ancient symbol of peacemaking and love, the Christmas mistletoe.

The unusual battle front is Australia where too many valuable trees each year have been receiving the kiss of death from the harmless looking shrub. Despite mistletoe's popular reputation as the Yultetide promotor of romance, it is a public-enemy parasite in the woodlands, killing off the trees that play it host.

Australian foresters have finally resorted in the flame-thrower as a quick executioner for the plant and are using radio-active tracers, furnished by the U. S. atomic energy commission, to study how the mistletoe saps the water and mineral salts from the trees, starving them to death.

52 Years Service For Charlie Marshall

It was pulled by a team which was always furnished by George Burns who had a livery stable at that time.

The Sylvia had an illustrious career for it was the only pumper in this section of the state and besides being used in Charlevoix it was taken to Boyne City twice and to Pellston once.

The White Lumber company in Boyne City caught fire in the spring of the year about 1899 and threatened to sweep the town so the story goes. Charlevoix's fire department was sent an SOS and Mr. Burns, with two teams hitched to the Sylvia, started for Boyne City. He was met at Horton's Bay by a relief team which took it to Boyne City where the Charlevoix volunteers, assisted by the Boyne City men, fought the fire for three days and nights.

Lumber Fire

In 1903 another fire broke out in a lumber yard there and this time the Sylvia was taken aboard the tug, Taylor and rushed up Lake Charlevoix.

About 1900, Charlie said, a had fire started at Pellston, another lumber center. The Sylvia this time was placed on a flat car and taken to Pellston behind the old 'dummy' which operated between Charlevoix and Petoskey for many years and is well-remembered by older residents.

All these years that Charlie was a volunteer fireman, he was employed at the Charlevoix Lumber Co. He relates how the volunteers employed at the mill would leave their work at the sound of the fire bell and were never 'docked' for the time they lost while fighting fires.

The worst fire in Charlevoix's history, Charlie thinks, was the Charlevoix County Bank building fire in February, 1924 when the two-story building was completely destroyed in 24 degree below zero temperatures.

Charlie's seen a lot of fires in his day and he has seen 12 people lose their lives in fires. But he still wouldn't trade his job for another.

Teaches Safely

He's always talked fire safety for he knows the damage that can be wrought by even a small blaze and the sorrow that can result. For years he taught fire safety to the youngsters in a little house he had constructed for that purpose. In doing this he showed them fire hazards, how to correct them and how to utilize fire equipment.

And he's lived every minute of it for he and his wife, the former Matilda Coon whom he maried on New Year's Day, 1906, truely love Charlevoix and its people They particularly like the kids and the dogs and are always good to both. There's nothing Charlie likes better then playing Santa Claus. a role he's had for some time. Both are rabid sports fans and follow the high school teams in all their games.

No Retirement

When asked how long he plans to go in his work he answers "Another ten years, at least and I expect to be going strong at 90". Charlie agrees that fire-fighting equipment today is more efficient but if he had a coice he'd take "the good old days" anytime.

Regardless of when Charlie and Tillie retire, there's one thing everyone will bet . . . that when the fire whistle blows Charlie, and perhaps Tille too, will be there for both will be "fire horses" all their lives.

Kelly Gains Votes In County Recount

ence with Kelly being favored.

Kelly lost 12 votes in the first Charlevoix ward and Williams, eight. Kelly also lost 10 in the second ward while his Democratic opponent gained two. In the third ward here Kelly gained 27 votes while Williams lost one. giving Kelly a margin in Charlevoix from the recount of 12 votes. In East Jordan there was only a discrepancy of one vote with Williams losing that one.

Within My Power . . .

I am not a Very Important Man, as importance is commonly rated. I do not have great wealth, control a big business, or occupy a position of great honor or authority.

Yet I may someday mould destiny. For it is within my power to become the most important man in the world in the life of a boy. And every boy is a potential atom bomb in human history.

A humble citizen like myself might have been the Scoutmaster of a Troop in which an undersized unhappy Austrian lad by the name of Adolph might have found a joyous boyhood, full of the ideals of brotherhood, goodwill, and kindness. And the world would have been different.

A humble citizen like myself might have been the organizer of a Scout Troop in which a Russian boy called Joe might have learned the lessons of democratic cooperation.

These men would never have known that they had averted world tragedy, yet actually they would have been among the most important men who ever lived.

All about me are boys. They are the makers of history, the builders of tomorrow. If I have some part in guiding them up the trail of Scouting, on to the high road of noble character and constructive citizenship, I may prove to be the most important man in their lives, the most important man in my community.

A hundred years from now it will not matter what my bank account was, the sort of house I lived in, or the kind of car I drove. But the world may be different, because I was important in the life of a boy.

—Forest Witcraft

Ketchman's Goal Gives Rayders Game

THE RAYDERS scored 14 points in the last period to six for Boyne City to erase the deficit and win their third victory in a row this season in the final minutes.

Fairhanks scored three times on goals while Wallace had another goal as did Ron Wojan, Ron Cunningham and Ketchman.

With five minutes left in their period, Charlevoix trailed by four points. A basket by Wallace narrowed the lead but the losers cashed in on two free throws and made it four again for Boyne. Then Cunningham came back with a goal. Wojan flipped one in to tie it up and Fairbanks put them in the lead 37-35.

Mason tied up the game with a long toss and bedlam broke loose. Saffran missed two free throws and seconds later Ketchman put the clincher in with his short shot.

The Charlevoix seconds won their game 34-24 with Bobo Bennett high with 11 points and Lewis next with nine. The Rayders Reserves led at the half 24-10 but managed to beat off Boyne's second half rally.

Christmas School Fete Plans for Thursday

Special features of the program will be a dance group being presented by students of the fourth grade and a 150-voice choir, composed of fourth, fifth and six grade pupils, singing appropriate carols.

Group of children, Scott Supernaw, James VerWys, Roy Whitley, Rodney Ostrum; Herald, Joel Arvilla; reader, James Flynn.

Carollers and minstrels will be listed next week.

Those participating in the tableaus are: Mary, Jean Wood; angels, Billy Kay Smith, Lucille Sanford, Nancy Brodine; Wise men, Edward O'Neill, William Maxfield, Neil Kaskey; Shepherd, Joe Noah, Jimmy Genia, Rolland Daugherty.

An invitation is being extended to everyone to attend the program at the high school auditorium next Thursday evening.

Nickel Stainless Steels

The largest volume of production of stainless steels is in the United States which for the last four years has held at an average of about 550,000 ingot tons. Volume last year was somewhat below this average, but with roughly 60 per cent of the total production in the nickel-chromium varieties, a very large consumption of nickel was maintained.

Winner, Sixth National AAA Traffic Safety Poster Contest

Hundreds of children and adults have been killed each year during December because they forgot to wear a piece of white clothing while walking along streets and highways after dark. Since days get shorter during December, and darkness limits drivers' eyes earlier, Automobile Club of Michigan has erected 10,000 of the above posters in Michigan classrooms. In order to further teach this safety subject, Michigan teachera have been provided with 29,000 'Wear White After Dark lesson sheets for classroom use.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husbond and father, Glenn Cummings, who passed oway three years ago December 15.

He bade no one farewell,
He said good-bye to none.
His loving heart ceased to beat
Before we know he was gone.
He did not fail to do his best,
His heart was true and tender.
He worked hard for those he left
And will alweys be remembered.

Place Names Add To Christmas Lore

Santa Claus, Indiana; Bethlehem, Conn.; and Christmas, Fla., are a few of the more familiar post offices which each year handle a flood of mail from senders wishing to obtain yuletide postmarks.

Although tha federal post offica department has now barred extra flourishes by local postmasters using Christmas symbols and mottoes, a town's own holiday namo can still givo that festive touch to a greeting or package of toys.

Indiana's Santa Claus is the only town so designated in the United States. The privilege is reserved to its post office by a congressional act. There is, however, Santa, Idaho. There is also only one Christmas—the one in Florida—plus a Christmas Cove, Maine.

On the other hand, seven Bethlehems answer the seasonal roll call; they can be found in Conn., Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, New Hampshire, and Pennsylvania. The Bethlehem, Conn. post office was one of several stations that figured in headlines recently on the use of especially - designed cancellation stamps bearing the now-forbidden Christmas tree decoration. The town's population is about 350.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Poole Sr. announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Louise, to Leonard Niswander Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Niswander Sr. of Petoskey.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Rudolph the Red-nosed Reindeer is the center of attraction in tha kindergarten these days as the children prepare for their part in the annual Christmas program to be presented at the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 21. Pictured with Rudolph are: (l to r.) John Honeysette, John Flynn, Cynthia Cunningham, Betty Clark.

Tha afternoon kindergarten class will present the playlet, Tha Gingerbread Boy and the upper grades of the elementary school tho Christmas pageant, Christmas comes to Old Grouch. Tableaus depicting tho first Christmas will be a feature of the latter.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Girl Scout troop 7 elected new officers at a recent meeting. They are: president, Susie Duerr; treasurer, Sandra Cunningham; scribe Wanda Russell.

At the meeting held at the Congregational church dues were collected and members worked on Christmas gifts for their mothers.

The troop now has a traveling basket being passed among the members to raise funds for their camping trip next spring.

Wanda Russell, scribe

The Brownie Scouts of troop 10 were entertained at a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Karl Erber by the troop committee composed of Mrs. Erber, Mrs. Gordon Freedman and Mrs. Don Swinton.

Troop leaders are Kay Fitch, Mrs. C. M. Bice and Mrs. George Smith.

New Ag Teacher To Speah Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Histid of South Haven announce the engagement and approachig marriage of their daughter, Shirley Jane, to John Frith, son of E. Dean Frith and the late Mrs. Frith of Nashville, Mich.

Miss Histid, a graduate of South Haven high school, will complete her studies in the school of home economics, Michigan State College, this month.

Mr. Frith served with the army for three years during World War II. He graduated from Michigan State College in 1948 and is teaching at the Veterans' Institute here.

The wedding will be an event of December 30 at South Haven.

Your Child

A WEEKLY COLUMN

conducted by Claud C. Ruch
Educational Director, Childcraft Advisory Service in Chicago

The preadolescent has all the charm of a battered, old felt hat that has been left out all night in the rain. Gone are his cute, baby ways, and that appealing dependence on his parents for help and affection.

As fidgety as a politician on election night, he can hardly sit still for any length of time. And despite his childhood training, he has suddenly acquired an "allergy" for soap and water and a strong dislike for brushing his teeth.

Claud C. Ruch

With scuffed shoes, shirtail hanging out, and hair in wild disarray, he is hardly "a thing of beauty and a joy forever". When he isn't restlessly prowling about the house, he's running out to be with "tha gang" whose approval has suddenly become more important to him than that of the adults aroud him.

In Childcraft Books, Fritz Redl, Professor of Social Work at Wayna University, Detroit, Michigan, assures tearfol mothers and exasperated fathers of the preadolescent that "this temporary disappearance of well-achieved childhood training is but one of the many puzzling, but perfectly normal parts of preadolescent growth. The best reaction to this behavior is to ignore it," he advises, adding:

"The most important thing for adults to remember is that the preadolescent has to go through this period as part of his normal development. More than anything else, during this time of his life, he needs understanding from his parents and a feeling of security. Constant nagging and criticism will only make him self-conscious and more inclined to cling to his disturbing behavior."

Christmas Tree Is 150 Years Old In This Country

A Christmas Tree will be put up in two out of every three American homes this year. Yet the trimmed Christmas tree, as it is known today, is only about 150 years old in this country.

The Pilgrims forbade Christmas celebrations on the grounds they were pagan. A Massachusetts law in 1689 subjected anyone to a fine who observed the day by feasting, refraining from work or in any other manner.

It was not until near tha and of tha Amarican Ravolution that tha Christmas traa took hold. German immigrants, homasick for the tradition of thair nativa land, put them up.

The custom of the lighted Christmas tree, some historians tell, originated with Martin Luther. He was fascinated by evergreen trees, glistening with starlit-snow, pointing to the heavens at Christmas time. So he brought an evergreen tree into his house and lighted it with candles for his children.

Another old German legend credits St. Boniface with the origin of the Christmas tree. Having converted some oak treeworshipping Druids to Christianity, he took them into a forest, cut down an oak and pointed to a stately fir along side. "Take this tree," he said, "into your homes as a sign of your new worship. Celebrate God's power no more with shameful rites, but in the sanctity of your homes with laughter and love."

40 Deer Killed On Beaver Island

Beaver Island—A total of 40 deer was killed on Beaver Island, Karl Kuebler, state conservationist, reported.

This was somewhat large than last year and is believed to he higher than the state average. Some 162 hunters were on the island, he reported.

Michigan residents killed 32, a non-resident killed one and Beaver Islanders killed seven, Kuebler said.

Hunting conditions were termed fair to good with the last half of the season witnessing snow.

Cutter Sundew Finishes Work Here

The Coast Guard lighthouse tender, Sundew, in command of Lt. Russell Bergh, has completed its work in northern Lake Michigan in connection with the closing of navigation on the Great Lakes and has returned to its winter berth in Milwaukee, Wis.

The ship brought bouys and other aids to navigation equipment for storage and repairs before the opening of the 1951 season in March.

Winner Over Boyne City in Close Thriller, Rayders Go Gunning for East Jordan Five

Hardy Leaps High in Scramble for Ball

Don Hardy, No. 7, leaps high in the air in a mad scramble for ball off the backboard late in the Gaylord game. Other Rayders in this picture are Ron Wojan (in center of picture) and Charley Fairbanks, No. 14, coming up fast to see what he can do. The Rayders were able to decisively defeat Gaylord on the local floor last Friday night.

Charlevoix Moves into High Gear To Sweep Past Gaylord Cagers, 59-36

The second game of this crucial week faces the fast traveling Charlevoix Red Rayders Friday night when their county rivals, East Jordan, journey here for one of the top games in the NMCC cage schedule.

Earlier this week the Rayders tangled with Boyne City which defeated them in the finals of the regionals last winter. The Rayders have a little score-settling with this Jordan outfit as the Jordan team defeated them twice last year.

The game rates a toss-up, although there are many who say that Charlevoix has the edge. Coach Del Terrill doesn't think so and he has told his charges that repeatedly. The Rayders will be up for East Jordan as they always are against their county rivals, although the Boyne game naturally took something out of them.

The Raydera swept to their second victory last Friday when they took Gaylord over the hurdles in an easy fashion 59-36 with the first team playing slightly more than half of the game.

After a couple of minutes when both teams made repeated stabs at the baskets without much success, the Rayders led by Bill Wallace, caught fire. After the Rayders got warmed up to their job, they really went to town.

Wallace started off the first quarter as if he was going to break his 40-point scoring spree against Gaylord in the Regionals. He sank seven field goals in the first quarter. His teammates were quick to find out he was hot and they fed him the ball time and time again.

* * *

The score at the end of the first period was 17-3. At this point Coach Terrill sent his second platoon of Don Hardy, Tom Donaldson, Charles Krahnke, Dean Boss and Dwight Smith. They played most of the second quarter.

Gaylord came back somewhat scoring nine points to Charlevoix's six. The score at the half was 23-12.

* * *

The first team of Ron Wojan, Charley Fairbanks, Bill Wallace, Ron Cunlngham and Norm Ketchman started the second half. Wojan, appearing much more steady than against Harbor, and Cunningham each sank seven points during the third period. Charlevoix scored 21 points in this quarter against 13 for Gaylord.

During the final quarter the Rayders scored 15 to put the game out of Gaylord's reach.

Wallace was high point man with 21 and Schreur was tops for Gaylord with 15. Cunningham and Wojan each had 10.

The Rayders second team squeaked through a close one 32-28 over the Gaylord reserves. Bobo Bennett with 11 and Deano Davenport with 12 points led the local reserves. They piled up a big lead early in the game but saw it frittered away. They won but only after a thriller in the last few seconds.

Need Crib Changes To Keep Soft Corn

Storing soft corn requires care, say Michigan State College agricultural engineers, though some of the methods are simple and may involve very little in the way of new apparatus or construction.
